SOLE SELLING AGENTS IN OREGON FOR BONNET ET CIE'S WORLD FAMOUS SILKS

A Hearty Welcome to "Ye Editors"

Enjoy yourselves, Brethren. There'll be no call for copy from the "devil" while you're in town. R. I. P. And be sure to help yourselves to all the privileges of PORTLAND'S FOREMOST STORE to their fullness.

"CUCKOO"

A certain well-known character, famous in National politics, tells a good story on himself which reminds us of some stores. He says: "I got home one night late; in fact, very late, and as my mother-in-law was fussy I took off my shoes to get up stairs without being heard. As I passed my mother-in-law's room she called out: 'Is that you, William?' I made a short and careful answer, and she asked: 'What time is it?' 'Eleven o'clock,' I replied, and just then the blamed old cuckoo clock in the hall struck three times, and there I had to stand and 'cuckoo' eight more times." Some store writers tell an untruth about their goods and bargains once, and then the salesfolk have to stand and tell a host more falsehoods to back them up. This store believes the TRUTH is good enough to tell of its merchandise first, last and always. The truth in its advertisements first—then the same truth when you look across the counter into the salesperson's eyes and hear it from their lips. It is the TRUTH that we believe we have arranged the largest and best convention of REAL BARGAINS for Friday shoppers that will be found in any store in Portland. And the TRUTH about those bargains you may read below. Come and see if we have told you wrong.

Bewitching Millinery Attractions in the Autumn Salons

Annex—Second Floor.

Every express brings to us such hosts of pretty creations for the "Bijou" Salons as never before graced a Portland millinery store. We are proud indeed of our showings especially when we hear them compared—as we do every day—with other displays around town. Such claims as some stores make on paper for their millinery shops only makes them appear the more ridiculous by comparison with the truly magnificent stocks of smart and exclusive hats shown here. We can truly say that here you may find the largest and finest line of correct millinery shown West of Chicago. A strong claim, but one the goods will bear out. We shall offer

SPECIAL FOR TODAY

A lot of the very newest and most fashionable creations in the Fall stocks, some of the most charming of the new arrivals, clever conceits of master milliners, among them some of the favorite Polois, in silks, velvets, felts, etc. Extra values at the popular prices of
