

LA FOLLETTE WILL NOT BE LEADER

Railroad Rate Legislation Fight to Be Managed by Experienced Senator.

TYRO MUST GO SLOWLY

Fellow-Members in the Upper House of the National Congress Will Not Tolerate Any Invasion of the Traditions.

OREGONIAN NEWS BUREAU, Washington, Oct. 15.—Through the medium of the LaFollette press bureau, the country has been informed that the junior Senator from Wisconsin is to lead the Administration fight for railroad rate legislation in the Senate next winter. All of which is pure rum.

LaFollette is not going to be the Administration's leader in any move; he is not the man for leader, at this time, anyway, and President Roosevelt is not going to risk any cause in the hands of a man who would invite its defeat.

It may be true, and probably is, that LaFollette advocates the same kind of railroad rate legislation that President Roosevelt is understood to favor. In fact, LaFollette was instrumental in having a similar law written on the statute books of Wisconsin. But it is one thing to be in sympathy with the President, and quite another to lead a fight championed by the President.

LaFollette has made good in Wisconsin; he has shown his power in the state, and, bolstered up by his success, he now aspires to the Presidency. Incidentally, so his press bureau announces, he aspires to leadership in the Senate. But he cannot hope to become a leader in the immediate future; indeed, men of LaFollette's type seldom attain leadership in the stable United States Senate. He is too radical to cope with the old and tried leaders who manage the business of the Senate.

Must Abide His Time.

Aside from this, LaFollette is not immune from that unwritten rule of the Senate which forbids new Senators from taking a prominent part in the work of that body. The Wisconsin Senator will not receive written notice that he must hide himself away for a few years; he will not be directly advised by fellow-Senators to keep in the background, but if he attempts to jump into the limelight, and force himself before the Senate, he will be given an unmistakable intimation that his course is not approved, and if he disregards the warning, he will be rebuffed. The Senate can blight the hopes of its most promising young members; it can make the Senatorial career of LaFollette a complete failure, if it so desires. This is seldom done, for most men take the hint, but it will be done in LaFollette's case if he undertakes to direct the affairs of the Senate next winter.

It is in a way unfortunate for LaFollette that his colleague, Senator Spooner, is his personal and political enemy. Spooner is one of the shrewd, adroit manipulators who has won his way into the front rank in the Senate, and is a recognized power. He is in such relations with the other leaders that he can do much to humiliate LaFollette, and his hand will be felt. If the new Wisconsin Senator undertakes to carry out plans which his press bureau announces.

Rate Bill in Older Hands.

Looking at it from the other side, President Roosevelt, while he may approve or much that LaFollette has done, and may admire the man, is not going to entrust the management of his railroad rate bill in the hands of a new Senator. The rate fight is going to call for the best judgment possible, and the Administration Senators will have to cope with the brainiest, shrewdest and most experienced men in the Senate.

A new Senator could never win a fight against such odds. That is one of the principal reasons why an experienced Senator will lead the Administration cause when the railroad rate bill goes into the Senate for consideration.

TARIFF NOT TO BE TOUCHED

Senator Aldrich is Also Opposed to Railroad Rate Legislation.

OREGONIAN NEWS BUREAU, Washington, Oct. 15.—Senator Aldrich, of Rhode Island, the general manager of the United States Senate, is not telling what the programme is to be for the coming session, but he has allowed an intimation to leak out that there will be no tariff legislation, and no revenue legislation, beyond some provision for Panama Canal bonds.

What Mr. Aldrich may say and think is not necessarily the plan to be followed, but it is pretty apt to be, and when the Rhode Island Senator, who is chairman of the finance committee, says there is to be no tariff legislation, the probabilities are strongly in favor of such legislation being pigeonholed if it ever comes from the House.

But Senator Aldrich is believed to be equally as interested in supporting railroad rate legislation which would be offensive to his good friends, the railroads, and there again he is going to have something to say later, though he will not talk at the present time.

Senator Aldrich is a member of the committee on Interstate commerce, but he did not attend the hearings given by that committee last Spring, after Congress had adjourned. His mind is made up on that question. He knows how he will vote; he knows the kind of bill he favors; he understands what his friends want, and when the time comes for action, though he will say little, he will get in a powerful lot of effective work.

There is no discounting Senator Aldrich's ability; he is one of the mightiest factors in Congress, and it so happens that he is chairman of the committee which handles tariff legislation and a member of the committee that must pass upon the railroad rate bill after it passes the House. That is another reason why Aldrich is in a position to speak with authority as to legislative prospects at the coming session.

Any one can take Carter's Little Liver Pills, they are so very small. No trouble to swallow. No pain or griping after taking.

Bargains in Jewelry Novelties and Leather Goods

First Floor—Sixth Street Annex. The largest, finest collection we have ever displayed—well worth seeing! Cases filled with the rich gleam of gold, the sheen of silver, the glowing color of gems, fashioned by artist-fingers into lovely necklaces, dainty brooches, jeweled combs—the many beautiful trinkets that women love to wear. We are ready to show you the new, lovely fashions in imported jewelry. Most of it comes from Paris—the exquisite "Paris Jewelry" that has captured the world of fashion, and which women of wealth wear frankly now in place of the more precious gems. It isn't often you can find so large and choice an assortment of cuff links, scarf pins and studs as we carry, and the nice part of it is they are priced so low that you wonder how we can sell them at such figures and give you strong and well made goods. Well, we do it, and sell quantities of these nice goods. If you need a new pair of links it is no trouble to show you the line, and we guarantee we'll have your money and you'll have the goods before you leave the store. Quite confident in our reasoning, you see. Special today.

Br-r-r! Blankets and Comforters

Fourth Floor. The delightfully cool October nights have already reminded you of the seasonableness of the blanket proposition. No such Blankets in the world as Oregon makes—they're world-famous—and this store gets the pick of the best made in the commonwealth. With the upward flight of prices on wool, Blankets have, of course, advanced—with all other stores except this. We bought the Blankets we offer you today nearly a year ago. Hindsight tells us that our foresight stood us well in hand, for our prices today are much under those of other stores on equal qualities. Make us prove it by a look around—do it today. While you're in, look at Portieres and Couch Covers. A hint of the price range.
