BRAINS SPATTER THE BED

Slayer Leaves No Clew, but Report Says Ruined Child Shot to Avenge Her Blighted Honor.

GRANT'S PASS, Or., Sept. 8.-(Special.) -V. M. Jennings was murdered last night at the Granite Hill mine, nine miles from this city, and no clew was left by the murderer. A messenger came to Grant's Pass this morning to notify authorities of the murder, and the Coroner, Dr. W. H. Flanagan, and Sheriff George E. Lewis at once left for the scene. After a thorough investigation, they could find no direct proof as to who the gullty person

The murdered man, V. M. Jennings. had a contract to supply the Granite Hill mine with wood, and had a wood crew of 15 men at work. He was about 10 years old and had a wife and four children. His wife left him last Spring, returning to her parents in North Carolina. Jennings lived in a small three-room house near the mine, having with him a girl aged it one aged 5, a boy of 16 and one of 18 years. He slept in a small bed-room downstairs off the living-room, while the two girls slept in the same room in a bed three feet distant from their father's. The boys slept in a little

The father had been shot with a rifle, the ball penetrating the forehead, passing through the head, and was found in the pillow. The gun was held so close to the head that the skull was split open by the terrific force of the bullet, and the brains were scattered over the bed. There were two guns in the house, but both were in place when the house was ex-The windows and door were closed, and there was no evidence that the shot had been fired from the outside.

The children claim to have not heard the shot, but a man working on the night shift at the mine says he heard a gun fired at 1 o'clock at night. Mr. Jennings was a hard-working man, but addicted to drink. His moral standing was not high It is thought by many that he had wrecked his oldest daughter, and that in her desperation she had killed him in retaliation for her disgrace, as neither she nor the other children appeared much worried over the death of their father.

OLYMPIA, Wash, Sept. 8.—(Special.)

—George L. Davis, County Commissioner of Chehalis County, today vigprounly denied to the State Board of Equalization the statements published in many papers of the state that the large mills on Gray's Harbor were es-caping taxation because they are located on state land.

Mr. Davis showed that 17 mills in Gray's Harbor County were assessed at $592,523, while 132 mills in Snohomish had an assessed valuation of $520,250. F. R. Archer, County Assessor, said he had compared valuations on their milis with the milis of other places in the state and in Portland, Or., and found them to be assessed as high as in other places.

HIDDEN TRIAL IS NOW ENDED

Court of Triers of Appeals Upholds Rev. Elliott.

VANCOUVER, Wash., Sept. 8.—(Special.)

—A final settlement of the Hidden church trial was reached by a unanimous vote of the court of triers of appeals resterday at Centralia, which sustained the verdict rendered by the jury at this city on

This court is the highest court open to ay member of the Methodist Episcopal orch and the last resort for Mrs. Hidchurch and the last resort for Mrs. Hidden. The court before whom the trial was held is the result of the general convention which was held in Los Angeles in May, 190, the members of which are confined to not less than seven and not more than E, all of whom must be selected one from each pastoral district.

The main point in the prosecution was that the defendant, Mrs. Hidden, recited statements that were given out in prominent residents.

the sermons of Rev. Mr. Elliott in con-nection with some of her points, and were not meant in the sense stated by Mrs. Hidden, hence they were worse than lies. This accusation, as well as all of the other accusations, was sustained by the court after they had considered the vari-ous points of the case pending. The re-sult of the trial is very satisfactory to the vast majority of the members of the church, as they are heartly in favor of Mr. Elliott.

Fisherman Dound for Gray's Harbor Is Drowned in Breakers.

ABERDEEN, Wash, Sept. 8 .- (Special.) Alfred Paterson, who reached here of the afternoon train from South Bend, tells a thrilling story of his escape from death in the breakers off Shoalwater Bay, on Wednesday last, and the drowning of a companion named Alexander Orioff. Paterson and Orioff started from Astoria for Gray's Harbor in a fishing-boat, intending to work here during the season. Off Shoalwater Bay they were caught in a very rough sea, and in mak-ing port the boat was capsized. Paterson ceeded in reaching shore after a des erate struggle in the breakers, but Or-off lost his life after endeavoring to use their provision box for a life preserver Paterson came here to notify Orioff's wife of the death of her husband, she having preceded him by train to find housekeeping rooms. W. J. CLARKE, OF MARION, IS THE LATEST ASPIRANT.

Valley County Is Well Supplied With Candidates for the Coming State Election.

SALEM, Or., Sept. 8 -- (Special.) -- Marion County has one more candidate for a state office in the person of W. J. Clarke, of Gervais, who aspires for the Repub-lican nomination for State Printer. Mr. Clarke is publisher of the Gervais Star, and has told his friends that he has be-gun an active campaign for the nomination for the office of State Printer at the a second term. His competitors take a different view, and think that one term is enough for a State Printer. The other aspirants are: W. S. Duniway, of Portland, and S. C. Beach, of Portland, both well-known printers. Clarke's candidacy is of particular interest here because of its probable effect upon the aspirations of other Marion County seekers for nominations on the Republican ticket. It is generally felt that the places on the ticket should be dis-tributed geographically as much as pos-sible. It is generally admitted that if a populous county like Marion should get too many places on the ticket, prejudice would be created in other sections and the vote at the polls materially reduced.

Marion has now two or three candidates for Congress one tentative candidate for Governorship, three candidates for office of Secretary of State, and one candidate for State Printer. It is to the interest of each candidate to throw the other offices to some other county, so that his own election, if he should win the nomination, would be the more secure. Mr. Clarke's entrance into the race for the office of State Printer may have the effect of complicating some of the contests already waging.

Bids for Barton Bridge Opened.

OREGON CITY, Or., Sept. 8 -- (Special.) -Bids for the construction of a bridge across the Clackamas at Barton and the building of the necessary approaches were today opened by the County Court, which has taken the proposals under advisement. Several estimates were submitted DO NOT ESCAPE TAXATION $14,275; C. F. Royal & Son, $12,700; Puget Sound Bridge & Dredging Company, $13,-980; Burrell Construction Company, $13,-230; the International Contract Company, $12,296.68: Portland Bridge & Buildin Company, $12,500. This bridge is opposed by the Oregon City Board of Trade and a great many of the Granges of the county. Of the required cost of the structure, the County Court agrees to appropriate 56600, a similar sum having been raised by popular subscription, and to which the Oregon Water Power & Railway Company, which will derive the bulk of the benefit in the making of the proposed improvement, contributed $500e. There remains to be subscribed about $250e before the bridge will be assured.

Klamath Basin Would Trade With Oregon Metropolis.

NO INDUCEMENTS GIVEN

San Francisco Has Aided in Securing Transportation Facilities and In Likely to Get All the Business.

KLAMATH FALLS, Or., Sept. 8 - (Spe.

cial.)-It is now very evident that unless Portland wakes up to the advantages to be had in keeping in touch with Southern Oregon and bidding for its trade, San Francisco is going to reap the golden har-vest which will soon be ready for some live city to pluck from Klamath basin. The people here are inclined to the be share toward an effort to get the busi-ness from this country, but they all neede this as a tributary point to Porttand rather than San Francisco. Sar Francisco has done more for this part of Southern Oregon than Portland. Only re-cently San Francisco business men subscribed a large portion of the $100,000 bonus asked by the Weed Railway Company for the building of this road from the Southern Pacific line in Bisklyon County, California, to this city. At the same time. Portland refused to lend any financial aid to this project, just as she has done in the past, This being the case, Klamath Falls sustness men are now and will continue to favor Ban Francisco as a wholesale center in preference to Portiand, unless the Portiand wholesalers show a willing hand in developing means of transporta-tion into this country.

The kindly feeling toward the Bay City is the only reason the business men of this section have for patronizing it. Freight charges are practically the same from both points at the present time, while with the completion of the McCloud-road to the lower end of the Klamath Lake will bring Portland several miles nearer Klamath Falls than San Francisco. The Portland dispatches of a few days ago to the effect that Harriman contemplated tapping the Klamath country from the Portland side, of course, created some little interest here, and the people of this city would gladly welcome a line across the mountains from Oregon's me-tropolis. The business men here say that, should Portland do something toward starting the agitation for a rallroad into this valley, the desired end could sooner or later be accomplished. Then Portland would get the biggest end of the business from the wast rich territory embraced in

In regard to this matter, C. F. Blanchard, statistician of the United States Reclamation Service, said:

No one can visit this valley without being impressed with its splendid future when the country is developed under a comprehensive system. The first great need of the valley is, of course, a railroad, but I am firmly cot red that this field is altogether too for a railroad to stay out of it very long. While the country should be tributary to Portland there is reason to believe that unless Portland merchants and capitalists take up the matter at once, San Francisco is go-ing to be the market for the farm products and livestock of this basin.

EVANGELISTS SING, DANCERS PAUSE AND GAZE.

Revival Meeting Held in Aberdeen Haunt and Orchestra Plays Accompaniment to Hymns.

ABERDEEN, Wash., Sept. 8.—(Special.)
—Tonight in the Palm dancehall, where sin holds high carnival every day in the week, was witnessed one of the most extraordinary scenes probably ever seen on the Pacific Coast, and without a parallel, according to Evangelist Palmer, in his religious experience.

At 10 o'clock, when the place was ablage with hundreds of electric lights and the hall barroom crowded with habitues and curiosity-seekers, 100 men and women, a number of them white-haired and aged, ied by the pastor of the Baptist Church and Dr. Palmer, marched into the building and proceeded to the stage.

The girls immediately left the dancing floor with their escorts and filled the boxes towering above the floor space. At a word from the proprietor that no drinks would be sold and that hats must be removed and that each person would be ex-pected to conduct himself properly, Dr. Palmer opened the meeting with a brief address, followed by singing, the dance hall orchestra furnishing the accompani An address dwelling upon the love of Christ was then spoken and a song closed the meeting. There were several thousand present, including many business men, but no city officials. Dr. Palmer says that he was granted the privilege of holding the meeting by the proprietor, who said he was a lost soul anyway, but that some one might be benefited.

As soon as the religious workers left the building, beer selling was resussed and dancing continued. Church people tonight declare they will make the dance-halls an issue in the coming local elec-tions, and, if necessary, will make an appeal to the Christian people of the state to help in the fight.

ASTORIA, Or., Sept. 8-(Special.)—Wreck reports have been filed at the Custom-House by Captain Loll, of the typ Samson, and Captain Babbidge, of the quarantine steamer Electro, regarding the damage resulting through the Electro being struck by the Samson, while lying at her berth near the foot of Eleventh street on last Tuesday afternoon. The report filed by Captain Loil makes no estimate of the damage, but in explaining the cause of the accident, says. "In backing away from the dock the tide and wind being atrong, the tug Samson did not pick up and went into the side of the steamer Electro." Captain Babbidge in his report estimates the damage to his vessel at $500, asserts that no pre-cautions were taken to avoid the acci-dent, and, in conclusion, says: "It is the opinion of all who witnessed the occur-rence that it was due to gross carelessness of Captain Loll."

DESCRICTES IRRIGATION COM-PANY WANTS LAND.

Meeting Will Be Held to Determine Whether Patent Should Issue, Bules Will Be Made.

SALEM, Or., Sept. 2 - (Special.)-A special meeting of the State Land Board will be held next Monday for the purpose of considering the application of the Des-chutes Irrigation & Power Company for a patent to 77,000 acres of arid land which it has a contract to reclaim by Irrigation. The application is in form of a request by the State of Oregon to the Secretary of the Interior for a patent in favor of the state, but the showing in support of the application is made by the irrigation company, which is the real party in interest.

The question to be decided at the meet-

The question to be decided at the meeting Monday is whether the State Land Board shall give its approval to the application and forward it to Washington. It is conjectured that a number of questions may arise incidentally and require solution before the Board determines whether to indorse the application. The first fact to be determined is whether the reciamation company has provided a quantity of water sufficient to irrigate the 77,000 acres, thus effecting the reciamation of the land. No rules have yet been adopted governing the distribution of water, and it is therefore unknown what amount of water will be required. It may be necessary, therefore, to adopt a rule upon this subject and then send the State Engineer to the Deschutes country to make measurements and ascertain whether the required quantity is available after making allowance for seepage in the course of transmission through canals. The question of a sufficient water supply is one that the State Land Board will act upon with great care, for it is of vital importance to the settler, whose crops will depend upon it.
