SEATTLE, Wash., Sept. 28.—(Special.)—It was a tight fit today with Charley Hall and Long Garvin pitching great ball in the pinches, but Jack Walters broke the game up in the ninth with two men out by rapping out a safe hit that scored Hall with the winning run. Charley Hall started out like a whirlwind by striking out the side in the opening inning, but it was his support that saved later when the big fellows began to hit. Walters was the star in the field and at the bat, for twice he robbed McCredie of long hits just when they would have counted for most.

The grounds were heavy from the recent rains, but despite this handicap the play was fast on both sides. Mike Mitchell went into the air about four feet and appeared a line shot out by Blankenship, completing a double play unassisted, and that play yanked Garvin out of a yawning pit he had dug for himself.

Sweeney played great ball on the defensive.

Jack Walters batted in a run in the third and another in the fifth, and then Portland tied the score in the sixth, when Van Buren got a base on balls and bunt. Schaffly moved both men up and they scored when big McLean batted a double to center.

The locals got the bases full in the seventh, but Julie Streib stood like a sheep chewing his cud and let the umpire strike him out. Charley Hall opened the ninth with a line shot to center that got by McHale and went for two bases. Bennett's out put him on third, but when Kane went out from Garvin to first, it looked like extra innings.

Jack Walters came to the rescue, however, with a safe rap over second and the game was over.

Bill Perrine is sick in "Prisco, so George Howlett's umpired the game. He did better work than Bill ever showed here. The score:

Graham Will Enter Big League.

TACOMA, Wash., Sept. 28.—(Special.)—Charlie Graham is said to be the second man chosen from the Tacoma Tigers to enter big-league company next year. For several weeks, it is said, negotiations have been under way between Tacoma's captain and catcher and Manager Taylor, of the Boston Americans. Graham had intended to give up baseball after this season, but after considerable persuasion he agreed to take Taylor's offer into consideration. Several days ago a wire was sent East naming the price at which Graham would wear a Boston uniform. Taylor has telegraphed his acceptance of Charlie's terms.

Graham now gets one of the largest salaries paid in the Coast League, and he will receive a substantial increase by going East. The exact sum has not been given out, but it is understood that he will get the highest salary ever paid a minor-league player upon his first appearance in major-league territory.

LADYSMITH WINS GAME

OUTPLAYS AND OUTWEIGHS THE PORTLAND TEAM.

Association Football Played on Multnomah Field With the Canadians the Victors.

Six to one in favor of Ladysmith, B. C. The Portlands were outplayed and outweighted, man for man, although they played a plucky game. That's how the first round of the Association football tournament finished yesterday afternoon on Multnomah field.

The attendance? At the busiest part of the game, a careful computation of the occupants of the grandstand revealed 13 young men and one "yaller" dog. Whether this combination formed a hoodoo against the Portlands is not known. The Ladysmith team has an excellent chance of winning the gold medal provided by the Lewis and Clark Exposition management, unless Portland puts forward the best team that the city possesses. What was the matter with yesterday's team? It was willing and hard-working, but not too light, and had defective combination. Is the match committee of the Portlands to select the gold medal players, or has it approached the best players in Portland and have these players refused to come forward? Something has got to be done right now to prevent the Ladysmiths having too much of a "catch" in capturing that gold medal. The other Canadian team from Victoria had no difficulty capturing the cricket medal from Portland, and the Canadians from Ladysmith ought to have the right of their lives in carrying off the football medal.

In the Portland team, Dwyer's cannot be improved upon for goal, but the back division is too light—it cannot succeed in playing Association football against well-set, strong opponents. In the next game the lightest of the Portlands ought to be replaced by C. A. Stewart, Jennings, Porter, Alec Young, John Latta, Jago and P. B. Gliford. If these men are in town, the match committee ought to ask them to play, and there ought to be no false pride about it. There are also other footballers in town, in case these players are otherwise engaged. A saltery eleven, with shore help, are more than willing to tackle the Ladysmith team, and particularly can be had of Rev. A. E. Bernays, chaplain of the Seamen's Institute.

The Ladysmiths did not play their complete team, and in the next game will present their two regular fullbacks, O'Connell and Fraborn did well, however. Adams, Graham and Sanderson were the visitors' stars. Sanderson, who weighs 175 pounds, is one of the best-proportioned athletes on the field. "Whiskers" McKillen is a skilful, heady player. The Ladysmith team is a strong one, but an amateur Portland team, believing that the best way to deal with a man "drinking" the ball is either to "take the man or take the ball," ought to take care of them. In other words, do not play lawn tennis by Association football, with the checking feature as it is known in Canada.

The Portlands? The boys played well and did all they could possibly do. No blame can be attached to any individual player. The ground, owing to the rain, was in wretched condition, and the game was played in the regular manner, of course, operated against the Ladysmiths as well as the Portlands. The latter cannot play today, as many of them are impossible to get away from their business duties, and the next and concluding game will be played tomorrow afternoon, with an extra half hour, should a drizzle game be played in the regular match the time. A meeting of the Portlands will be held tonight to talk over various matters.

SOUNDS PRAISE OF ATHLETES

James E. Sullivan Tells About Westerners in Booklet.

James E. Sullivan, secretary and treasurer of the Athletic Union of the United States, has just issued a booklet called "Athletes in the West and for the West." Mr. Sullivan covers at considerable length the National championship meetings held in connection with the Exposition. Mr. Sullivan was present when the events were being held and is very liberal in his praise of the high character of the athletes who contested and of the treatment he received while in Portland and on the Coast.

Mr. Sullivan calls attention in his book to the fact that Portland is practically the head of the recently formed Pacific Coast Association of the A. A. U., and says that athletes in this district owe their position to the good work of the Multnomah Club, its officers and H. W. Kerrigan. The author showers praise upon Bert Kerrigan for the splendid manner in which he conducted the sports at the Exposition. He has also a few bouquets to the Exposition officials. After discussing the most important athletic events, and especially calling attention to the high-class starting, which was done by Jack King, Sullivan says of Bert Kerrigan:

 "The running high jump produced a real wonder, H. W. Kerrigan, whose jump was six feet one and one-half inches. Kerrigan had great nerve and felt confident from the start that he would win, and gave a fine exhibition of jumping. He is the nearest approach to Byrd Page and Mike Sweeney we have seen in many a day. Kerrigan holds many records and is acknowledged champion of the Pacific Northwest, and that he should now win an American championship is an honor that he well deserves, for no man has worked so hard for the interest of athletics in that district as Mr. Kerrigan. His victory without doubt was the most popular victory of the day."

DERBY DAY AT WALLA WALLA

Suburban Queen Carries Off the Honors on the Track.

WALLA WALLA, Wash., Sept. 28.—(Special.)—Today was Derby day at the Walla Walla County Fair and race meet, and several thousand people turned out to enjoy the occasion. ## Cheahills to Be Dammed.

CENTRALIA, Wash., Sept. 28.—(Special.)—The prospects of the Centralia Cheahills electric railway become brighter every day. W. W. Cannon, who will be manager of the railway, says the halls River, about two miles west of Pe-221, where the river comes through a deep gorge. This place will be dammed up and a fall of 70 feet given to the water that comes through the turbines. An unlimited amount of power can be generated, it only being a question of the number of turbines used.

German Cold-Storage Plant.

ALTOONA, Wash., Sept. 28.—(Special.)—F. Kievenhausen & Co., of Berlin, Germany, commenced erection of a large cold-storage plant at Altoona, Wash., this week. The building will be 74x100 feet, two stories, and combine all the new improvement now in use in cold-storage. A large scow, with freeing plant, will be utilized to transfer the sharp frozen fish to refrigerator cars at a point on the railroad. The plant will cost approximately $20,000 and its completion, together with the two canneries already here, will make Altoona one of the busiest little fishing points on the Columbia River.

Denied Right of Taxation.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 28.—Judge Seawell handed down an opinion today, in which he denied the right of the City and County of San Francisco to tax shares of stock in a corporation when part only of the corporate property has been assessed in this state. The plaintiffs sued the executors of the estate of Charles Hansen, among the assets of which are 999 shares of stock of the Tacoma Mill Company. They sued to recover the amount of taxes paid under protest, only a part of the property being assessable in this state, but the contention has been sustained.
