First Praise Service Held in Trinity

C. R. WOODRUFF'S SERMON

Topics Discussed at the Houses of Worship in Portland and Resume of Clergymen's Remarks to Audiences.

Sunshine streaming through pictured windows, twittering birds outside, spiendid music from the choir, aided by the $10,000 organ, and praise participated in by fully 1100 worshipers, marked the opening for religious use, yesterday morning, of the new Trinity Protestant Episcopal Church, Nineteenth and Everett streets. It could not be called a dedication or onsecration service, however-these will ome later in the Fall, when the church is completed as to interior furnishing and out of debt. The altar is also un-finished, but this will be completed in a few days at the most. Yesterday's ceremonies were impressive with all the beautiful ritual of the Episwith all the beautiful ritual of the Epis-copal Church. There was the processional led by the crossbearer, and behind him slowly walked a bevy of rozy-cheeked chorister boys singing a hymn known to all Christendom, "The Church's One Foundation," and basses and tenors and clergy brought up the rear. The procession was a picture in black and white, from the cassocks and surplices worn by Venerable Bishop Morris was there, and with him walked Dr. A. A. Morrison, the rector of Trinity Church; Rev. T. L. Cole, a former rector of the church; Rev. James E. Barbour, Rev. Robert Hope and Rev. John Dawson. The congregation included many strangers and also representatives from the larger Trinity Church family that has moved to the suburbs since the old church bunding, at Sixth and Oak streets, was abandoned after being practically destroyed by fire.

The special feature of the service was the elaborate music presented by the choir, under the direction of Carl Denton. organist and choirmaster. Mr. Denton played on the new organ for the first time in religious worship, and showed a commendable acquaintance on short notice with the three manuals and the bristling array of 39 speaking stops. The tone of the organ was admirable, and the dynamo supplying the motive power did its work without a hitch. New organs are some-times like children waen company calls they are on their worst possible behavior. But the Trinity organ's behavior was irreproachable. The most elaborate bit of sic sung was the motet for soll and chorus, "King All Glorious" (Barnby), a composition with a Greek motif. The solo part was excellently sung by two sopranos, Carlyle Geisler and Frank-Bhea. Both boys deserve credit for their cultured delivery of head-notes. Dr. Morrison also sang a solo, which was particularly enjoyed, the phrasing and ione being admirable.

The alto leads were given with a precision and depth of tone unusual in a chancel choir, but it is only fair to state that the alto boys had the assistance of two young women contraltos, who were almost hidden behind the men singers. It is to be hoped that women singers in the Tribity choir have come to stay, as they sione can give the leads in chorus work. Specially drilled boys can sing soles but how are to work. werk. Specially drilled boys can sink solos, but boys are too young to appre-ciate prompt attack in singing. The old idea that "only males are holy in the chancel" belongs to the antediluvian times of Noah and his ark. Trinity choir ought excel in unaccompanied choral

Dr. Morrison did not preach a regular sermon, but he took occasion to express the joy he felt in being with his people in a new permanent church home of their own. His central thought was that man is mistaken when he thinks that the world can do without the church-it is still a place where sick souls can be

At the evening service, Rev. T. L. Cole precched. A movement is now on foot among Trinity parishioners to abolish the nday evening service at 8 o'clock and substitute a Sunday afternoon service at 5 o'clock as being more convenient. At this proposed 5 o'clock service, music would be a principal feature, with no ser-

FOR GOOD GOVERNMENT.

Duty of the Church and Christians Pointed Out.

In the absence of the pastor, Rev. T. L. Eliot, C. R. Woodruff, of Philadelphia, who has been in Portland attending the Civies Conference, occupied the pulpit of the First Unitarian Church, at Seventh and Yambill streets, yesterday morning.

"How Can the Church Help to Promote Good Government?" was the thene of the discourse, and the speaker took up the relation of the church to the practical affairs of life along moral and political lines. He made a plea for practical, every-day Christianity, the Christianity which makes itself evident seven days in the week; which reaches out into the world and fulfills the second commandment of Christ, "Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself."

"The time was," said Mr. Woodruff, when all the emphasis of the church was laid on theology, the relation of man to God; but latterly it is coming to realize that sociology, the relation of man to man, is likewise entitled to emphasis. The awakening of the church to the existence of two commandments is, to my mind, the most encouraging sign of the times along

As to the duty of the church towards sociological conditions, the speaker said: "Can we be said to be observing the second commandment if we rest content while squalor and vice are allowed to exist in our tenement districts without an attempt at correction? Am I a loving attempt at correction? Am I a loving neighbor if I make no attempt to provide him with better and cleaner homes? If I make no effort to have his streets and alleys as well cleaned, as well lighted, as free from waste and obnoxious edors as my own? Am I observing the command-ment if I permit vice to flourish under the protection of the police in other quarters than my own, so that I may go free from

"Has the church any duties in relation to municipal reform? The question seems ous, if not absurd, in the light of the two commandments. If the church has any duties in the promotion of rightcousness, it has a duty in relation to mu-nicipal reform. And one sermon a year on the subject will not do it. We must have all-the-year-round effort to effect You cannot hope to nent results. succeed with a single sermon which is made to serve as a scapegoat for your neglect during the other 3% days of the year, nor can the financial contribution of a layran or even his metallic contribution a layman or even his vote, take the place of direct personal effort, and, above all, interest, manifested through the year. "God grant that the churches may utilize to the full the power they represent, and that Christian men and women may go forth in the spirit which has animated our President in his struggles for better government, and which he expressed a few years ago: "The good man who does not amount to anything, the good man who cannot make his virtues become practical, if necessary aggressive, counts for very little in the community. In the present age, we do not need the cloistered virtue of the anchorite; we need the virtue that can stand the wear and tear of rough contact with the world. We need the virtue that can go out and do

The movement to establish convention grounds at Jenning's Lodge, on the Ore-gon City electric railway and the Willamette River, is now an assured success Rev. N. A tract of eight and one-half acres, lying on and sloping toward the Willamette River has been secured for permanent convention grounds, which has been platted in small lots, which are being leased for ninety-nine years to members of the various churches in this the Gregor and Pacific Coest conference. the Oregon and Pacific Coast conferences. # BISHOP THOBURN GOES EAST

He Will Give Year Promoting the Missionary Jubilee of 1896.

Bishop J. M. Theburn, of India, who has been resting for several weeks at the home of his daughter-in-law on the East Side, will start for Ohlo tomorrow. For the coming year Bishop Theburn will spend his time in this country in behalf of the great jubilee centennial missionary celebration, which takes place in September, 1905, over the first 16 years of mission work in India. He will attend enventions and public gatherings in the Eastern states, and deliver addresses. The object is to raise $350,000 as an offering for missions. $300,000 to be raised in this country, and $50,000 in India, the money to be used in the furtherance of the educational and general missionary

Bishop Thoburn has taken a long rest, and feels able to undertake the work he has planned to do in connection with the coming jubilee. He is chairman of the committee of arrangements, and on his shoulders will rest the greater portion of the work in this country. Full of en-thusiasm for the heathen, as he was when a young man over 65 years ago. Bishop Thoburn is considered the greatest missionary the warld over today. Grown gray in the foreign field, he still confidently expects to return to his loved ladds. India a year from now. It is noticed that Bishop Thoburn rarely ever makes an address, or delivers a sermon, that he does not in some way refer to the work of foreign missions, so completely absorbed is he in carrying the gospel to the

SEA WATER CONTAMINATED

Sewers Discharge Into Ocean, Where Summer Residents Bathe, Causing Disease - Bathing Is Now Forbidden.

NEW YORK, Aug. 19 .- (Special.)-The City Board of Health is seriously considering the advisability of prohibiting bathing in Gravesend Bay from Fort Hamilton to Ulmer Park, and, if the intention is carried out, the main attraction of a number of pretty waterside resorts will

The yellow fever epidemic in the South as caused New Yorkers to overlook the fact that they have a very dangerous epi-demic right in their midst. In the past two weeks there have been nearly 200 cases of typhold fever in Brooklyn, and the disease apread so rapidly that a care-ful investigation was made to ascertain the cause. The blame for the spread of yellow fever is placed upon mosquitoes, but New York's typhoid epidemic is laid directly at bathing.

Aiready warnings have been issued that bathing is dangerous, and stringent measures are being taken to stamp out the disease by making house-to-house inspections and enforcing corrections of unsanitary conditions.

Sea Water Full of Sewage.

Dr. Charles W. Berry, a sanitary inspec tor, speaking of the bathing danger, said: "It is impossible to indulge in this pastime without getting more or less water in the nose and mouth. The entire water front from Fort Hamilton to Ulmer Park is contaminated with sewage. The two worst places are at Bay Pifteenth and Bay Thirty-second streets. Bathing establishments near the sewer openings should be closed and signs placed warn-ing persons of the danger of bathing in the vicinity.

Dr. Berry declared that he had good reason to believe that there were far more cases of fever than had so far been reported.

The principal cause of the infection, so far as has been discovered, appears to be the rapid growth of the Bath Beach and Bensonhurst districts, which have made Bensonhurst districts, which have made it impossible to keep sanitary improvements up to the increase in population. Bath Beach has been a popular Summer resort for a great many years, and had numerous visitors, even when Coney Island was a practical wilderness. Up to a few years ago the population was confined mostly to Summer visitors, and few people lived there all the year around. The only method of transportation was one live of is at the seaside. Rev. A. A. Winter, of the First United Evangelical Church re-turned from Mount Hood Saturday, and resumed work yesterday. Rev. D. A. resumed work yesterday. Rev. D. A. Thompson, of Sellwood, will take a short vacation at the beach before September. only method of transportation was line of steam cars, which ran infrequently except during the hot Summer

As a result of the low fare rapid transit, the entire shore along Gravesond Bay is thickin bull. along Gravesend Bay is thickly built up, and the population is increasing at an astonishing rate. The beach is dotted with bathing-houses, and nearly every-body goes swimming every day. The Board of Health has made all ar> rangements to see that its orders are car-ried into effect, and if necessary the po-lice will patrol the beaches, closing all bathing-houses and seeing that they are keep closed.

In one block along Fifty-seventh street were found 50 cesspools, although there is a sewer in the street. There were also nd 50 ponds into which drainage water was being collected from the surrounding higher grounds.

Flies help to carry the infection from these ponds and from the open cesspools. A rewer in one place is broken and discharges its contents above water at low tide. In Bay Thirty-ninth street a sewer overflows at high tide and empties its ontents into the street and near-b cellars. This was the worst case found.

Means Ruin to Scores

The decision of the Health Board spells ruin to scores upon scores of hotel and boarding-housekeepers. In August their couses are generally crowded to the doors, but already the exodus has com-menced. The mere fact that bathing is prohibited would be enough to depopulate the resort, but the public statement that the water breeds typhoid is enough alone to scare the guests. A large percentage of the residences in the district affected are owned by men of moderate means, who are either buying the houses on installments, or are paying for them through building and loan associations, which is about the same thing. These men are in a quandary. To most of them this home inworld. To go away means a heavy fidreaded typhoid fever. Some are remaining, hoping the disease will spare them, but large numbers of others are moving away from their comfortable houses, to live in hot, stuffy flats in the city.
