

SELLING POULTRY

Large Receipts and Poor Demand Cause Break.

RETAILERS STOCKED UP

Hop-Picking Shows Poor Results. Black Grapes a Drug on Market—Oregon Potatoes for Alaska.

POULTRY—Slump in local market. EGGS—Firm for strictly fresh stock. BUTTER—Local stocks increasing. POTATOES—Alaska demand for Oregon Burbanks.

The poultry market went all to pieces yesterday. With receipts the heaviest for a long time past, the demand almost entirely ceased.

Most of the poultry receipts lately have been from the hop-growing sections, which leads to the belief that the supplies are from farmers who intend to go hop-picking with their families and are not to be in the country before they leave.

Market weaker. Old hens sold very well, but no more Spring chickens coming in this week that are selling lower than old chickens.

The circular of another dealer says: The market for the past two days has been a great disappointment.

The announcement made yesterday morning of the sale of a 200-acre lot of 1900s at 16 cents was a bitter blow.

ALASKANS WANT OREGON POTATOES. Jerry Cousins, of Milwaukie, Col., wholesaler commission dealer of Seattle, was in the city yesterday looking for Oregon potatoes to ship to Alaska.

"Good crops generally seem to be the rule," he said, "and unless a shortage appears somewhere in the East, the prices are bound to be low."

Receipts of peaches were not heavy yesterday and the fact was welcomed by most dealers as they had a chance to clean up for the Labor day luncheon.

Wheat Trading Active. Arrangements will be made by which the Alaska firm will not be allowed to interfere with the early and four movement of wheat from this port.

Butter and Eggs. City creamerymen report some increase in their stocks as the demand is not so active as it has been.

Portland Quotations. FLOUR—Patents, $4.50-4.95 per barrel; straight, $4.25-4.50; clear, $3.75-4.00.

EARLY BREAK IN THE NEW YORK STOCK MARKET.

Advance in Call Money Rate Another Factor for Lower Prices—Heavy Movement of Money to the Interior.

MUCH FORCED LIQUIDATION

Advance in Call Money Rate Another Factor for Lower Prices—Heavy Movement of Money to the Interior.

NEW YORK, Sept. 1.—Very strong pressure was directed against the stock market at the opening today, with heavy sales at marked discounts.

Another factor for lower prices was an advance in call money rate.

The strength of the Morgan stocks, as distinguished from the so-called Standard Oil group, occasioned much talk.

The Mexican lines issued reports of earnings for the first quarter of 1905.

December wheat ahead higher, but declined steadily for the remainder of the day.

Grapes were again in heavy supply, with prices falling.
