IT IS DAY FOR THE FAVORITES

Take More Than Half the Card at the Irvington Race Meet.

DORANDO, GOLDEN

With Odds On They Take the First Two Events; Dixelle and Sterling Towers Are Also Victors.

Pavorites split more than half of the card yesterday at Irvington track and the speculators who have been bumped for the past two days once more found life worth living. Dorando and Golden Buck, both odds-on favorites won the first two events on the programme in common gallops and naturally the talent got off on the right foot. The card throughou was the best since Saturday, and while two horses that were forced into favoritism by those who thought they had something in pickle, were beaten, it was a good day for first choices,

8. W. Williams, who recently arrived from Latonia with a clever string of galiopers, started Good Cheer and because of her Eastern reputation, and because Williams bet on the chestnut daughter of Williams bet on the chestnit daughter of Fonso-Harple, sig was made favorite over Sterling Towers. They bet a tidy sum of money on the mare, but she was delayed a triffe in transmission and only finished third. The race, which, by the way, was an exceedingly pretty three-horse race from the paddock home, on the part of Sterling Towers, My Surprise and Good Cheer, was won by Towers by a whisker, with My Surprise just a head in front of Williams' good thing.

Why Towers Was Fancied.

Towers, because she had raced Peter J. into the ground was fancled by the ma jority of the speculators, and was the hottest kind of a second choice. The bulk of the hard racing luck fell to the lot of Good Cheer, who made her first start at Irvington. Clark made his move a little too late and allowed her to turn wide at the bend rounding for home. She was on the outside all the way and closed with a brilliant rush. She will beat this kind if she will keep closer in and have better racing luck. My Surprise had a notion once to chuck it, but he came again and under punishment stuck it out gamely.
Gloomy Gus was intended for the last race, but after showing a nice burst of speed faded away to nothing when they turned for home. The race was won by Sea Air, who seemed to have suddenly come to life. Because Estelia J. had run such a corking good race Tuesday, many thought she would come right back and win again. This bruising race, however, was '50 much for her and although she was played, she did not finish inside the Rough Journey for Conreid.

Another good thing that was played in this race, was Conrest. He hell a rough fourney and in addition to spolling his own chances, he ruined the chances of Baker and also Gloomy Gus. Gus was pinched out of it right at the start and Eaker was joited so hard that he was turned half around. Gus came on, raced into second place and looked like a con-tender until they rounded for home. He fifished next to last. Sea Air found clear sailing and the boy made good use of it. Phalanx was always close up. He swung wide at the turn and might have won but Dorado won the first race on the card in a common gallop. For Yesterday, be-them from interfering with the drainage cause of his good race the other day, was the second choice, but he had to be sat-ciation. He also dismissed the contempt the second choice, but he had to be satisfied with third money. Dorado outclassed his field, leaving El Paisano and Ere Yesterday to fight it out. It was a pretty race between these two, and in a ding-dong finish El Paisano beat Ere Yesterday a head. Paul E. Jones was sadly messed about, and Eva McGinnis was in a pocket.

Golden Buck's Gallop.

Golden Buck had the same kind of a Golden Buck had the same kind of a gallop winning the second race. He was by all odds the class of his field, and he made the rest look cheap. The race was a three-horse procession, with Mable Bates second and Lady Kispar third, Kispar can do better. The other two were of much account.

the speculation, was not made favorite. Mountebank ruled with the pencilers as the first choice, but he was beaten by Birdie P. and Angelica. Birdie was best she outsprinted her field up the stretch.
Angelica finished stoutly, but she did it on her own courage, for Butler gave her a weak finish. Mountebank, saved for the end, came from behind and finished with a rush. Prince Magnet likes to run in front, but he had no chance yesterday.

Lands Dixelle Also.

Little Graham, after piloting Sterling Towers in front in the fourth race, camright back and landed Dixelle and winner in the fifth race. He put up a great ride on Towers, but with Dixelle all he had on Towers, but with Dixelle all he had to do was to sit still and wait until the wire was reached. At one time Dixelle was seven lengths in front of the nearest horse, and if Graham had not constantly taken her back, she would have won by a city block. Badly Used, who refused to be raced outside of the money, was second, and Calculate was third. After the race, Dixell was boosted from 200 to $400, and J. Wolf, her owner, retained her. "Shorty" Helmes did the boosting, but the story was passed afound that it was just a case of a brother getting back at a brother, for it seems that J. Wolf boosted his brother's horse at Seattle.

Miss Powell, a Pirate of Penzance-Be-Miss Powell, a Pirate of Penzance-Besique mare, valued at $1500, died yester-day at the track of blood-poisoning. She was owned by T. A. Davis.

Frank Friessel, the former University of Oregon student, won the individual amateur championship of the world in the all-around athletic contest held under the auspices of the Lewis and Clark Exposition yesterday afternoon. The contest took place in strict accordance with the rules of the A. A. I., and J. E. Sullivan, secretary of that organization, was present and acted in the capacity of

The fact that the event was won by an Oregon boy wearing the colors of the Multnomah is a source of great delight to the local athletic fraternity, and Champion Friessel 'was kept buey last evening receiving the congratulations of friends and acquaintances. He is a modest sort of a chap, and few picked him as a contender in the meet, as the majority present figured the contest as being be tween Lidga, of the Olympic Club, and Ed Perry, of the Chicago organisation.

Friessel's Steady Grind.

Friessel's steady grind in every event pulled him through, and when the points were totaled at the conclusion of the mile run, which closed the meet, it was found that the local man had captured he coveted honors by almost fifty points Parry, the young giant from the Windy City, had a big lead over all his oppon-ents before the start of the mile event, and he was looked upon as a sure win-ner, for all that was necessary for him to make good was to finish within a lap of the leaders, but he fell from ex-haustion when within sight of victory, and lost all the points he would have acquired had he breasted the tape in last broad jump and the 120-yard hurdles but his seconds and thirds in the other events gave him a big score

Parry a Weight Man.

Parry, who is essentially a weight man, easily took those contests, and also surprised his opponents by beating out his field in the half-mile walk, but in the sprints and in the jumps his lighter op-ponents had the advantage. The Chicago lad also distinguished himself by breaking the world's record for the hammer throw, for a one-handed throw. In throwing the hammer he swings the weight with one hand and his mark of 136 feet. 4% inches, beats the previous record for one-arm throws by two inches. record for one-arm intows by the first in this contest Lidgs was second and Friessel third. Friessel won the broad for the incoes. jump with a mark of 21 feet, 715 inches, which was 2 feet, 2 inches, better than that of Lidga, his nearest competitor in this event.

O'Sullivan, the Montana lad, won the pole vault with a mark of 10 feet, which he made after all the other competitors had failed at the 9 foot register.

The winner of yesterday's contests re-ceives a handsome sliver cup and a gold medal, as the prizes of his victory, and in addition the feat brings him the title of the individual all-around championship of America.

Many notable personages in the amateur athletic world were present at yeaterday's contests, among whom are: J. E. Sullivan, Secretary of the A. A. U.; President W. H. Liginger and Secretary E. C. Brown, of the Central Athletic Association, of Milwaukee; T. F. Biley and J. J. O'Connor, of the New England Association, both of Boston; Herbert Hauser, of San Francisco, Secretary of the Pacific Const Association.

At the conclusion of the day's programme, Secretary Sullivan expressed himself as surprised at the endurance shown by the men competing in the events. "This meet has been far more successful than I anticipated," said Mr. events. successful than I anticipated," said Mr. Sullivan, "for I did not expect to see such evidences of endurance as was shown by the contestants in today's sports. All four competitors in these events have shown high-class in this respect and should give a good account of themselves in the coming events. One notices hie feature of the meet was the fact that not one of the contestants broke in the half-mile walk, which was judged by Mr. Riley who is one of the

BARE MAJORITY IN WASHING-TON SUPREME COURT.

Violation of Factory Inspection Law Destroys the Defense of Assumption of Risk.

OLYMPIA, Wash., Aug. 1 -- (Special.)-A former decision of the Supreme Court, that violation of the factory inspection law of 1903 destroys the defense of assumption of risk in an action to recover for personal injuries, was upheld by a bare majority opinion of the court, filed today. The four old Justices sign an opinion in which the contention that the former opinion should be overruled is denied, while the new Justices-Root, Crow and Rudkin-file a long opinion in which they dissent from the majority of the court.

The case comes from Chehalis County, where R. B. Hall, while at work in the West & Slade mill, had his clothing caught on an unprotected set screw in the shafting, and was wound into the machinery and made a cripple for life. In the trial of his action for damages Hall testified that he knew the set screw was there and that he would be injured if it caught in his clothing. He temporarily forgot the existence of the screw, and the accident resulted. He secured a verdict for $5000. Under a dectrine followed prior to the passage of the factory inspection law the mill company, upon a showing of this kind, could have secured dismissal of the case by pleading assumption of risk on the part of the employe. The law requires that the mill company shall place guards around such machinery.
