STUMP-PULLING MACHINE STOLEN,-J. J. Herman, of Montavilla, is willing to pay a good reward to anybody who will put him in touch with the miscreant who carried away the remnants of his stumppulling outfit last Saturday night, About isn days ago, while he was engaged on a contract for the Pacific Bridge Company at the gravel pit in Montavilla, the hief made a call on him, with the result that the next morning Herman, who is a poor man, dependant upon the machine for support, found himself minus a Faultless plow and snare cable, together with a section of the main cable used in pulling stumps. Friday he moved his outfit, or what was left of it, to the Montavilia switch on the O. R. & N., and the next night everything was gone. Tracks left by the robber indicated that he came from an easterly direction along the Barr road in a single-horse rig, and after turning out and loading on the stump-pulling ma-chine, which weighed about 1500 pounds, and cost $200 came back into the road and pursued a westerly course, since which time all trace of him has been ost, although the police, as usual, are

The appearance of the Fay Foster Musical Burlesque Company, next week, starting with the matines, Sunday August 27, will signalize one of the most important innovations that has taken place in Portland for several seasons. In the first place there are over a score of pretty women in the cast and they will present themselves in all the abbreviated glory of fluffy draperies in two live buriesques. The first is called "Cleopatra in Central Park," and the entire company will appear in it. "The Mysterious Mrs. Baffles" brings the performance to a close. This is a travesty on the late hunt for Raffles, which caused such a stir throughout the country. The boxoffice will open Friday morning at 10 o'clock.

RIFLES AND KHAKI.

$16 Rifles at $2.75 and Fine Khaki Suits at $1.30, and the Open Season Just On.

W. Stokes Kirk, of Philadelphia, is here for the third time with his usual fine assortment of Government arms and clothing. When the Government a few months brought a large quantity of them with him to Portland, and in Merrill's cyclery, Seventh and Oak, beginning about next Wednesday, will sell them at $1.30 the suit, or $5 cents the garment. The clothing is first-class in every particular, as all Government clothing and tailor work has to be, and if sold at retail by the clothing mer-chant would cost the purchaser $3.50

Mr. Stokes will also sell for $2.75 a 45-calibre Springfield rifle that cost the Government $16 to manufacture. These have been the standard rifle in the United States Army and National Guard for more than 30 years, and are still the rifle used by the scouts and con-stabulary of the Philippine Islands, a sufficient proof that there is no better gun made for the hunter, sportsman, rancher or home protector. This lot of rifles were made in 1898, have been little used, have had the best of care and were condemned only because a gun of smaller bore was adopted, Ammunition for these rifles is sold by all sporting goods houses in the United States, is made by the United States Cartridge Company, Union Metallic Cartridge Company and Peters & Co. Five cartridges are given free with each gun.
