MINING SUIT BEGUN

Fraudulent Appropriation Is in the Charges.

OPTION FIGURES IN CASE

It Is Alleged That Charles Richton, P. L. McKenzie and James Baumgardner Conspired Against O. M. & D. Co.

Suit has been brought in the State Circuit Court by the Southern Oregon Mining & Developing Company against Charles Richton, P. L. McKenzie, James Bumgardner, Michigan Mining & Milling Company and Merchants' National Bank, of Portland, and in a long complaint it is set forth that in January, 1904, defendants Charles Richton and James Bumgardner, together with E. A. Clem and M. B. Bozarth, incorporated the Southern Oregon Company.

After the articles of incorporation had been filed with the Clerk of Multnomah County, so it is alleged, Richton represented that he could secure an option to purchase from Louis Dammasch for $2000 the south half of section 16, township 37 south, range 5 west, W. M., and it was thereupon agreed between Bumgardner, Clem and Bozarth, on the one hand, acting for the mining corporation, and said Charles Richton on the other, that he should secure an option to purchase the tract in question, together with the Strong Lode mining claim situated thereon.

Plaintiffs allege further that Richton took the option in his own name for the purpose of secretly and fraudulently securing a commission of $1000 upon said transaction, and for the further purpose of defrauding the Southern Oregon Company out of the property.

In consideration of Richton getting the option from Dammasch, it is charged that he was given $62,500 paid-up shares of the capital stock of the Southern Oregon Company.

Thereafter defendants Charles Richton, P. L. McKenzie and James Bumgardner are accused of entering into a conspiracy, and with a full knowledge of the manner in which Richton is alleged to have secured the property, are charged with having sold the Strong Ledge claim to the Michigan Mining & Milling Company for $15,000, of which sum $10,000 has been paid, the balance being due and payable January 1, 1906, at the Merchants' National Bank, for the benefit of Richton, McKenzie and Bumgardner, the bank being brought into the suit for this reason.

Defendants McKenzie, Richton and Bumgardner are also charged in the complaint with having secretly and fraudulently appropriated other mining properties belonging to the Southern Oregon Company without its consent.

Mrs. Reed's Will Sustained.

County Judge Webster yesterday sustained the Reed will by declaring that Mrs. Amanda W. Reed was a resident of Portland at the time of her death, and consequently was not governed by the California laws in the disposition of the vast estate. She willed her property to found the Reed Institute in Portland.

Judge Webster stated afterward that there was only this simple point to settle, so far as he was able to discern, and that he did not believe in going into extensive details in rendering an opinion where his path was so plain.

It is generally conceded that the findings of the Probate Court in the matter are but the beginning of a long and bitter struggle for the dead woman's money, and that there will be some rich pickings for the lawyers before the litigation is ended.

Sues to Recover an Account.

R. A. Marshall and F. E. Nelson, partners doing business as Marshall Bros., have begun suit in the Circuit Court against the O. R. & N. and Goldie Bros. on acount of an unpaid balance of $972.27 alleged to be due for cement furnished defendants, who had a contract with the railroad company to construct a transfer table pit on the Terminal Company's grounds at Albina. The O. R. & N. is made a party to the suit for this reason.

Wife Seeks Divorce Decree.

Margaret J. Winters has brought suit for divorce in the State Circuit Court against Lewis S. Winters, alleging desertion March 31, 1902. They were married January 1, 1871, at Pleasant Green, Henderson County, Ill., and have two children, Frank E., aged 16 and Walter W. Winters, aged 12. She asks for their custody. No property rights are involved. Plaintiff is proprietress of a local rooming-house.

Begins Attachment Suit.

C. N. Lockwood, doing business here under the firm name of C. N. Lockwood Company, has begun an attachment suit in the State Circuit Court against Horace De Lisser for $528.88 on account of commissions claimed to be due on the sale of $3323.50 worth of Holbrook's Worcestershire Sauce which defendant is alleged to manufacture.

Wants Divorce From Convict.

Louisa Easton has sued William N. Easton for a divorce on the ground that he was convicted of a felony in 1893, for which he served a year in the penitentiary, and also deserted her at the expiration of his term of imprisonment. The couple was married in Portland June 3, 1890. There are no children.

Desertion Ground for Divorce.

Suit for divorce has been instituted by John M. Davis against Ella Davis on the grounds of desertion, plaintiff claiming that she abandoned his household in April, 1904. They were married at Spokane May 5, 1902, and have no children.
