TODAY'S 122nd FRIDAY "ECONOMY SALE"

A GRAND MOSAIC OF RARE BARGAINS, A COMPLETED WHOLE MADE UP OF MANY PARTS

SOME lots are small, some large, others not so large—but each lot brings some great and unusual economy to you. Enough for the day only—and you'll save on what you buy in the ratio that you spend. Let the hint of the detail below be your invitation to come and share in the day's opportunities to save.

"EPIDEMIC"

In a village where several cases of scarlet fever had occurred and where an epidemic was feared a little girl came late to school one morning, and was asked by the teacher the cause. She answered that her mother was sick. The teacher decided it would be safest to send the child home again until the nature of the sickness should be ascertained. Very soon after the little one returned to school, and going straight up to the teacher said: "Please, ma'am, papa says as how it ain't catchin'; it's a little boy."

We fear we cannot give the same guarantee—that the epidemic of buying so prevalent here is not "catching." We know, on the contrary, that it is. So forceful are the bargains that buying is contagious, as you'll find when you visit the store today; better bring along your purse as an amulet. But buying at such prices as we quote here cannot harm you; in fact, the more you buy, the better you'll feel.
