Steunenberg Had Received Many Threats of Death.

BOISE, Idaho, Dec. 31. - (Special.) There are many reasons leading people the firm belief that the assassination of ex-Governor Frank Steunenberg was planned by the old Coeur d'Alene conspirators and carried out by some one of them under the stern rule of what was called the "Inner Circle." Men selected or such work were obliged to perform t under pain of death themselves. In the first place it is now learned the

This warned him that his "time was short." The Governor seemed to pay no attention to these warnings. He menioned them only to one or more of hi brothers and to his attorney.

Further, during the hearing in Washington after the lawless elements of the Coeur d'Alenes had been suppressed, the Governor was threatened orally. These hearings were in connection with action of the Government in sending troops into this state. A resolution for the purpose having been put through, the Governor was there and many of the leaders of the

Those who have carefully examined the scene of the explosion have concluded that the horror was the work of those skilled in the use of high explosives They state it was not ordinary giant powder used in mining, there being no coloration anywhere. The post against which the bomb lay has not a darkened spot. Furthermore, the odor of nitroglycerin was on the clothes of the vic-

Giant powder would have been inclosed in a box, but it is shown that something in the nature of a metal cylinder was used, the metal being a mixture of zinc and tin. Pieces were found sticking in all the trees. The force of the explosion further indicates that it was some very high explosive that was used. All the glass on that side of the house was cut out close to the sash as though taken out with diamonds. Glass in other houses three blocks away was broken.

Explosive Used by Experts. Ex-Lieutenant-Governor J. H. Hutch inson, who is an authority on this sub ject, declares it was nitro-glycerin and that it was handled by men thoroughly familiar with explosives, Mr. Gooding states everything shows the work was done by skilled men and that the old BOISE, Idaho, Dec. 21.-A man has dynamiters arranged it. Streets of New York Are Alive With a Merry-Making Crowd.

CHEERS GREET THE BELLS

When the Notes of a Hymn Are Heard Many Uncap and Join in the Singing of Familiar Words. .

NEW YORK, Jan. 1 .- The advent of the new year was the occasion tonight of the usual noisy demonstrations throughout the City of New York. The fact that New Year's eve fell on Sunday did not dampen the enthusiasm of tens of thousands of people who paraded the streets, blowing great tin horns, ringing bells of all descriptions and finally, with the coming of midnight, resorting to all sorts of methods for the production of noise.

The chimes of old Trinity brought to Lower Broadway and Wall street the greatest throngs of New Year merrymakers. For years the chimes of this historic church have been rung as the signal of a new year's birth, and tradition attaches an unusual interest to being within hearing of those melodious tones when the last minutes of the old year have slipped away.

Great cheers greeted the ringing of the chimes tonight and later, when the strains of an old-fashioned hymn were heard, many of those in the crowded streets of the neighborhood uncovered their heads and joined in singing the familiar words.

In the theater and restaurant district of Upper Broadway, the crowds in the streets, at Sunday-night concerts and in the cafes were the largest in years. In the uptown streets many merrymakers in carnival spirit indulged in confetti battles.

Police Force Upset.

It is known, also, that practically the entire local police force is badly upset on account of what they term the meddling attitude of Mayor Lane and Police Commissioner Greene, and are concentrating their influence upon individual members of the Council with the object QUEENSTOWN. While it is not known definitely just what recommendations will be made in the report of the Bruin investigating tee of the Council, it is believe from the general nature of proceedings, that the findings of the body will involve one of the biggest municipal shake-ups Handful Cover Escape

In all probability the report of the committee will be delayed until the meeting of the full Council January 17. as it is not at all likely the findings can be made up before then on account of the magnitude of the evidence to be considered. It may even be necessary to call an extra session for the purpose and this idea of the situation seems to meet the approbation of members more than any other method of solution, a It is argued that the importance of the issues involved demand distinct de-

Provision of Charter.

Under the charter it is within the province of the Council to try the Mayor upon charges originating with the investigation of Bruin, and in all likelihood he may be compelled to face impeachment proceedings as a result of his alleged interference with the workings of the Municipal Civil Service Department. It is almost a foregone conclusion that the report of the investigating committee will severely criticise Mayor Lane as well as other members of the Civil Service Commis sion for their hand in undertaking to overthrow the direct provisions of the city charter relative to promotions in the police department, the Bruin case being taken as a basis for such action. Dan J. Maiarkey, counsel for the city in the matter of the investigation of civil service methods, stated yesterday that it was news to him if the Mayor was to be tried under articles of impeachment, although he admitted that the disclosures of the investigation were a revelation to him.

Terms It Flagrant Violation.

"I had no idea that the proceedings would develop such a flagrant violation of charter provisions," said he in discussings the subject. "There is no doubt in my mind that the appointment of Bruin was framed up to meet the demands of the Mayor, and it looks as if the lash is being applied to those police officers who testified against Bruin at the investigation. The only instructions I received from the committee when I assumed charge of the case was to get at the bottom facts, and I must confess that I am greatly surprised at developments,

LAST STAND IN SMALL HOUSE

TROOPS IN FULL CONTROL

Barricades in Streets Torn Down by Populace as Quickly as They Were Erected, and Refugees Search for New Homes.

MOSCOW, Dec. 31.-White flags flying from a dozen factories in the tenementhouses of Presna district, where the revolutionaries made their last stand, now bear mute witness to the end of the "December uprising in Moscow." The entire district is now occupied by troops

During the night the vast majority of the members of the "fighting legion" either surrendered or, after throwing away their arms, endeavored to escape in the guise of peaceful citizens. Only the members who acted as a guard to the revolutionary committee stuck to their colors, and the surrender of this handful this morning furnished the last act of the sangulnary drama.

The staging of this last act was admirable-a snow-covered landscape, small black residence, with a tiny red flag fluttering from its gable, the end of Gorbatoff bridge, black with the guns of the artillery and a thin encircling line of the Seminovsky Regiment of the Guard broken only directly in the line of fire. Suddenly there was a flash of red fire from the mouth of one of the guns, and a solid shot plowed through the walls of the house. A few spluttering shots replied from a window. The cannon spoke again and again, until a dozen shots had

The number of prisoners is being constantly augmented, most of the new arrivals being arrested at the bridges or at other points of egress in the Presna district, which is crowded with refugées.

Every Man for Himself.

The Associated Press learns that after the fall of the Prokharoff cotton mill and other factories, a council was hastily held, at which it was decided that the revolution had falled, and an order was given to every man to save himself as best he could. A hundred agreed to hold together, so as to keep up a show of fight under cover of which the others could escape. After the final surrender the inhabitants swarmed into the streets of the district. and in a remarkably short time cleared away the barricades and other obstructions with which for a week the revolutionaries had blockaded the district. This morning a correspondent of the Assoclated Press found one street, where on Friday it was necessary to climb over 39 barricades, clear from end to end. All these except three, which were carried by troops yesterday, were demolished by the inhabitants, who were as industrious in tearing them down as they had been in erecting them. As the correspondent proceeded he was several times searched by the soldiers, who were endeavoring to discover revolutionaries. The soldiers were considerably perplexed at the language in which the notes in the pockets of the correspondent were written, but in each case he was released. In squade of five the soldiers penetrated every house searching for weapons.

Few Casualties From Artillery.

Considering the intensity of yesterday's bombardment, when as many as five shots a minute were fired, beside the steady volley of the infantry, the losses were surprisingly small, not more than tants being killed, and only about 200 being wounded in the district.

The artillery yesterday was concening the district, but the revolutionaries usually decamped at the first shot, taking refuge in the cellars of neigh ouses. The shrapnel and rife bullets did not penetrate beyond the outer walls, and in only a few cases did the walls show complete penetration by the solid
