

TRUCK OFF STEAMER

Emigrants Were Suspected of Infection by Cholera.

ACTION ON LOWER ELBE

Hamburg Harbor Physician Says Trans-Shipment of Emigrants From Russia Have Been Entirely Suspended.

BERLIN, Sept. 3.—Dr. Nocht, harbor physician for the government of Hamburg, in reply to inquiries made by the Associated Press concerning cholera, telegraphs as follows: "The transshipment of Russian emigrants having been suspended at Hamburg, further cholera infection is improbable."

"The room companion of the first case has a light attack, but otherwise all the emigrants are healthy."

"Three emigrants due to sail last Thursday on the steamer Moltke for New York, I am convinced that all means for preventing cholera are in use. We are going to meet the future with tranquillity and we hold that Americans have no grounds for disquietude."

"Single instances, naturally, in spite of the greatest care, cannot always be prevented, but no danger exists for sea traffic. I am convinced that all means for opposing the cholera are in use. We are going to meet the future with tranquillity and we hold that Americans have no grounds for disquietude."

"NOCHT." The statement by Dr. Nocht that the emigrants did not sail on the steamer Moltke and are in quarantine is correct, as is shown by the following telegram received from Hamburg:

"About 80 emigrants had traveled from Russia with a man who died from cholera. They passed two medical stations on the way and a portion of the detachment was on board the steamer Moltke, which was in the lower Elbe, when word reached the magistracy that cholera had broken out among the emigrants from cholera. The Senate was summoned and a representative of the Hamburg-American Steamship Company was invited to appear at the dock the emigrants, which was done."

"On the Prater, which sailed yesterday (Saturday), were German, Italian, and Hungarian emigrants, but no Russians, 64 in all. At the emigrant station at 250, none of them is ill."

"The opinion is expressed in Berlin that the United States should have more to fear from emigrants shipping at Trieste than from German ports, as cholera is already in Austrian Poland."

No Cholera on the Blucher.

NEW YORK, Sept. 3.—The Hamburg-American line steamship Blucher, the first vessel to arrive from Hamburg since the appearance of cholera in Germany, was detained at quarantine for more than two hours today while health officers subjected passengers and crew to rigid examinations. The long detention caused some alarm as it was feared the delay meant the dreaded disease or its symptoms had been discovered on board.

There was consequently much rejoicing when it was made known that cholera, as a case of measles, which had developed in the steerage, the vessel was absolutely clear of illness.

A large medical staff has been detailed to examine all vessels entering the Thames. No alarm has as yet been manifested in England but some newspapers are calling upon the government to take measures for the exclusion of the Russian emigrants.

TANGIER, Sept. 3.—A French Jew was found murdered here Saturday night. The murderers escaped. The powerful tribe of Angoras is seeking to force the brigand Raisuli to meet it in open battle, relying on their superiority in numbers to win. The Angoras raided three villages under Raisuli's authority near Tangier, carrying off large herds of cattle and sheep. A portion of which was the property of Europeans. Raisuli collected a band of his followers and started in pursuit, and in several skirmishes that ensued several men on both sides were killed or wounded. The suburbs of Tangier have been deserted by Europeans. The Angoras are seeking to capture Europeans and hold them for ransom. The Moroccan authorities are powerless, as they fear Raisuli and the Angoras.

FEVER IS IN CHECK

Few New Cases and Fewer Deaths at New Orleans.

ARMY CAPTAIN IS SEIZED

Situation in the Surrounding Country, While Not Satisfactory, Shows Great Improvement. Italians Are Quiet.

REPORT TO S. F. M. New cases 2074, Deaths 287, Total 2361, New febrile 11, Total febrile 1422, Cases discharged 1422.

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 3.—For the first time in over a month the number of new cases of yellow fever were in the twenties. With only three deaths, compared to 32 deaths September 2, 1904, the feeling of confidence that the fever is being wiped out is growing. Among the new cases are those of Captain B. F. Clayton, U. S. A., quartermaster in charge of this department, and City Councilman E. L. Dunn.

The country situation, while not what it should be, is improving somewhat, though the discovery of new foci causes some anxiety. Despite the rigid regulations, it is believed that many persons have succeeded in getting into New Orleans from some of the country places. The situation in Patterson, where it was feared the ignorant Italians contemplated trouble, has developed nothing new. No overt act has been committed, and it is believed that danger is over. There is much interest in the case of Dr. Philip Berge, the physician who was arrested late last night on the charge of failing to report three cases of yellow fever. His case is being investigated, but will have to answer to the charge Monday.

There has been a recrudescence at Tallulah, two cases having been reported. A report from Louisville under date of September 1 shows that there have been 32 cases there so far and 23 deaths with 18 cases under treatment. Other new cases are reported as follows: Patterson 1; St. Bernard, 2; Terre Aux Boeuf, 1; Morgan City, 1; Strose, 2; Gulfport, 5; Handsboro, 1; Vicksburg, 2.

The infection on Diamond and Reserve plantations in St. Charles has been practically eradicated.

ATTACKS DIVORCED WIFE

Chicago Broker Then Shoots Himself in the Heart.

CHICAGO, Sept. 3.—After trying to kill his divorced wife and Louis B. Hill, a grainbroker, to whom she was married last November, George Miller, a retired broker, tonight shot himself in the heart, fatally wounding himself, just as the police arrived to arrest him. Mr. Hill will lose his arm as the result of the shot from Miller's revolver, but Mrs. Hill escaped unhurt. Mrs. Hill stated her divorced husband had been seeking her for months and had threatened to kill her on sight. Miller's revolver, the police say, empty of cartridges, was found in the trunk of a car, which was found in the neighborhood of the shooting occurred at the home of the Hill, 215 Chicago avenue.

Police Inspector Shippe stated tonight that in this shooting the police believe they see a solution of the mystery of the killing of Mrs. Hill, near the Del Prado Hotel, about two weeks ago. Mrs. Hill, it is said, very much resembled Mrs. Miller. Mrs. Hill stated her divorced husband had been seeking her for months and had threatened to kill her on sight. Miller's revolver, the police say, empty of cartridges, was found in the trunk of a car, which was found in the neighborhood of the shooting occurred at the home of the Hill, 215 Chicago avenue.

It Made by Hood's Good.

In Jay Upton's Defense.

PORTLAND, Sept. 3.—In the clamor for notoriety which certain people are trying to heap upon Jay Upton, a word to the wise might be well at this time. I did perform an operation upon the late J. H. Doudiah, and made a charge of $500. Mr. Doudiah was supposed to know of the whereabouts of valuable mining property in Alaska, and employed a number of nuggets to substantiate his claim. Nobody knew where the claim was and curiosity cost some influential men of this city, along with myself, a snug sum in the endeavor to locate the claim as we sent men to Alaska to search for it and found it to be a myth. In fact one gentleman found out definitely after an expensive trip to Ketchikan that Doudiah had won the nuggets at cards, and that he had never lost his claim at all. Doudiah told his story to many and took in no less than a half dozen partners to go in search of the claim which was supposed to contain fabulous wealth. He even went so far as to sketch the location on a piece of paper for a friend of mine, and as my friend's partner was sent an expedition there and found nothing but crags, rocks and wild beasts. In giving a receipt I gave the Doudiah estate credit for what I received and thought if he had any property to be found later I could collect the rest. Instead I have carried on an investigation which has cost me ten times the amount I received on my bill. In defense of Mr. Upton I will say that I was with Mr. Scott when he visited the safety deposit vaults, and that in the presence of Mr. Arnold, who has charge of the vaults, Mr. Scott and myself, the drawer was opened, and in it $25 in cash and the 11 gold nuggets were found. Mr. Arnold was given a receipt for the same.

Mr. Scott then took the nuggets to J. H. Flak's assay office, and it is of record there that they were assayed at $23.

As to the carpenter tools, a personal friend of mine, who obtained a job for Doudiah at the Fair, and who worked alongside of him, said they were not worth over $5, and later a carpenter refused to give more than that for them.

After a careful inquiry I found that the assets of the estate were not enough to pay Doudiah's funeral expenses and the expenses of his last illness, so I took his nurse, Mr. Mundy, to whom he owed a bill, to Mr. Upton, who said he would prepare papers for him and would have the cost of hiring an attorney, which he did as a personal favor to me.

Now, what I wish to emphasize is that if the wrongs done by Mr. Upton in the settlement of other estates mentioned are no worse than in the estate of J. H. Doudiah, he has certainly been very unjustly wronged and criticized, and I think that if the searches for graft would probe a little deeper instead of skimming over the top they would save a great deal of red ink on headlines.

KILLED IN FAMILY QUARREL

Deserted Husband Forces Way Into His Wife's Home.

CHICAGO, Sept. 3.—(Special.)—As the result of a family quarrel, Albert Brandt, aged 21, is dead; Steve Harris is at a hospital in a precarious condition, and his brother, Thomas, is under arrest charged with murder.

Three years ago Thomas Harris married Francis Brandt. They lived together but a short time, when Mrs. Harris returned to her parents. Today Harris and his brother Steve, who is a doctor, demanded admittance, which was refused. Then they went to the back door and forced it.

The Brandt met them in the kitchen and tried to eject them, when Harris fired five shots, one striking Brandt in the abdomen and another in the neck, killing him instantly. Steve Harris was then shot with a hammer by Mrs. Harris. Thomas Harris, when arrested, admitted the shooting. He alleges self-defense.

SERIES OF BURGLARIES

Organized Band of Thieves May Be at Work in City.

A series of burglaries committed last night has caused the police to think that an organized crowd of thieves has commenced to work in the city.
