

TOOZE IS HOPEFUL

Confident of Nomination for Congress.

DECLARES HE WILL WIN

He and S. B. Huston, His Rival in the First District, Pay a Visit to Portland and Discuss Possibilities.

Two leading candidates for Congress from the First Oregon District have crossed the border into Portland in the last two days—S. B. Huston, of Hillsboro, who trod the asphalt pavements Wednesday, and Walter L. Toozé, of Woodburn, who came to town yesterday.

Each candidate was confident that the Republican nomination would come his way in the primaries next April, and that his election to the office would follow as a natural sequence. Neither could see that the other was in a position to win the nomination. The third active candidate in the district, C. B. Moore, of Salem, was not in evidence, and his boomers are expecting him to appear next.

Says Everything Looks Fine.

"Everything looks fine, very fine," said Mr. Toozé, cheerfully. When asked point-blank whether he was going to be nominated and elected, his response was most confident.

"I have been an active Republican worker in the district for 15 or 20 years," said he, "from one election to the other, and if any man has a better acquaintance with the political conditions in it, I should like to see the color of his hair. It is not my habit to be optimistic about my own affairs; in fact, I am generally too pessimistic. In this case, however, I think my confidence is well grounded. I am going to be nominated and I am going to win the nomination. Then those candidates who lose the nomination should rally to the aid of the winners. If I shall be whipped in the primary election, I shall be the attitude of my support, the man who whipped me."

"How about Huston's claims in the Counties of Washington, Yamhill, Polk, Clackamas and Lane?" was asked.

"I believe Mr. Huston overestimates his strength in those counties," was the reply. "If he has hopes of carrying Clackamas against me, for example, his hopes are mistaken. Then there is Washington, his home county, where many of my best friends live. I taught school five years in Washington County, and I think I am indulging in pardonable self-flattery when I say I was well liked there. I shall carry the campaign right into Mr. Huston's country, and shall defeat him in other counties."

Thinks Party Will Be United.

The question whether the nominee, whoever he should be, would receive the united support of the party, Mr. Toozé said would depend largely on the manner in which the primary campaign should be conducted. He believed, however, that there would be no internal strife such as would convulse the party and defeat the Republican nominee.

"The way to avoid such troubles," said he, "is to avoid bitter personalities in the primary campaign; in fact, to avoid all personalities if possible, and to make the campaign on principles. Then those candidates who lose the nomination should rally to the aid of the winners. If I shall be whipped in the primary election, I shall be the attitude of my support, the man who whipped me."

IN THE MUNICIPAL COURT

MEMBERS OF WAITERS' CLUB ARE UP FOR GAMBLING.

Minor Offenders Come Before Judge Cameron, Who Takes Action Upon Several Cases.

The gambling cases against W. S. Brown, manager of the Waiters' Club, which was raided by the police early Tuesday morning, and seven others arrested at the time, came up before Judge Cameron yesterday.

Attorney Freeman, for the defendants in the case, inquired of the court as to why the Waiters' Club was selected for a raid, while the Arlington and Commercial Clubs were not molested in the least. Deputy City Attorney Fitzgerald replied that the clubs cited would be taken care of in case the charges of the Waiters' Club were substantiated. Judge Cameron listened to both sides of the case, and after considering the evidence introduced, took the matter under advisement.

Frank E. Stevens, who was arrested on complaint of James A. Banford, charged with "making me, check" was taken before Judge Cameron yesterday, and the case was continued for a hearing at this morning's session.

C. H. Wilson, a colored man, was fined $50 yesterday by Municipal Judge Cameron for carrying a concealed weapon. He is said to have engaged in a fight with Joe Cunningham, also colored, and in the melee Wilson's revolver was discharged, and the arrest followed.

S. Kelly, who was arrested on a charge of burglary, and whose case was taken under advisement by Judge Cameron, was discharged, owing to lack of evidence on the part of his accusers.

George Derby and Viola Crawford, charged with a statutory offense, escaped severe punishment by agreeing to marry, and the ceremony was performed by Judge Cameron.

Guests From the Falke.

The officers and crew of the German cruiser Falke were given a banquet and reception at Arion Hall last evening by the local Deutscher Tag Society. Otto Schumann presided and delivered an address of welcome. Governor Chamberlain was then introduced, and after a few introductory remarks proposed a toast to Kaiser Wilhelm, which was drunk standing, with considerable acclaim.

German Consul Lehman then proposed a toast to President Roosevelt, which was drunk enthusiastically. Captain Behnke, of the visiting warship, complimented the City of Portland in glowing terms for its beauty, progress and hospitality. Mr. Rescher delivered a short address on the German navy, which closed the programme. During the evening the German and American national airs were played by the orchestra.

Delegates to Mining Congress.

Oregon will be represented at the coming session of the American Mining Congress which meets at El Paso, Texas, November 14 to 15 inclusive, by representative men interested in the mining industry. Among the number will be J. Frank Watson, president of the Merchants National Bank, who is largely interested in Eastern Oregon mines and is a director of the organization; James H. Flisk, the mining engineer, and E. A. Sessions, Richard Wilson, the mining capitalist, Dr. Hepry

SIGNOR FERRULLO.

Waldo Coe and Dr. C. H. Rafferty, may also be members of the Portland delegation, while Southern and Eastern Oregon mining districts will have representation from the ranks of operators.

J. Frank Watson will leave Portland about November 3 to attend a meeting of the directors to be held in Denver two days preceding the opening of the session. Importance attaches to this meeting as preceding the establishment of a permanent home for the organization at Denver. Idaho will send a strong delegation to accompany Judge J. H. Richards, president, who is serving the second term as executive of the association representative of the mining interests.

CHAPTER OF ACCIDENTS

Boy Loses Foot and Legger Has Toes Amputated.

An attempted suicide, a street-car accident in which a boy received a crushed foot which had to be amputated, and a man with his toes cut off at a logging-camp kept St. Vincent's Hospital and the police busy yesterday.

H. Anderson, a bartender for the El Rey saloon, failed in two attempts to take his life by gas asphyxiation. Despondent over family troubles and too much drink he turned on the gas in his room at 202 1/2 Second street with the intention of ending his troubles. He was saved by the proprietor who smelled the fumes. A second time he turned on the gas covering his head with a blanket which he placed over the valve. He was saved again by the proprietor and taken to St. Vincent's Hospital in the patrol wagon. Edward Walker, a 12-year-old boy, while riding on an electric freight-car at Twentieth and East Ankeny streets, was knocked under the wheels and his leg from the ankle to the knee ground to pieces. He was taken to St. Vincent's Hospital where the limb was amputated. Earl Keyne, a lumberjack from Knappa, cut his toes off while wielding an ax and was sent to Portland and taken to St. Vincent's Hospital at 2 o'clock yesterday morning where part of his foot was amputated.

Funeral of Joseph Teal.

The funeral of the late Colonel Joseph Teal was held yesterday morning at 10 o'clock from the family residence at 629 Everett street. The services at the house and the grave were private, only a few of the bosom friends of the deceased, who were invited, being in attendance. Many beautiful floral offerings were sent, which bore evidence to the sympathy of many friends. The pall-bearers were Governor Chamberlain, Mayor Lane, P. T. Dodge, Wm. Minor, Dr. G. M. Wells, W. F. Hurrell, W. S. Page and C. F. Adams. The interment took place at Riverview Cemetery.

Nominating Committee Named.

The City Federation of Women's Clubs at its meeting yesterday afternoon with Mrs. Samuel, 23 Twelfth street, chose a nominating committee to name candidates for office at the next annual election. This committee consists of the presidents and vice-presidents of the six affiliated clubs. Mrs. Ercyman, as president of the oldest club, was chosen chairman. The next meeting, at which the annual election is to take place, is set for October 21.

Agrees to Return Children.

James Campbell was intercepted at the wharf at the foot of Washington street last night by Policeman Robson as Campbell was leaving for Astoria with his 5-year-old son Percy and his 3-year-old daughter Jeanette. Mrs. Minnie Campbell, who obtained a divorce from her husband last February, alleged at police headquarters last night through her attorney, W. M. La Force, that her husband had kidnaped the boy and girl from the home Mrs. Minnie at Fisher's Landing, Wash., September 13. The children had been put in charge of Mrs. Dunville while the mother had gone out to work.

Campbell said that he had taken the children with the permission of the prosecuting attorney at Vancouver, Wash., in order that he might buy clothes for them in Portland. The case was settled by Campbell agreeing to return the children and promising that he would not go near them again.

MADAME NORELLI TO SING

Great Soprano Will Be Heard at the White Temple.

Tomorrow night at the White Temple, Twelfth and Taylor streets, Madame Norelli, the Portland prima donna lyric-coloratura soprano, will make her first appearance in concert in her home town after five years' absence in Europe, where her artistic career has been a succession of triumphs, and the occasion will be one of the most notable in the history of the Pacific Coast.

It is not every day that this part of the country sends out to the world so celebrated a concert and operatic soprano as Madame Norelli. When she left Portland five years ago, where she is known as the wife of Dr. Edmund Barton, she bore with her the reputation of possessing one of the most beautiful and natural soprano voices ever heard in the West, and her first season in Europe she further perfected herself in vocal art in the instruction of several celebrated vocal teachers whose fame is world wide. Appearing in different European musical centers, Madame Norelli more than fulfilled her Portland friends' enthusiastic predictions, and it is safe to say that she made positive and lasting successes, especially at Covent Garden, London, before critical English audiences. She has substituted, with every mark of credit, for Meibla and other equally renowned singers.

Her concert tomorrow night will mark the return to this city for a short time of Madame Norelli, who has been attended and the audience ought to be thoroughly representative one, as it is doubtful if this distinguished songbird will sing in any other Pacific Coast city, this visit. It is understood that among the audience will be found many representatives of Norwegian and Swedish societies. The accompanists will be Mrs. Warren E. Thomas and Madame Norelli will be assisted by Mrs. Sherman D. Brown, violinist; Miss Grace Kemp, organist, and Gustav Oehelke, flute soloist. The programme:

- Oregon solo—"Pilgrims' Chorus" from "Lannhauser" by Wagner
- Recit. and aria—"An For's Lull" from "La Traviata" Madame Norelli.
- Violin solo—(a) "Adagio" by Rius (b) "Eve's Song" by Miss Grace Kemp.
- Prayer—"Vissi d'Anna" from "La Traviata" by Miss Sherman D. Brown.
- "Caro Nome" from "Rigoletto" Verdi
- "La Procession" by Cesar Young (with organ solo, Miss Grace Kemp.)
- Scandinavian songs—(a) "King Hakon's Song" by August Ekenberg "A Rustic Lament" (sung in English) by Mrs. Sherman D. Brown. (b) "Soft-Footed Snow" (sung in Swedish) by Sigurd Lis.
- Violin solo—(a) "Berceuse" by Godard (b) "Madrigal" by Simonetti.
- "Ardon G'Innenti" from "Lucia di Lammermoor" by Donizetti (with flute solo, Gustav Oehelke.) Madame Norelli.

NEASE MUST PAY UP

Arrested on Bench Warrant, He Makes Promise.

FINE WAS OVERLOOKED

Manager of Warwick Club Was Convicted Under Statute Affecting the Public Morals of Poolselling.

M. G. Nease, former manager of the Warwick Club poolrooms on Fourth street, was arrested by Deputy Sheriff Dode Parrott on a bench-warrant issued by Judge Frazer, to compel Nease to pay a fine amounting, with costs, to $235. In October, 1904, the Warwick Club was closed by Sheriff Word, under the statute which makes it a crime to pool-sell, or to make a profit by any act which is contrary to public morals, or disturbs the peace, etc., commonly known as the nuisance statute. This was invoked because there is no law prohibiting pool-selling in this state. Nease was convicted in the lower court and fined $200, and the Supreme Court affirmed the decision. The mandate of the Supreme Court was received by the clerk of the State Circuit Court several weeks ago, and was not entered until September 15, when Henry E. McGinn, who appeared as special prosecutor in this case, assisting the District Attorney, called attention to the fact and had the mandate spread upon the records of the court here. District Attorney McGinn then asked that Nease be brought in and made to pay the fine, probably having overlooked the matter, so on Wednesday afternoon Mr. McGinn was signed for a bench-warrant against Mr. Nease, promising to pay the fine today and was released by Sheriff Word on his own recognizance.

County Clerk Fields yesterday stated that he had installed a system of separate records and journals for use in keeping better track of criminal business, including separate fees books, and he intended to sign up all fines imposed since he assumed the duties of the office to ascertain if the collection of any fines had been neglected.

POLICEMEN ARE DISCHARGED

PATROLMAN WELCH'S CASE ONE OF MISTAKEN IDENTITY.

Case of Patrolman R. L. Eberman Which Appears Serious Taken Under Advisement.

Policeman R. L. Eberman, charged with choking Maud Dunnigan and pulling her away from the telephone when she was endeavoring to call the police, helping Joseph Baker to escape after choking Sophie Weatherbee and tearing her clothes, was tried by the Police Commissioner at the City Hall yesterday afternoon. His case was taken under advisement after testimony had been submitted by Captain Bailey, Sergeant Taylor, Pauline Wilson, Johnson and Price, for the prosecution, and by Eberman himself and Maud Dunnigan, for the defense. The commission will take up the case in a few days.

Policeman Welch, against whom a complaint had been signed in "round robin" form, was tried on a charge of improper conduct toward Mrs. Laura Coykendall at the Union depot. Mr. Coykendall testified that an officer had taken hold of her when she was at the depot to meet friends and that she had been roughly handled. Maud Dunnigan testified that they had been arrested on false accusations. It was shown that a mistake in the identity of the officer had been made, and that he had at all times conducted himself in a proper manner. Over 50 witnesses were present to testify in Welch's behalf. The charges against Welch, preferred in "round robin" form, were signed by Patrolmen Eberman, Johnson and Price, who are said to have a grudge against the officer on the ground that he has interfered with them in soliciting trade at the Union depot. It was considered in the case of the latter that it was a foregone conclusion that he would be acquitted, while it was thought that Eberman would be excused, but the testimony against Eberman was strong and the charges placed against him at police headquarters the morning Bacon assaulted Mrs. Weatherbee were substantiated. Miss Norelli, who on the morning of the assault accused Eberman openly of conduct unbecoming an officer in that he permitted Bacon to assault the woman with whom he was living and of trying to prevent an arrest, yesterday reversed herself, saying that she was so excited at the time that she did not know what she was doing. She is engaged to Eberman. Bacon, who was fined $50 in Municipal Court yesterday on the charge of assault, did not appear as a witness. Mrs. Weatherbee was also absent.

From outside sources it was learned that Mrs. Coykendall was probably right in her accusation that she had been mistreated at the Union depot by a police officer, but she made a mistake in the name of the policeman and the time on which he is on shift at that place.

Eberman's case in police circles is looked at entirely differently from that of Welch. It was considered in the case of the latter that it was a foregone conclusion that he would be acquitted, while it was thought that Eberman would be excused, but the testimony against Eberman was strong and the charges placed against him at police headquarters the morning Bacon assaulted Mrs. Weatherbee were substantiated. Miss Norelli, who on the morning of the assault accused Eberman openly of conduct unbecoming an officer in that he permitted Bacon to assault the woman with whom he was living and of trying to prevent an arrest, yesterday reversed herself, saying that she was so excited at the time that she did not know what she was doing. She is engaged to Eberman. Bacon, who was fined $50 in Municipal Court yesterday on the charge of assault, did not appear as a witness. Mrs. Weatherbee was also absent.

Read what last night's Portland Telegram says about the Behnke-Walker Business College "Best in the West"

The above was clipped bodily from a two column announcement by the Portland Evening Telegram of a $5000 prize contest it has just instituted to obtain new subscribers. This sweeping tribute was absolutely unsolicited. As ALL the business colleges of Portland use the advertising columns of the Telegram—the Behnke-Walker college being by no means the largest advertiser—the sweeping nature of this indorsement came as a great surprise. It was in no sense a paid advertisement, but was the verdict of that great evening daily—it is a fair and impartial judgment after having investigated the best business colleges in the West. Come to Portland and take advantage of this "best opportunity to secure a business education of any college of its kind in the West."

Railroad Expects Heavy Travel. According to advices received at the office of A. L. Craig, general passenger agent of the Harriman lines, there will be a very large attendance from all Oregon for Portland day, September 26, as a result of the low rates announced. Special provision is being made to provide accommodations for the large movement, and will take place. The railroads are doing everything possible to help swell the attendance, and the very low rates named with liberal return limit will prove an effective inducement.

Funeral Directors' Convention.

The third day's session of the Oregon Funeral Directors' Association adjourned at noon to permit of the members attending the Lewis and Clark Fair in a body. At the session plans for the betterment of the organization were discussed. It is the intention of the association to put itself on a par with any other legitimate business organization, and in order to accomplish this it is deemed desirable that the members work together in harmony and establish a uniform programme in business dealings. The organization is practically in its infancy in this state, and the members have shown a willing spirit in the effort to promote some demonstrations for the benefit of the members each day of the session. The annual election of officers and the selection of a meeting place for next year will occupy the attention of the convention today.
