VETERANS IN LINE

Sailors of the Civil War March Through Denver Streets.

PRISONERS OF WAR MEET

Grand Army Encampment Preceded by Gatherings of Affiliated Bodies—Survivors of Shiloh Organize Association.

DENVER, Sept. 5.—A parade of naval veterans, accompanied by regular troops from Fort Logan and local military organizations, today was the first spectacular feature of the 39th encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic.

The weather was cool and all conditions were favorable for marching. Several thousand persons participated, and the parade continued for nearly two hours.

Next the veterans' organizations, the ladies' band from Ferris, Kan., and the uniformed band and military companies made up of boys from the State Industrial School at Golden, Colo., received the greatest ovation.

The Mexican War veterans, four in number, who rode in carriages, and the Union survivors of Southern prisons were cheered to the echo, and old soldiers who were viewing the parade from the sidewalk ran out all along the line to shake the hands of the veterans of '48.

General Henry White, of Indiana, Pa., historian of the National Association of the Union ex-Prisoners of War, was shown from his horse, which reared at the approach of an aid to the marshal of the parade. He fell heavily to the pavement, but insisted on being allowed to continue in the parade.

The General was carried to a dressing station and a cut on his left leg dressed. He was not seriously hurt.

Veterans of Shiloh made the day memorable by organizing a National society. Features of the day's festivities were cowboy exhibitions, Indian dances and band concerts.

The National Association of Union ex-Prisoners of War held its annual session today and elected the following officers: National commander, Colonel J. D. Walker, Pittsburg, Pa.; National senior vice-commander, John Kessane, Cincinnati; National junior vice-commander, John L. Parker, Lynn, Mass.; National chaplain, Rev. John S. Ferguson, Keokuk, Ia.; National historian, General Henry White, Indiana, Pa.; National adjutant-general and quartermaster-general, W. C. McKelvy, Pittsburg, Pa.

The three members of the executive committee whose term of office had expired were re-elected. The association endorsed the Duffell pension bill, which provides for a service pension for ex-Union prisoners of $2 per day for time of imprisonment, and $12 a month during life, and the same amount to widows during widowhood.

The survivors of the battle of Shiloh met today and organized a National association. Major S. K. Hooper, of Denver, was elected president, and S. N. French, of Denver, adjutant-general.

A grand campfire was held at Broadway Park at which Governor McDonald and Mayor Speer welcomed the Grand Army to this city. Commander-in-Chief King was present and delivered a brief response. At the Tabernacle the Union ex-Prisoners of War Association held a campfire.

A reception to General King was given at the headquarters of the Women's Relief Corps previous to the campfire.

NO JOINT ARMY MANEUVERS

Economy Cry in Congress Will Prevent Appropriation.

OREGONIAN NEWS BUREAU, Washington, Sept. 5.—The War Department has felt the pulse of Congress and has decided not to ask for an appropriation for joint military maneuvers. It is the almost universal opinion of Army officers that the maneuvers participated in by troops of the regular Army and of the state militia work to the benefit of the entire military arm of the Government, and, if their wishes could be respected, they would be maneuvers every Summer, designed after those at American Lake, near Tacoma, in 1904. But the idea prevails in Congress, that the large expenditure for maneuvers is not justified, and it is believed in Army circles that any request for a further appropriation for this purpose would be turned down. No doubt the War Department has sided up the situation properly.

Congress is sure to have an economical spell next session, because of the treasury deficit, and an appropriation for joint maneuvers would be classed as unnecessary and would probably be lopped off. Were it not for the condition of the treasury, there might be some hope of getting the money.
