FAT PROFITS ARE IN GREASED GAS

How the Corporation Cinches the Consumers Throughout Portland.

FIGURES IN COMPARISON

Cost to the Corporation and Receipts From the Citizens Show an Immense Revenue on the Money Invested.

Fat profits are squeezed out of gas con sumers in Portland by the Gas Graft, which charges for its "greased air" $1.15 per 1000 feet, plus 25 cents a thousand for delinquent payments, when gas statis-tics from all parts of the United States show that the greased air can be profitably supplied to consumers, at the burners, for less than half the price collected a thousand, delivered at the burner, and this gas is enriched by large quantities of gasoline, which adds to the expense and makes a better quality of gas. In Chicago the old companies, previous to consolidation, reported in the Stock Exchange, that the total cost of spin consolidation of the cost of removing a frame building thereon, making a total of $11.195.

William C. Walker is given $5614 as damages caused by the appropriation of his change, that the total cost of water gas at the burner, including taxes, was 40 ents a thousand. At the same time the Mutual Gas Company, of Hyde Park, Ill., reported its water gas at the burner at 17.45 cents a thousand. In Boston an excellent quality of water gas was put into the holder (the reservoir tank), at 33 1-3 cents, with oil costing 2.37 cents & gailon, whereas the cost of oil in Port-land is less than 2 cents a gallon.

Some Interesting Statistics.

The cost of manufacturing coal gas is greater than that of manufacturing oil gas, especially at a place like Portland. which has to import its coal supply. The cost of California oil in Portland is low, however, on account of cheap transportation by sea, from the ports of supply. According to Parson's "The City for the People," an authority on municipal utilities, the cost of making and delivering coal gas to the consumer ten years ago was as follows: which has to import its coal supply. The

Higher Than Usual Cost.

These prices were much higher than the real cost, because the manufacturers found various methods for evading the inspection laws. Sometimes, when a gas company desires to make a good showing for its stock on the stock exchange, it will make reports about cost production, very near the truth.

The cost of manufacturing coal gas in England is about 30 cents a thousand in the holder, and has run as low as 24 cents. A liberal allowance for distribution through the pipes would be 6 cents. making the total 26 cents.

cities, which installed their own plants, have reduced gas cost to consumers by $ and 50 per cent and yet made profits. The same graft on the public thrives on the Pacific Coast, especially since oil came to be the source of gas supply and cut down cost of production

Nor does the graft in Portland end with extertionate cost of production; the company injects big quantities of air into the gas and raises the pressure, so that meters will run up higher bills.

What a Burner Consumes.

An ordinary "fish-tail" burner, with proper pressure, will consume only six feet of gas an hour and a greater quantity of gas forced out by higher pressure will not add to the filuminating power, though the meter will work faster. The extra amount of gas forced out of the burner becomes a dead loss to the consumer, be-sides poisoning the atmosphere.

From an actual test in this city, with one jet, for 170 hours last month, the meter recorded 1700 feet, or ten feet an hour. The meant of the company of the hour. This meant a loss to the consumer of four feet an hour, or 40 per cent of the gas that passes through his meter.

Portland's Gas Production.

The gas production in Portland is about 20,000,000 cubic feet a month, which, at $1.15 a thousand, yields to the company $34,500 a month, or $412,000 a year, half of which is clean profit, as shown by gas statistics from other parts of the United

But this is not all the graft, for a large number of consumers have to pay 25c a thousand extra for delinquency, owing to the policy of the graft in limiting the $1.15 price to the first five days of each month-a method which makes it impossible for all consumers to secure the cheap gas without wasting a large amount of time in the crowd that throngs the payment office.

Immense Profits Made.

If one-third the consumers have to pay the extra 25 cents a month, the added profit to the company amounts to 2260 a month or $30,000 a year, or 5 per cent interest on $600,000,

The 40 per cent waste will represent to consumers a yearly loss of $164,800, or 5 per cent interest on $3,226,000, which added to the other $500,000, would make hearly $4,000,000, a sum which would build a sea wall for Portland, a belt line and retire

This means that the Gas there is least 100 recognition of the count of the appropriation of their property and $100 as costs for the removal of Cost in Chicago.

Recently the Chicago Coke & Gas Company (now the trust) has been making "water gas." the same kind as at Portland, from crude oil, at a cost of 40 cents thousand, delivered.

A. H. Devers is given $895 as his measure of damages on account of the appropriation of his property, and is also allowed $200 for the cost of removing a reason of the extension of the street, rendering his building less valuable.

The total cost will amount to $40,306, including $160 as expenses and fees of viewers. $72 for engineering and advertising and $60,676 on account of the appropria-tion of property to public use. This ex-pense is distributed in the following ratio

WATER SUPPLY IS SHORT

San Francisco Will Soon Face a Crisis, Says Attorney Long.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 5 .- in a con munication addressed to the Board of Supervisors, retiring City Attorney Long alleges that the Spring Valley Water Company is not in a position to meet the necessing needs of the city. "Unless some action is taken by the city

Keep Prices Up.

Notwithstanding these low figures, gas companies all over the country have kept prices to consumers up high above the cost of manufacture, and a number of the company's business itself. or no assistance having been afforded him by the company's servants. He puts the total cost of the Spring Valley plant at less than 124,000,000, and believes that no larger figure should be used as a basis for fixing the water rates.

Judge Hunt will be in Portland during the early part of the coming month, when he trials will begin once more.

What case will be first on the list is not known and will not be until close to the date set for the hearing. Beyond the statement by Mr. Bristo that Mr. Hermann will in all like lihood be the first man brought before the Oregon court in the event of his not coming to immediate trial in Wash ington, no intimation has been made of the order of the Oregon cases. The only thing certain is that a beginning will soon be made.
