

FORNES CEASES TO BE MODEL MAN

New York's Acting Mayor
Faces Charges in a Divorce Suit.

POLITICAL HOPES BLASTED

Accused of Grave Offense by Wife
Who Failed to Shine Socially.
His Wondrous Record as a Presiding Officer.

NEW YORK, Aug. 18.—(Special).—With the acting Mayor of the city facing a suit for divorce, which promises to produce interesting testimony, a renewed interest has been given to midsummer politics.

For many years United States Senator Depew's motto has been "Be happy." The motto of President of the Board of Aldermen Charles V. Fornes has been "Be a model to young men." But Depew is no longer happy, and if what Mrs. Fornes says is true, her husband can hardly be considered a model to the young.

Charles V. Fornes is the business man in politics, and his record has been good. He has lived in New York City all his life, been active as a wholesale merchant, and for many years has been active in the Catholic Club, the largest and wealthiest of its kind in the United States. For four terms he was president, and did much to advance the organization, and it was because of his popularity that he was placed on the Fusion ticket for President of the Board of Aldermen four years ago, being re-elected on the Tammany ticket in 1904.

Mr. Fornes did not intend to be a candidate for re-election this Fall, but had his eye on the seat in Congress now filled by William Randolph Hearst, and had practically been promised the nomination, for Leader Murphy has decided that Mr. Hearst cannot go to Congress again, if it lies in the power of Tammany Hall to prevent it.

Cause of All the Trouble.

Mrs. Fornes is a sister of "Elsie Leslie," who, at the age of 2, made a great success as "Little Lord Fauntleroy." The family name is Lynde, and the father of the girls has for many years been employed by Mr. Fornes. He is now retired on a pension.

There was much excitement six years ago, when Mr. Fornes, then 35, married Miss Lynde, aged 18. Their happy married life lasted hardly a year, and then Mrs. Fornes went abroad. She and her husband have not lived together since.

Mrs. Fornes, despite the fact that both she and her husband are Catholics, has filed a suit for divorce, a method of procedure not recognized by her church. The case is on the calendar of the Supreme Court at Rutland, Vt., and will be called for trial next month. Her bill of complaint, which has been made public, contains some startling charges.

The wife declared that her aged husband was cruel to her, and that she suffered from his brutality until she could stand it no longer.

She also accuses Mr. Fornes of the statutory offense in this state, and names as correspondent, a woman whom she simply describes as a "shopgirl." Her husband and this "shopgirl," she declares, took a trip to Pleasure Bay, a resort in New Jersey, and the wife doesn't approve of their conduct.

Fornes Blames Politicians.
Mr. Fornes, who has given his wife an allowance of $350 a year ever since they separated, insists that his wife has fallen under the influence of his political enemies, which is something new in the line of defense for a divorce suit.

"I had hoped to prevent her from doing this terrible thing," he declared, with actual tears in his eyes. "It was my belief to the last that she would realize that I was her oldest and best friend, and that I was only actuated by a desire for her welfare. But she has ignored my pleadings and listened to men who are actuated solely by a desire to cause my political downfall."

The general belief is that, regardless of the result of the forthcoming trial, Fornes' career as a public servant is at an end, and his desire to shine in the halls of the National Legislature will never be gratified.

Fornes Knows Not Cushing.

For Fornes, apparently, never made the acquaintance of Cushing's Manual. Probably his star performance was one day when a Tammany member made a motion, a Republican offered an amendment, a Citizen's Union Alderman proposed a substitute, and a fourth legislator arose to a point of order. Mr. Fornes gasped and dropped his gavel on the desk. He reflected a moment, then picked up the gavel again, and said:

"These motions are coming entirely too fast. I don't know exactly what to do, so if nobody objects, I will call them all out of order. Now, let's start over again, and consider them one at a time."

"Mr. President, I demand the previous question," shouted an Alderman on another occasion.

"Be silent," responded Fornes; "we are going to vote."

"What are we voting on?" yelled the irrepressible Peter Heller, of Brooklyn, one afternoon.

"I haven't the slightest idea," said the presiding officer, wearily. "But I'll ask the gentleman who made the motion, if you want to know."

"I appeal from the decision of the chair!" remarked a member, after Fornes had made a ruling.

"But I have already decided the matter," replied Fornes. "You are too late."

Despite his lack of parliamentary knowledge, the president of the Board of Aldermen was popular with the men he ruled. His decisions, although often not in accordance with precedents, were generally fair, and he tried to do the best he could.

"He isn't a Tom Reed or a Gladstone," said "Little Tim" Sullivan, the vice-president of the Board, in conversation one day. "He does not know a point of order from a motion to adjourn, but he is not crooked or biased. Of course, we mix him up many times, but he generally gets there, although more often by Hoyer than by Cushing."

Has Sympathy of Aldermen.

The news of Mr. Fornes' matrimonial troubles has gained him the sympathy of the Board of Aldermen, and it has practically decided to be very easy on him for the rest of his term, and to give him a testimonial when he retires.

Fornes' friends say that his troubles were due to the fact that his wife was ambitious to shine in high society, and that he was unable to gratify her wish. For a short time after their marriage the couple lived at the Waldorf, but Mrs. Fornes failed to supplant the Astors or the Vanderbilts, or even to meet anybody of value in her contemplated social campaign. Then she became angry and left him. Whether this theory is correct, or whether the wife's charges can be sustained is not clear as yet, but when the case comes up for trial it will undoubtedly be bitterly fought, and furnish interesting reading for New Yorkers.

NEW LAW FOR RAILROADS

Association of Commissioners Would Increase Government Power.

DEADWOOD, S. D., Aug. 18.—At the meeting of the National Association of Railway Commissioners the following resolutions in brief were adopted:

First.—That all railroad companies and their agents be required to file all rates and regulations with the commission, and publish rates for the information of the public.

Second.—If a rate is found unjust, until the courts decide the matter.

Third.—That a carrier is found to be discriminating against persons or places, he shall be at once ordered to conform with the rules.

Fourth.—No corporation shall be allowed to increase a rate without first consulting the Interstate Commerce Commission.

Fifth.—That any railroad company or corporation be compelled to give up their books to the commission upon demand.

Sixth.—That the Interstate Commerce Commission be empowered to make rules and regulations for the government of private car lines.

Seventh.—That section 4 of the act to "regulate commerce" is not full and definite, and should be amended.

Eighth.—That heavy penalties be levied on corporations not obeying orders.

RUINOUS A WRECK

Webb Jay's Rapid Pace Ends in Disaster.

MANY BONES ARE BROKEN

Dashes Through Fence, Down Bank and Into Pond at Mile-a-Minute Pace—May Survive His Terrible Injuries.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Aug. 18.—Webb Jay, of Buffalo, was probably fatally injured at Kenilworth Park today, in the ten-mile automobile race. At the three-quarters of the fourth mile Jay's machine crashed through the fence, down an embankment of 15 feet and into a pond of water. What caused the accident is not known. It is believed, however, that Jay was blinded by dust and steered into the fence. He was driven about a mile a minute when the accident happened.

Jay was racing with Lytle and Burman. At the three-quarters turn, Jay was third and the dust cloud of the other two cars hung over him. Just at the three-quarters, the track had been banked with dirt taken from the excavation, which had left a deep hole just beyond the fence. Heavy rains had transferred the hole into a deep pond. Just as Jay rounded the turn his car dashed through the fence, down the embankment and into the water.

Jay, unconscious, would have been drowned, had not two spectators sitting on the fence nearby gone to his rescue and dragged him out. He was taken to the German hospital, where it was found that nine ribs were broken, one of his lungs was punctured and his right femur was fractured. Pneumonia and pleurisy, it is believed, will set in within 24 hours, and if he survives he may live, the surgeons say.

STRIKE OFF ON ONE ROAD

GREAT NORTHERN OPERATORS
VOTE TO GIVE IT UP.

Northern Pacific Men Still Voting
and May Decide to Continue Struggle, Says Perham.

ST. PAUL, Aug. 18.—The strike of telegraphers on the Great Northern was officially called off at 9:15 o'clock tonight, the men on the strike voting by a large majority to return to work.

The question of continuing the strike or returning to work is being voted upon by the Northern Pacific, but up to 11 o'clock tonight not sufficient advice has been received to make a definite announcement as to the result. President Perham, however, stated that the indication was that the Northern Pacific operators would vote to continue the strike.

VOTE TO CONTINUE STRIKE
Great Majority of Operators on Western End of Roads.

SPOKANE, Aug. 18.—The strike vote on this division of both roads at noon today revealed the fact that an even hundred men have voted to continue the strike, while only seven votes have been recorded in favor of ending the struggle.

Chairman Tanquary, this afternoon, emphatically denied a rumor that the strike was declared off and stated that, as long as the men wished to continue the struggle, the fight would be kept up.

Perham's Reason for Ordering Vote.
ST. PAUL, Minn., Aug. 18.—President Perham, of the Great Northern Telegraphers, said today that the statement of Fourth Vice-President Dermody was correct. He said he had heard that there had been a weak on the Great Northern system last night on receipt by the men of a promise of an increase in pay, and he had directed that a vote be taken. "More pay," he said, "is all we have been fighting for."

Unanimous for Strike.
TACOMA, Wash., Aug. 18.—The Pacific division of telegraphers voted unanimously today to continue the strike. They were called upon by President Perham to vote on the question with the above result.

RAILROAD SURGEONS MEET

Objection of Patients Prevents Clinic at Railroad Hospital.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 18.—The annual meeting of the Pacific Association of Railway Surgeons closed tonight with a smoker at the St. Francis Hotel. Arrangements had been made for a clinic and exhibition of patients at the Southern Pacific Company's hospital in the morning, but, owing to the objections of some of the patients there, the clinic was transferred to the city and county hospital. At the hospital Dr. A. W. Morton performed seven operations under cocaine anesthesia within three hours. After visiting the various wards, the surgeons returned to the St. Francis Hotel for the afternoon session.

At the afternoon session eleven papers were read on subjects of interest. It to those doctors engaged in railroad work, following the reading of each paper a general discussion took place.

The afternoon session closed with an election of officers for the coming year. The following were elected: Dr. T. W. Huntington, San Francisco, president; Dr. C. C. McEwen, Berkeley, first vice-president; Dr. W. O. Spencer, Huntington, Or., second vice-president; Dr. Frank L. Adams, Oakland, treasurer; Dr. James P. Dunn, Oakland, secretary. The members of the executive board and other officers will be appointed later by the new president.

It was decided to hold the convention next year in San Francisco. It was held some time in August and the exact date will be announced later by the president.

CABLE STEAMER ASHORE

Whole New Atlantic Cable in Danger
Off Nova Scotia.

HALIFAX, N. S., Aug. 18.—(Special).—The big British cable steamer Colossus, which arrived off Canoe, N. S., yesterday, and which intended to start today the laying of the cable to Ireland, has gone ashore and is in a bad position. The value of the cables on the boat is enormous.

NEW YORK, Aug. 18.—The Colossus left London August 5 for the purpose of laying a cable from Canoe, N. S., to Watersville, Ireland, a distance of 2400 miles. She arrived off the Nova Scotia port on August 18 and preparations were made for landing the end of the cable. Early today the shore end of the cable was taken ashore and the steamer was to proceed eastward to Watersville, letting out the cable as she steamed to the other side. The new cable is to form a part of the Commercial Cable Company's system.

The Colossus is the largest cable vessel afloat, being of 7946 gross tons register. She is a twin-screw vessel and was built of steel in 1903 at Newcastle, England. The Telegraph Construction & Maintenance Company of London is the Colossus' owner. She is 417 feet in length.

NO BANQUET FOR BRITISH

Swinemunde in Germany Condemns
Fleet's Cruise in Baltic.

LONDON, Aug. 18.—(Special).—A dispatch to the Central News from Berlin says that the municipality of Swinemunde, in Prussia, on the Swine, an outlet of the Stettiner-Haft, in the Baltic Sea, has decided against the proposal of the Liberal members to banquet the British fleet, which will visit the town during the course of the maneuvers in the Baltic.

The fleet will be at Swinemunde on August 28. The reason for defeating the proposition is because "the visit is not in conformity with the sentiments of the people."

SCANDAL IN SCOTCH HIGH LIFE

Ex-Member of Parliament Accused of Plot to Murder ex-Wife.

LONDON, Aug. 18.—A great sensation has been created by the arrest of Hugh Watt, a financier and formerly a member of Parliament for the Cromarty division of Glasgow, on the charge of attempting to procure a private detective to assist in the murder of his former wife, Detective Marshall testified in a Police Court today that Watt offered him $5000 if he would induce the woman to come to Watt's flat, where he proposed to kill her, by the administration of chloroform, then to remove the smell of the chloroform with peppermint. Watt was remanded for trial on bail of $1000. The police found both chloroform and peppermint in Watt's apartment.

Watt was in the divorce court some years ago, when his wife sued for a divorce, the correspondent being Lady Violet Beauchamp, daughter of the late Lord and Lady Roden, and the divorced wife of Sir Reginald Beauchamp. Watt has since married Lady Violet Beauchamp.

Since the granting of the divorce, Watt and his former wife have been in the law courts regarding their marriage settlements, and much bitterness resulted from this litigation. A couple of weeks ago, the parties appeared in a Police Court, Watt charging his former wife with having assaulted and violently ejected him from her house, where he said he went for the purpose of trying to compromise her business arrangements.

MISSIONARIES ARE SLAIN.

Natives Exterminate Bishop and Four Companions in Africa.

BERLIN, Aug. 18.—A dispatch received here from the Governor of German East Africa says that native rebels, killing missionaries, and the wife of a Catholic bishop named Spies, two missionary brothers and two sisters were murdered while traveling from Kilwa to Lilwalie.

Prussians Will Study Western Farms
PROBENIA, Prussia, Aug. 18.—Several members of the Royal Settlements Commission have been ordered to the United States for the purpose of studying Western farm management and conditions. This commission is engaged in buying lands in California, and settling German immigrants on them, so as to increase German influence in the provinces of Prussian Poland.

A credit of the extent of $5,000,000 was given the commission in 1902. This was increased to $10,000,000 in 1903, and to $17,500,000 in 1904, and it will probably be still further increased.

Boycott Sole Bar to Prosperity.
ST. PAUL, Minn., Aug. 18.—James J. Hill says the Northwest will have a prosperous year. He sees no clouds hovering over the financial sky. He said: "The prospects of the West would be entirely assured with the raising of the boycott by China, which is checking flour exports."

WOMEN'S MISSION WORK

Great Gathering of Christian Church
Hears of Progress Abroad.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 18.—The convention of Christian churches was formally opened today with the first session of the Christian Women's Board of Missions. Nearly 100 delegates and visitors to the convention have been enrolled at the headquarters, and many more are still on the way.

The meeting of the Christian Women's Board of Missions, held at the First Congregational Church, was presided over by Vice-President Anna R. Atwater. After devotional services, conducted by Mrs. M. B. Foster, of California, Mrs. Atwater reviewed the work of the year in an eloquent address. The report of the progress committee, read by Miss S. S. Murphy, was listened to with great interest. The report was encouraging throughout. In few cases the work of conversion progressed slowly, but on the whole the report showed that good work was being done by the missionaries.

At the evening session, Mrs. Julia C. Gerould dwelt at length upon the deplorable condition of women in India. She impressed strongly on the convention the need of Christian physicians there.

RICE BILL KILLED IN CUBA

Congress Drops It, Palma Ignoring Roosevelt's Plea for It.

HAVANA, Aug. 18.—The Senate this afternoon, near the close of what it was expected would be its last meeting before November, administered the deathblow to the rice bill, a measure which has been the subject of more discussion and more diplomatic representations than any other yet before the Cuban Congress.

President Palma recently refused the request of the American Minister, Mr. Squiers, to use his office in behalf of the bill, and it is understood that he advised the Senate to put off the consideration of the bill until after the election.

The Associated Press is credibly informed that, in addition to the efforts of the State Department at Washington, statements by Minister Quesada and the most urgent representations by Minister Squiers, President Roosevelt personally sent a letter to President Palma urging the passage of the bill.

One of the principal reasons for President Palma's neutral attitude, despite the friendliness of the United States, was that he felt that opening the Cuban markets to American trade would benefit only a section of the United States, and would be of no special benefit to that country generally.

CHICAGO, Aug. 18.—The stereotyping organization, which has been affiliated with the International Typographical Union, today held its annual session to be held by the Typographical Union and to keep up the special assessment for the defense fund which is being collected. The movement favoring withdrawal from the union has been defeated by a large majority.

RESTING LIVESTOCK ON TRIP

Wilson Approves Salmon's Recommendation to Relax Orders.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18.—Secretary Wilson, of the Agricultural Department, returned to Washington from Chicago today, where he conducted an investigation of complaints against the new regulations governing the shipments of stock under the 24-hour law. The Secretary, in response to an inquiry whether he will call Congress for a modification of the law, intended to give the shippers and railroads the relief they desired, said he was inclined to think the time limit might be extended on hauls in territory west of the Missouri River, but that East of the Missouri River an extension of time is not desirable.

Later in the day the Secretary made

NEW SLEEPERS ARE ORDERED
Southern Pacific Takes Steps to Improve Its Service.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 18.—Thirty new standard sleepers have been ordered for the service of the Southern Pacific related lines. Twenty of these are 10-section, single drawing-room, double stateroom cars for the Overland Limited, the other 10 are 12-section, single drawing-room cars for use on the Portland line. It is expected that these cars, which are the latest product of the Pullman shops, will be in operation in the latter part of August. This is an indication of the efforts put forth by the transcontinental lines to take care of the rapidly increasing traffic to the Pacific Coast.
