

Shoppers' Lunch

FREE ON THIRD FLOOR. Shoppers are cordially invited to come up to the Third Floor, while in the store, and partake of a dainty lunch, served by our demonstrator and cooked "while you wait." Lunch hours are from 1 to 4 P. M. only. The lunch consists of toothsome "rosettes," or waffles, cooked with the aid of the magical "Rosette Irons," which are on sale at 50c the pair.

Another Demonstration of Interest to Housewives

It is a demonstration of the advantages of the ASBESTOS SADDLE IRONS. How do your hands feel after an ironing is over? Burned and lame—eh? Well, you need a set of ASBESTOS SADDLE IRONS. Have their advantages demonstrated to you while you're with us today.

A Hundred Pointed Reasons WHY SHREWD SHOPPERS SHOULD ATTEND THE STORE'S 120th GRAND FRIDAY "ECONOMY SALE" TODAY

May We Suggest? That morning shopping is always desirable in Summer, especially during the Special sales. Stocks are at their best—so are you. Many choice little lots are snapped up quickly during the morning hours, and best choice, always of large lots, to the earliest. But come at any hour convenient—we'll be glad to greet you, eager to serve you—pleasantly, efficiently, satisfactorily—and 'twill be well worth your while—your visit here—if you'll take advantage of the bargains. The more you buy the more you'll save.

Buyers and Visitors Alike are Welcome at This "Old Homestead" Store. It's always pleasant to see the old faces. Our many years' patrons are in every day—they and their children. And we're making hosts of new friends every day among the visitors. The circle with its countless links keeps widening. May the many new friendships prove as strong and lasting as the old. Old friends! New friends! Home folks and Exposition visitors—consider this YOUR HOME STORE—and you're always WELCOME! Especially now, when we are heaping up the measure of good things and the big cup of bargains is overflowing with mites of prices that represent but mere fractions of actual worth—all in today's great event.

A Sale of Rich OSTRICH PLUMES Save a Third to a Half

"Bijou" Salons of MILLINERY—Annex, Second Floor. You know, of course, that the big ostrich plumes don't come from the birds, in the long, fluffy affairs that delight the hearts of women (and also of Knights Templar). No; they're "manufactured"—cleaned, dyed and curled; often "built up" by deftly making several natural feathers into one large plume. The manufacturer who supplies this store has attained great prominence in making ostrich plumes by reason of skill and scrupulous care; he's made his reputation that way and is very jealous of his name. He won't allow a plume to leave his factory unless 'tis absolutely perfect in its grade. It is plumes of this sort that go to make up the bargains told of in this Friday sale today:

PLUMES AND TIPS $2.50 TO $3.00 PLUMES FOR $1.98. Amazon Ostrich Plumets, 18 inches in length, in black and white; our $2.50 to $3.00 values.
