There were three scheduled events on Prince Louis' programme today, the first being a luncheon at Governor's Island with Brigadier-General Grant. This was an elaborate affair and was attended by a distinguished company. After luncheon the Prince attended a brilliant reception at the New York Navy-yard, where Rear-Admiral Coghian was the Prince's host. After the reception the Prince paid a visit to the V. M. C. Prince Louis and 250 officers of the British and American squadrons were guests tonight of the United States Naval Academy Alumni Association at a ban-quet at Delmonico's. The hall was decorated with the American and British col-ors and music was furnished by the band of the United States battleship Alabama and by John Cheshire, harplet to the Duke of Edinburgh, uncle of the Prince. I have met your President and have been impressed by his charm. As the representative of my king, I desire to say that the heads of our countries are very much allke, if does not become me to draw comparisons heads of our countries are very comparisons it does not become me to draw comparisons between the two heads of our countries, but it must have struck us all who have met both that they are blessed with the same charming manner, virtue and statesmanship, and let me assure you. I have fallen under the magnific charm of your Presedent.

Any war would be disastrous to New York Any war would be disastrous to New York, -more disastrous to New York than any other city in the world. This is impressed upon me by the tremendous amount of bustle and traffic that you see as you come up the harbor. What New York wants above all things is neare. The two combined fleets in New York harbor could, I think, reduce New York to atoms in the time it takes my cook to fry an omelette.

Prince Louis was early about his hip this morning, and gave to the chief of staff some final directions about the Tuesday night. Shortly after 9 o'clock the Drake weighed anchor and started down stream, again receiving salutes from passing craft. The Drake was warped into pier 62 of the Cunard line, at Gansevoort Market, where she will lie during the remainder of the British squadron's visit here. Workmen were soon aboard putting together the portable ballroom.

The chief athlette instructor of the Drake amounced today that during the squadron's stay here there would be a puglistic contest between Sailor Kirby, champion welter-weight of the English navy, and Sallor Collins, champion welter weight of the United States Navy. Kirby and Collins of the crew of the Kearsarge The bout will be for a purse of $100 and a cup offered by Prince Louis.

The cup is now held by Sailor Cockeyne, champion heavy-weight of the English navy, who won it at Halifax in a contest with another sailor of the English navy, the cup originally having been a national prize. It will hereafter be an international offering and will be contest-

Prince Could Not Find Pier. NEW YORK, Nov. 10 .- Prince Louis of Battenberg and about a dozen boatloads of officers bound for the St. George So-ciety dinner at the Waldorf Astoria, had an exciting experience as a result of their small craft getting lost in the North River last night. A strong flood tide was partly responsible; but the British sailors who manned the launches, could not find the West Thirty-fourth-street pier. The skipper of Prince Louis' launch finally succeeded in locating the pier at 8 o'clock. Five other boats had straggled in at in-tervals before the Prince. The Prince was so late that all hands got into carriages and, escorted by the polices the hotel at a lively gallop.

The Taking

The old cold goes; a new one quickly comes. It's the story of a weak throat, a tendency to consumption. Ayer's Cherry Pectoral breaks up the taking-cold habit. It strengthens, heals. Ask your doctor to tell you all about it. Then follow his advice. "I had a terrible cold, and nothing relieved me. I tried Ayer's Cherry Pectoral and it promptly broke up my cold, stopped my cough, and eased every part of my body. It did wonderful work for me."—J. F. LUTZ, Toledo, Ohlo.
