Odium Brought on the Organization Inducing Old Soldiers Wrongfully to Take Up Timber Land Claims.

With the concurrence of the Council of Administration of the department of Oregon, G. A. R., which met in the office city, but he says that the men whom he terday began divorce proceedings against Mrs. Earl in the State Circuit Court. He sets forth that he furnished her with a fine home at East Seventeenth and East Ankeny streets and that they were happy until Jones appeared upon the scene early in the month of July last. Jones was very affectionate toward his alleged sister. Earl says, hugging and kissing her a great deal and holding her upon his lap and they also went out frequently together remaining away until a late hour at night. On July 18 Jones and Mrs. Earl left her home together and remained away for four days, and on July 10 again went away toand on July 20 again went away together and have not since returned.

The Earlis were married in Portland
May 27, 1905, and it was only about a month later that Jones came here from Ohlo. Earl asserts that he does not believe Jones is his wife's brother. Mrs. Earl recently sued her husband to obtain a large sum for her support, alleging in her complaint that she could not live with him any longer. Earl avers that she is trying to obtain a portion of his property for herself and Jones.

It was also decided to move the office and accounts of the Adjutant and Quartermaster-General to Ashland, the home of Commander Hills. Under the laws of the G. A. Resignation Is Filed.

The voluntary filing of the resignation of Adjutant Wells made the proceedings that followed comparatively easy for Department Commander Hills and the counell, and removed the necessity of asking for it. The Adjutant-General's connection of the recent land cases in the Federal Court, whereby a large number of civil war veterans were brought into unsavory prominence and disrepute, was brought on the G. A. R., made it absolutely necessary that the department should set itself right by condemning the proceedings and none recognized this proceedings, and none recognized this more than Commander Hills. The resig-nation of J. L. Wells reached him nearly a week ago, and he immediately called the Council of Administration to audit the accounts and books of the retiring Adjutant-General, and this has been the principal business before the Council be-side fixing the time for holding the next grand encampment at Grant's Pass for ext June, beginning the 29th and last-

The New Adjutant-General.

F. M. Stewart, the new Adjutant and Quartermaster-General for the department of Oregon, is the modest color bearer of Medford Post, but is regarded in high favor by his comrades. He had an excellent war record. He enlisted in 1882 in Company C. Fifty-fifth Illinois Regiment, and served till 1865, when he was mustered out of the service. He passed through many of the severest en-gagements of the war, and was in the battle of Shiloh. At Altona, made famous in song by the heroic defense by the ew when General Sherman sent word, 'Hold the Fort'-Mr. Stewart was one of those few who received the commendation of General Sherman. With Mr. Stewart as Adjutant-General, his com-rades are sure there will be no more "courthouse reunions of veterans." He has entered upon his duties and taken charge of affairs. The office has been moved to Ashland so the department commander can keep in closer touch with the details of business. Adjutant-General Stewart will make weekly visits-to

Books and Accounts Are Straight.

The Council of Administration made a thorough examination of the books and accounts of the department of Retiring Adjutant Wells, spending the best part of two days in the investigation, finding them in excellent condition and everything accounted for. This examination was necessary before the office could be turned over to his successor. The council adjourned yesterday forenoon.

Commander T. E. Hills, accompanied by Adjutant-General Stewart and B. F. Pike, past department commander, will go to Forest Grove today, where he will visit the G. A. R. post this evening. Beturning he will visit some of the Portland posts before returning to his home

Mayor King and City Attorney Greene said yesterday that they had not exam-ined the proposition close enough to give an opinion as to its merits. On its face it looked good to them. What both favor is municipal ownership of the water plant. They point to the success of Portland in handling its water plant, and believe that St. Johns can own and run its own water plant as well as Portland. If this proposition of Mr. Vaughn will further bring about municipal ownership, they will fa-vor it. However, the resolution passed tonight creating a Board of Public Works out of the water committee, with the addition of two members, is nowhere author ized in the charter of St. Johns. The seat of all authority rests with the Council, as get forth in section 3, in the ter, on page 5, and this Board of Public Works, created by the resolution, under this section, can have no more a than a committee of the Council."

FINE EXCURSION PLANNED

Special Will Be Provided With Every Luxury for Those Who Make the Trip to Northern Idaho Metropolis.

"In all of my experience in excursion I have never before beheld such splendid spirit manifested as have the Portland business men in their preparations and arrangements for the trip to the Lewiston-Clarkston fair," said William Mc.

Murray, assistant general passsenger agent of the Harriman lines, yesterday, when discussing the subject. Yesterday afternoon the railroads received payment for the railroad fares, Pullmans and three meals to be served on the discloruser for the SI citizens who Pullmans and three meals to be served on the dining-car, for the 81 citizens who will make up the party. From the day the invitation was received by Portland commercial bodies from the management of the annual exposition of resources of the Washington-Idaho country tributary to the thriving towns of Lewiston and Clarkston, there has been constantly in-creasing interest manifested and the num-ber whose names appear in the official her whose names appear in the official itinerary is in excess of the original limit fixed for the excursion train, while others would gladly have participated had not the available space of the cars engaged been taken. The train leaves at 8:15

Fine Train Service.

Three of the best Pullman cars obtain able have been reserved for the occupancy of the party. Superintendent Pryer, of the dining-oar service, has given his per-sonal attention to the menu for the serv-ice on the trip, and the choicest that the market affords will be provided for refreshment en route. From Pendleton the trip will be by special train, consisting of a baggage-car for accommodation of such luggage as the excursionists may desire to take along, and stores of buffet supplies, a coach to be utilized as a smoker, the dining-car and three Pull-mans. Arriving at Pendleton at 4:50 A. M. a stop will be made until 9:30. At Athena a stop of 60 minutes will be made. At Milton, whence comes some of the earliest berries of the season grown in the Co-lumbia Basin, a 25-minute stop will be made, departing from that point at five minutes after noon. Luncheon will be served on the dining-car between Milton and Walla Walla, where the train is scheduled to arrive at 12:30, and a stop of four more hours will enable the excursionists to meet with the business men of that commercial city, seat of the richest agricultural county in the United States, and with many places of interest aside from commercial institutions. Stops at Prescott, Waitsburg and Dayton will complete the social calls of the day on Eastern Washington cities, and the spe-cial will arrive at Lewiston Friday morn-ing at 7:30 o'clock.

Special Arrangements Made.

Special arrangements have been made for the entertainment of the visitors on Portland day at the fair, and the party will remain until 11 o'clock that evening On the return trip stops will be made Saturday at Moscow, Pullman and Colfax, and the excursionists will reach Portland Sunday morning on the regular O, R. & N. train No. 3.

The itinerary prepared by R. M. Hall, in charge of the advertising department of the Harriman lines, is an attractive creation from cover to last page, and also the menu cards for the dining-car, both of which will form attractive souve.

SOLDIERS' HOME A REFUGE

Captain McMillen, if He Loses Case, Will Go There.

Captain J. H. McMillen writes again from Oakland, Cal., saying that there has yet been no decision in the case he has brought to regain possession of a house and lot and cash in bank from his wife. There was a hearing last Fri-day, but the case was continued until next Friday, when he hopes for a decision. Captain McMillen says that his wife is making a determined fight against him in court, and the outcome cannot be foretold. At the worst, if he is finally beaten by the woman and stripped of everything he has, he says he will be entitled to enter the Sol-diers' Home, as he is an Indian War veteran of Oregon.
