ST. JOHNS DOCK.-St. Johns has completed a public dock at the foot of Rich-mond street that is a credit to that city, and is the only free public dock on the Willamette River, not excepting Port-land. This dock only cost St. Johns a little over $500, and yet it could not be duplicated for less than $3000. It is a public dock in every sense, and no charges are now made for landing there. All crafts running on the river are free to use it and are using it. Later on it may be necessary to make a small charge to maintain it and make repairs, but if any such charges are made they will be so small that they will not be objectiona-ble. Some funds will be needed for this purpose or the dock will deteriorate. There are upper and lower decks to the dock for high and low water. A warehouse will soon be needed to protect freight from the weather, and a man will have to be put in charge to look after the freight and the dock. It is already proving a great public convenience, and its construction is considered one of the wisest actions of the St. Johns Council. C. W. Cone, who received some important concessions from the city, donated the lumber used in this dock, and made it possible for the city to build a much better public dock than it could otherwise have built. WANT ENGINE AND SCHOOLHOUSES Secretary Wallace Miller, of the Midway Improvement Association, has called a meeting of citizens from that section for next Wednesday evening at the Portland Crematorium, to take steps to secure two lots-5 and 8, block 4, in the Brown tractfor an engine and schoolhouse. It is proposed to adopt a plan to raise money to purchase both of these lots, and erect a hall similar to the Firemen's Hall in Sellwood. One only will be needed, but the second lot is wanted to add to the school ground. Promise has been made to the people that a new schoolhouse will ers in the school. to the people that a new schoolhouse will be built at Midway next year. Midway has a volunteer fire company and a ladies' auxiliary, and all are expected to come out to the meeting Wednesday night and lend a hand in securing these lots. FUNERAL OF AN OLD SOLDIER.—The funeral of L. C. Predmore, an old soldier, was held resterday afternoon from Dunning's undertaking chapel. East Sixth and Alder streets, under the auspices of the G. A. R. Interment was in Lone Fir Cemethry. Mr. Predmore came to Portland from Topeka, Kan., last December, and when taken sick lived in a tent near Willamette boulevard. He was as years old. When it years old he colleted in the Eighth Indiana Infantry, and remained in the service till the close of the war. ev. Asn Sleeth, of the Patton Methodist episcopal Church, was in charge of th funeral service. RETURNS AFTER IS YEARS.-M. W. Ingalls, now of Utah, has returned to Portpails, now of Utah, has returned to Port-land after an absence of 15 years, and has been looking over former familiar scenes. For many years before Mr. In-galls was engineer of the Hogue sawmill, on East Water street. As he wandered along that street, with his wife, yester-day, he found the old mill was gone and East Water street lined with manufacturing establishments. Everywhere Mr. Ingalis met with surprises, Mr. Ingalis is consulting engineer for the sugar works at Lehi, Springville, Bingham Junction, Provo, Beaver River and Idaho

SPECIAL DETAIL FOR CIRCUS.-In order to handle the large crowds at the circus grounds this afternoon and tonight, and to prevent any accidents or crimes, orders have been issued by Chief of Police Gritzmacher requiring all officers of the first and second relief to do extra duty. One entire relief, consisting of about & men, will be at the circus grounds during performances. The detective staff, as-sisted by plain-clothes men, will mingle with the crowd to head off pickpockets who will naturally attempt to relieve persons of their money.

INCORPORATION PETITION IS READY .-The petition for calling an election in Montavilla to decide the matter of in-corporation is ready for publication. The law requires that it be published for three weeks so that all who are opposed to in-corporating may be heard. This time business men have subscribed enough money to meet the expenses. Before it fell through for want of funds. Those incorporation say Montavilla will be a city by the first of

SECURING LECTURES.-Rev. D. Thompson, of the Sellwood Library Association, is securing lectures for the course this Fall and Winter. Dr. J. R. Wilson, of the Portland Academy, and Rev. Henry Marcotte, of the Westminster Presbyter-ian Church, have been secured, and others have been asked to lecture. Mr. Thompson hopes to fill out the dates of the first course this month, when cards, containing dates, names of speakers and topics will be issued to the people of

To ORGANIZE A GRANGE AT SYLVAN-A. F. Miller took preliminary steps for the organization of a Grange, Patrons of Husbandry, at Sylvan, Saturday night. There were about 26 present. Mr. Miller says that there is a considerable number who will join this new Grange. Organiza-tion will be completed at the next meeting called for the purpose. It will make the tenth Grange in Multnomah County.

FREE METHODIST CAMPMENTING -- Free Methodist annual compreseting opened in Metzger's grove, Gresham, August 17, and will close on the 27th. There was a large congregation present yesterday at all the meetings. Many of the prominent ministers of the denomination are assisting in these meetings

ERECTED LARGE BARN.-Napoleon Davis formerly a police commissioner of Port-land, but now a prosperous farmer near Fairview, has just completed a modern barn, the largest and finest in that dis-trict, at a cost of $3000. The inside is fitted with stalls for 40 milch cows, beside stalls for horses.

Sounce of Water Supply.-Pro of incorporation for Montavilla say that plenty of water may be had for a city water plant by digging down through the gravel bed that underlies that district Some of the wells recently sunk disclose plenty of water flowing through the substrata, which cannot be exhausted. If this fails the next best source is the Columbia River, 3½ miles north from Montavilla, where the residents are sure they can get plenty of good water, with-out danger of exhausting the supply. A pipe line, they say, can be laid from the Columbia River to Rocky Butte, a high elevation north of Montavilla, and from there distributed to Montavilla. It is estimated that a plant of this sort will cost all the way from $50,000 to $60,000. which may be met by selling bonds of the proposed city. These are the sources of water supply that are being considered in advance of incorporation. Opponents to incorporation scout the idea of disging for water in the gravel, for the reason, they say, that hundreds of Montavilla cesspools discharge into this gravel bed. Altogether there will be a hot fight in Montavilla over all these questions.

WILL LET CONTRACT TODAY .- The con tract for the construction of the new headquarters of the Women of Woodcraft will be let today by the building com-mittee-Chief Grand Clerk J. L. Wright Grand Banker Mrs. Mary S. Hurley, Grand Guardian Mrs. Van Orsdell and Grand Manager Mrs. Annie Hawkins. Clerk Wright says that the erection of the building will be pushed as rapidly as possible. Work on the foundation has already been started. The building will cost between $5,000 and $50,000.

RECEPTION TO DR. AND MRS. H. W. SCHWARTZ.—Methodists of Portland will give Dr. and Mrs. H. W. Schwartz a general farewell reception this evening at the home of B. Lee Paget, North Albina, prior to his return to the mission field. Mr. Paget's home may be reached by taking the St. Johns car. Dr. Schwartz expected to remain in the United States and practice his profession, but yielded to a call back to the mission field.

FUNERAL OF PETER MUHM.-The funeral of Peter Muhm, aged 57, who died at his home in Portsmouth, August 17, was held yesterday afternoon from Zeller-Byrnes Chapel, Albina, and the interment was in Lone Fir Cemetery. He is survived by his wife and the following children: Edward and George Muhm, of Portland; Mrs. Emma Narlow, Phiox, Wis.; Mrs. Minnie Pierce, Mattoon, Wis.; Anna Vanotter, Georgetown, Canada,

FUNERAL OF JOHN HOWE.-The funeral of John Howe, employed by the Southern Pacific Railway Company for 26 years, took place yesterday afternoon from his late home, Bust Eighteenth south and the Sacred Heart Church. Interment was in Mount Calvary Cemetery. Solemn requiem mass will be said today in Sacred Heart Church for the repose of famous basket-ball team of the Fort Shaw Indian School, that won the cup at the St. Louis Fair last year, and is believed to be the best basket-ball team of any public institution in the country, arrived in Portland yesterday, under the direction of Superintendent F. C. Camp

FORT SHAW GIRLS ARRIVE

Indian Maldens Earned Money to Visit Portland Exposition.

The party is really a double team, fo the girls organized in such manner as to give exhibition games, and in that manne earned a fund to pay expenses of their trip to the Lewis and Clark Exposition. They are truly a handsome lot of young women of the northern tribes east of the Rockles, only two of the nine belonging to the same division. For exhibition con-tests, they are divided into groups as blues and reds, the personnel and tribal allegiance of each follow:

Blues-Belle Johnson, Hinckfoot: Minnie Burton, Shoshone; Emma Sansavere, Chippewa; Nettie Worth, Assinaboine. Reds-Genevieve Healy, Grosventre, Genie Butch, Assinabolne; Sarah Mitchell, Yankton; Rosa Larose, Arapahoe

Josephine Leiphart, Piegap.
In the regular contests of the team Genie Butch is one of the guards in the regular team, with the others composing the first players, included in the blue-

TRIES TO POST LETTER IN FIRE-ALARM BOX.

The old stage joke whereby the rural inhabitant not acquainted with the swift advance of modern inventions endegvers to place his love letter in a fire-atarm box and becomes satisfied that the postmaster has received his epistic by the tolling of a bell, became a reality at 4 o'clock genterday after-noon at Fifth and Morrison streets when an old tiller of the soil, after valuey trying to find the opening, turned the knob on the little red box that be might place his letter inside. Valuly the old man tugged and pulled while curious onlookers craned their necks to locate the fire. As the Fire Department thundered down on the old man be seemed to become aware of what he had done, and sheepishly elbowing his way through the crowd he made his escape up Morrison street, with his long coat tails flying and his precious letter grasped tightly in his hand.

but for the exhibition games joins the other players for the competing team.
The last exhibitions were given at Kallspel and Whitefish, Mont., on the Great Northern line.

These dusky beauties from east of the Rocky Mountains have heard of the cor quest of the Pacific Coast teams by the team at Chemawa, and are hopeful of securing a match game to determine which side of the range is entitled to distinction as producing the best basket-ball players. It is also their hope to play a game with some strong teams either at the Lewis and Clark Exposition or under auspices of local teams.

Miss Minnie Burton is a full-blood Sho-shone, of the same tribe as Sacajawea, and Superintendent Campbell has endeav-ored to establish definitely whether there exists any relationship between the fan lites, but has been unable to do so definitely. Miss Burton is a handso of the Indian malden, strong and athletic. Teachers accompanying the team are: Misses Malley, Glass, DeLewe and Messrs.

Police Have New Theory as to the Murderer of Mrs. Van Dran.

THINK CLEW A GOOD ONE

Reasons for the Belief of Chief Gritzmacher and District Attorney Manning That They Have a Tangible Basis,

The Van Dran murder mystery took a new turn yesterday and suspicion points grow to great perfection at Mount in an entirely different direction from Hood. in an entirely different direction from that on which detectives, both for the that on which detectives, both police depart-District Attorney and the police depart-ment have been working. That some one connected with the Van Dran saloon, or someone who knew the ins and outs of the Van Dran residence is connected tries directly or indirectly with the crime is our the latest theory advanced. All the emof Van Dran's saloon, who have been located and questioned, but one. On the morning before or the evening following the death of Mrs. Van Dran, a negro employed by Van Bran at the saloon in the capacity of a porter and general all around man disappered hurriedly. No notice had been given to Van Dran that the negro had decided to leave. He asked to have his wages given him which was done. Nothing more was seen of the porter and no attention was paid to his absence until Saturday. Van Dran was questioned closely as to the duties of the negro and it was learned that he had been sent frequently to the Van Dran flat with ginger ale. He had access to all the rooms in the flat and knew where the ginger ale was kept. Other than Van Dran himself the negro was the only one who had been sent to the flat with drinkables. Through the efforts of parties working on the case this negro has been located in a Northwestern city. If evidence which is now accumulating proves damaging, the negro can be brought to Portland at any time. can be brought to Portland at any thin-Whoever committed the murder, it is now thought, was indirectly associated with others who had more at stake than with others who had more at stake than mere animosity or jealousy. The master mind that planned the atrocious deed is thought to be someone with more cunning and possessed of more recources than a sulcon porter or a pretty thick saion porter or a petty thief.

At police headquarters Detective Vaughn has assumed the responsibility of tracking the murderer. Vaughn has been working day and night and seems to be not discouraged, believing that something tangible will develop. From the District Attorney's office, Detective Maher is making every effort to locate the mur derer. District Attorney Manning through his deputy, Mr. Moser, has taken more than a personal interest in the case and everything possible is being done to throw some light on the mystery.

LIQUOR QUESTION INVOLVED

Lively Fight Is Expected in St. John Council Tonight.

Election of a successor to C. D. Ed-wards is on the programme to take place this evening at the meeting of the St. Johns Council. Just what obstructions Councilmen Shielrs, Leggett and Brice. who fought to hold Edwards to his who lought to hold Edwards to his seat, will make, has not developed, but it is hardly likely they will give up the fight they lost when Edwards went out of his own accord. The whole fight made by these-members of the Council in their efforts to retain Edwards in his seat was undoubtedly because they were ap-prehensive that the new member might favor granting license to sell liquor in St. Johns. This is generally conceded to have been at the foundation of their effort to retain Edwards in the Council. It has been charged that as soon as it was announced that Edwards intende was announced that Edwards intended to go into business in Portland and leave St. Johns, those favorable to liquor license quickly found him a buyer for his property at a good price. Mayor King sold the property, and when the papers were all made out and the deed passed, making Edwards a non-free-bodier to St. Johns Marshall and the deed holder in St. Johns, the Mayor asked and received Edwards' written resignation. This resignation Edwards withdrew before it was read by Recorder Hanks. The temperance people learned that it Edwards got out St. Johns might be thrown open to saloons, and he was per-suaded to withdraw his resignation, but he is finally out, and the fight now comes up on the election of his successor.

The only way that Councilmen Shields Brice and Leggett can hope to prevent the election of a successor to Edwards is by staying away. Councilmen Thomp-son, Linquist and Peterson are standing by Mayor King and are likely to vote for a man who will stand with them.

RENEW EUROPEAN FORESTS

Seeds of Oregon Evergreens Being Gathered for This Purpose,

Professor Thomas Howe, botanist and author of a work on the flora of the coast, and A. F. Miller, of Sellwood, re-turned last evening from Mount Hood and vicinity, where they went to ascertain the condition of trees and prospects for gathering seeds of the evergreens of this state in October, when they will go back there for that purpose. They will then gather seeds from the different varieties of the pine, cedar and hemiock for ship-ment to Germany, and other countries of Europe, where the governments replant the forests that have been destroyed Mr. Miller has been collecting seeds of fine Oregon trees for the past thirty years for the German government, main-ly about Mount Hood and in the Cascade range. He says that there is great de-mand for the seeds of Oregon pine, cedar, hemlock and other evergreens, which

"The German government," says Mr Miller, "Is renewing the depleted forests of that country from the seeds obtained in this country. For many years the people there and in other European countries were as careless as we now are of great forests, but the governments have taken hold and are renewing forests. Thousands of Oregon worked there in the past or lately, have evergreens have been planted in Gerbeen located and questioned, but one, many, and more are being planted every year. First nurseries are set out from the seeds gathered and trees started, which are transplanted thickly. These are then thinned down as they become thrifty. There are forests of Oregor evergreen growing all over Germany and
