to McMillen's complaint, his wife began to get his property from him almost from the time they were married.

It is alleged that Mrs. McMillen's daughter and her son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. E. B. McClure, lived with them and assisted in influencing Captain McMillen to part with his property by threatening to have him adjudged incompetent. Part by part, Captain Me-Millen alleges, he sold his property and gave the money to his wife.

pay his fare to Ohio, where his married daughter, Mrs. Stacy, lived. He says she promised to join him in the East, but subsequently wrote him that she could not come. With his daughter, to whom he told his story, Mc-Millen immdistely started for California, when he received the letter from his wife announcing that she would not join lilm.

McMillen has retained Attorney H. E. Espey to represent him in his suit against his wife to recover as headed by W. W. Canon.

At Chehalis, the situation seems to much property as he can. He asks for an injunction to prevent her from disposing of any property pending the sult. It is alleged that she has money in Wells, Fargo & Co.'s Bank and that a stated time. This is the expressed senshe invested $5000 in real property on Alice street, Oakland. She lives at 1381 Franklin street, Oakland.

MARRIED TO PLEASE SPIRITS

Mrs. Smith Had a Keen Rival for McMillen's Affections.

Captain James H. McMillen is very well known in Portland. He came to Oregon in 1855, and was one of the first to volunteer to go east of the mountains in the Cayuse War. McMillen's Addition took its name from him, and Camp McMillen, No. 1, Indian War Veterans, was named after the pioneer Captain.

Captain McMillen was married to Mrs.

Addie R. Smith, a spiritualist ciairvoyant, who was his second wife, in Kalama, Wash, September 16 of last year. Mrs. Smith was also a resident of this city. but the marriage ceremony was not held in Portland because friends and relatives of the Captain, who was in his $2d year at that time, put every obstacle in the way of the match, and practically made it impossible for the couple to get a license in Multnomah County.

For some time Captain McMillen had been a firm believer in spiritualism, and it was alleged that Mrs. Smith had taken advantage of this fact to bring about the union, alleging that such a match was y essential to make the spirits At this time Captain Mo-Millen was worth about $30,000, and friends of his believed that Mrs. Smith took this into consideration even more than the happiness of the spirits. One of his daughters asked County Clerk Fields to refuse them a license, should they ask for one, which he did when they came to him the day before the ceremony Captain McMilien was quite as determined as his would-be briffe, however, and the next morning the couple left for Kalama, where they were free from the interference of relatives and friends. After the marriage the couple went for a honeymoon trip to the Puget Sound sented any interference on the part of his friends. After returning from Seattle he said that it did not seem to him that it was an affair for other was an affair for other people to interest themselves in, and added that both he and his bride were perfectly satisfied. It may be added that the satisfaction of the bride was generally admitted.

It was said that Mrs. Smith was not the only one who had designs upon the Captain's fortune. Mrs. Ladd Finnican. another Portland spiritualist, is reported to have led Mrs. Smith a merry race for Captain McMillen's affection, and, inci-dentally, his money. It was said that Mrs. Finnican had received so much attention from the aced Captain prior to the time that Mrs. Smith entered the field that she threatened to sue him for damages should be marry the latter. After the ceremony had occurred, however, she had nothing to say other than to wish them happiness.

Captain McMillen's first wife died two years prior to his second marriage. For over 40 years they lived in their home on Crosby street, and their life seemed very happy. Their home was always open for entertainment, and they had a host of friends in the city.

TWO COMPANIES WOULD GIVE CENTRALIA ELECTRIC ROAD.

Chicago Capitalists Talk of an Extension Later to Portland and Tacoma.

CENTRALIA, Wash, Oct. L-(Special) Two applications for franchises to build electric lines in Centralia were asked for at the meeting of the City Council this week. Both concerns stated that their wish was to build the electric roads through Centralia and Chehalis. The cohcern headed by W. W. Canon, Frank Scott, of Centralia; Dr. A. S. Nichols, of Portland, and Robert Pettit, of Mc-Cormick, stated it intended to build a purely local line, and that it would have no connection with an outside line. It in-tends to secure the power from a dam at Pe Ell and carry the electricity, under high tension, to the substation, half-way between Centralia and Chehalls, and here turn it into the motors. It is capitalized at $55,000, and has already secured rightof-way for the road between the two

The other company, headed by J. W. Rich, of Chicago, and V. S. Rowley, of Seattle, stated that it was to have been their purpose to start the road at Ta-coma and build south to Centralia and Chehalis, and from there into Portland. This scheme was knocked in the head by the action of the rival corporation, and to avoid this the company asked for the franchise and stated it would build the Centralia-Chehalis line first, and from here build into Tacoma, and later build into Portland.

Once he went to Byron Springs and another time to Santa Cruz. About a month ago, McMillen says, that he has just returned from a trip to Chicago and the East, and that he has ample assurance that he can secure all the working capital needed. They say that they will build power stations about every 40 miles and furnish the power by coal-generated steam.

Each company claims that the other has taken the field for the purpose of holding the other up on the franchise. City Attorney Ben Nudd, of Centralia, is working for the Rich-Rowley Company, although it is probable that he would not turn down the other company if the Centralia Council shows a disposition to favor the Rich people, but a franchise will not be granted in either town or to ents of all the Councilmen, in both

Of Interest to Travelers.

After the marriage the couple went for a honeymoon trip to the Puget Sound country, where they remained some time before returning to Portland. It was said that the bride was not received with open arms by the Captain's relatives in this city, and shortly after Thanksgiving of last year they went to San Francisco, where they have since resided. Since leaving for California, Captain McMillen has not visited Portland. For years it had been the custom of the family to hold a reunion in Portland each Summer, but even this did not induce him to come hers this year.

MRS. EVANS IS PRESIDENT

Election of Officers Closes, a Very Successful Convention at Eugene-Next Meeting Place Is Not Chosen.

EUGENE, Or., Oct. 5 .- (Special .- The hird day's session of the Oregon Federation of Women's Clubs commenced its work this morning with unfinished business. Reports were read from the Tuesday Afternoon Club, the New England Conservatory Musical Club, and the Woman's Club of Salem. An Interesting report from the Forestry Club was read by Mrs. Breyman, who says the club studied forestry all Summer in the Forestry building at the Fair grounds, which was the means of much valuable information, Measures will be taken by this club at the next session of the Legislature for further protection of timber in Oregon and a bill will be introduced to the effect that a property-owner cutting down a tree shall plant another one in its place.

The report of the committee on resoutions was then read and adopted as Resolved. That our hearty thanks be ex-

Whereas, There is no provision for the training and uplifting of the wayward and incorrigible girls of the state.

Resolved, That we, the members of the Oregon Federation of Women's Clubs, do work for the establishment and maintenance by our state of a girls' industrial school.

Election of officers for the coming year was then in order and Mrs. Sarah A. Evans, of Portland, was elected president by an unanimous vote. Other officers elected are:

First vice-president, Mrs. Sam White, Baker City: second vice-president, Mrs. Anna M. Dunn, Eugene; recording secretary, Mrs. M. T. Spaulding, The Dallies: corresponding secretary, Mrs. J. D. Hays, Portland; treasurer, Mrs. Emma Trullinger, Astoria; auditor, Mrs. Seugstaken, Marshfield; directors, Mrs. Francis Foulk, Troutdale; Mrs. T. Hendricks, Salem.

The appointment of National dele-gates was left to the board of directors. Salem, Marshfield, Portland and La Grande were proposed as the next annual meeting place, but it was finally desided to leave this matter also for the board of directors. The convention

FORGER AT PALOUSE PURSUED BY BANK PRESIDENT.

Official Tries to Give Away Money, but the Stranger Mistakes His Motives.

COLFAX, Wash., Oct. 5 .- (Special.)few days ago, and the bank was saved $400 by the man becoming frightened and leaving the bank with the smaller amount when President Boone went to the vault to get $400 more.

W. H. Nesbitt had sold four horses to Wren & Greenough, the contractors who are building the Washington. Idaho & Montana Railroad, and had given Nesbitt a check for $490, drawn on a Spokane bank. Nesbitt lost the check and it was found by a man who appeared to be a laborer. He presented it at the Palouse State Bank and asked H. M. Boone, the president, what he uld charge for cashing it. Mr. Boone told him the charge would be 50 cents. The man indorsed Nesbitt's name on the back of the check and Mr. Boone counted out $89.50, and went to the vault for the remaining $400.

The man evidently feared Mr. Boone out the door. Mr. Boone thought the man had forgotten the remainder of his money and followed him to the street with the $400, and called him to come back and get it. But the man kept on and Mr. Boone, thinking he would return when he noticed the mistake, placed the money by itself, ready for him when he should return.

He has not returned yet and Boone lost, payment on it stopped and Nesbitt's name forged to the back. The matter was kept quiet for several days, but leaked out today. The man who got the money has not been arrested.

Mrs. Ford Tells What Dr. Williams' Pink Pills Will Surely Do for Many Perplexed Women.

"I wish I could help other women get rid of certain physical troubles as completely as I have succeeded in getting rid of mine," said Mrs. B. B. Ford, of Pushmataha, Miss., recently. "You know," she continued, "that a woman's health depends chiefly on the regularity of just one function. If she fails to keep that properly regulated she has no end of physical misery. I suffered from that one cause for two wretched years, during one of which I was kept in bed all the time. I tried medicines enough to care any illness, but nothing gave me the slightest benefit until I began using Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. They cured me. Why, I was suffering all the time practically from sickness of the stomach, dizziness or swimming in my head and pain in my back. Now I am entirely free from discomfort of that sort. I am not only able to keep on my feet, but to do my work as a teacher, and to enjoy the pleasures that come through the possession of sound health. Within three weeks after beginning the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills I experienced such relief that I knew they must be adapted to the needs of my case. After using them for a short while longer I became and have since remained a well woman, and the reason why is simply that I took Dr. Williams' Pink Pills." The pills which Mrs. Ford praises so enthusiastically cure the chief ailments of women by thoroughly renovating the blood. They make uterine action regular and painless, banish headaches, languor, nervousness, create appetite, promote digestion, put color in the complexion, build up strength and, in a word, enable women to reach and maintain full physical perfection.

Every woman should send to the Dr. Williams Medicine Company, Scheneotady, N.Y., for a valuable booklet, entitled "Plain Talks to Women." It will be mailed free in sealed envelope to the address of any applicant. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all druggists. A stranger victimized the Palouse They are safe as well as effective.
