MUTINY AMONG SOLDIERS

Liberal Leaders Debate Question of Backing Premier. Who Is Seriously III - Agrarian Riots Growing Everywhere.

THOUSAND TROOPS MUTINY.

PETERSBURG, Nov. 21 .- Private advices received today from Gomel, in the government of that say that a battalion of reservists, 1000 strong, mutinled following a demand for better food.

MOSCOW. Nov. 21.-The sentiment of ly to the side of Count Witte, and it now seems probable that a large majority of delegates will favor a resolution to ne to the assistance of the governmen against the forces of revolution and dis-organization, though only because such action is regarded by a considerable fac-tion as the least of many evils. Such leaders as M. St. Chepkine, of Moscow; Alexander Stakovich, Michael Stakovich Prince Paul Dolgorukoff and Prince Volkonsky, of Rizan, who are among the Volkonsky, of Rizan, who are among the prominent men in Russia and who have the confidence of those engaged in the reform movement, came out boldly at today's session and laid down as a plain truth that only through co-operation with the government, good or bad though it might be, lay the way to a happy realiza-tion of the liberties promised by the imtion of the liberties promised by the im-perial manifesto of October 30. M. St.

Chepkine declared:
"The people may call us Judases who have sold ourselves to Count Witte, but we must array ourselves with him in order to make the state downs an active force in which the people will have con-

Exile Cries for Peace.

Even M. Petrunkevitch, president of the Moscow Agricultural Society, whose exile to Siberia embittered him against the bureaucracy and who declared himself ready to join hands with the Social Democrats in the doumn if they would lay aside for the present their economic theories, insisted that the first duty of all parties now was to unite so as to re tore tranquility and save the fatherland. M. Conocheff, a prominent lawyer of St. Petersburg, however, attacked the gov-ernment, which he termed "a government of officials," and said no co-operation with it was possible until it purged itself of its falsehood.

The presiding officer of the congress to day was Count Mukhanoff, a former marshal of the nobility of Chernigoff, who was dismissed from his post for addressing a telegram directly to the Em-peror regarding the needs of the people, which telegram His Majesty in a marginal Poles State Their Case.

Representatives of the delegation of 24 ent Poles which came from Poland to St. Petersburg to make known the at-titude of their country toward the government, arrived in Moscow today and attended the congress. They read the manifesto issued by the delegation in St. Peteraburg last night, reviewing the his-tory of Poland in the last century, de-claring that the Poles had no thought of seperation or of independence and ask-ing the support of all Russian parties. After reading the manifesto, they made a special plea for the support and co-opera-tion of the Zemstvoists in their demand for autonomy, reiterating that in this movement there was nothing of a sepa-ratist purpose. The congress took no action in the premises.

Dolgoroukeff's Great Speech.

The speech of Prince Paul Dolgorou keff was one of the best delivered since the opening of the congress. Arguing in defense of a resolution to the effect that the cabinet of Count Witte ould not count on the support of many classes of Russian society, while putconstitution based on the Emperor's manifesto of October 30, he warned the congress against the present state of revolutionary hysteria and declared that at this time, when important creative work was in progress, it would be wrong to demand the immediate removal of every timber of the foundation of the Russian government, even though many of the planks were admittedly rotten. The ministry of Count Witte, which he compared to a com-mission in bankruptcy, was far from ideal, but he said that it must be supported and sustained.

The Prince brought the congress to the france brought that, no matter who might be at the head of the government, the regime of the autocracy and the bureaucracy had now been relegated to the limbo of "idiotic fantasies," ailuding to the words used by the Emperor in his answer to M. Petrunke-vitch, when a decade ago, at the re-ception of the delegations from the Zemstvos after the coronation, the Liberal from Tyer warned His Maesty of the necessity of convoking the representatives of the people.

Plea to Hasten Reform.

Michael Stakovitch, a marshal of the nobility of Orel, appealed to the good sense of the congress and referred to the example of the Finnish people, who were quietly awaiting the reforms promised them. He said that the congress, by prolonging the opposition to the government, would fall into the same error as the bureaucracy, which had attached no weight to the force of public opinion directed against it, but that by co-operation with the Count the Zemstvoists would hasten the abolition of the old, rotten legal structure and the elaboration of a constitution based upon the Emperor's

Alexander Stakovich, a brother of the preceding speaker, said that Count Witte was an intelligent and ambitious man who would try to put into practice the principles of the manifesto, but that, unless he were properly aided, the Premier would fall under the influence of the court circles and be forced into the path of reaction. He advocated the convention advocated the convocation as quickly as possible of a Douma based on universal suffrage and the dispatch of a deputation of Zemstvoists to St. Petersburg to advise and confer with Count Witte.

that Count Witte received a lengthy tele-gram from the Zemstvo Congress, declar-ing its readiness to unite with him and establish order. It is also stated several prominent Zemstvoists will be offered portfolios, including M. Golovin, who will be offered the position of Minister of the

COAL OPERATORS ORGANIZE

Prepare to Resist Demands of the Miners for More Wages.

CHICAGO, Nov. 21.—The formation of an organization of bituminous coal oper-ators at the convention to be held here tomorrow was practically assured as the result of conferences held here today smong the various mineowners interested made in the wages of the mineworkers at the Indianapolis joint conference, which is to begin January 29. With the new organization the operators believe they will be powerful enough to be able to decrease wages, but they declare they will not force a fight by asking for a reduction in the scale At the convention will be 80 delegates representing the state associations of Colorado, Illinois, Michigan, Kahsas, West Virginia, Arkansas, Missouri and Indian Territory. Each of the states named will be allowed one delegate for every million tons of coal mined.

STILL DEMAND EIGHT HOURS

Workmen May Force Crisis on Employers at Factories.

ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. 21.-Despite the decision arrived at by the Council of Workmen at the meeting of November 20 not to attempt the introduction of the movement for an eight-hour day, the question of shorter hours is taking a criti-cal turn and threatens to produce an industrial crisis. At the Hubbard, Pahl, Westinghouse and other important works the men insist on a reduction of hours and have adopted a course of dropping tools after they have labored eight. The employers had a meeting tonight and resolved to stand firm against the demands of the men. The local works will be closed unless the men consent to the old system of 60 hours a week

PEASANTS SPREAD TERROR

Selze Estates and Crops, Burn Bulldings, Expel Owners.

BORISOGLYEBSK, Russia, Nov. 21 Many panic-stricken persons are seeking refuge here from the peasants, who are taking possession of the estates, removing the grain, burning the buildings and ordering the proprietors to relinquish their rights and depart, under penalty of death. The excitement has assumed such dimen-sions that the Vice-Governor has ordered the troops to desist from making arrests. In encounters with marching bands of peasants, the troops have killed 100 and wounded many more. The residents here the town, but their fears appear to be unwarranted.

Officers Supplied With Revolutionary Pamphlets to Distribute.

ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. 22.—(Special.)

—The revolutionists say that a civil war will begin on the anniversary of "Bloody Sunday." A party of guards and officers conferred with the revolutionary leaders that night and asked them to supply the troops with political pamphlets. The leaders immediately placed 250,000 copies at the disposal of the troops.

Admit Women to Universities.

ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. 22.-The admission of women to the universities on the same conditions as govern the ad-mission of men is declared by Count John Tolstoi, the new Minister of Education, in an interview published this morning, to be part of his policy. The Minister is also in favor of instituting reforms in the universities and the higher schools, which, he declares, are in "an abominable state." It is his pur-pose, he says, to call a conference of ectors and professors for the elabora tion of permanent rules permitting or-ganizations of students and professors.

Turn Against Socialists.

ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. 21.—The news-papers of the city appeared today for the first time in over a week. There is a sig-nificant change of tone on the part of some of the radical organs against the dictatorial attitude of the Social Democrats. The Russ loudly denies that the victory of the imperial reform manifesto belongs entirely to the workmen, declaring that the proletariat was strong then because it voiced the sentiment of the nation.

Shirtmakers Win a Strike.

PHILADELPHIA. Nov. II.-The strike 800 girls employed by the shirt manufac-turing firm of Tutleman Bros & Faggin Company ended tonight, when the firm and its employes came to an agreement. The strike was called for higher wages and to obtain pay by the piece for those who were paid weekly wages. The demands of the workers were acceded to.

Measures Against Strikes.

ST, PETERSBURG, Nov. E.-The Cabinet has drafted a series of measures to protect the rights of individuals against Zemstvoists Pledge Aid.

LONDON, Nov. 23—(Special.)—The correspondent of the London Daily Mall at St. Peteraburg telegraphs his paper that 't was learned from the highest authority submission to the Cabinet.

(Continued From Page L) ence is that work has come to a standstill, and the bill unfortunately occurs at a time when Oregon and Wash ington. Utah and a few other states have ome forward with feasible projects, only to have them sidetracked, postponed indefinitely, simply and solely because of

Mr. Hitchcock is not primarily responible for this iamentable condition; be has allowed himself to be made a tool for the use of his subordinates, but he, and not the subordinates, is getting the blame. Blocked by Lack of Funds.

Getting down to specific instances, the Reciamation Service, after three years of study, evolved the Umatilia project in Eastern Oregon; worked out a plan, and submitted it for approval, being ready to commence work forthwith, if authority should be granted. Mr. Hitebcock's coterie, determined to block these plans, found a little trainguishant detail which found a little, insignificant detail which found a little, insignificant detail which could be used as an excuse for delay; they magnified it before the Secretary, and the project went back without approval. It was "irregular" and could not be approved. At the same time these same advisors determined to block the recommendation of the Reclamation Service for the adoption of the Tieton and ganogan projects in Washington, and the Strawberry Valley project in Utah. From an engineering point of view all the Strawberry valley project in Utan. From an engineering point of view all three projects were perfect; there was nothing in them which could be used as a basis for rejection, so the advisers put their heads together and told the Secretary there was no money available with which to build them, and they were sent back to the archives, indefinitely postponed, as the records show, "because of lack of funds." In the case of the Umatilla project there was more than enough money avail-able in the unused allotment for the abandoned Malheur project, but the Sec-retary would not authorize its expenditure; he was advised to the contrary. In projects, there was more than enough sceney in the unused allotment for the abandoned Palouse project, but the Sec-tetary was further advised not to trans-

This stand led to the exposure that the ceretary of the Interior had allotted aproximately $31,000,000 for various irriga-ion projects, when as a matter of fact he had only $28,000,000 in his fund. disclosure was embarrassing, and the corps of advisers got busy to explain away an embarrassing situation. Not-withstanding this over-allotment was shown by the official records of his own office. Mr. Hitchcock, after consulting with his confidents, announced that there was no deficit, but that in fact there was on hand a surplus of over $2,000,000 with which to build new irrigation works as he saw fit. This surplus could only be reck-oned in one way, by canceling the allotments for all projects which had been ap-proved but which were not actually under construction, including the Malheur and the Palouze. But to save themselves, the ubordinates had to juggle the figures in way to ward off criticism. In doing so, hey knocked down their sole objection to the construction of the Tieton, Okanogan and Strawberry Valley projects, but they have advised the Secretary to overlook this, and these three projects, along with the Umatilla, must wall—how long nobody knows.

It is remarkable that petty personal calousies about be permitted to creep in and upset the working of the National eclamation act, but that is exactly what was caused the present trouble, and it will not be removed until the subordinate adviners of Mr. Hitchcock are either re-moved or shorn of the power which they are wielding maliciously yet fearlessly.

Just what will result no one can safely predict, but it is morally certain that something has got to happen, or else the Administration will have on its hands a scandal that will compare with the situation of Panama, before the last Canal Colomission was created. We Traded With Willamette University Willamette University bought a Piano from us the other day-a Kingsbury.

There are not many upright Pianos with sufficient depth and power of tone to fill a large auditorium.

They knew that we had an upright Piano with sufficient tone power-the Kingsbury-so they bought it of us.

Willamette University had four good parlor Pianos which were not of much use to them-so we took them off their hands. They are all well-known makes-A Simpson & Co., Behr Bros., an Everett and a Rice-Heinze.

They are all splendid instruments with beautiful tone and easy action. They are practically as good as new. The exchange sale prices on these four Pianos will range from $100 to $250. They are bargains at the prices we intend to put on them.

Our finishers are at work on them and when they are put in shape you would not know but that they had just come from the factory.

We have 26 other Piano bargains which we intend to offer at our "Exchanged Piano" sale.

We will not be able to open the sale by the 25th of this month, but will soon thereafter.
