

UNREST IN IDAHO

Fifty Indictments Expected From Federal Grand Jury.

JUDGE GIVES INSTRUCTIONS

Four of the Men Already Indicted Appear in Court, Plead Not Guilty and Ask for Day of Trial.

MOSCOW, Idaho, Oct. 24.—(Special.)—Interest in the latest case of the federal grand jury that at 11 o'clock today was summoned to appear before Judge Beatty. The courtroom was crowded, and as the men filed into the box they were scrutinized by more than one pair of eyes in the audience.

It was a wonderful study in expression to see the attention attracted by this apparently very representative body of American citizenship before whom will be brought a vast number of witnesses, and whose decisions are more on the order of the inquisition than those of any other legal body in this country.

Some of the inquiring eyes were focused to a point of interrogation, as though the owners would demand what manner of men they were, whether they were staunch in keeping their oaths, or whether influence of some sort, properly placed, would not cause them to swerve from the path of duty. Eyes there were that glanced furtively at the faces of the jurymen, shrinking back as if already confronted with questions that would lay bare carefully hidden secrets.

Others in the audience gave nothing but glances full of curiosity as to the personnel of the body that has been kept so carefully from the public. The Government has been very cautious. District Judge Beatty, bred in large part by this nation, has grown to great proportions. There is a long task ahead of these men and more of men. During their term 120 witnesses will appear and be questioned closely as to what they know of the manner in which many acres of valuable Government land have passed into private hands. The Government alleges that fraud has been perpetrated, and men of high and low degree are said to have had a hand in the land robbery.

Already men prominent in the state have been indicted, and secret service men have been active for months in collecting evidence to convict the guilty. Rumor says 50 indictments will probably be returned. This prospective indictment by wholesale has created the utmost consternation. Men summoned as witnesses may find their own names on the list when the star chamber session is over. Many who may be involved are in the deepest sort of study, turning over in their minds their chances, speculating on the truthfulness of their friends, and wondering whether in the scorching examination permitted before a grand jury friendship will fade as dew before the sun and disappear in the mists.

Doubt is mixed with terror in more than a few innocent consciences, for these land fraud investigations have in other states proved no laughing matter.

Judge J. H. Beatty cautioned the jurymen briefly in a general way as to their department. He instructed them that some timber cases would probably come up for their consideration, and instructed them not to permit their sympathies to influence them in their decision, though the accused should be of a high station in life. The jury will report for duty tomorrow.

At 10 o'clock this morning the land fraud cases were called and William F. Ketterback, George H. Ketter, William Dwyer and Jackson O'Keefe asked permission to plead. A plea of not guilty was entered by William F. Ketterback, one of the attorneys asked for a certain date be set for trial. The Government objected. The defense insisted, and the court thought the defendant's request reasonable. The court set a date be set. United States Prosecuting Attorney N. K. Rulick asked until tomorrow to consider the matter, assigning as his reason for delay that his case would be taken up with the grand jury.

In denying the report that he had offered to turn state's evidence, William Dwyer, one of the defendants, said: "I deny emphatically the report. I have not anything to give the prosecution except some evidence concerning the frauds perpetrated by F. D. Culver, D. Thomas, Gaylord W. Thompson, Harry Fair and others connected with that case. That message originated in the mind of a reliable mind of F. D. Culver, where the Nat Brown letter came from. He will stop to anything to convert into an awful act and the case of his son and associates."

DENTISTS FIGHTING FINES.

Attempt to Go Behind Washington Supreme Court Decision.

OLYMPIA, Wash., Oct. 24.—(Special.)—Samuel H. Brown, of Seattle, attorney for the State Board of Dental Examiners, today applied to the Supreme Court for a writ prohibiting Judge O. V. Linn, of Thurston County, from proceeding in any manner with a suit recently filed here by two nonresident dentists—H. C. Littlejohn and E. J. Brown—against the State Board, the Dental Society of Washington, the Dental Club of Seattle and the State of Washington.

Brown and Littlejohn were arrested last year in Seattle for practicing dentistry without licenses, and were fined $20 each. They appealed to the Supreme Court, and the judgment was affirmed. The dentists are now asking the Supreme Court to set aside this judgment, require the state from collecting the fines, and require the State Board to issue licenses to them and to pay damages for failure to do so heretofore. They allege that a conspiracy exists among the defendants to prevent their securing licenses and to cause their imprisonment because they refuse to sign an ethical code prepared by the State Board.

The State Board contends that action is brought to enable the men to continue practicing dentistry without the legal qualifications and evade the law, and that the matters at issue have been decided by the Supreme Court. It is usual to petition the Supreme Court for permission to reopen a case that has been decided by it before proceeding in the lower court. Brown and Littlejohn do not ask this, but in view of the fact that Judge Linn has taken no action on the complaint, and that the Supreme Court has no intimation that he will act thereon, the writ asked was denied.

ROUTE THROUGH WOODBURN

Valley Electric Line Company Asks for Depot Grounds.

WOODBURN, Or., Oct. 24.—(Special.)—Mayor Frank Waters, of Salem, representing the company proposing to build an electric motor line from Salem to Portland, via Woodburn, within a year, was present at a largely attended meeting of representative citizens at the Armory in this city tonight. For his company Mayor Waters asked a right of way and grounds sufficient for a depot and freighthouse, stating that the line would be west of the Southern Pacific main line and would cross the Willamette River at either Boone's Ferry or Butteville.

Hon. J. H. Settlemire presided at the meeting and upon motion, appointed Grant Corby, J. H. Zimmerer, O. E.

Thompson, Fred Dose and John Kennedy as a committee to select the route through the city and the grounds needed, then to confer with the City Council.

Mayor Waters met with a welcome here, and is assured of the good will of the citizens of Woodburn toward his company, which is based in Eastern capital. The line has been surveyed to the southern boundary of this city.

COLLINS LODGES IN JAIL.

Applies for Writ of Habeas Corpus, But Is Refused.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 24.—(Special.)—Collins, the attorney who is accused of bigamy and perjury, reached here today from Victoria, B. C., in charge of Detective Thomas Gibson, and was placed in a cell at the city prison. Collins had been in jail since he was indicted by the grand jury. Collins was arraigned before Judge Lennon in the Superior Court. After the arraignment, he asked for a week within which to prepare his answer. This was opposed by District Attorney Byington, and Friday afternoon was set as the time for the answer.

On Byington's motion, Collins' bail was increased from $10,000 to $15,000.

ROAD IS TO REACH BURNS

SUMMIT VALLEY RAILS NOW GO AS FAR AS AUSTIN.

In the Spring, It Is Announced, an Extension Will Be Made to Prairie City.

BAKER CITY, Or., Oct. 24.—(Special.)—Superintendent Joseph Barton, of the Summit Valley road, yesterday took a party of Baker City capitalists and business men on a special train over the road to show to them the company had accomplished in the way of improvements and extensions. The road is now completed as far as Austin, 15 miles beyond Tipton, and work has been suspended until next spring, when it will again be taken up and the road extended to Prairie City.

It has not yet been officially announced as to where the road will go from Prairie City, but it is rumored that the final terminus will be Burns, in Harney County. To reach Burns from Prairie City would not be as difficult an engineering feat as getting to Prairie City from Sumpter, for there would be but one mountain range to cross, the Strawberry Mountains. The business men of Baker City have been driving the Summit Valley to extend its line into Burns, and suitable inducements have been offered which it is believed will be accepted.

With the road extended into Burns, the great Harney cattle country would be given an open market, and also much wheat land that is now used for range would be farmed. The Harney Valley is one of the richest in Eastern Oregon. Fruit and grain cannot be raised, except for home consumption, owing to the distance from market, and it is estimated that there is almost as much wheat land which would be tributary to this road as there is in Umatilla County.

During the coming winter the Summit Valley will expend considerable money in improvement work. The road will be changed as to make a straight line to Tipton, and a new depot will be constructed at Sumpter.

Asks Bonus for Railroad. —ONTARIO, Or., Oct. 24.—(Special.)—Stephen Carver, of Clatsop, Mont., president of the Bank of Ontario, is trying to promote a railroad from this point to Vale. He wants a bonus of $10,000 for miles of right of way and Government land more desirable than any other in the county. Carver says he has the money to build the road and that he will build from some other point if Ontario does not put up the amount wanted.

A committee from the Chamber of Commerce has the matter in hand and will report to a special meeting.

FORM OF THE CITY BALLOTS

Attorney-General Gives Opinion on a Number of Points.

SALEM, Or., Oct. 24.—(Special.)—Attorney-General Crawford today rendered an opinion at the request of City Recorder Van Winkle, of Albany, in which he set forth a number of minor questions regarding the form of the ballot to be used in the next municipal primary elections. Among the rulings made are these:

That a blank place should be left on the ballot for the name of each office so that voters may write in the name of some person whose name is not printed on the ballot.

That a blank place should be left under the name of each office even though there are no printed names of aspirants for that office, for the voter has a right to insert any name he chooses.

That if Democrats write the name of a Republican, or if Republicans write the name of a Democrat, the vote is not null and void, but the vote is counted as if it were for the party of the voter.

That if a man receives the plurality vote of Republicans and also the plurality vote of Democrats, he will be the nominee of both parties, but all the votes cannot be counted for him as of one party.

The real object of the meeting, which was addressed by C. F. Swander and J. C. Burri, was to prepare for the meeting of the Willamette Valley Development League, which will meet at this place about November 11. A committee of leading citizens will have charge of arrangements for this meeting.

De Pasquale Goes Free.

WALLA WALLA, Wash., Oct. 24.—(Special.)—Joseph De Pasquale was today acquitted of the charge of killing Domingo Valero, in this city, in September, 1904. BASE NOT IN DEMAND

Oregon Has 50,000 Acres on Its Hands.

GOOD ONLY FOR EXCHANGE

Railroad Companies and Other Scrip-Holders Have Already Secured Most of Desirable Properties in State.

SALEM, Or., Oct. 24.—(Special.)—With 50,000 acres of "base" available, but no demand for it at present prices, the State Land Board is considering ways and means of using it to some advantage.

GETTING EVIDENCE TO CLEAR DORA JENNINGS

ATTORNEYS COLVIG AND DURHAM, PHOTOGRAPHED AT GRANITE HILL, NEAR GRANTS PASS.

GRANTS PASS, Or., Oct. 24.—(Special.)—Attorneys W. M. Colvig and his law partner, George H. Durham, who have taken up the battle for the life of Dora Jennings, charged with having murdered her father, spent Sunday at Granite Hill, near Grants Pass, in the vicinity of the scene of the murder and interviewed a score of witnesses and not a one who was questioned about the crime would admit that they believed that the girl had shot her father. The picture shows attorneys Colvig and Durham interviewing J. M. Moody, Dora's brother-in-law. Moody is one of the many residents at Granite Hill who believes in Dora's innocence.

Advantage. This "base" is school land scattered through forest reserves. The land generally is of little value itself, but if the state could exchange it for Government land more desirable in character or location, the state might profit thereby in future years.

The difficulty is to find other land that is known to be more desirable. Railroad companies and other holders of "scrip" have gone over the state with a fine-tooth comb and searched out all the timberland that is likely to be valuable within the next quarter of a century or more. Settlers and livestockmen have already taken most of the lands that have any promise of immediate value as agricultural or grazing lands. Ideas, taken by the state in exchange for the school sections inside of forest reserves, are required to be sold at a minimum price of $5 an acre, and the problem before the State Land Board is to find Government lands more valuable than the school sections and of such a character that they will eventually find sale to the profit of the state.

Only one plan has yet been devised. The Board has no funds available with which to employ men to go out and hunt for desirable land. The idea of this fact, it has been proposed that the state enter into agreements with men who are experienced in public land affairs to hunt for land worth selecting, the state to pay 25 to 50 cents per acre for the information, subject to the approval of the Legislature. Under the plan, the state would send the State Land Agent and a cruiser to examine the land and determine whether it is more valuable than the "base" which the state would relinquish to the Government in exchange for it.

There would be several advantages in this plan. The school sections are very widely scattered, there being only two in each township. If these school sections were exchanged for lieu lands, the latter could in some instances, perhaps, be located in a block so that it would be more easily accessible to intending purchasers. There is, of course, some question whether the state could find land that would be more worth taking in that manner. As said before, the scrippers have already seized all the land they considered worth taking. The Board is ready to receive proposals from reputable cruisers.

GIVEN THE LAW'S LIMIT.

Sentence Again Pronounced Against Violators of Local Option Law.

CORVALLIS, Or., Oct. 24.—(Special.)—Sentence was pronounced today by Judge Holgate upon the defendants in the last two trials of officers of the Corvallis Social and Athletic Club for violation of the local option law. 50 days. Vice-President McMains got $1000 and 60 days, raising his total sentences to $1700 and 60 days. Jack Milline, the steward, who was a defendant in only one of the two cases, got $500 and 30 days, making his total $800 fine and 30 days in jail.

It is given out now at the club that the handling of intoxicating liquors has been discontinued. The sixth case against the men is yet to be tried. In addition to the sentences, the costs of the last three cases are assessed against the defendants.

AUTOMATIC PHONE BEATEN

Salem City Council Practically Refuses a Franchise.

SALEM, Or., Oct. 24.—(Special.)—After a fierce battle in the City Council tonight, the Pacific States Telephone & Telegraph Company succeeded in defeating, for the present at least, the proposed franchise for the Automatic Telephone Company. All through the meeting the vote stood 5 to 3 in favor of the new franchise, when the vote was upon amendments or dilatory motions made by opponents of the franchise. When all preliminaries had been cleared away and the franchise was ready for third reading, the vote stood 7 to 7 on the question whether the bill should be read a third time, and thereby final action was defeated.

It was proposed to defer action until

VICTIM OF PIRATES

Pretty Italian Girl May Have Been Kidnaped.

VANISHED FROM VASHON

Grief-Stricken Father Goes to Harper to See Young Woman Who Told Tale of Sinking of Launch in Puget Sound.

TACOMA, Wash., Oct. 24.—(Special.)—That beautiful Mary Glanconetti, the missing 16-year-old daughter of a Vashon Island rancher, and the poor half-dead creature who called herself Mrs. Mabel Tate when rescued by Nelson Butte, of Harper, are one and the same person, is believed by V. Glanconetti, the girl's father, and by many of those who have been assisting in the search for the pretty Italian girl.

Glanconetti and a friend left Tacoma today for a visit to Harper, hoping and believing that he will find his daughter in the Harper boarding-house. Even though she is partially deranged, that is better than her being suffering, or, in her poor English, failed to make herself understood.

Glanconetti believes that after his daughter left her brother and sister, she wandered over the country road that runs along the bluff the west side of Vashon Island. He fears she was seen on this road by Sound pirates, who, attracted by beauty, forced her into their boat.

She may have been set ashore near Harper, or the boat may really have swamped as the girl described, and, crazed by her suffering, the girl does not know of what she has done.

The girl speaks poor English, and it might have been hard for her to make her story clear.

JURORS DRUNK AT MEAL TIMES

Cocktail Was Provided Each Before Breakfast.

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Oct. 24.—In arguing a motion for a new trial today in the case of ex-State Senator Emmons, convicted of bribery, Emmons' attorney, in alleging misconduct on the part of the jury, had brought up the fact that the jurors had drunk whisky during the trial.

C. W. Haub testified that he is keeper of a restaurant where the jury was boarded. He said that the Deputy Sheriff instructed him to let the jurors have a cocktail before breakfast and beer and wine at meals. Four jurors drank no liquor.

At meals claret and beer were furnished. He further testified that none of the bottles found are of the brand furnished by him. The last meal was brought to the jury-room, and no liquor was brought to the jurors. In the whole month he furnished three dozen quart bottles of whisky.

It is alleged on behalf of the people that it will be shown that when the jurors entered upon occupancy of the room, they found a great lot of empty bottles in it; that no liquor was taken into the room; that no unusual drinking of any kind was indulged in; that several jurors accustomed to regular drinks, had medical advice that there must be no sudden stoppage; that by reason of abstention one or two were made sick; that the court had medical advice to allow the jurors to be supplied in certain cases, and finally that no juror was mentally affected by reason of anything served at the jurors' meals.

Bolt Robbery at Bremerton.

SEATTLE, Wash., Oct. 24.—(Special.)—Mrs. A. Mathes was robbed at her home on Third street at Bremerton this afternoon. Mrs. Mathes had just returned from the postoffice and the robber followed her. She gave him a $5 bill that she had in her pocketbook, and he took her gold watch and chain from her and about $5 in change from a bureau drawer and started for the woods. The man was in his shirt-sleeves and carried a coil of telephone wire on his arm.

WILL KILL HIS FATHER

THREAT MADE BY SON OF SEATTLE POLICEMAN.

Leo Cameron, a Youth of 20 Years, Makes Sensational Escape From Detectives.

SEATTLE, Wash., Oct. 24.—(Special.)—Leo Cameron, the 20-year-old son of Police Patrolman John Cameron, has sworn to kill his father on sight. John Cameron, who for ten years has been a member of the Seattle police force and earned the name "Honest John," with tears in his eyes says:

"It is a case of one of us going."

The threat was made by the boy in the restricted district last night and reported to headquarters. Patrolman Philbrick was sent to arrest the boy, which he did, but the young degenerate effected a sensational escape by leaping from the patrol wagon over the side and heading down a street, outdistancing the detective and several officers.

Some time ago Cameron and his son engaged in a fight in front of a drug store on Second and Pike. At that time the boy swore to kill his father at the first opportunity, repeating it again last night. Young Cameron recently returned to Seattle from what he said was a business trip. He was a panther boy. He has a bad record, and the local officers fear that he will eventually succeed in making way with his father.

WOMEN'S NEGLECT

SUFFERING THE SURE PENALTY

Health Thus Lost Is Restored by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

How many women do you know who are perfectly well and strong? We hear every day the same story over and over again. "I do not feel well; I am so tired all the time!"

Miss Kate McDonald

More than likely you speak the same words yourself, and no doubt you feel far from well. The cause may be easily traced to some derangement of the female organs which manifests itself in depression of spirits, reluctance to go anywhere or do anything, backache, bearing-down pains, flatulency, nervousness, sleeplessness, leucorrhoea. These symptoms are but warnings that there is danger ahead, and unless headed a life of suffering or a serious operation is the inevitable result.

The never-failing remedy for all these symptoms is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Miss Kate McDonald, of Woodbridge, N. J., writes:

"I think that a woman naturally desires to make her troubles known to the public, but restored health has meant so much to me that I cannot help from telling mine for the sake of other suffering women. 'For a long time I suffered untold agony with a uterine trouble and irregularities,
