AUTO RIDE LEADS TO COURT-MARTIAL

Captain Hartmann Charged With Violation of the Anti-Canteen Law.

ADJUTANT CHIEF WITNESS

Lieutenant Kent, of the Signal Corps. Alleges Dereliction of Duty on Encampment Last Year at Atascadero.

VANCOUVER BARRACKS, Wash July 20 .- (Special.) - Evidence submitted first day of trial before a general court-martial of Captain Carl F. Hartmann, Signal Corps, U. S. A., on the charge of conduct unbecoming an officer and a gentleman, reveals that an autoride seems to have been the cause of a difficulty that has engulfed in its eshes numerous persons, already occasioning imprisonment and descriton, and that may lead to other charges being

Rarely in the annals of routine pr of charges brought against officers of the military establishment have cases been dealt with in the Northwest calculated to create greater interest among officers of the Army and those who mingle in social circles where the officers involved are known. The speci-fication to the charge resting against Cap-tain Hartmann is in effect a violation of canteen law, and more particularly it he stated to Major Wisser that he d no knowledge of the sale of beer at canteen while at Camp Atascadero, during 1501 beauty Cal., during 1904, knowing such statemen

Eleven officers and the judge-advocate compose the court-martial, Captain John J. Bradley, Fourteenth Infantry, appearing as counsel for the accused officer. Captain Bradley throughout the proceedings of yesterday adhered to a declaration made to the court early in the proceedings, when he had stated that no attempt would be made to raise technicalmpt would be made to raise technical es, and every effort possible would be ade to arrive at the facts in the case.

Falsification Is Charged.

Certain questions asked Captain Hart mann, and the answers made, alleged to have been false, reviewed in the specificans, are said to form the whole basis of tions, are said to form the whole basis of the action. No denial will be made, ac-cording to Captain Bradley, that the an-swers, in part, at least, were given as alleged, but it is proposed to prove that the answers were not false. Lieutenant William A. Kent, Signal Corps, was the only witness examined to-day. He testified that one day while he was sitting under the fly of Captain Hart-mann's tent Lieutenant Goodale reported

The same report was made to him, and he put a stop to the practice. The Sergeant-Major had been at various times under the influence of liquer, but the witness did not know where the liquer had been obtained.

Beer Charged as Merchandise.

It was in answering questions of the exchange council that Captain Hartmann is alleged to have made representa-tions and this meeting was reviewed by the witness. He declared that beer had been charged for as merchandise; that when asked as to the nature of the goods Captain Hartmann had replied that it was for ginger ale and other soft drinks. Enlisted men were called before council to prove that beer had been witness said, but all denied knowl-orge of it.

Cross-examination of the witness was searching and thorough. It was proven that the officers had their own beer on the company of the company o the way to camp. The defense also enhad used every endeavor to prevent bring-ing of intoxicating liquors to quarters by

Near the close of the cross-examination it was brought out that an automobile rice may have been the cause of the whole trouble. An automobile of the Sig-mal Corps was used at the camp, and Captain Hartmann, having charge of this as commandant, naving charge of this as commandant, ordered the chauffeur no: to take the vehicle out except pursuant to his order. Licutemant Kent, as Adjutant to Captain Harimans, had taken an auto ride the day before without the knowledge of his superior officer, who, when he heard of it, lightly reprimanded the Lieutenant.

Aggrieved at a Reprimand.

It is the purpose of the defense to at-tempt to demonstrate to the court that for this reason Lieutenant Kent has such hostile feelings that the evidence is blased. Witness admitted that he felt sggrieved and that he avoided his su-perior officer as much as possible for several days.

Should Captain Hartmann's court-martial prove the result of an attempt to vent personal animosity, it is believed by many that the persons responsible may themselves be subjected to trial. Other men in the Army have suffered annoy-ance, punishment and disgrace for the matters alleged and forming the basis of the hearing. The exchange steward was confined, it is said, at Benicia Barracks, relieved from confinement, but still held under arrest, and, selzing a favorable opportunity, deserted. ong deplat will be made by the de Strong depial will be those by the ac-fense that Captain Hartmann had any knowledge contrary to the answers re-turned, and attempts to establish ample proof. STRIKERS MAKE DEMONSTRA-TION AT WESTERN MILL.

Aberdeen Finnish Laborers Declare They Will Storm This Plant if Running Today.

ABERDEEN, Wash., July 20 .- (Special.)-Three additional mills closed, making six in all now, and interference by the police at one mill, where the strikers made a demonstration, is the ary of the strike situation to-Early today the strikers started for the South Side, where they succeeded in stopping the operations of the Bryden & Leitch mill. The Aberdeen Bryden & Leitch mill. The Aberdeen Lumber & Shingle Mill Company closed its plant last night for repairs, it is said. The other plants on the South Side were not disturbed, as they are paying $2 to yardmen and at the Michigan mill they are paying $2.10.

This afternoon the crowd started on run for the Western mill, which was closed yesterday, but at which a few men are at work. The owners of the Hart & Wood mill, a little further east, saw the crowd coming and rather than have any words and supposing the strikers had some trush grievances, immediately ordered the whistle blown and the mill closed. The strikers, how-ever, stopped at the Western mill, where they made a determined stand but were met by the owners, who or-

The leaders came to the front again and declared that, understanding that the owners of the mill were armed and that the strikers were not, they would delay action until morning, when they would return also and force an entrance to the mfil if the men were still at work.

Folice officers were sent for and were oon on the scene. They informed the strikers that they must not trespass and if they did they must take the consequences. By a vote it was decided to do nothing further until tonight, when another meeting will be held. Trouble is looked for tomorrow if the Western Mill Company permits any employe to Walla Walla's largest hotel, was destroyed by fire this afternoon. The loss is estimated at $30,000. The fire is believed to have started from an electric fan. Only

Permit me to correct the statement, at least in part. The hotel was not totally destroyed. About fifty rooms in one part of the building were put out of commission by fire and water, as well as the dining-room and culinary department. The business, however, was not suspended as part of the building and rooms was left intact. The office part and furniture were not badly damaged, so we did not suspend business at all. Steps are being rapidly taken at present to repair all damages done, and we hope to have the hotel in shape again within two of three weeks. Our dining-room was opened to the public Tuesday morning.

FOR IDAHO FRAUDS

President and Cashier of Lewiston Bank Are the Alleged Principals.

FOUR OTHER MEN KNOWN

Conspiracy to Defraud the United States Government, Subornation of Perjury and Perjury Are the Charges.

BOISE, Idaho, July 20.-(Special.)-It develops there were nine indictments by the special United States grand jury in timber fraud cases. Six of them have been given out officially, as follows:

nepiracy to defraud the United States For computing to derrind the Lawiston National Hank; William F. Kettenbuch, president of the Lawiston National Bank; Jack-pon O'Rece, of Asotto, Wash.; William Dwyer, of Clarkson, Wash.—four counts each For conspiracy to defraud the United States George H. Kester, William F. Kettenback For conspiracy to defraud the and Jackson O'Keefe-three counts each.
For substration of perfury—George H. Kester and Clarence W. Robnett, bookkeeper for the Lewiston National Bank.
For perjury—Ivan Cornell and three others, names not yet made public.

The indictments, it will be observed are divided into three classes. The prinare divided into three classes. The principal men in the alleged deal to defraud the Government, Messrs. Kettenbach and Kester, are joined with the alleged go-betweens, Jackson O'Keefe and William Dwyer, in one of the conspiracy indict-ments. In the other Dwyer is left out. The bank's bookkeeper. Robnett, and Kester are charged with subornation of perjury, and the indictments for perjury are undoubtedly all of stool pigeons who made the entries on timber land. The land involved is for the most part in Shoshone County, although some of it in Latah.

is in Latah.

The conspiracy indictments are divided into two classes. The first embraces four counts. The first count charges that in Lewiston, April 25, 1994, Kester, Kettenbach, O'Keefe and Dwyer "did falsely, unlawfully and wickedly conspire, combine, confederate and agree together to defraud the United States of the possession of large tracts of land situated in ssion of large tracts of land situated b the County of Shoshone and State and District of Idaho, and of great value, of which the following described land is a part." A description of the land, about 60 acres, follows. The count then alleges that the land was entered upon fraudulently and that he four men mentioned in the indictment ar men mentioned in the land the aded the entryman to swear that he pplied for the purchase of the land for its own use and benefit in good faith and not for speculative purposes, and that he had not, directly or indirectly, entered into any agreement with any person or persons whatsoever by which title should pass to them. The indictment charges, however, that the entry was made, on be-half of the four men mentioned, and that in pursuance of the conspiracy they paid or caused to be paid the money required enable the entryman to acquire title

The other counts in this indictment are in effect the same, the name of the ennd dates being the only changes. The ndictment of Kester, Kettenbach and Keefe for conspiracy, on three counts, ollows the same lines as the other. The indictment charging Kester with subcritation of perjury alleges that on June 19, 1903, he did "unlawfully, feloniously, willfully and corruptly suborn, instigate and procure Ivan R. Cornell" to locate certain timber land under an agreement with Cornell whereby title should pass to Kester. The charge against Robiett refers to transaction house. dered them off the grounds.

ROAD INTO THE WALLOWA

Northern Pacific Believed to Be Behind the Movement.

LA GRANDE, Or., July 20.-(Special.)-It is said in railroad circles that the company securing the right-of-way for a ailroad into the Wallows and which announced to the public as composed of New York capitalists, is really made up of men in the employ of the Northern Pacific. At any rate, it is evident from appearances that they are thorough rall-road people and mean to go ahead. Five years ago the O. R. & N. made both preliminary and final surveys from Eigin to Lewiston with a branch exten-sion from the mouth of the Wallowa River on to Joseph. It is evident that this new company has gone ahead under the assumption that the O. R. & N.'s right-of-way had expired, but from in-formation obtained from the land effice it is found that a right-of-way continues five years after it has been approved by the interior Department, instead of five years from date of filing, and in this onse the O. R. & N.'s right-of-way is still valid. still valid.

The conditions are apparently such that the O. R. & N. will be compelled to build or give way to the other road. In any event the outlook for a railroad into Wallowa Valley is encouraging.

O. R. & N. Promises to Build.

LA GRANDE Or., July M .- (Special.)-Great interest and enthusiasm is mani-fested in La Grande since General Man-ager J. P. O'Brien stated at the depot Tuesday morning that the O. R. & N. was going to build a railroad into the Wallowa Valley and construction would begin as soon as the right-of-way was secured and contractors could be getten to work. Mr. O'Brien further stated that it was not yet determined just how far the railroad would continue, but far enough to answer the needs of that section.

Contention of San Francisco Fugitive Is That Perjury Cannot Be able Offense.

VICTORIA, B. C., July 20.—George D. Collins, who began his fight against extradition to San Francisco for per-jury today before Judge Lampman, said he intends to question the extradition treaty between the United States and Canada, holding that by it perjury cannot be held to be an extraditable offense. He said he understood wit-nesses were to be brought from San Francisco, but as he and his counsel propose to show authorities that the charge of perjury as laid against him could not be proved under the laws of Canada, as it must be to secure his extradition, their presence would be unnecessary. He alleged the Ashbur-ton treaty omits perjury in its list of extraditable crimes. Collins' contention involves the validity of the treaty of 1886. He would also show that the new treaty of 1899, in which perjury was mentioned for the first time as an extraditable offense, was not capable of being en-forced, as no legislation was made to put it into effect. His contention would involve the presentation of a large number of authorities, he having come into court with his arms laden with Previous to this statement by Col-lins several hours had been spent in mostly on techniarguing objections, mostly on techni-calities, by Collins and his counsel, Collins fighting each point tooth and hall, admitting nothing. In opening the case Mr. Higgins, for the San Francisco police, applied to amend the in-formation upon which the warrant for Collins' arrest was made, making it in keeping with further information and the warrant brought from San Fran-cisco by Detective Gibson, and Collins and his counsel objected strongly though without avail. They alleged the court could not amend the information, which virtually brought a new charge, and quoted many authorities as well as citing procedure in the Greene-Gaynor case in Quebec.

Frank Higgins, for the prosecution cited several cases, including that of St. John Dix, extradited from England for wrecking a bank at Bellingham, to show the amendment could be made, show the amendment could be made, and was upheld by the court, the information being amended.

Collins then objected strenuously to the admission of the warrant issued by District Attorney Byington, of San Francisco, and brought by Detective Gibson, alleging it was not properly certified. He held a certificate should have accompanied it, verified by the Secretary of State, and advanced in support a case in which a similar objection was made, and the Judge objection was made, and the Judge then held the document in question had to be certified by the Secretary of State and his signature certified by the British Ambassador. He held the warrant was not admissible. Mr. Higgins said he would properly verify the documents he presented with the necessary evidence. Further argument was proceeding when the court suggested the documents be put in, subject to objection and decision thereon given later. Detective Gibson was examined and swore that the warrant produced by him was the original one and duly au-thenticated. He swore to the signa-tures of the Clerk of the San Francisco Court thereon and his deputy. He also identified Collins. Mr. Higgins then produced the certificate of the California Secretary of State, authenticating the documents which bore the California seal.

Collins objected to each document. After citing the nature of the charge against Collins. Mr. Higgins went on to read the deposition which set forth that Collins had intermarried with Charlotte Newman, and his statement sworn in denial of the maintenance of action that he was not married to her was willfully and corruptly false.

College Forces Enlargement. CORVALLIS. Or., July 20.—(Special.)

—The proposed expansion of the department of mechanical engineering at the college, as determined on at yester-day's annual board meeting, is in-part made essential by the largely increased attendance of students, which last year nearly touched 700. The present pear nearly touched 100. The present plant was installed when the attend-ance was less than half that number. While the change is being made, it is planned to broaden and perfect the course of instruction. The matter is in the hands of a committee that, with President Gatch, is to perfect plans. One feature in contemplation is the ad-dition of a graduate year to the course. so that many students now going abroad for further instruction, such as Cornell. Berkeley, Stanford and so on, can get it at their home college. President Gatch's recommendations on the subject embody the establishment of a foundry and pattern-making course.

this business. An announcement was made today that the Northern Pacific would inaugurate a new rate on cement, making the ma-terial reduction of 11 cents per 100 pounds m Coast points to Spokane and all nts taking the Spokane rate. Similar luctions are also made to other points east of the mountairs.

For some time past the rate from Ta-coma to Spokane on cement has been 25 cents per 100 pounds, but of recent years manufacturers of domestic cement in Co orado and Utab have gained control o the Spokane territory and little ceme has been shipped to that section fro Coast points. It will give the Puge Sound and Coast dealers an opportunity It will give the Puget to regain their former prestige.

The Northern Pacific has an a new rate of 25 cents per 160 pounds which rate is to become effective Augus 1, and apply to shipments of 50,000 pounds or more. This is a reduction of more than 30 per cent, and it is believed it will result in Coast dealers securing control of the disputed territory with the as-sistance of the lower rate.

He was assistant to the sawyer and was engaged in placto the sawyer and was engaged in placing a block under a large log that was on the carriage, when the log suddenly rolled over, catching his head and crushing it to a pulp and killing him instantly. An inquest was held by Coroner Pohl this afternoon, the jury returning a verdict of accidental death. The deceased was a native of Arkansas, 49 years of age, and left a widow and four children. He also left three sisters living in Astoria and two brothers, who reside in Portland.

Log Crushes Out Life. KELSO, Or., July M.—(Special.)—The remains of Jack Arnold were brought here for interment this morning. Arnold was killed at the logging-camp of the Valley Fimber Company on Beard Creek, a tributary to the Upper Coweeman River, some time Wednesday, He was a "bucker" and was working alone cutting a log in two, when it rolled upon him crushing out his life. Superintendent Barr and other members of the camp found his lifeless body beneath the log.

Arnold had no relatives in this vicinity, coming here from Canada several months ago.

NOTABLE RECOVERIES FROM EXTREME DEBILITY.

band's Strength Had Been Waning for Three Years, Wife a Sufferer from Female Weakness.

"My strength had dwindled so that I couldn't apply myself to my business with any snap but was tired and listless all the time," said Mr. Goldstein. "I went to bed completely used up by my day's work, and when I got up in the morning I didn't feel rested a bit. I had awful headaches too, and my kidneys got out of order and caused me to have severe pains in the back. At one time I became so feeble that I could not stir from bed for three weeks."

Mr. Goldstein is a young man and had then but recently established a home of his own. His anxieties were increased by the fact that his wife was far from being robust. Mrs. Goldstein says:

"For two years I had been ill most of the time. Sometimes I was confined to bed for weeks in succession under a phy-sician's care. I had headaches, kidney trouble, pain about the heart and many uncomfortable symptoms connected with that weakness to which my sex is peculiarly subject."

Trouble had invaded this bousehold and settled in it in just the years that ought to be the very happiest. Physicians could not tell them how to get rid of it.

"I was utterly discouraged," said Mr. in. "Then the urgency of some friends led me to try a blood and nerve remedy which was said to be wonderfully successful. Within a month there were unmistakable signs of improvement in my condition, and within a year I was completely well. Through the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills I have now as good health as I ever had in my life." Mrs. Goldstein adds: "The wonderful effect that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills had in the case of my husband led me to try them and they helped me even more quickly than they did him. One box made me decidedly better and a few months' treatment cured me." Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are the best tonic and regulator, they make pure, rich blood and when there is general weakness and disorder that is what the system needs. Mr. and Mrs. H. Goldstein live at 88 Gove street, East Boston, Mass. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by druggists everywhere.
