SEATTLE, Wash., Sept. 25 .- (Special.)-A merchant closed his store, minister forsook his puiplt, four Chitrays and women joined the general stampede that took place at Sitka when confirmation came that the stories of rich gold diggings on Chichagoff Island bore out the old Indian legends. The old Russian capital of Alaska is in a frenzy of excitement over the reports from Chichagoff Island, 40 miles away. For years there has been a story of Indian origin in circulation to the effect that secret deposits of gold were fabulously rich. But the people of Sitka have never been able to verify the story.

Ralph Young and John Kahook, two Indians educated in the schools of Alaska, escorted George F. Beck to the rich quartz ledge, and assays of rock he brought back are declared to indicate the quartz will run thousands of dollars to the ton.

The day the news got out four par-ties started for Chichagoff Island. The ties started for Chichagon Island. Inc first, leaving at 4 A. Two days later Bernard Hirst, a mer-chant, pulled the shutters up over the windows of his store and locked up. He had caught the gold fever so that he left everything in Sitka to join the stampede.

Four Chinese waiters in one of the Sitka restaurants, Old John, Sam Sing. Tupla and Sing Lee, heard white men talking of the find and hastily pre-pared an outfit and joined the rush. Judge de Groff is said to be interested in placer claims already staked out on the beach and streams of the island.

A CURIOUS TROUBLE TO WHICH ALL WHO SEW ARE LIABLE.

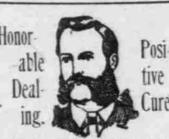

Mrs. Blacksten Tells How She was Crippled and How Dr. Williams' Pink Pills Cured Her.

The steady use of a particular set of muscles tends to chronic fatigue, which produces faulty or difficult motion, trembling, cramps and even paralysis. Writers, telegraphers, tailors and seamstresses are among the classes most threatened in this way with the loss of their power to earn a living. The only safeguard is to keep up the supply of of nerve force through the blood, which carries to the nerves the food that support their strength. The following instance shows that nerve power may be recovered after it seems entirely lost, if the right means are taken. Mrs. O. S. Blacksten, of No. 584 North Bowman street, Mausfield, Ohio, says:

"For years my hands would become so numb at times that I would drop anything I attempted to lift. Later they became so bad that I could not sew any longer, and at last I could scarcely do anything at all with my hands. At night the pricking sensations would come on worse than ever, and my hands and arms would pain so that I dreaded to go to bed. My family doctor gave me some nerve tablets. They helped me a little, but only for a short time after I had taken them and if I happened to be without them for a day or two I would be as bad as ever or even worse. Finally I got a box of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and began to take them. "The result was surprising. By the time I had taken the last pill in my first box I could see a gain. Few know how much it meant for me not to be able to sew, and when I first found I could not feel the needle between my fingers I was alarmed. Thanks to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, I am now all right. I can sleep undisturbed by pain, and for two years I have been as well as I ever was in my
