HELPS FIGHT FIRE

Councilman Rushlight Discovers a Blaze.

FIREBUG IS SUSPECTED

Grocery Store on East Side Is Visited the Second Time by Flames—Damage Is Fifteen Hundred Dollars.

Councilman A. G. Rushlight, of the Seventh Ward, distinguished himself at 10 o'clock last night by discovering fire in the rear of the grocery store of Griffith & Bellamy, Grand and Hawthorne avenues, turning in an alarm and then securing a Babcock extinguisher, which he used with good effect until the arrival of the firemen.

The fire was of incendiary origin, it is thought by the police and the proprietors of the store. It started in the yard back of the store, in a shed used for the storage of coal oil. The damage to building and stock will aggregate about $1500. Insurance fully covers it. This is the second fire of strange origin to occur in the same place within 18 months.

While the fire raged, it was intensely hot, and because of the oil that fed the flames the firemen had hard work to extinguish the blaze. Much chemical and water were used before the recall sounded. Good work by the firemen saved a portion of the grocery store, some stock and many neighboring buildings.

Councilman Rushlight discovered the fire at 10 o'clock. He turned in an alarm without delay, calling the fire department to the scene, but he did not quit at that. He hurried to a lodging-house, secured a Babcock fire-extinguisher and returned to the store. With well-directed efforts, he managed to keep down the blaze for a time, thereby saving much property and checking the flames until the arrival of the firemen.

Policeman Stuart reached the scene immediately after the fire broke out. He made an investigation, but was unable to learn anything that would throw light upon the identity of the person or persons who set the fire. That it was set, he says, there is but little doubt.

The store is situated on the northeast corner of Grand and Hawthorne avenues, and hundreds pass it daily. It is the theory of W. R. Griffith, one of the partners, that a careless man or an enemy set the fire. He believes it probable that some one threw a lighted cigar into the shed, while passing the building. When the fire of about 18 months ago occurred, the same theory was set forth. At that time much greater damage was done. There was a rooming-house above then. It was consumed, and several small buildings near were destroyed.

AUTO RUNS DOWN TWO MEN

Cirvice Brothers Have Narrow Escape on Burnside Bridge.

J. P. and William Cirvice, connected with the blacksmith shop at 428 East Burnside street, were run down by a big automobile truck on the Burnside bridge yesterday and narrowly escaped being killed. Both were considerably bruised.

The bridge was crowded at the time with streetcars and vehicles of all sorts. The two brothers were in a one-horse cart and were crossing to the East Side. The auto-truck was following them, most of the way at a distance of about 30 feet. As a streetcar came along on one side of the bridge, the automobile made a sudden dash forward, striking the light cart from behind and upsetting it. The two men were thrown to the floor of the bridge with much force, and the truck continued toward the two prostrate men, and the man in charge only stopped when the men screamed. Cirvice, the elder of the two, was badly bruised on his leg, while his brother was only slightly injured. They did not get the number on the truck. It was heavily loaded at the time with flower pots. Bystanders generally censure the man in charge of the truck.

A STUDY OF FACES.

A study of faces—baby faces—is always interesting. In looking at the portraits in the Mellin's Food Exhibit, one lady said, "That child ought to be a minister" —of the next one she said, "He's a rogue, see that twinkle in his eye," and still further along she said, "What a sweet face that little girl has," and so on. You can spend a pleasant half-hour in the Mellin's Food booth at the Lewis and Clark Exposition, Agricultural Bldg.
