

BABY SHOW AT THE EXPOSITION

Saturday Will Be Devoted to Citizens of the Future in Northwest. PRIZES VARIED AND MANY Infants Are Entered in Many Classes, Such as the Prettiest, the Best Behaved, the Worst Behaved, the Fattest.

BABY SHOW IS SATURDAY. The Exposition officials announce that children under 12 1/2 years of age will be admitted free to the Exhibition grounds next Saturday, Baby Day. The bronze souvenir medals which have been cast for the first thousand children entering the grounds will be given out by young ladies in attendance at the gates, beginning at 1 o'clock. The procession will begin at 2 o'clock promptly and the judging will be at 3 P. M. in the Auditorium. These hours have been decided upon so that parents will not have to take young children to the fair for the entire day unless they particularly wish to do so. The committee in charge of entries invites all who have not entered their babies for this day to do so now, and more prizes from merchants or individuals will be appreciated and add to the success of the day.

When Dan McAllen decided to devote the day which has now set aside in his honor as "Father of the Exposition" to the babies of the Northwest, he paid a graceful compliment to these citizens of the future who have been overlooked in their helpless infancy, while all other variety of mankind has been enjoying special privileges and attention at the great Lewis and Clark Fair. It is claimed that everyone else has been played up, from school children to aged pioneers and from veterans, but no one thought of the babies until Mr. McAllen was asked to make a programme for "his day."

Details of the Day. There have been so many inquiries about the details of the day, the classifications, prizes and other matters, that the following announcement has been authorized by the exposition officials and Mr. McAllen for the benefit of parents entering their babies for competition. Saturday, September 16, is official Baby Day. The first thousand children under five years of age to enter the exposition gates will each be presented with a special Lewis and Clark medal cast for the occasion. The impression that these medals are to go to the first thousand babies entered on the list is a mistake—they are for the first thousand entering the Exposition grounds on Baby Day. Parents will not be admitted free but will have to pay admission as others do. The exact time of the procession and the awarding of prizes will be announced in the papers during the week. Unless otherwise announced parents will use the Oregon building to gather in and rest, and the show will be held in the large pavilion adjoining the Illinois pavilion, the procession ending at this point.

The Prize Lists. The Exposition management has appropriated $25 for cash prizes which will be awarded as follows: $10 for the finest pair of twins, $5 for the finest all-around baby, $5 for the finest baby named after either Lewis or Clark, $2 for the best decorated baby carriage in the procession, and $2 for the most novel feature in this parade. In addition to these cash prizes merchants entering have most generously donated useful articles in giving prizes, the majority of them indicating the special classes which are to compete for them. More donations are needed. Classification is as follows: Class A, up to 3 months old; class B, up to 6 months old; class C, up to 1 year old; class D, up to 18 months old; class E, up to 2 years old; class F, up to 2 1/2 years old; class G, up to 3 years old.

PRIZES. No prize will be given for babies beyond 3 years old, but souvenir Lewis and Clark Baby-day medals will be given to the first 1000 children, up to 5 years old, who are entered for competition. There will be no individual prize for the prettiest child, but there will be individual first prize for the prettiest babies in each of the different classes. Other prizes will be as follows, in each of the different classes. One prize for the fattest baby. One prize for the baby with the darkest eyes. One prize for the baby with the lightest blue eyes. One prize for the baby with the brownest eyes. One prize for the baby with the most pronounced gray eyes. One prize for the baby with the best hair. One prize for the best dressed baby. One prize for the baby whose dress is of the most original character. One prize for the best nurtured baby. One prize for the worst behaved baby. One prize for the best decorated baby carriage or other novel contrivance. For twins there will be special prizes. There will be no two prizes given to any baby, twin or other.

Donations Are Made. A committee consisting of Mrs. D. S. Page, Mrs. L. H. Barr, F. M. Branch and Miss Mabel Devers called on the merchants in behalf of the success of Baby Day, and obtained the following prizes, which will be awarded under specified classes by the donors: Aronson, sterling baby spoon; John Barrett Company, candlestick or vase; Blumauer & Frank, baby brush; Butterworth Bread Company, ornamental cake; Clouse & Devers, one package each of coffee, baking powder and tea; F. K. Chown, child's hat; Cohen Brothers, one set nut picks, one berry spoon, one cold-meat fork; F. Dresser & Co., box fancy cookies; Eggert, Young & Co., pair fine baby shoes; W. J. Fuller, baby shoes; Williams Godeby, high chair; Lewis & Clark Dry Goods Company, baby shoes; S. G. Gottard & Kelly, baby shoes; Grason & Koehler, one bottle toilet water; G. Hoffkemper, gold ring; Hendrichsen, silver baby spoon; Meyer Himmelfurt, baby coat; H. T. Hudson Arms Co., pocket knife; Jones Cash store, souvenir copper spoon; one to each of seven classes; Kilham Stationery Company, box stationery; Lipman & Wolfe, baby jacket; Lamo-Davis Drug Co., comb and brush; Jaeger Brothers, baby cup; Henry Jennings & Sons, child's oak rocker; H. Leibessler, child's set; Meier & Frank Co., one Glasscock baby jumper and rocker; combined: E. Moorehouse, wedgewood vase; Oide, Wortman & King, beautiful baby dress; People's Market, tea; Pacific Mail Order Company, baby shoes; Rosenthal baby shoes; Robb & Sons, silverfield, baby jacket; State Market, one salmon, one ham; T. A. W. Schmale, one picture book; Steppes, the Jeweler, one diamond ring; Sweden & Sons, baby shoes; T. S. Goble, one baby carriage; The Hub, order for one dozen photographs; A. N. Wright, one diamond ring; Woodard & Clark, comb and brush; J. Wilson, three pairs of shoes; Wey Sun, coat; West Coast Manufacturing Company, one case Pacific Coast cream; Wadham & Kerr, one case Pet cream; Wright Photo Studio, one-half dozen cabinet photographs to each of the prize babies. Other merchants who have promised prizes are: Aldrich Drug Company, Archer & Schang, Brigham Dry Goods Company, W. Freidlander, A. & C. Feldenheimer, Frank Nau, Reed & Malcolm, Haines T. Stone, Zan Brothers, and Specialty Company. With all this array of prizes in prospect and probably more to be added to the list, there will be no dissatisfaction, for every class will be remembered, and it is only up to the parents to produce fine and pretty babies to be certain of taking many of these articles home with them.

WILL GO TO LOS ANGELES

ATTRACTIONS ON THE TRAIL FOR SOUTHERN CITY.

Kiralfy Amusement and Exposition Company Will Be Incorporated for That Purpose.

While the magnificent palaces of the Lewis and Clark Exposition are doomed, with the probable exception of the Forestry building, and will be leveled to the earth within a few weeks, many of the features and star attractions have a bright future in store for them and for many years will serve as memorials of the greatness of the Fair. They will forsake Portland, however, to seek a resting place in the beautiful city of Los Angeles. During the week the Kiralfy Amusement & Exposition Company will incorporate under the laws of California, and later will be established in Los Angeles.

ADMISSIONS, 17,835.

Admissions to the Fair yesterday were reported to be 17,835.

PLEASED WITH EXPOSITION

Idaho's Governor Says It's the Greatest Little Fair in History. BOISE, Idaho, Sept. 11.—(Special.)—Governor Gooding and party have returned from the Portland Exposition. The Governor is enthusiastic about the Exposition, about the treatment accorded him and his party at Portland, and about the part Idaho has taken in the Fair. He speaks of the Exposition as "the greatest little fair in the history of the world." Furthermore, he thinks Idaho has done as well as any other state, and is satisfied the participation by the state in the Exposition will prove of great benefit.

Spokane Delegation Arrives.

About 800 citizens of Spokane arrived by special train at 10:30 last night. The rain interfered with any street demonstration, and the parade had to be abandoned. The major portion of the crowd that is coming from there to participate in the ceremonies incident to Spokane day will reach here this morning at 8 o'clock, leaving left after business hours last night. In addition to the attractive programme for this afternoon, there will be a banquet tonight at the American Inn. A unique feature of the situation developed last night when it was discovered that enterprising Spokanites who had been sent here for missionary purposes had fagged every telegraph, telephone and electric pole upon every avenue leading to the Fair grounds with small banners upon which the name of the city appeared in glaring letters.

COMING ATTRACTIONS.

"Mrs. Wiggs" Tomorrow Night. "Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch" will be the attraction at the Marquam Grand Theatre tomorrow (Wednesday), Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights, September 13, 14, 15 and 16. "Mrs. Wiggs" is a comedy play which has been produced in England and has been the most successful thing in the world. The dramatization has costumed the two books in masterful fashion and accentuated the highly humorous life of Mrs. Wiggs and her neighbors in the Hamlet. It is a comedy play which has been produced in England and has been the most successful thing in the world.

Matinee Tomorrow at Empire.

Charles A. Taylor's New York company is in its second week at the Empire. Its production, "Escaped From the Harsh," scored one of the most pronounced hits that has ever been made in a Portland theatre, but it remains for "Queen of the Highway," which is being presented this week, to so far surpass the first success of the attraction as to have no equal in comparison.

"The Chaperons" Coming.

The musical-comedy success, "The Chaperons," will be the attraction at the Marquam Grand Theatre all next week, beginning Monday, September 18. The advance sale of seats will open next Friday morning at 10 o'clock.

Passenger Agents Coming.

The special train party of members and visitors to the annual convention of the American Association of Traveling Passenger Agents will arrive in Spokane this morning and spend the day in seeing the sights of the Coterie d'Alene and of the Falls City. Tonight they will start for Portland and arrive here tomorrow afternoon at about 5 o'clock, making the Columbia River trip from The Dalles.

Eastern Travel to Fair.

Estimates compiled by A. D. Charlton, assistant general passenger agent of the Northern Pacific, who has kept close watch on the Exposition travel, is that of the 70,000 excursion tickets sold to the Pacific Coast, tonight they will start for Portland from points east of the Mississippi, of which 47,000 were validated at the Portland joint agency, no less than 81,000 were held by persons who "joined Portland." It is well known that this year was not less and may have been more than the estimate of Mr. Charlton, according to the best informed traffic officials, and is far in excess of the estimates made before opening of the Exposition by the most sanguine friends of the Fair.

Tuxedo Must Stay Closed.

City license inspectors this morning will serve written notice upon the proprietors of the Tuxedo saloon, and A. J. Cranwell & Co., of 120 Sixth street, notifying them of the revocation of their licenses. In case they undertake to continue business without the license they will be arrested forthwith. At last accounts the Tuxedo had closed its doors, and may not give the authorities any trouble but it is expected that Cranwell & Co. will put up a vigorous legal fight to keep open. They conduct a Chinese and Japanese curio store at the place indicated, and are charged with the possession of their license under false representations.

That the Municipal Court is not a kindergarten, a farce comedy or a dime museum, operated for the amusement of the public, is gradually being taught by Judge Cameron. He added another lesson during yesterday morning's session, when he fined Grace Spencer, a vagrant, $10 for laughing. She was arrested with others of her kind in a raid made Sunday night by Acting Detectives Kay and Jones, and when in court seemed to take it as a joke.

Brisk Shower of Rain. Last evening, to the accompaniment of thunder and lightning, a brisk rain fell in Portland, catching people unaware and causing a general movement for shelter, especially among the many women on the street in light Summer dresses.
