

SAN FRANCISCO AT EXPOSITION

Metropolis of the Pacific Has Its Day at the Centennial Grounds.

MANY ARE IN ATTENDANCE

Keynote of the Speeches is Unison of Action by Cities of the Coast for Their Common Good.

ORDER OF THE DAY, AUGUST 18.

- 8:30 A. M.—Trans-Mississippi Congress, Auditorium.
9 to 10:30 A. M.—Concert, Administration Band, Manufacturers building.
10 A. M. and hourly thereafter—Free moving pictures, Nebraska Pavilion, Agricultural Palace.
10 to 11 A. M.—Concert, Tenth Infantry Band, Government Terrace.
10:30 A. M. to 12 M.—Concert, Administration Band, Transportation building, Grandstand.
2 P. M.—Civics Conference, Auditorium.
2 P. M.—Airship flight. (Weather permitting.)
2:30 P. M.—Grand concert, Dierke's Band, Grandstand, Gray Boulevard.
2:30 P. M.—United States Life-Saving Service exhibition on lake.
3:30 to 4:30 P. M.—Concert, Tenth Infantry Band, Government Terrace.
4 to 5 P. M.—Administration Band, concert, Washington building, Olympic week exercises.
4 P. M.—McEwen's great mind-reading test, including a drive through the grounds behind the Exposition.
5:30 P. M.—Art gallery, closed.
6:30 P. M.—Grand operatic concert on Rustic Steps.
8 P. M.—Lecture on Yellowstone National Park, by Barry Buckley, before Trans-Mississippi Congress, Auditorium.
8 P. M.—Grand concert, Dierke's Band, Grandstand, Gray Boulevard.
8 P. M.—Grand electrical illumination.

San Francisco, the metropolis of the Western Coast claimed the Lewis and Clark Exposition as her own yesterday. Her representatives were seen in many of them including the foremost citizens of the Golden State, expressed to her neighbors of the Northwest gratulation over the great exhibition.

Proud of San Francisco.

The San Francisco day exercises were held at the California building at 3 o'clock in the afternoon, in the presence of the largest crowd that has ever gathered at the State Building this season. Commissioner J. A. Fisher, after several selections by the Administration Band, introduced the introductory remarks in which he said that although San Francisco was not the largest city in the world, it was the greatest city in the West. Thereupon he introduced Governor George W. Peck, who presided over the exercises. Governor Peck was a little more modest than Commissioner Fisher. In his characteristic pleasant manner of speaking to an audience, he also threw huge bouquets towards San Francisco. He said that when Tacoma and Seattle each had a claim in being the greatest city in the world, that San Francisco would come forward as "the" city of the world both in size and importance.

Public-Spirited Organizations.

J. P. Currier, Vice-President of the Manufacturers and Producers' Association of California, responded on behalf of the commercial organizations of San Francisco. His address was very interesting and instructive. He gave a brief description of the immense benefit that had resulted from the public-spirited work of the different commercial organizations of California, Oregon and Washington, and the cities of San Francisco, Los Angeles, Oakland, Portland, Seattle and Tacoma should stand together and co-operate to obtain the best results desired.

Benefits of Exposition.

F. J. Koster, Director of the Merchants' Association, of San Francisco, took as his subject "The Benefit of This Exposition to the Pacific Coast." His address was replete with complimentary remarks regarding the Fair. "Not only Oregon, Washington, Idaho, and the other states of the Northwest will reap the benefits of this great Exposition, but California, Arizona and all the commonwealths of the Southwest will be materially benefited," said the speaker. "It stands to reason that the purpose of this Exposition is to expose the resources of the country, the industries, the commerce, the past and present prosperity and the wonderful possibilities that are offered on every hand. People do not come here alone to see the country and the Exposition. From the crowded districts of the East men and women come to seek greater liberty for their statements, and what is more important than anything else, to the city dweller of the congested East, room to breathe and live in."

ALASKA EXCURSION

August 24—$60. Steamer Cottage City, calling Sitka, Indian villages and all ports of interest. Viewing glaciers and snow-capped mountains, eleven days out. For full information and tickets, Pacific Coast Steamship Company, 249 Washington St., Tel. Main 228.

THE HELIOGRAPH EXHIBIT

Visitors Invited to Acquire Idea of Army Signaling.

Visitors to the Lewis and Clark Exposition should not fail to see the heliograph method of signaling demonstrated at the Government building each clear day (Sunday excepted) from 10:30 A. M. to 2 P. M. The Portland station is located on the east side of the Government building and the mountain station is located on the right side of Mount Hood, looking from Portland on the snow-capped mountain about 1000 feet from the top. On fairly clear days, when Mount Hood is not visible, two stations are maintained and operated in the same manner as the mountain station, at all times to see how messages are generally transmitted in the Army during maneuvers and active operations.

The Heliograph is generally operated by the Signal Corps of the Army. It consists of a mirror combination of two mirrors supported on a tripod and so adjusted as to throw a bright sun-flash on the distant station, the flash is reflected by a shutter so placed and cut off at pleasure. The Myer code, consisting of "1" and "2" and combinations, is used; "1" is made by one short flash, "2" by two short flashes. It is made by opening the shutter twice, in quick succession. The rate of sending is from four to eight words per minute. Visitors are invited to see this exhibit and ask for explanations.

Ex-Governor Crittenden Here.

Ex-Governor T. T. Crittenden, of Missouri, is a delegate to the Trans-Mississippi Congress and is taking an active interest in its proceedings. Governor Crittenden has for many years been an important factor in Missouri Democratic politics and is a lawyer of wide reputation. He was a Colonel in the Union Army during the Civil War, and for years afterward a law partner of Senator Cockrell. Chiefly he is known to fame, however, as the man who broke up the Jesse James band, which terrorized the Missouri border for more than a decade.

Reception to Mrs. Mead.

The Washington building will be the scene of a pretty reception this afternoon when Mrs. the Exposition, Mrs. Mead will be the guest of honor. A large number of invitations have been issued to Portland ladies and wives of Exposition officials and citizens. Music will be furnished by the Administration Band, and buffet refreshments will be served. The reception parlors have been beautifully decorated with palms and native flowers for the occasion. "It is made by a part of Olympia's observance of the Exposition this week."

Psychological Feat at the Fair.

McEwen, mindreader and hypnotist, will appear in an exhibition of his psychic powers at the Exposition this afternoon at 4 o'clock. McEwen will essay to locate a key which has been secreted by a committee composed of Exposition officials and newspaper men. The committee has hopes of giving the scrutineer of minds a hard run, although the professor says he will surely locate the hidden key. If there are any minds in the committee to read.

Lecture on Yellowstone.

A free lecture will be given tonight in the auditorium at the Exposition by Barry Buckley, of the Interior Department exhibit at the Fair, for the entertainment of the delegates to the Trans-Mississippi Commercial Congress. He will talk on the subject "Yellowstone Park." Many stereoscopic views will be displayed. The lecture will begin at 8 o'clock.

Nebraska Exhibit.

Free moving picture exhibitions, Nebraska Pavilion, Agricultural Palace.

CIRCUS COMING TO TOWN

What Barnum and Bailey Promise the Public.

Comfort at a circus is what the Barnum & Bailey people guarantee for their big shows, which come to Portland Monday and Tuesday of next week. The seating arrangement will prove a revelation to the show-going public of Portland. W. D. Kelsey, one of the agents of the show, last evening.

"Call to mind even the best of the circuses that have been here in recent years. The man holding a ticket was admitted to the bleachers with no place to rest his feet, while the purchaser of a reserved seat found a staid-down chair attached to a filthy board that constantly threatened disaster. For this uncomfortable seat the visitor was taxed 11.

"Barnum & Bailey have spared no trouble to remedy these unsatisfactory conditions. In the first place, it was determined to make those holding cheap seats comfortable. This was accomplished by furnishing every person with a foot-rest. The boards on the stand, which have been so long a sore, and the upper tiers made safe. These seats may be reserved at a cost of 25 cents above the admission fee. On the opposite side the grandstand is a solid platform, with the seats so arranged that those in the rear can see as well as those in front.

"The ticket system will prove a revelation. The Barnum & Bailey circus has a capacity of 14,000 persons. For each performance exactly that number of tickets are printed, and when they are gone the sale stops. No standing room sign is carried by the show, because standing room is never sold. Every ticket has a coupon. Each admission ticket has a coupon calling for a certain section, and a seat is guaranteed. The reserved seats and grandstand chairs are numbered and call for specific places, so that no matter how late one goes to the circus, if a coupon has been secured, the seat is held.

ALASKA EXCURSION

August 24—$60. Steamer Cottage City, calling Sitka, Indian villages and all ports of interest. Viewing glaciers and snow-capped mountains, eleven days out. For full information and tickets, Pacific Coast Steamship Company, 249 Washington St., Tel. Main 228.

IN SHADOW OF LINCOLN HOME

Illinois Celebrates Its Day at the Lewis and Clark Centennial.

MIDDLE WEST GREAT STATE

Bright Speeches, Pretty Sentiments and Music Are the Features of the Occasion at the Exposition Gathering.

In the shadow of the Abraham Lincoln home, Illinois paid homage to the Lewis and Clark Exposition yesterday morning and the Exposition in its turn paid homage to California. A bright and finely moderated Oregon air came out a moment or two before the exercises opened at 10:30 o'clock and remained in evidence until long after the event had passed into the history of pleasant and notable events at the Fair.

Illinois, the great state of the Middle West, the state that is great in time of peace and great in time of war was represented by delegations direct from various points in Illinois. These delegations were supplemented by 200 or more of those who have left that state for Oregon, but whose affection for the old home is only second to their regard for the new. Bright speeches, pretty sentiments, good music all figured in the exercises which brought two great states into a closer tie of friendship.

Speakers of the Day.

The speakers of the day included: Alfred Bayliss, representing Governor Densen; James F. O'Connell, orator of the day; Exposition President H. W. Goode; Governor George E. Chamberlain, and W. T. Vaughn, Judge J. P. Hand, of the Illinois Supreme bench.

EXPOSITION DRAWS EASTERN VISITORS.

Eastern visitors to the Lewis and Clark Fair continue to arrive in increasing numbers. Attendance of approximately 40,000 during the first two months will be far surpassed by August and September, and the estimate of 100,000 Eastern visitors based upon that showing will doubtless be exceeded.

Tickets of these visitors are validated at Portland, San Francisco, Los Angeles, Seattle, Tacoma, Victoria and Vancouver, B. C., with the proportion for Portland about 60 per cent during the first two months. For the first 15 days of August exhibitions at Portland alone approximately 100,000 persons now having return slips attached to their coupons daily average about 1000 at the Union Depot. Calculated upon this record of the fortnight it is apparent that August alone will bring to the Exposition from the country outside the Pacific Coast States up to approximately 75,000.

In the consideration of possible travel that would be attracted to the Exposition if the low rates granted by the coast were extended to the continental lines that the total for the entire Exposition period would not total the number that it is now apparent will be recorded in the first three months.

LOW EXCURSION RATES TO THE EAST

On September 1 and 2, the Rock Island Railway will sell round-trip tickets to the East at greatly reduced rates. For full particulars call on or address A. H. McDonald, general agent, 140 Third Street, Portland, Ore.

NOT MEDICINE

But Scientific Food.

People who do not study the subject sometimes get the idea that Grape-Nuts is a medicine, whereas it is a pure cereal food made upon scientific principles and contains no medicine whatever.

"Stomach trouble must be treated through taking away the bad food and using proper food, for almost all stomach trouble comes from the use of improper food," says science, and the only way to cure it is to take away the cause and use good food in its place. "I am a brain worker and resorted to the habit of drinking strong black coffee, but science says 'no more left me, and my friends assure me that I am actually growing fat."

"I first learned of Grape-Nuts through a lady friend who uses it regularly for breakfast and lunch. I had heard of them only as puffy little children, and was surprised at the change in them, for now they are a pair of the strongest, healthiest girls I ever saw. What surprised me most was that the change had been brought about by a 'patent medicine' as I had been inclined to call Grape-Nuts.

"My friend pointed out my mistake and induced me to take a saucer of the food. The crisp, nutty flavor surprised and pleased me, and I resolved to use it myself, with the wonderful results I have told you of." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

Grape-Nuts is made of the pure cereals alone and quickly corrects all of the ills that arise from the use of improper food. Grape-Nuts is a natural food prepared in the most scientific way. Look in each package for a copy of the famous little book "The Road to Wellville."

TWO STATES UITE

Louisiana and Tennessee Celebrated Yesterday.

WARM GREETINGS GIVEN

Men and Women of the South Have a Day at the Exposition, Where Felicitations Are Exchanged by All.

WORMY FRUIT DISAPPEARS

Inspector Reid Drives It Out of the Markets.

Portland people may have noticed in the past two weeks an improvement in the quality of fruit purchased at the city stores. Wormy apples, acaly peaches and diseased fruit of any kind can no longer be found for sale. For this welcome change they are indebted to a young man who twice a day makes the round of the Front street produce houses, in the early morning visits the Plaza market and the rest of the day keeps his eye on farmers and gardeners who bring their product to the city. This man is James H. Reid, the newly appointed Fruit Inspector, better known in the produce quarter as "the bug man."

Mr. Reid knows his business, for he is a practical fruit-grower himself. He has a farm at Milwaukie which produces 18,000 baskets of Concord grapes every year. He grows other fruit, too, but he sprays his yards so thoroughly that he never has to condemn any of his own product. Since he stopped the sale of infected fruit in this market, prices have undergone a revolution. Hereafter so much trash was offered for sale that it kept down the price of clean fruit, especially apples, and no inducement was offered the grower to take care of his orchard property. Before Mr. Reid's appointment good sound apples only netted the grower about 75 cents a box. Now the same class of fruit is worth

James H. Reid, County Fruit Inspector

"To the farmers I would like to give a little advice," said Mr. Reid yesterday. "Leave your wormy and scaly apples in the market, unless you are looking for trouble. Pack your fruit honestly and throw out the scabby, misshapen stuff for goodness 'it will pay in the end."

A few days ago there was a scarcity of apples on the street, and in making my rounds I saw four boxes of passable apples in front of a small order house. The fruit had been dumped loosely in the box, the covers were scummed out of fence-boards and nailed up with tennypenny nails. I bought the four boxes at 30 cents each, took them to a commission house, and the result was three boxes of fairly good apples which were sold 20 minutes later at $1.5 a box.

"This was merely an experiment to see what would be done with ordinary clean fruit. The result fully justified the effort."

WELCOMED BY MEYERS.

President Jefferson Myers, of the Oregon State Commission, also welcomed the people from Louisiana and Tennessee to the Exposition. He was in his most genial and affable mood, and his address of welcome was warmly approved by the native Southerners. President Myers also has a happy manner of avoiding time-worn and almost historic sentences of greeting. "It is to be regretted that at the present moment there exists that most dreadful disease, yellow fever, and that your Chief Executive and citizenship are unable to be present today at the celebration of your state at this great Western Exposition," said the President. "It is the prayer, hope of our Western citizens that your people may soon be relieved of this dreadful condition and the epidemic which is today invading the homes of so many of your good citizens."

Tom Richardson Speaks.

Tom Richardson, secretary of the Portland Commercial Club, gave an address, in which he welcomed both Louisiana and Oregon. "But I would not advise you to go there right now," said Mr. Richardson.

TWO STATES UITE

Louisiana and Tennessee Celebrated Yesterday.

WARM GREETINGS GIVEN

Men and Women of the South Have a Day at the Exposition, Where Felicitations Are Exchanged by All.

WORMY FRUIT DISAPPEARS

Inspector Reid Drives It Out of the Markets.

Portland people may have noticed in the past two weeks an improvement in the quality of fruit purchased at the city stores. Wormy apples, acaly peaches and diseased fruit of any kind can no longer be found for sale. For this welcome change they are indebted to a young man who twice a day makes the round of the Front street produce houses, in the early morning visits the Plaza market and the rest of the day keeps his eye on farmers and gardeners who bring their product to the city. This man is James H. Reid, the newly appointed Fruit Inspector, better known in the produce quarter as "the bug man."

Mr. Reid knows his business, for he is a practical fruit-grower himself. He has a farm at Milwaukie which produces 18,000 baskets of Concord grapes every year. He grows other fruit, too, but he sprays his yards so thoroughly that he never has to condemn any of his own product. Since he stopped the sale of infected fruit in this market, prices have undergone a revolution. Hereafter so much trash was offered for sale that it kept down the price of clean fruit, especially apples, and no inducement was offered the grower to take care of his orchard property. Before Mr. Reid's appointment good sound apples only netted the grower about 75 cents a box. Now the same class of fruit is worth

"To the farmers I would like to give a little advice," said Mr. Reid yesterday. "Leave your wormy and scaly apples in the market, unless you are looking for trouble. Pack your fruit honestly and throw out the scabby, misshapen stuff for goodness 'it will pay in the end."

A few days ago there was a scarcity of apples on the street, and in making my rounds I saw four boxes of passable apples in front of a small order house. The fruit had been dumped loosely in the box, the covers were scummed out of fence-boards and nailed up with tennypenny nails. I bought the four boxes at 30 cents each, took them to a commission house, and the result was three boxes of fairly good apples which were sold 20 minutes later at $1.5 a box.

"This was merely an experiment to see what would be done with ordinary clean fruit. The result fully justified the effort."

WELCOMED BY MEYERS.

President Jefferson Myers, of the Oregon State Commission, also welcomed the people from Louisiana and Tennessee to the Exposition. He was in his most genial and affable mood, and his address of welcome was warmly approved by the native Southerners. President Myers also has a happy manner of avoiding time-worn and almost historic sentences of greeting. "It is to be regretted that at the present moment there exists that most dreadful disease, yellow fever, and that your Chief Executive and citizenship are unable to be present today at the celebration of your state at this great Western Exposition," said the President. "It is the prayer, hope of our Western citizens that your people may soon be relieved of this dreadful condition and the epidemic which is today invading the homes of so many of your good citizens."

Tom Richardson Speaks.

Tom Richardson, secretary of the Portland Commercial Club, gave an address, in which he welcomed both Louisiana and Oregon. "But I would not advise you to go there right now," said Mr. Richardson.

TWO STATES UITE

Louisiana and Tennessee Celebrated Yesterday.

WARM GREETINGS GIVEN

Men and Women of the South Have a Day at the Exposition, Where Felicitations Are Exchanged by All.

WORMY FRUIT DISAPPEARS

Inspector Reid Drives It Out of the Markets.

Portland people may have noticed in the past two weeks an improvement in the quality of fruit purchased at the city stores. Wormy apples, acaly peaches and diseased fruit of any kind can no longer be found for sale. For this welcome change they are indebted to a young man who twice a day makes the round of the Front street produce houses, in the early morning visits the Plaza market and the rest of the day keeps his eye on farmers and gardeners who bring their product to the city. This man is James H. Reid, the newly appointed Fruit Inspector, better known in the produce quarter as "the bug man."

Mr. Reid knows his business, for he is a practical fruit-grower himself. He has a farm at Milwaukie which produces 18,000 baskets of Concord grapes every year. He grows other fruit, too, but he sprays his yards so thoroughly that he never has to condemn any of his own product. Since he stopped the sale of infected fruit in this market, prices have undergone a revolution. Hereafter so much trash was offered for sale that it kept down the price of clean fruit, especially apples, and no inducement was offered the grower to take care of his orchard property. Before Mr. Reid's appointment good sound apples only netted the grower about 75 cents a box. Now the same class of fruit is worth

"To the farmers I would like to give a little advice," said Mr. Reid yesterday. "Leave your wormy and scaly apples in the market, unless you are looking for trouble. Pack your fruit honestly and throw out the scabby, misshapen stuff for goodness 'it will pay in the end."

A few days ago there was a scarcity of apples on the street, and in making my rounds I saw four boxes of passable apples in front of a small order house. The fruit had been dumped loosely in the box, the covers were scummed out of fence-boards and nailed up with tennypenny nails. I bought the four boxes at 30 cents each, took them to a commission house, and the result was three boxes of fairly good apples which were sold 20 minutes later at $1.5 a box.

"This was merely an experiment to see what would be done with ordinary clean fruit. The result fully justified the effort."

WELCOMED BY MEYERS.

President Jefferson Myers, of the Oregon State Commission, also welcomed the people from Louisiana and Tennessee to the Exposition. He was in his most genial and affable mood, and his address of welcome was warmly approved by the native Southerners. President Myers also has a happy manner of avoiding time-worn and almost historic sentences of greeting. "It is to be regretted that at the present moment there exists that most dreadful disease, yellow fever, and that your Chief Executive and citizenship are unable to be present today at the celebration of your state at this great Western Exposition," said the President. "It is the prayer, hope of our Western citizens that your people may soon be relieved of this dreadful condition and the epidemic which is today invading the homes of so many of your good citizens."

Tom Richardson Speaks.

Tom Richardson, secretary of the Portland Commercial Club, gave an address, in which he welcomed both Louisiana and Oregon. "But I would not advise you to go there right now," said Mr. Richardson.

Thousands of Women

ARE MADE WELL AND STRONG

Success of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Rests Upon the Fact that It Really Does Make Sick Women Well

Thousands upon thousands of American women have been restored to health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Their letters are on file in Mrs. Pinkham's office, and prove this statement to be a fact and not a mere boast.

Overshadowing indeed is the success of this great medicine, and compared with it all other medicines and treatment for women are experiments. Why has Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound accomplished its widespread results for good? Why has it lived and thrived and done its glorious work for a quarter of a century?

Simply and surely because of its sterling worth. The reason no other medicine has even approached its success is plainly and positively because there is no other medicine in the world so good for women's ills.

The wonderful power of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound over the diseases of womanhood is not because it is a stimulant—not because it is a palliative, but simply because it is the most wonderful tonic and reconstructer ever discovered to act directly upon the uterine system, positively curing disease and displacing and restoring health and vigor.

Marvelous cures are reported from all parts of the country by women who have been cured, trained nurses who have witnessed cures, and physicians who have recognized the virtue in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and are fair enough to give credit where it is due. If physicians dared to be frank and open, hundreds of them would acknowledge that they constantly prescribe Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in severe cases of female ills, as they know by experience that it will effect a cure.

Women who are troubled with painful or irregular menstruation, backache, bloating (or flatulence), leucorrhoea, falling, inflammation or ulceration of the uterus, ovarian troubles, that "bearing-down" feeling, dizziness, faintness, indigestion, nervous prostration, or the blues, should take immediate action to ward off the serious consequences and be restored to health and strength by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Anyway, write to Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass., for advice. It's free and always helpful.

Burnett's Vanilla Extract is sold by all the best grocers everywhere, try it.

SCENERY IS DIFFERENT

That's Why the Columbia River Ride on the Undine Can't Be Missed.

A traveler with a short time to stay must use each day to the best advantage. That is why he should take the bright ride up the Columbia River to the Grand and Anacostina on the Undine. The scenery will repay the most blasé globe-trotter.

The Undine leaves the Taylor-street dock at 8:30 A. M. daily, returning at 5 P. M. Round trip, $1.50.

Lucia Moore Goes to Alcazar.

The Belasco Stock Company is to have a new leading woman, for Lucia Moore, who has been at the head of that organization since the beginning of the season, three months ago, will leave at the end of next week.

Following the established policy of Belasco & Mayer, she is to be transferred to the Alcazar, at San Francisco, where she will play leading roles. Lillian Lawrence leaves the leading position at the Alcazar to come here. "The Girl and the Judge" will be the last bill in which Miss Moore will appear here, much to the regret of the public. She has become the most popular, as she undoubtedly is the most versatile, leading woman who has ever headed a stock company in this city.

"DRUNKENNESS" AND TOBACCO HABITS CURED BY TRIB. ROWE & MARTIN SOLE DISTRIBUTORS WASHINGTON STREET CORNER SIXTH

No smoker ever "switches off" from the Cubanola unless his taste changes. And those times he discovers that his taste won't be suited any more for 5 cents per smoke. Because he has been smoking genuine imported Havana tobacco in the Cubanola—a quality of leaf that is never used to any extent in any other cigar sold at 5 cents. CUBANO CIGAR—5c. The Cubanola brings you this perfect tobacco, in a Sumatra wrapper, and in perfect condition, for 5 cents, only because of the immense scale on which the entire business is conducted. It is a first-class example of the unmistakable improvement in cigar quality which the American Cigar Company's modern system has accomplished.