

VISIT SITE OF JENNINGS' DEATH

Jurymen and Prisoner Escorted to Cabin in the Mountains Near Grant's Pass.

JASPER MAKES NO SIGN

District Attorney Reames Makes No Mention of Alleged Confession in His Opening Statement at the Trial.

W. G. MACRAE.

GRANT'S PASS, Ore., Jan. 12.—(Staff Correspondence.)—Jasper Jennings, one of the 12 men who will decide his fate today, took a journey to Granite Hill, the scene of the murder of Dr. M. Jennings, father of Jasper and Dr. M. Jennings, Thursday afternoon. The district attorney Reames, who is in charge of the case, and the jury, who are to try the case, went to the scene of the crime. The day was not a pleasant one. The rain fell in torrents, and when the jury, the prisoner and the district attorney returned to Grant's Pass they were a sorry sight. Jasper Jennings, who is being tried for the murder of his father, passed through the ordeal without a sign of emotion. With the jury he was escorted to the cabin in which his father was murdered and went to the grave which holds the remains of his father. Through it all he passed like a man in a trance, and by no word or sign did he display the slightest indication of remorse or fear. His police was remarkable, and if the taking of Jasper Jennings to the scene of the crime was a shock and killed was done for the purpose of breaking him down it failed of its purpose.

San Francisco Attorney Removes Old Indictment Against Himself.

ABERDEEN, Wash., Jan. 12.—(Special.)—F. E. Wall, an attorney of San Francisco, who is here on a visit, went to Montezano today and had an indictment of long standing against himself quashed. Years ago Mr. Wall and other residents passed a local Chinese exclusion law and all Chinese in this city were forced to leave. He was arrested with others who had entered Chinese places and charged with burglary.

When the indictments were later on annulled the Wall and others were overlooked and he has been under the ban ever since.

Ruling Affects Fishermen.

ASTORIA, Ore., Jan. 12.—(Special.)—In response to a request from County Clerk Clinton, District Attorney Allen has rendered an opinion which he holds binds an alien minor so that he declare his intention of becoming a citizen. So far as the electric franchise is concerned, the ruling is of course, of no consequence, as a minor cannot vote.

The laws of Oregon and Washington provide, however, that applicants for fishing licenses must be citizens of the states, and the rules governing Government work are that all employees must either be citizens of the country or have declared their intention of becoming such. Thus many minors who have desired to follow these vocations have been confronted with a serious obstacle, which the ruling of District Attorney Allen will remove.

NEAR TO CENTURY MARK

MRS. JULIA S. SMITH DIES AT ADVANCED AGE.

Members of Her Family Took Part in All of This County's Big Wars.

KETTLE FALLS, Wash., Jan. 12.—(Special.)—After a life that spanned almost a century, with members of her family connected with all three of the great wars of the country, Mrs. Julia Smith died here Wednesday at the home of her son, Harvey, aged nearly 98 years.

She was born near Pittsburgh, Pa., in 1808. She was married in 1830, to Byron T. Smith and moved from Ohio to Minnesota in 1857. When six weeks old her parents carried her on horseback to Knox County, Ohio. During the journey from Pennsylvania, in crossing the swollen streams, the current was so strong at one place the horse became unmanageable and was carried rapidly down stream, when an Indian dashed into the stream and swam to the shore. He saved the life of the mother and child.

Mrs. Smith's grandfather was a soldier in the Revolutionary War; her father was a soldier in the War of 1812. When he was 7 years old he was taken prisoner by the Indians and held captive for seven years. When released he could not speak a word of English. He was an aid-de-camp on General Wayne's staff. Her husband was in the Civil War as Lieutenant-colonel in the Third Minnesota Volunteers. He was also a State Senator in Ohio and Minnesota.

FALL STEALS HIS MIND.

Prominent Business Man Becomes Maniac From Blow on Head.

THE DALLES, Ore., Jan. 12.—(Special.)—M. D. Ferrington, a prominent farmer, Postmaster and proprietor of the store at Wrentham, on the line of the Great Southern Railroad, 12 miles southeast of The Dalles, is a raving maniac, having gone insane last night. Doctors here were summoned this morning, and this afternoon Mr. Ferrington was reported as resting comfortably, but his mind is a blank. About two weeks ago he fell from a telegraph pole and sustained a severe shock that is supposed to have affected his mind. Mr. Ferrington has resided in Wasco County 20 years, and has been a successful business man. He is about 40 years of age, and has a wife.

FAMILY IS HELD FOR MURDER

Mother and Two Sons Arrusted in Montana.

PHILIPSBURG, Mont., Jan. 12.—(Special.)—Ed and Bob Franz and their mother have been arrested charged with the murder of George Reed, a woodchopper, at Philipsburg. Last summer the long absence of George Reed, a woodchopper, caused a search to be instituted, and his body was found in a shallow grave in the vicinity of the Franz ranch, where Reed had his cabin. A large tree had been felled so that, in falling, the branches covered the grave.

The arrest was based upon the fact that Ed Franz, while on a spree, confessed to the murder, and also admitted the killing of a man named Pogras, who mysteriously disappeared from Philipsburg about five years ago.

Sullivan, the Denver Attorney, Is Civil Lawyer and Will Not Take Criminal Case.

BOISE, Idaho, Jan. 12.—(Special.)—James McParlan, the Pinkerton manager from Denver, makes an interesting statement respecting J. J. Sullivan, the Denver attorney who stopped to see Harry Orchard at Caldwell. Sullivan had his own alibi, and was not a criminal lawyer, but has a large civil business attending to the interest of a number of prominent Colorado mining men in Nevada. Sullivan was a graduate of Harvard. When he settled in Denver he was given a position in the office of Wolcott & Valle, and afterward set up for himself.

JOHN DAY, Ore., Jan. 12.—(Special.)—A. G. Ankeny, a sort of traveling barber, poolplayer, ex-base-baller and all around sport, was arrested in Canyon, Ore., a few days ago and returned to Canyon, Ore., charged with obtaining board and lodging with intent to defraud. The complaint was sworn by Sam Bauer, proprietor of the Elkhorn Hotel in Canyon, Ore., and this is the first case in Grant County arising under the new law making such attempts a felony. Ankeny was afoot and on his way to the city when he was apprehended and returned to answer for his conduct. Take of Situla Hatchery.

ASTORIA, Ore., Jan. 12.—(Special.)—A letter was received by Fish Warden Van Dusen today from Superintendent Siemens of the Situla River hatchery. The letter states that the new hatchery, put in last summer, has withstood the frosts. The hatchery has secured 2,000,000 chinook eggs, 2,000,000 silver side eggs, and has excellent prospects of securing nearly as many more of the latter variety.

PATROLMAN BURKE GOES

Since His Removal Not an Arrest Has Been Made by the Police Department of a Fan-tan-Player.

CAPTAIN BRUIN AND CHINATOWN

Month of November, Patrolman E. Burke arrested 23 Chinese and brought them before Municipal Judge Cameron for trial.

Month of December, Patrolman Burke brought in 11 Chinese.

January 1, "for the good of the service," Captain Bruin took Patrolman Burke to Chinatown beat, and transferred him to Union Street.

January 1, "for the good of the service," Patrolman Heston was placed on Chinatown beat.

Number of arrests in Chinatown since January 1, none.

Patrolman Heston, the latter part of December, assisted Sheriff Word in a raid on a Chinese "joint."

About the same date Captain Bruin is said to have made three raids on a Chinese gambling place.

Dan Wagon, ex-gambler, is Mayor Lane's Chinatown "special."

Boycott Gives Sound Shells

Small Cargoes.

Great Decrease in Oriental Tonnage Is Noted by Tacoma and Seattle Millers.

TACOMA, Wash., Jan. 12.—(Special.)—Inquiry among millers and steamship men develops the fact that the Chinese boycott is now in full force and its effect is being generally felt along the Coast. Manufacturers of flour have been first to have their business curtailed. Owners of steamers plying to the Orient are affected because of the decreased shipments of flour, which heretofore has been one of the principal articles of export to China from Tacoma.

The past few months Chinese cargoes have been falling off rapidly and although some flour is still being exported, it is but a small fraction of the normal tonnage.

It is stated that the fact that Vladivostok alone has imported about 20,000 tons of flour from Puget Sound in the last five months, has furnished the millers with some business. Followwise, the weekly steamship tonnage heretofore has been one of the principal articles of export to China from Tacoma.

As an example of how the boycott is affecting the business of freighters plying to the Orient, it is stated that the White Funnel agent of Onan, which will be here next week, will have but 750 tons of flour for China, whereas at this time of year the normal shipment would have been about 7,500 tons.

Without Outside Guards.

THIS merchant is at a loss to understand how to reconcile Captain Bruin's threats with his actions as inspector of the police. The Chinese know when a policeman intends to enforce the laws against gambling as best he can, and they fear him. At present many of the gambling joints in the district are running without outside guards.

When Captain Bruin was appointed to his present position, a high officer of the police department predicted that Bruin would take special interest in Chinatown, and declared his belief that Captain Bruin would sooner or later be shifted because of his activity there and a patrolman put in place who had a "better understanding."

It appears significant that with Bruin in full control of the placing of patrolmen, all actions as special officer, with the detectives under Bruin's direction and with gambling running full blast in Chinatown, not one arrest has been made there since January 1.

WISDOM IN CHARITY.

WORKERS SHOULD HAVE CLOSER CO-OPERATION FOR BEST RESULTS.

PORTLAND, Jan. 12.—(To the Editor.)—A sad case of destitution has recently come to the notice of the charity organizations, which proves the need of closer co-operation among these bodies of Portland.

Investigation at the County Relief office and at the City Board of Charities reveals the following typical case:

The spring of 1906 a Greek carpenter, whom we shall call Smith, was sent to the office of the City Board of Charities. With his wife and three children he had been found at the Colton Station. He had no money and without friends. Provision was made for the family until transportation was secured to send them to Astoria. Nothing was heard from them until in August, 1905, when they returned to Portland—the wife ill, four children, no money, nothing with which to establish themselves. Again investigation and again a wretched state of affairs—a shack in South Portland, miserable surroundings, the mother in a delicate condition, the father with a broken arm, and four children to provide for. Clothing everywhere on the floor, on the beds, on lines stretched across the room, everywhere evidence of helplessness and incompetence. The Salvation Army had brought in food, the neighbors had done their share, the public school had helped, the neighborhood church had sent in supplies, each without any knowledge that help was being obtained from another source. The City Board of Charities' visitor tried to induce the man and his wife to go to the hospital, assuring them that the children would be taken care of, but without success.

The necessary aid was given. The next report came from a teacher in the public school, who was considerably wrought up over the deplorable condition, but who, for the most part, was unable to call upon the City Board instead of applying her aid direct.

It will be necessary to take care of the family until the man is able to work, which, on account of other obligations, will be impossible for a long time to come. It is therefore necessary that the aid be applied directly in the home.

It has been the experience, both of the county officials and of the City Board of Charities, that when relief is given indiscriminately, it is often misapplied—there is too much of one kind, and not enough of another—a feast one day and a famine the next. To be adequate, aid must be intelligently distributed, and it is the object of the general public needs education. With this end in view, all those who are interested in this family have been asked to give their relief through the City Board of Charities—a friendly visitor has been placed in charge of the case, and for the sake of PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 12.—Acting upon the instructions of Judge Allen, the jury today acquitted John W. Hill, former Chief of the Filtration Bureau, who was on trial charged with forgery and falsification of records of his bureau for the benefit of a firm of contractors.

Hill shed tears of joy as his son Henry clasped him in a close embrace. For an hour Hill was the center of a struggling throng of police and sheriff's men, and offer congratulations on his vindication.

In addressing the jury when court opened today, Judge Anderson said that he did not know of any other case in which manhood must prove itself to be defrauded.

There was no suppression of material facts by Mr. Hill in his recommendations to the Director of Public Works for changes in the specifications. The Commonwealth had not proved its charges of forgery and falsification of records, and there was nothing to do but acquit the defendant.
