VIEWS OF HEYBURN

Idaho's Senator Says He Has No Quarrel With President.

WHERE THEY DO DISAGREE

In the Main, He Declares, He Is Not Opposing the Administrain Regard to Its Policy.

After all it seems that Senator W. B. Heyburn, of Idaho, is still on the Roosevelt reservation, and there is no war between Idaho's junior Senator and the President regarding forestry matters. Senator Heyburn was here vesterday attending the Bar Association meeting and took occasion to enter some denials.

"That's all rot, the talk that I have broken with the President," said he. "While we may disagree in some mat-ters in the main, there is nothing to war-rant the statement that I am opposing the administration.

"Just what the President's forest re-serve policy is to be I am not sure. I favor such protection to our forests as shall leave the land open to settlement by actual settlers. I believe in the Govment's aid and assistance wherever it is necessary to protect against fires and "I am opposed to the withdrawal of the Idaho forests from settlement. The set-tler certainly is the safest guardian of his own claim and the surrounding coun-

I think the laws and departmental regulations which have transferred large portions of the railroad land grants in Washington, Arizona and other states and territories to Idaho by means of the ex-change system are altogether wrong. Their effect is to transfer land grants in other sections to Idaho, which, under a misinterpretation of the letter and spirit of the law by the Interior Department, has allowed the lands in alternate sections of such other states and territories to be exchanged for solid blocks, carrying vast areas of valuable timber lands of Idaho, disregarding entirely the limitation to alternate sections contained in the original railroad land grants.

"In Idaho the withdrawals for forest reserve include more than 700,000 acres of state school lands, which, under the school lands, which, under the act of admission and the constitution, have a minimum value of $10 an acre. The lieu privilege of selection of others. The same of the constitution of state of selection of other selection of state of selection of state school lands, which, under the selection of selectio lieu privilege of selection of other lands for these is comparatively of little value, in view of the fact that the withdrawals from and selection cover the only class of lands which would be worth the price at which state lands could be sold for educational purposes.

"My action in Congress will be along onservative lines for the restoration of these lands to settlement by homestead-ers. Already the withdrawais in Idaho amount to 25 per cent of the entire area of the state, and more withdrawals are
