WATER FOR SOUTHEAST SUBURBS.—The suburbs extending between the city limits to Lents, in the southeast, are to be supplied with an abundance of water from a well recently sunk near Lents. G. W.

Washington street is now completed. It took over 8000 tons of earth to complete the embankment will cause it to settle.

JUVENILE COURT FRIENDS
They Plan for Permanent Organization to Aid the Work.

The meeting of the friends of the Juvenile Court, held yesterday afternoon in Judge Frazer's Courtroom, was largely attended and plans outlined for a permanent organization. Judge Frazer, in his opening remarks, said that the idea of the Juvenile Court could not be fully realized without the aid of workers outside the court. In his short experience in this city it has been found absolutely necessary to take further interest in the children in order to round out the reforming or correcting process; to procure employment for those who need it, and to aid in the enforcement of the compulsory education law. The need of an extra helper is urgent in connection with the half-houses, and the camping parties which are being sent out. The whole object of the association will be to co-operate with the court in the prevention of juvenile delinquency.

Among those present were: Dr. T.
L. Elliot, H. W. Hogue, Mrs. L. W. Sitton, W. R. Mackenzie, B. S. Pague, W.
T. Gardner, Miss Lucy Treavitt, Dr.
Mary Thompson, C. C. Chapman, Mrs.
Lola Baldwin, Mrs. Lucy Morgan, Mrs.
Oscar Ballou, Otto Pray, Mr. and Mrs.
A. D. Soper, Mrs. Blanche Blumauer, Mrs. Elmer Colwell, Mr. E. Protsman, Mr. J. E. Martin, Senator Sig. Sobel, John F. O'Shea.
Letters from Dan McAllen and Bern-nard Albers, expressing hearty sympathy and support, were read.

RETURN FROM ALASKA.
L. H. Burton Says Portlanders Prosper in Fisheries.

L. H. Burton returned yesterday from tertained by his friend, the Earl of Chatham, for three weeks. He investigated the wonders of the salmon fishing and canning business and enjoyed the days of almost perpetual daylight. Mr.

Burton thinks that a country of great possibilities, as well as probabilities, and says Secretary Seward was a man of great foresight. Mr. Burton was accompanied on his way home by George T.
Myers, Jr., who is interested with his father in the Chatham salmon cannery, which is doing a splendid business. Mr.
Myers comes home on business of his father, as well as to see the Lewis and Clark Fair and returns in a few days.

Miss Jane Brewster, who is lecturing in Portland on proper ideals in women, says that both beauty and intellectually belong to women by right, and that the foundation of enduring grace is health and proper care of the physical and mental self. She believes that women are just coming into their full inheritance of life as the beautiful woman is learning that outward beauty will not last without the inward brightness of intellectual brilliance to illuminate and keep it youthful, and the intellectual woman has discovered that much of her genius goes for naught unless it wears the guard of good lines and colors.

Miss Brewster goes even further than this. She believes that the two qualities have one source and that this source is to bring its own together. The "at-one-ment" is for woman a unification of all her inherent rights. She has a right to be beautiful, to be mentally alert and interesting, and to have a strong and healthy body. In the enumeration of the properties which a woman should and may inherit from life, Miss Brewster places health first.

"Grace is sure to follow health," said she, "and every woman who has health of mind and body may be graceful.
These things are naturally related one to the other, and the source of beauty once discovered, the stream will flow naturally and uninterrupted.

"A few years ago physical culture was looked upon as a pleasing diversion, a luxury—but now it is esteemed a necessity. And it is essential to a healthy, well-molded form, no less than to a properly colored skin. But women do not seem to find the time for the exercises, even when they are once acquired. The few minutes required every morning and evening are nearly always demanded by something else. But this need not be.
If one understands just why the exercises are necessary, one will find time for them. Naturally, if a woman has no goal or incentive to work for, she will class her physical culture exercises among the unimportant duties which it is as well to forget."

Five Prisoners Are in County Jail Awaiting Trial.

Five combination "hopheads" and counterfeiters are now in the County Jail, awaiting to tell Uncle Sam, as personified by United States Commissioner J. A. Sien-

Government. In legal language, the quintet are held under $1000 bonds each on a charge of counterfeiting or of having counterfeiting tools in their possession.
Mrs. Nellie Doris Ed Foley, John Dugie, J. J. Mulligan and Ed Burns were arrested at a lodging-house at Fourth and Yambill streets, Thursday afternoon, for smoking opium. While the officers were searching the room a complete counterfeiting outfit was found. The prisoners were taken to the County Jail, and a charge of having counterfeiting tools in their possession was lodged against them yesterday afternoon. The bonds were placed at $1000 each, in default of which
