EAST MORRISON-STREET ROADWAY .- The street-repair man on the East Side put down Is new planks on the elevated roadway on East Morrison street in one day last week, and has been busy on the street most of the time since. The planks are worn and holes are broken in the surface every day, but the roadway must be kept open to accommodate traffic. City Engineer Taylor made an examination of recently, and will likely make ort. It is understood that if the property-owners will furnish the lum her the city will put it down. It would be a public calamity to close up East derrison street, with its extraordinary

HAD ROUGH EXPERIENCE.-The steamer North King, which is on the ways in Supple's yard undergoing a general over-hauling, had a very rough experience recently in Alaskan waters, and came neabeing wrecked. She is the property of the Warren Packing Company, and was built in Portland. On a recent trip the North King encountered a terriffic storm, accompanied by a heavy sea that nearly the cabin away. The ship was unded with coal on the deck, and the load n the stern was swept over, leaving that forward still on, which caused the how to sepress. The crew shifted the coal as twisted off like pipestems

NOT A RAILMOAD MAN.-The Mississipp Avenue Congregational Church, Albina, has extended a call for six months to Her. W. L. Upshaw, of Oklahoma, to become paster. Mr. Upshaw has accepted, moved into the pursonage, and en-tered upon his work this week. He occupied the pulpit last Sunday. Mr. Up-shaw is not a railroad man, nor has he had any desire to become one. The church trustees were careful to satisfy themselves on this point, as two former pasters resigned to enter railway service one as conductor on a street-car and the her on the O. R. & N., but both are

OPENING OF BELMONT STREET, - The movement for opening Belmont street from the city limits to West avenue, traking it a 60-foot street, has been held up temperarily, on account of doubt about the legality of the annexation of that portion of the Mount Tabor district. Belmon street is already partly opened, in some places the full width and in others it is but 30 feet wide. Before the vote for annexation last June, the opening of the street was argued before the County Court, but not all the property-owners were willing, and the matter was allowed to lapse pending annexation

PUTTING TORRENS LAW INTO EFFECT Henderson, County Clerk of Colum-County, was in Portland yesterday looking up the workings of the Torren ct, as observed by County Clerk Mr. Henderson received the first application under this law from the Shaver Transportation Campany, and several others are to follow, R. C. Wright, attorney, who assisted County Clerk Fields in preparing a system of Torrens registration books, rendered valuable as-sistance to Mr. Henderson in explaining to him the workings of the law.

SATE MONTAVILLA SHOULD INCORPORATE. tractor E. W. Burden, who put up Il es in Montaville in one year, says that the place should incorporate and own a water plant. He says that at the very best the present water plant is only tem-porary, and must be replaced. "We should incorporate, he mays, "get the streets graded and lay good watermains. Of course, the matter of putting in a water plant will have to be fought out after we incorporate. There are many people fa-voring annexation, but the city won't CHANGE IN CLERK'S OFFICE.—The office of the Clerk of the State Circuit Court, which was moved to the main office of County Clerk Fields about ten days ago, be changed again to the old quarters next week. This will be done in deference to the wishes of attorneys, who deference to the wishes of attorneys, who have stated that they think the location of the office upstairs alljoining the several courtrooms is more desirable than to have it downstairs. An iron stairway connecting with the main office has been put in which will reconnect the second of the secon put in, which will prove a great conven-

"PRINCESS TRIXIE" OUT OF DANGER. W. H. Barnes, owner of the mare, "Prin. cess Trixie." on the Trail, which was poisoned yesterday, denies the printed report appearing in today's Oregonian that it was the work of some business rival, and fears that any such statement would have the effect of causing them all to get down on him. He says it was evidently perpetrated by some crank. The veterinary worked on the animal until 2 n'clock this morning, and thinks that she is now out of danger.

WANTS HIS COMMISSION.-In the East Side Justice Court, John L. Wigle has started a suit to recover $50 alleged to be due from Herman Herbers as commission for sale of a fo-acre tract of land in Douglas County. It is set forth in the complaint that Herbers agreed to pay a "reasonable" compensation if Wigle could sell or trade the land. Wigle says he did find a purchaser for $1200, but that Her-bers has refused to pay him. Asks For Receiver.—J. L. Mitchell, a stockholder in the Fraternal News Publishing Company, filed a suit in the State Circuit Court yesterday asking that a receiver be appointed for the corporation, which, he mays, is insolvent. The assets consist of effice furniture valued at 1550, a subscription list amounting the control of the company of the control of the court of the control of th a subscription list amounting to $200, and $300 open accounts, due for advertising. Mitchell says the creditors are about to

CAPTURED AFTER CHARR—Charles Kelly, aged E, and R. Kakritz, aged 14, were arrested yesterday afternoon on warrants aworn out by H. Gerson, a cigar dealer at 115 Third street, charging them with larceny of a quantity of cigars, stolen from the store two weeks ago. Kelly is accused of selling several boxes of cigars to another dealer at an absurdly low price, thus bringing suspicion on himself. Solomon Hart, one of the proprietors of the cigar store, obtained a description, the cigar store, obtained a description captured the suspect and took him to the cigar store, where Kelly, who has a reputation as a prizefighter, endeavored to escape. In the struggle that ensued, a slot machine was thrown to the floor and a plate-glass window broken. The prize-fighter broke from Hart and started up Third street on the run, with Officer Sloan and Hart in pursuit. A crowd joined in the chase, and Kelly was captured after a short run. Kakritz was later arrested at his home. Twenty-first and Irving streets, by Detective Lou Hartman, but was per-mitted to go with his father, who said that he would see that his son appeared in court. Kelly was unable to furnish hall, and was confined in a cell in the City

CENTRAL W. C. T. U. ELECTS OFFICERS Central W. C. T. U. held its annual elec-ion of officers yesterday with the following result: Mrs. Ida Barciay was elected president; Mrs. H. J. Shove, vice-presi-dent; Mrs. Margaret McFarland, corresponding secretary; Mrs. May Mapes, re-cording secretary; Mrs. E. Dalgielsh, treasurer Mrs. Janny, the retiring presi-dent, presided. Mrs. Sarah Keller, evangelistic superintendent, conducted the opening exercises. Mrs. Whitesides, county president, was in attendance, and made a few remarks. Mrs. Palmer, from Nebraska, and Mrs. Bisnell, from Baker City, were introduced to the gathering. At the conclusion of the exercises tea and cake were served and a delightful social hour spent. The arrangements are being made for the county meeting two weeks hence, and mention made of W. C. T. U. day at the Fair grounds one week from INDURED BY FALLING WEIGHT .- A bar of iron weighing 400 pounds fell across Joseph Kahn's abdomen at the rolling mills of the Pacific Hardware & Steel Company Tuesday morning, and he lives to tell the tale. Kahn was removed im. mediately to his home, 748 Roosevelt street, where he is being attended by Dr. Theodore Fessier. The latter gives it as his opinion that Kahn will recover, al-though very badly crushed and internally injured. Kahn was assisting in carrying the iron bar, during a change of rollers, when he slipped and fell. The heavy piece was more than the others could bear up, and it dropped across his abdomen.

WILL ADDRESS BUSINESS MEN.-J. A. Filcher, California's Chief Commissioner to the Exposition, will address the business and professional men of the city, with their ladies, at the pariors of the Commercial Club, on Monday evening next, Beptember 18. The address will be given under the auspices of the Portland given under the auspices of the Portland Ad Men's League, and is sure to be of intense interest, as Mr. Flicher takes for his subject, "The Advertising of a City or a State." Perhaps no one in America is better informed on this subject than Mr. Flicher, who has done much in the upbuilding of California. The public is invited.

DEATH WAS SUDDEN .- Mrs. Isabel Downing, living at 382 Ross street, McMillen Addition, was found dead in bed yesterday morning by her husband. She had died some time during the night from heart disease, and when Mr. Downing swoke he got no response from his wife. Mrs. Downing had been in her usual health the night before, and had attended the Franchise. the Exposition, Mr. and Mrs. Downing came to Portland from Los Angeles 18 months ago. Mrs. Downing is survived by two sons, one at Fort Stevens and the other a resident of New York. The funeral will take place tomorrow after-

RETURN FROM Y. W. C. A. CONFERENCE Portland is entertaining as guests just now a number of the returning delegates who were in attendance at the confer-ence of the Toung Women's Christian Association at Seastde. Mrs. Frank D. Black, who had charge of the conference music, is commended for its success. Mrs. G. A. C. Various good brands come out of Louis-ville, but nothing with the goodness and the wholesomeness that that town has given us has got a right to be advertised alongside of "Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage

Patch."

Seems like we have known them always. Mrs. Wiggs, Mis' Hazy, Mr. Stebbins, Lovey Mary and the rest of the folks that are in that play.

They just come out to see us, sometimes in their every-day clothes, sometimes in their every-day clothes, sometimes in their every-day clothes, sometimes in their every-day clothes.

times in their Sunday-go-to-meetin', and they say and do some things as make us about to die of laughing and some that about to die of laughing and some that make us cry, a'most. It's all just like we would have had it if we'd made it ourselves, for it helps us to be good and grateful for our blessings and charitable toward every living creature, like.

The stage is surely on the up-grade, and "Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch," which was seen for the first time in Portland at the Marquam last night, is strong proof. The best of the matter is that it proof. The best of the matter is that it is by, for and about Americans, as much so as the Declaration of Independence. We ought to be proud of "Mrs. Wiggs" and mention her in the Fourth of July orations. We might do a good deal more We might here bettered here. more. We might learn brotherly love, patience, unselfishness, the philosophy of happy living and a good bit of religion. It is certain, anyhow, that those of us who saw the play last night came away with sweet, homely songs humming in our hearts, The combination of Alice Hegan Rice's stories in a play is successful beyond ex-pectation. Probably most of those at the Marquam last night who had read the books came with a fear of disappointmen for dramatizations are seldom satisfactory. Not so "Mrs. Wiggs," for all the best things in the stories are utilized to good purpose in the play.

Madge Carr Cook is not all of the performance, but she is the most important factor. Her "Mrs. Wiggs" is a character creation which is already becoming a classic. It will last as long as actors and actresses are praised for their good works, along with Booth's "Hamlet," Jefferson's "Rip" and Stoddard's "Loch. Ian Campbell." Mrs. Cook has worked long and faithfully in her profession, and now at last she is come into her own. No one who sees her in the part will ever forget her beautiful, jolly old saint of "The Cabbage Patch." It is also doubt-

"Section 3. The stockholders of all corporations and joint stock companies shall be liable night.

The players with which Liebler & Company have surrounded the star, for I insist that she is starring though the bills don't say so, could hardly be more evenly balanced nor of a better average of ability. Practically every part in the cast is remarkable for individual character work. Charles Carter, a comedian with real genius has caught the right conception of "Mrs. Stebbins," the veter an with matrimonial and spirituous proclivities. Helen Lowell and Helen Raymond, it would be interesting to see them off the stage, are as grolesque a pair of stage humorists as imagination can conceive. Miss Lowell's "Hazy" in particular is one of the most screamingly funny creatures that ever three an audience creatures that ever threw an audien into paroxyems.

The "Billy" of Argyle Campbell is a fine undertaking. Young Mr. Campbell, he is only 17, is a most attractive, manly fellow, and an actor who needs to ask no concessions for his youth. It is interest-ing to know that he is a son of Lucia Moore, the splendid leading woman, late of the Belasco, that he is to star next season in "Sandy," and that his mother sat in a box last night and was very proud of her boy and very happy. Bessie Barriscale, a pretty girl who is talented, was an excellent "Lovey Mary," while Howard Sloat's "Chris Hazy" is well worth mention. The children, there is a whole family of them in the company, also deserve stick-candy.

The mountings of the piece are all that the scenes could possibly require. There will be a special matinee this afternoon and repetitions every remaining night of

The commission upon its organization over two years ago set apart of its funds the maximum amount authorized by the act for the eraction of said memorial building, and although it then urged, and since that time has repeatedly urged the corporation to comply with the conditions imposed upon it, the said corporation has refused compliance with any and all of its funds for other purposes before the opening of the Exposition.

The Lewis and Clark Exposition is not 'The Lewis and Clark Exposition.

The Lewis and Clark Exposition is not 'The Lewis and Clark Contennial and American Pacific Exposition and Oriental Fair,' a corporation organized under the general incorporated laws of the State of Oregon, nor is it the 'Lewis and Clark Contennial Exposition Commission,' a quasi corporation created by the legislative act referred to, but it is their joint product.

Subdivisions F and G of section T provide for their co-operation 'concerning the administration, management of and general supervision of said Centennial' through the executive committee of the corporation, and the committee of six of the commission, the Governor, Secretary of State and Treasurer being the final arbiters in case of disagreement. The respective amounts contributed to the creation of the Exposition were, approximately, by the corporation $557,000, by the commission, but the joint property of both,

WINS FAME WHILE ABROAD

Madame Norelli Returns to Portland a Recognized Prima Donna.

Mrs. Ernest Barton, known to the mu-sical world as Madam Jennie Norelli, after an absence of five years, has re-turned to Portland directly from New York and European capitals, where her receptions were triumphant, and where she made good her boast that she would sing in company with masters in her art. The noted Swedish soprano has made arrangements to sing in the White Tem-ple next Thursday, at which time she will give selections from "La Tosca," "La Traviata," "Rigoletto" and new songs from the French and Scandinavian.

Madam Norelli has a soprano voice of wonderful powers, her expression is fin-jahed and her tones are pure. Although she is of Swedish descent and studied in the Royal Conservatoire of Music of Stockholm, her tastes and sentiments are partial to Italy and to France, where she studied in later life, and where her ability was recognized. She has many friends in Portland, and said yesterday that she was giad to return to the city which she cialmed as home. Madame Norelli is at the Portland Hotel.

Italians Will Celebrate.

PORTLAND, Sept. 12.—(To the Editor.)-As regards your article on the morning of the lith that there would be no celebratio of Italian day on the 20th of this month after our raising funds for such a celebration let me say in answer that as a contributor to that fund that that day will be esistrated by us and that that fund will begint for the celebration. All civilized ne tionalities have so celebrated; then, why should not we, with loyalty to the country we are earning our bread in, so celebrate? We respect our home country as we respect our fathers and mothers, and feel assured by our celebrating we can double the present fund for our fellow-sufferers at home. We may never be able again to participate in such a loyal celebration; then why not with loyalty to both mother country and the country to which we have taken our oath of allegaince to show our appreciation of each by celebrating at the Exposition?
