this case, and I would advise the reward hunters to get busy on some other trail." At the close of the proceedings yesterday one of the attorneys for the prosecution stated: "There is no question in my mind but we have evidence enough to insure that the prisoner will be bound over and the most important evidence of all in the case will probably not be used in the preliminary."

MILLER IS VERY SANGUINE

Orchard's Attorney Says Reward Has Made Officers Overzealous.

BOISE, Idaho, Jan. 14.—(Special.)—Fred Miller, attorney for Harry Orchard, accused of the murder of ex-Governor Steunenberg, will not admit that his chances for clearing the prisoner are rosy. Today he made the following strong statements:

The preliminary examination so far has tended to strengthen my belief that the evidence against Orchard is exceedingly flimsy. The great reward offered for the conviction of the man who murdered ex-Governor Steunenberg has made officers in the case overzealous. I have a suspicion, which I hope to verify, that some exhibits introduced yesterday were manufactured evidence. Orchard is not guilty of this crime and I don't think it will be a very difficult task to prove his innocence. I will state frankly that I would not defend the man if I believed him guilty. I don't intend to introduce any evidence for my side of the case during the preliminary, but I will have some surprises in store for the prosecutors when the actual trial begins. The detectives have backed up the wrong tree on

BARDOWIE ALSO OVERDUE

Cargo Ship From Hamburg Left for the Pacific Coast Nearly a Year Ago and Is Still on en Route List.

Several Vessels Give Stevedores Employment on Day of Rest.

There was very little holiday aspect about the mill wharves yesterday, for several vessels, being in a hurry to get away, worked cargoes. At the Portland Mills, the steamer Nome City kept a gang busy, and down at the North Pacific Mills another gang hurried lumber on board of the ship Bithowen. Two gangs loaded lumber from barges on board the steamer Tottenham, at the Dolphin's. A number of vessels are to commence loading soon, and the mills are anxious to have clear berths for them as soon as possible.

The British ship Clackmannanshire will be up from Astoria in a few days to load for Port Pirie, Australia, and the steamer Ellerie is due Tuesday to load a large cargo for the same continent.

SEASIDE OFFICERS ARE NAMED

Rumor Says First Link of Electric Chain Is Formed.

SEASIDE, Or., Jan. 14.—(Special.)—At a regular meeting of the City Council of Seaside, R. M. Watson was appointed City Recorder and Police Judge, vice E. J. Alcaraz, resigned. Mayor Johnson appointed the standing committee for the ensuing year, and appointed Frank Spittle, of Astoria, City Attorney for the year ending January 5, 1907.

The Mayor's message suggested many desirable features, which, if followed out, will add materially to the welfare of Seaside, and make it, if possible, a more prosperous and pleasant resort for tourists and pleasure-seekers than heretofore.

It is understood that W. L. Dudley, who was granted an electric-lighting contract for the city, is acting for one of the transcontinental railroads, and it is supposed that this is the first link in an electrical chain to be extended through the Nehalem and Tillamook countries, then along the western coast of Oregon, finally connecting Seaside and San Francisco.

Mr. Dudley is also interested in the ochre mines located on the Necanicum, about four miles above Seaside. These mines promise to be of great value, yielding a fine quality of ochre and an excellent quality of fire-clay, besides a stone which bears a close resemblance to the diamond. Mr. Dudley has had two of them cut and mounted in stickpins, and the scintillations from them under a rainbow light are as many-hued as the rainbow itself.

The Seaside Spruce Lumber Company has made some material changes in the personnel of its foremen. Mr. Crumley, who has been logging foreman for a number of years, has been superseded by Albert Johnson, an expert logger.

The company has three logging camps in active operation at present, and the Necanicum is full of logs, some of them so large that they have to be blasted in the boom before they can be handled in the mill.

The company has three plants in active operation at present, having a sawmill with a capacity of 600 feet per hour. The saw factory and drying-houses adjoin, while 100 yards away the new door factory presents a busy scene from the 7 o'clock whistle in the morning until 6 in the evening. The payroll for the month of December aggregated $10,000, and the greater part of this is expended in Seaside.
