He was discovered by Andrews, who ordered him away, telling him that if the food was not good enough to work on it was not good enough to eat at all. "Red" thereupon left and it is said that Foster went with him.

Tuesday evening about 9 o'clock the three men met in the Smith saioon at Wildhorse. After some words, "Red" and Andrews commenced to fight. "Red," who is a small man, seeing he stood no chance against Andrews, who is a large

Andrews then turned his attention to Foster and the two men were engaged in fighting when it is alleged that "Red" ran in and, going up behind Andrews, stabbed him in the back of the neck with a pocket knife, inflicting a wound four and one-half inches long and three inches deep.

Andrews cank to the floor and expired a 30 minutes. "Red" then went into in 30 minutes. "Red" then went into Schlueder's saloon and induced the bar-tender to supply him with a house and saddle, telling him a man had been hurt and he wanted to go to Burns for a doctor.

A. G. Baker, bartender at Smith's sa-leon, took a horse and started after "Red," leaving an bour behind him. Ba-ker found "Red" had changed horses at Tikes, ten miles out from Wildhorse, riding on to Man's Lake.

Groom clerk of the San Francisco court, gave evidence from the minutes of the court that it had decided that jurisdiction over the case of Charlotta Collins vs. Collins for maintenance, out of which the perjury charge aross, when the accused a demurrer was overruled in the case. Collins had sought to show in cross-examination of Whiting that the court had no jurisdiction.

Detective Gilson, of San Francisco, was censured by Judge Lampman this afternoon for having addressed a query to the stenographer, asking if Collins' counsel, H. D. Melmcken, has asked the official to alter one of the answers of witness J. J. Groom in the record. The Judge said investigation had shown Mr. Heimcken had merely asked the stenographer if the notes confirmed a newspaper report of the evidence, and Gibson was warned not to interfere against the stenographer again. evidence, and Gibson was warned not to interfere again with the court officials. Notary A. J. Henry, of San Francisco, gave out a statement today regarding the alleged tampering with him by Collins. In which he stated Collins had secured a statement containing a record of his evidence from him on false representation that it was required to be shown to Justice Duff, and Collins' statement to the contrary was false.

MADE CIRCUS OF CHURCH.

Rev. T. E. Elliott Too Sensational for Gray's Harbor.

ABERDEEN, Wash., July 28.-(Special.)-The case of the Rev. T. E. Elliett and Mrs. Hidden at Vancouver causes a great deal of interest on Gray's Harbor, Mr. Elliott having served in the pastorates of the Methodist Church in Hoguiam and in Aberdeen at different times. After leaving Hogulam Mr. Elliott went to Ghie and the Impression that he left in Hogulam was no favorable, that the church of was so favorable that the church of Aberdeen induced him to come here.

He remained a year and left here for the conference of 1994, expecting to be elected presiding elder. Failing in this he was not asked to be returned as there was an undercurrent of feeling among the ultra-orthodox members. and there are many of them in the Aberdeen church, that he was an ad-vanced thinker and erratic and his prayer meeting were described as "cir-cuses," just as Mrs. Hidden complained

He liked to stir up the public and preached several highly sensational sermons during local election times. Singularly enough he had the scating capacity of the church enlarged and put the pulpit in a corner instead of the center. It has been returned to the center since he left. He flattered himself with the light of the senter of the center self with the idea of large congrega-tions, and did attract Uninking minds by his "new thought" sermons.

WILD MAN LIES ON TRACK

FREIGHT TRAIN CREW HAS TO CARRY HIM OFF.

With Long Hair and No Clothes, He Refuses to Talk With Anyone.

TACOMA, Wash., July 28 .- (Special.)-William Hines, an insane man, was found lying in a nude condition on the railroad track near Crocker, on the Carbonado branch of the Northern Pacific, yester. day. A freight train coming along whis-tied a warning, but the man made no effort to get off the track. The engineer put on the brakes, the train stopping a put on the brakes, the train stopping a short distance from the demented man, and the crew had to carry Hines from the track before the freight could pass.

On reaching Crocker the Constable was notified and he arrested the strange man. Hines refused to talk to the officer and no one seems to know much about him. His hair and beard are long and unkempt, giving him the appearance of a wild man. At the examination this morning Drs. Garnett and Shaver asked him a number of questions, but the only information he would give was that he feared he will be robbed. He was ordered committed to the asylum. the asylum.
