Extraordinary Values in the Christmas Book Stores

Fifth-Street Annex—First Floor.

The great closing out sale of the book stocks continues. It embraces every book (except the children's "play books") in the store.

We shall make offerings throughout the shelves like this:

9c Handsomely bound books in cloth, good print, over 100 standard authors to choose from.

19c Beautiful presentation books in a large variety of fancy styles of bindings, cloth, library size.

45c A grand collection of rare values usually sold at other stores for 75c to 90c, expired copyrights, library edition, bindings a grade better than the special 35c books.

13c Splendidly bound books in large size, cloth, well-known classics. Such volumes as appeal to the average reader and sold by all bookstores at 30c to 25c; this sale 13c.

22c The regular 40c book of the bookstore, handsome gilt top, library style, cloth bound. Matchless Christmas gift for such a trifle of price.

35c Hundreds of copyright books on which copyrights have expired, library edition bindings and the usual 50c to 75c values of specialty bookstores; during the closing of our stocks.

50c Choice of the balance of fancy-bound poets, sold at all bookstores at 85c to $1.00. An ideal gift for the booklover; to close, your pick.

75c Your absolute choice of all of the usual $1.50, $1.25 and $1.00 books as sold everywhere, popular copyrights, included—but none of this year's, as we have bought no books this season.

SPECIAL BARGAINS IN CHILDREN'S BOOKS.

Books with pretty colored bindings and colored pictures; regular 30c values 24c. Story books with pretty colored bindings and colored illustrations; regular 22c values for 18c.

Portland's Best Glove Store

First Floor. The largest and best stock we have ever had is here now.

Being best, it is largest. We sell more gloves than do any other two Portland stores. We sell more and more each year, and the growth is faster now than ever.

Women's Gloves, Children's Gloves, Babies' Gloves. Our glove experts are known wherever gloves are made as being most critical.

Long and short gloves for dress in unequalled assortment—Suggestions for Christmas glove-buying:

The 'Monarch' Two-Clasp Kid Gloves—Paris point backs, here in all the novelty colors, black, white and cream. No better glove ever sold at the price; price, the pair $2.00.

Come Up to Toyland

Thousands of bewitching little beauties will act as reception and entertainment committees this week in Santa Claus' realm.

And the toys! My! Why, if we'd had toys like these, fellow grown-ups, when we were youngsters, we'd—well, we wouldn't have been any happier after all.

There will be bowls of delight over the new mechanical toys.

And the whizzing trains and trolleys and shoot-the-chutes that are all running.

You never say anything like the new French Ninepins—a little flock of birds in a cage, a school of fish in a pond, the donkey minstrels and a group of jockeys inside of a horse.

The Dresden New-Art Toys are something that children won't get tired of, because they're built by people with imagination and humor and a child's way of looking at things—that's it.

Just enjoy yourselves, children. Have such a good time that you'll hate to go away at the end of the day—9:30 P. M.
