Physiologist Held Offer of Stock in Nitro Culture Company in Abeyance Awaiting Advance in Official Salary.

WASHINGTON, July 28.—George T. Moore, physiologist of the Department of Agriculture, today tendered his resignation to Secretary Wilson and it has been accepted. This action is the culmination of a hearing at the De-partment yesterday, at which it was alleged by two representatives of an agricultural publication that Moore's agricultural publication that Moore's wife held stock in a company manufacturing culture for soil inoculation, while Moore, who had charge of the preparation and revision of bulletins regarding the surichment of farms, directed farmers to the concern in question for their supplies of the culture. He said he told these men they would probably always have competition with the Government and that, in any event, there could be no monopoly of the business, for the reason that the department had taken the patent in a manner to prevent any commercial discrimination.

The Westchester men were willing to take the risk and offered Dr. Moore a salary and an interest in the business, with the understanding that the company should have the exclusive right to any further discoveries made by Dr. Moore.

After receiving this offer, Dr. Moore says in his statement, he wrote to Mr. Woods, telling him that his prospects with the new company reemed better than he could expect from the department. Mr. Woods then recommended a raise of salary for Dr. Moore and said it was Mr. salary for Dr. Moore and said it was Mr. Galloway's feeling that he should com-plete his unfinished work before leaving the department. The recommendations as to the department's attitude on the question were prepared by attitude on the question were prepared by Dr. D. E. Salmon, chief of the Bureau of Animal industry, and approved by Secre-tary Wilson, and are as follows:

The statute provides for the shipment of livestock without unloading en route under-certain conditions. I have investigated the subject and would respectfully recommend that the department approve as before, in compliance with the statute, all shipments of cattle in transit for more than 25 consecutive hours made under the following conditions:

tions:

First, that the cars containing the cattle shall be equipped with hay racks, each lineal foot of which shall have a capacity of the less than one cobic foot, extending glong the sides of the cars from the doors to the end and that the cars shall be so arranged that the racks may be readily filled with hay through openings in the car roof.

Second that the cars shall be fitted with semi-cylindrical watering troughs of galvaniand or cast fron, not less than 15 inches deep by not less than 12 inches wide across free from all litter and fifth.

Third, food and waiter to be supplied at intervals not exceeding 28 hours, while the shipments are in transit, and in supplying water such car to be stopped for at least five minutes, during which time the troughs shall be kept filled with clear water and all the animals given opportunity to drink.
Fourth, in order that the cattle may have sufficient space and opportunity to rest, the cars shall not be overloaded and in all cars there shall be room in each for at least one-shird of the cattle to lie down at the same time. The number of head of cattle that may be carried in a 36-foot car is shown in the following table, according to the live weight:

"I had, however, gauged the spot where he should be, and dived in that direction. I caught hold of the boy's hand when I was about six feet under water and brought him to the surface. He was pretty well choked.

"Judge Parker had by this time recovered his breath and required no assistance. So I took thhe boy ashore and set him down. He appeared none the worse for his adventure. Judge Parker thanked me heartily for my assistance. He saw that I was dripping wet and invited me up to Rosemount to change my clothes, lending me an entire south of his own, which I wore to Poughkeepsie, leaving my own clothes to dry in Judge Parker's laundry.

"DRUNKENNESS" CIGARETTE AND TOBACCO HABITS CURED BY

Each package contains a full four-weeks' treatment and a guaranteed cure. Read what other people say of Trib. Mrs. J. S. Johnson, LaGrande, Or., writes:

Your request for a reference about "TRIB" received and will give you the words of praise only that your treatment deserves, and

My son was a hard drinker and tobacco user for 20 years and has taken many advertised cures for both liquor and tobacco, but never stayed with it longer than one month at any time until I got "TRIB" for him. He took "TRIB" about ten months ago and has not used either since the fourth day he commenced to take your treatment. He has gained 20 pounds and is home with me every night he is in town. You may use my name to tell people "TRIB" is all you

Each treatment is guaranteed by us; it is our way of doing business with you. Price $12.50.
