There were many funny angles hurled into yesterday's ball game. Oscar Graham and Bill Essick were the opposing duclists and for nine innings Graham had the appearance of being one of those "nohit-no-runs" fellows that have broken into print occasionally since Cy Young turned the trick. As a side issue to this splendid bit of box work, there were ore than enough errors tosued into the game by Oakland to have lost twice as many games. Portland had several brilliant opportunities to win the game. Graham, after denying the Giants the privilege of hitting his concections safely, threw away his own game, only to win it again in the tenth Inning with a snorting two-bagger that hit the leftfield fence.

Up to the seventh inning Graham was the master of the no-swatfest that was being held by the Giants. Only two locals had reached second and at no time were they in danger of scoring. This was the same inning that Bill Essick fell down. ough he was not all to blame. Only hit had been garnered off Essick until this time. The fellow who got this was Bill Devereaux, about whom there have been rumors of releasing. Brick must have had this fear in mind, for he finished the matinee with three hits to his credit, one of which was a two-bagger that came in the tenth and which was followed by Graham's on which the Red Dog scored and won the game.

In the seventh canto with Dunleavy away on cold-storage, Hoffman had to fall down and give Kruger his life. This boy is the biggest shine that ever wore a uniform. His miscues have cost the Giants many a game since he joined them, but his song of fumbling will soon be over, for Sweeney should report to-day and be ready to play by Friday. When Hoffman falled to handle Kruger's pelt, then things blew up. Kelly sneaked in a single, Moskiman did also and so did Devereaux. Kruger scored, and while n Kelly moore de two there was of it-and right here let's say Jim McDonald was so busy watching where the ball went that he did not see this bit of rowdy baseball. Cates scored but it was because the ball had rolled ninth and Beimont streets. so far that they could not get it back in time to head him off. But for Cates being held by Franks, Essick could have Borthwick ....

The two runs tied the score. No one was out and a man was waiting at third, and yet they could not chase over the and yet they could not chase over the winning run. Essick was tagged between third and home. Van Buren struck out and Mitchell flew out to left field. In the tenth and final chapter, Portland was duck soup for Oakland.

Catcher McLean's suspension was lifted resterday morning by Judge McCredie and the big fellow was on deck yesterday. He tried hard to get a much-needed hit during the several times be had chances, but it was not in the hig book. Jim Mc-Donald ampired his first game. He is looking well, but he is far from being the Jim McDonald of two seasons ago.

FINISHES FIRST

Four Yachts From the Oregon Club Give a Fine Exhibition Before Immense Crowd on Astoria Water Front.

ASTORIA, Or., Aug. 30.—(Special.)— The second day of the regatta was as great a success in every way as was yesterday, although the class of amuse-ments afforded was of a different nature. Yesterday was devoted to spectacular events, today was occupied with aquatic aports and afforded the spectators an abundance of keen enjoyment. A light shower during the early morning hours cleared the atmosphere and at 9 o'clock, when Princess Sacajawea, Captains Lewis and Clark and their escort of Indians reached the grandstand, the sun was shining brightly and the waterfront was lined with crowds of people.

The first feature was an exhibition run by the speed autoboat Union, which is somewhat of a freak in her class. Her speed was marvelous, and while no official time was taken she passed the grandstand at the rate of 18 knots per nour, although she appeared to be going then faster than that. The first contest of the morning was between cutter crews from the lighthouse tenders Columbine and Manzanita. It was a pretty race from start to finish, the Manzanita crew coming in first by about two lengths. A protest has, however, been entered by the Columbine boys, who say the other crew crossed their bow and

The double cance race was captured by R. Bond and Dent, with E. Gloss and Atherton a close second. The single canoe race between Vaughn and Dent was an interesting contest, until when near the finish line Dent broke Raymond in a contest that was a heart-breaking pull from start to finish.

The single pleasure boat contest was won by Julius Gloss, of Portland, who defeated Dent by a small margin, but Dent, who is also from Portland, cap-tured the swimming contest easily, de-feating George Smith, of this city. In the gasoline fishboat contest in the gasoline hishboat contest for prizes of $50 and $25, there were 14 entries. The first prize was won by John A. Johnson, who had a three-horsepower engine and was allowed a handicap of six minutes and fifteen seconds. Charles Anderson, with a five-horsepower engine and a handicap of one minute and forty-five seconds, was second.

Eight Fishboats in Race.

The principal sailing event of the after-noon was the sloop race between the Gadfly, Zepuyr, Synamox and Naisd, all of the Oregon Tacht Club. The prizes were $100, $50 and $25, and the distance was twice around a four-mile course directly in front of the city. A change in this regard was made this year in order to afford the spectators a better view of the contest and to obviate the necessity of running into the choppy water of the lower harbor, which proved disastrous to some of these boats last year. The conditions today were all that could be desired for this race, and an exceedingly prefty contest resulted.

The Gadfly was the first to cross the starting line, with the Zephyr second, and others following close behind. At the first turn, the yachts were well bunched, and was then the jockeying began, boat was crowded to the limit, and the seamanship displayed by the crews cre-ated intense enthusiasm among the spectators.

Gadfly First at Finish.

The Gadfly crossed the finish line first, making the run in 1:18:24. The Zephyr was I minute and M seconds behind, with the Synamox a close third. While the decision of the judges will not be rendered uhtil tomorrow, the race was sailed under the Oregon Yacht Club rules, which place a handicap of five minutes on the Gadfly, so the winners will undoubtedly be the Zephyr first, Synamox second and Gadfly

Not an accident occurred during any of the races today excepting that in turning the stakeboat the yacht Zephyr jibed too quickly, and one of her crew was thrown overboard, but he was quickly

While these races were in progress, numerous amusement features were given in front of the grandstand. They included log-rolling, high diving and tub racing The log-rolling contest was won by F. FIGHTERS ARE AT WEIGHT.

Britt and Nelson Will Appear Before

Greatest Crowd at a Fight. SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 30.—There are indications that the attendance at the Britt-Nelson fight at Colma, September 3, will be the greatest in the history of pugilism in this state. Most of the seats held by the club have been taken up, and it would not excite surprise if the gate receipts exceeded $70,000. The fact that the day is a legal holiday in this state in a measure explains the unprecedented advance sale.

Defeats Hobart and Will Play Ward for Championship.

NEWPORT. Aug. 20.—Beals C. Wright, of Boston, by defeating Clarence Hobart, of New York, today in straight sets. 5-4, 5-1, 5-2, won the honor of meeting Holcomb Ward, of Orange, N. J., for the National tennis championship in singles tomorrow. Ward and Wright successfully defended the championship in doubles last Wednesday. They were members of the American team which went to England in the quest for the Davis cup, and they have been in nearly every champlonship event for many years.

Today's match was played under low-ering skies. The weather, however, improved and the contest ended in a burst of sunlight. The result was anticipated and there were few periods when there was any doubt as to the outcome. The speciators were given a grand exhibition of net play, flerce cross-court drives and back and forehand dashes by Wright in the second set. Hobert was fairly smothered by the swiftness with which the balls came across the net.
