Defines Democratic Principles as Applied to Trust Question.

DENIES HE IS A CANDIDATE

Final Speech Before World Tour Joins Issue With Roosevelt on Enlargement of Federal Power Over Trusts.

CHICAGO, Sept. 12.—"I want to make my position perfectly clear; I want to say to you that not only am I not announcing a candidacy, but I am not permitting a candidacy."

In these words William J. Bryan administered a check to the enthusiasm which, at the Jefferson Club banquet, given tonight in Mr. Bryan's honor, greeted the speeches advocating his nomination for the third time for the Presidency.

There had been warm words of praise for Mr. Bryan, particularly from ex-Representative Ollie M. James, of Kentucky, and Judge James E. Leavin, of Covington, Ky., who had declared unqualifiedly for Mr. Bryan as the Democratic nominee for President in 1908, and from Alexander Troup, of New Haven, who declared that Bryan was the legitimate leader of the Democratic party in the coming campaign.

When Mr. Bryan, who came last on the program, rose to respond to the toast, "Democracy and Centralization," he deferred his formal address for a few moments until he had returned thanks for the words of praise showered upon him by the speakers who preceded him, and until he had set himself right upon the question of his candidacy for the Presidency.

"I am not now," said Mr. Bryan, "a candidate for any office. I have said that I never again would be a candidate for office, but I want to say now that talk of candidacy for office does not affect me as it once did. I believe my place in history will be determined, not by what the people are able to do for me, but what I am able to do for the people. I think it is now too soon to choose a candidate for President to make the race three years from now; it is too early to pledge ourselves to any one man. I trust that before the time comes to name a man for the next Presidential nomination, more light may be thrown upon our party's pathway, and that a man may be chosen who will be best able to do for the party more than I have yet been able to do."

Mayor Dunne's Compliments.

Mayor Dunne said in part: "We have met tonight to do honor and wish you speak to our distinguished and admired guest, Colonel Bryan, his address and respect him because at all times and under all circumstances, and in every place in which he has been, he has stood for purity in politics and placed men above mammon. Whether in victory or in defeat, he always stood for the right, and he has earned the respect and confidence of his countrymen."

Bryan Defines Two Forces.

When Mr. Bryan rose to speak he was greeted with an enthusiastic demonstration, and some minutes passed before the applause had subsided sufficiently for him to proceed. He spoke on "Democracy vs. Centralization," his speech being in part as follows:

PEARY STEAMING NORTH

Open Water Allows the Roosevelt to Push Ahead.

NEW YORK, Sept. 12.—Dr. Frederick Schott, of Washington, surgeon of the Peary auxiliary Erik, was in Brooklyn today on his way home. Dr. Schott brings news from Commander Peary nearly a week later than the telegram from him, August 16, at Etah, reporting his intention to cross Smith Sound, which was at that time ice-covered from Littleton Island to Cape Isabella. Peary reported that, though apparently not heavy, the ice might make the establishment of a base at Cape Sabine impracticable, but that he would make the attempt.

TARTARS MURDER CHRISTIANS

Wholesale Massacres Follow Proclamation of Holy War.

ST. PETERSBURG, Sept. 12.—A holy war has been proclaimed in the Caucasus districts of Zangezur and Jebrail, where Tartars are massacring the Armenians without distinction of sex or age.

CREW ESCAPES OFFICIALS

Customs Officers Threatened With Death on Unknown Steamer. Deadly Fusillade Poured Into Socialistic Crowd.

HELSINGFORS, Sept. 12.—The customs authorities today seized 5000 rifles in the possession of people in the neighborhood of Jakobstad, on the Gulf of Bothnia, which were believed to be for the unnamed steamer sunk by her crew Sunday, as stated in these dispatches.

BOYCOTT MURDERED PRINCE

Caucasian Rebels Forbid Any One to Touch His Hated Corpse.

TIFLIS, Sept. 12.—Serious developments have arisen in connection with the death of General Prince Amikhojov, formerly governor of Georgia, whose body is now lying in a house in the vicinity of Tiflis. The Prince was regarded with bitter hatred, owing to the harsh measures which he adopted when he was sent on a special mission to pacify the Caucasus, and the revolutionaries threaten the local priests with death if they attempt to offer prayer over the body. No one dares approach the house.

Troops have been dispatched to bring the remains to Tiflis, and it is feared that there will be disorders at the funeral.

GORRY HOPEFUL OF LIBERTY

Despite Russia's Anarchic Condition, He Looks for Awakening.

LONDON, Sept. 12.—The correspondent of the Standard at St. Petersburg sends an interview which he had with Maxim Gorky, the Russian novelist, at his temporary home in Finland, whence he will shortly return to Moscow, to be present at the productions of his new dramatic works. Mr. Gorky said:

"I have no doubt that the conclusion of peace has strengthened the hands of the government, nor have I any doubt that the weakness of the government would have been our opportunity. Apart, however, from any effect that peace may have upon the attainment of political liberty, our colonial ventures ought to end. We have no mission to colonize, for we have more land of our own than we can cultivate in this century, and beside we have nothing to give to others."

Gorky then referred to the terrible condition of Poland and the Caucasus, which had been left to degenerate, instead of to develop, and said:

"I fear that our lesson has not been thorough, and that we shall return to schemes for Asiatic experiments instead of devoting our energies to domestic affairs."

Without sharing the views of the Liberals, who would have peace for various reasons, one of them being that the returning soldiers would swell the demand for political reform, Maxim Gorky expressed the opinion that, if it did not depend on the cause of freedom, and was confident that the peasants, no matter in what manner they might be elected, would surprise the government by their insistence on liberty, and that, once liberty was obtained, there is bound to be a marvelous unfolding of the spiritual and intellectual faculties of the people."

SOCIALISTS SHOT IN SCORES

Cossacks Fire Repeated Volleys to Break Up Meeting.

TIFLIS, Caucasus, Sept. 12.—Many Social Democrats were killed or wounded at 10 o'clock tonight in a conflict with Cossacks at the town hall, and many were trampled to death in the disturbance. Two thousand Social Democrats had forced an entrance into the town hall, which was closed, owing to the celebration of John the Baptist. Revolutionary speeches were made till. Revolutionary speeches were made and the captain of the police ordered the meeting to disperse. Part of those present obeyed, but the remainder refused and some revolvers were fired.

A large force of Cossacks drawn up outside the building then fired a volley into the crowd time and time again, killing 20 and wounding upward of 70. In the ensuing panic many persons fell and were trampled to death by their comrades and the pursuing Cossacks.

According to the official account, the crowd was roughly hatted by the dimly lit police, whereupon the Third company of the Poltava Regiment was summoned. The commander of the company ordered the demonstrators to disperse, promising not to arrest them if they obeyed. Shots were then fired on the Cossacks, not only from the Town Hall, but from the courtyard and the street. A number of rioters assembled in a neighboring house, broke through a wall leading to the hall, and opened fire with revolvers on the Cossacks and police, wounding a Cossack and a policeman. The Cossacks shrapnel fired on the rioters.

Official figures give the casualties at 23 killed and 90 wounded.
