WORK OF POWER PLANT.—An order aggregating $150,000 has been placed by the Oregon Water Power & Highway Company for transformers, generators and motor wheels for the electric power plant now under construction at Cazadero. These are to be delivered in Portland by the first of the year. Work is going forward steadily on this plant, which the waters of the Clackamas River will be harnessed and made to run the cars of the O. W. P. and to turn the spindles of manufacturing establishments in Portland. It is announced that not later than April, 1906, electric power aggregating 25,000 horsepower will be generated at Cazadero. Substations are to be built for handling this power. Stations have already been built at Gresham and Eagle Creek. One is under construction at the Golf Links at Sellwood, and another will be built at Oak Grove and Klippel near the buildings. At Cazadero nearly 300 men are at work building the retaining dam, and it is estimated that the completed plant will cost $1,500,000.

POMONA GRANGE TO MEET.—Pomona Grange, Patrons of Husbandry, of Multnomah County, will hold an important meeting at Pleasant Home, with Multnomah County, next Wednesday, commencing its sessions in the morning at 10 o'clock. Napoleon Davis is the master. It is proposed that this shall be a busy session. At this meeting the masters and deputies of Multnomah County have been called in special convention independent of Pomona's meeting, to organize for the general betterment of the grange in this county. J. J. Johnson, of Evening Star Grange, has issued a circular letter to these officers to be on hand, so that an organization can be effected for the purpose of improving the order. The executive committee to consider the Portland market situation has also been called to meet at Pomona. These, with many other matters, will be discussed at the most important that has been held in the county for several years.

WILL BUILD A DOUBLE TRACK.—The managers of the O. W. P. Co. have announced that they will build a double track Mount Scott branch after the Exposition. Practically they have secured the necessary rights of way through to Lewis, but have not decided how the connection with Hawthorne avenue will be made. The reservoir car line, which at present ends at the Section Line road, may be extended south to a connection with the Mount Scott line, forming two branches of the double track. From the junction of these two branches the double track may be laid through to Lewis. This plan was decided on. The people eastward of the lower reservoir want the reservoir branch extended eastward two miles, near the Evening Star Grange. This plan may be swung south to a connection with the Mount Scott line. They will make an effort to get the company to consider this route.

PEOPLE OF ST. JOHN'S TO MEET.—Secretary W. L. Thornely has called a meeting of the St. Johns Board of Trade for next Wednesday evening. The call announces: "There are many matters to be discussed, and every property-owner, taxpayer and citizen is urged to be present, whether he be a member of the organization or not. Be at this meeting. It is very important. There are matters of vital interest to consider. Attend whether you have joined or not." The meeting will be held at the office of L. B. Chipman, Holbrook block, at 2:30 o'clock.

THE Allen Preparatory School will reopen September 18. WATERS' BALL.—The first annual ball given Saturday night at Merrill's Hall by the Portland Waters' Union was a great success. The hall was filled with members and friends of the union, and an enjoyable dance was given. Watson, of 222 Main street, missed her watch, which she reported yesterday morning had been stolen from her. The watch she said was an heirloom, and was valued highly.

ASSAULT BY NAME.—Ex-Special Police Officer C. W. Mott, who was arrested by Special Officer Johnson, September 14, on a charge of being on the street after 1 o'clock, is not James A. Mott. The likeliness of the two names has caused some ambiguity.

POLICE CAN'T SHOOT.

Revolvers of Portland's "Defenders" Public Menace.

That officers and men of the Portland police department as a whole are inexperienced in the use of revolvers, and use weapons and ammunition which are not only dangerous if used on the streets, but which are dangerous to the officers themselves, was discovered yesterday. The first night of the shooting of "Krausmeyer in Society" and "The Mayor's Vacation" are presented by a number of principals and a pretty, well-dressed chorus. Some of the song numbers were pleasing, among them "The Hindoo Man," "Moonlight," "Good Bye, Hiram Green," and "The Prettiest Girl in Borneo." The comedians made the crowds laugh and the show as a whole "went," as they say in stage parlance.

As usual the vaudeville features were the best excuse for the show. "The Excursion Four," a quartet of versatile musicians and humorists, did very effective work and won the favor of those present. Sherman & Fuller, the tumblers, also added greatly to the performance. "The Merry-makers" are to remain at the Baker and will work with the customary afternoon performances. The audiences yesterday taxed the capacity of the theater.

MARCH OF GOLD-DREDGERS

N. B. Crane Tells How They Devastate California Orange Orchards.

N. B. Crane, of Oroville, Cal., formerly a pioneer resident of East Portland, who is spending a few weeks in this city visiting old-time friends, has had some interesting experiences since he left Portland for California 12 years ago. Mr. Crane went to Oroville, on the Feather River, in the early days of the gold mining operations. He took up 40 acres of land that had composed some of the richest placer mines in the palmy days of Northern California. Around his land were 10,000 acres that had been mined, but which had become fine orange farms. Without dreaming of the mining dredger, which exists farms and profitable orchards out of existence, Mr. Crane and his neighbors started orange orchards. After years of persistent efforts these flourished, and then mining experts discovered that the land was still rich in gold, left over in the existing days of the dredger, which has been used for years. ST. JOHN'S COUNCIL MEETS

Deadlock, However, is Still On and Nothing Will Be Done.

The St. Johns Council will attempt to meet this evening, but apparently the deadlock continues, and no business can be transacted. In spite of all the efforts that have been put forth to break the deadlock, the Council and its members are warring factions to an agreement, they are as far apart as ever. The Council adjourned two weeks ago with the expectation that a basis of agreement would be reached before the meeting this evening, and it was even thought the whole difficulty would be settled in a few days.

AT THE THEATERS

"Krausmeyer in Society," "Fable Roman," "The Mayor's Vacation."

By A. A. G. It is intended that "Fable Roman" should be taken seriously. It seems to be a part of the scheme of things that the back stairs have a litter of (1) hence Marie Correll; hence "The Vendetta"; hence "Fable Roman" for the latter is the outward manifestation of the three former. Life in the dim days of Democratic darkness.

By A. A. G. The burlesque organization, which opened a week's run at the Baker yesterday, is called "The Merry-makers." The name is comprehensive enough to cover a lot of things. Two acts, "Krausmeyer in Society" and "The Mayor's Vacation" are presented by a number of principals and a pretty, well-dressed chorus.

POLICE CAPTAIN COUNTERMANDS CAMERON'S ORDER.

Instructs His Men Not to Obey the Judge's Rule Regarding Saloons Violating Law.

Orders to policemen from Captain Bailey of the second night relief, given at 11:30 o'clock last night, to disregard a ruling by Municipal Judge Cameron fell like a bomb among the police ranks. Judge Cameron in court Saturday morning instructed the police to warn saloonkeepers who keep their places open after the 1 o'clock closing hour, that they are breaking the law before arresting them. He also ordered that officers should rap on the door to gain admittance where drinks were being sold after the regular hours, and that absolute evidence should be given that saloons are open after 1 A. M.

TO KEEP UP COURAGE

Young Men's Democratic Club Resumes Its Meetings.

SEANCE TOMORROW NIGHT. Oration Will Be Uncorked by Governor Chamberlain, Mayor Lane, G. W. Allen and Other Party Spellbinders.

To devise means for further proofing the Republican power in Oregon, the Young Men's Democratic Club will resume its weekly seances, beginning Tuesday night, in Unity Hall, Second and Morrison streets, upstairs. This club is the only Democratic organization of its kind that has not adjourned to the curbstone for lack of money to pay rent, as General Kilfeather has said, and is the one that has kept the light of hope burning brightest in the dim days of Democratic darkness.

To Keep Corpses Alive. There is a strong sentiment among the members of this club that the organization of some kind ought to be kept alive not only during a political campaign, but also through the interim between elections as well; that Democrats should ever be on the alert and ready to defend Democratic ideas and principles, and prepared to present Democratic remedies for every evil; that all are in duty bound to advocate Democratic doctrines, to attend all gatherings of the party at which public opinion is molding and policies are being discussed.

Will Settle Everything. The Young Men's Democratic Club in its meetings will take up all these matters in due time, adopt a courageous policy and have a hand in molding public opinion in respect to them. And further, this club does not propose to lose interest in the everyday administration of the public office of the state, county and city and the conduct of public affairs.

By what better medium can Democrats learn what the evils are which affect the body politic or what remedies should be presented for their correction, or learn how public opinion is molding and what Democratic policies are in regard to the questions of the day than through the regular meetings of a Democratic club?

The Lewis and Clark Exposition has stirred the life and activities of this city and state more than they have ever been stirred before. All questions of interest to the general public will participate in this new life activity. The coming year will be an eventful one in the political field. The coming June election of state and county officers is already being discussed by the people with much interest. The numerous proposed constitutional amendments and other proposals calling into operation the initiative and referendum to be voted upon at that election, will afford excellent opportunities for discussion and splendid opportunities for the molding of public opinion and the adoption of party policies in respect thereto.

Members believe in good government, the enforcement of all laws and in the highest standard of citizenship, and in holding all office-holders to the strictest accountability in the performance of their duties, calling into operation the initiative and referendum in any form and will be ever ready to commend the faithful officer and condemn and criticize the unfaithful public servant.

The proposed extension of the elective franchise to the women of our state by means of the initiative, petitions for which are now being circulated, the agency is one of the important subjects the club will take up for consideration in the near future.

The programme tonight will include a piano solo by Earl Coe, a vocal duet by Wayne and Earl Coe, a vocal solo by Wade Cumming, and a violin solo by Wayne W. Coe.
