Imprisonment of Algerian Brings Crisis—If Release is Refused, Minister Will Leave and Oudja Be Occupied.

PARIS, Aug. 24.—As the result of a special meeting of the Council of Ministers today, it was announced that a military demonstration will be made against Morocco unless the Sultan promptly yields to the French demands for the release of a French-Algerian citizen, a merchant named Bouzian, who was unjustly arrested at Gharb, a Moroccan town on the Algerian frontier.

Instructions were sent to the French Minister at Fez, St. Rene Tallendier, to make a final and imperative demand on the Sultan. The Minister has informed that, if this demand should be refused, the entire personnel of the legation was to depart from Morocco and a military movement would be immediately begun along the Algerian frontier.

It is the intention of the military authorities to occupy a Moroccan border town, probably Oudja, owing to its strategic command of the route to the Moroccan capital. However, the officials are confident that the Sultan will yield before the threat of using military force.

Practically all the leading powers have approved the determination of the French government to adopt a firm course.

Through Trains to Tonopah.

Beginning August 21, the Southern Pacific will commence running through trains between San Francisco and Tonopah, by way of Hazen and Tonopah Junction. This improvement in the service is due to the great development in traffic conditions in that section, and the demand of the public for increased transportation facilities. Owing also to the heavy traffic between San Francisco and Tonopah, the narrow gauge road between Reno and Keeler has been changed to a standard gauge, and a cut-off has been built from Hazen to the main line, thus cutting Reno out of the Tonopah business to a great extent, as the trains will, in the future, pass through the city direct to Hazen.

imburse us for the cost of the war, well we will withdraw and they could fix the value we will not cede territory, well, we will meet that desire. But Russia, they add, 'cannot deny the rights which we have obtained by force of arms to the territory of the island.'

"So that, no matter what victories might eventually be won in Manchuria, Sakhalin could not be recovered except by force. If Russia wants Sakhalin now, Japan is entitled to tell us to pay her for it. Russia answers that the amount is a war indemnity in disguise. In fixing the sum the Japanese add that that is the cost of the island, which Russia can take or leave. To this Mr. Roosevelt adds: 'The questions of honor having been put aside, would you not submit to the judgment of impartial persons the question of the price?'

The arbitrators could be chosen by the two countries and they could fix the value. Thus further bloodshed would be averted. It is not possible to understand how Russia, who always believed in the justice of her cause, should answer with a non-positum, feigning a question of honor, where in reality it is a question of money. It is not to be imagined that the government at St. Petersburg will be blind in its obstinacy, or that the Emperor, the author of the Hague tribunal, will pass such an excellent opportunity to add new glory to the idea of arbitration which is so dear to him. However, I must confess that I am not optimistic.

"At the supreme moment, all the counselors of the throne are transformed into clerks waiting for orders; and the whole responsibility rests on the august man who wears the crown of his ancestors. May God advise and aid the Czar!"

LONDON PERSISTS IN HOPING

Only Question of Money—Reported Offer From Russia.

LONDON, Aug. 25.—But that it is felt impossible that two nations should be plunged again into the horrors of a war on account of a mere difference of a few million of money which would speedily be expended in the continuation of hostilities, Count Lamsdorf's declaration would be regarded as the final word preceding a break-up of the peace conference. The London papers, commenting on the situation, therefore, while admitting the apparent hopelessness of the aspect, do not despair of a peaceful settlement in view of the fact that all differences except indemnity have been virtually arranged.
