HIS EXCUSE IS DUAL PERSONALITY

Bissell Thomas Declares He Is Not Altogether Accountable.

TRIED FOR PASSING CHECK

Asserts That He Is Afflicted With a Mental Malady That at Times Makes Him Irresponsible for His Acts.

During an examination yesterday before Drs. W. A. Williamson and E. D. Johnson, insanity experts, and County Judge Lionel R. Webster, Bissell Thomas, a lawyer, confined in the County July to answer to a charge of passing a forged draft, told a remarkable story, the effect of which was that because of an aliment from which he suffers he possesses a dual personality, and becomes lost to his real self for days or weeks at a time. He personality, and becomes lost to his real self for days or weeks at a time. He said he only remembered what occurred in these periods in a vague, dreamy way, and many events were a perfect blank. Bissell Thomas is 26 years old, of me-dium height and build, dark mustache and eyes and partly bald. He is well dressed and is very intelligent, and in as discus-vices with Judge Webster concerning his and is very mediagent, and it has assua-sion with Judge Webster concerning his experience in the legal profession con-veyed the impression of one well versed in law. His father, Charles W. Thomas, is a well-known corporation attorney at Belleville, Ill., and according to state-ports of according to statements of acquaintances here, his grand father on his mother's side was once Gov-Bissell Thomas came here from Belle was afflicted with one of his spells when he started on the journey. He said he was a Lieutenant in the United States Army in the Philippines from 1850 to 1901. and for a considerable length of time was and for a considerable reagin of this was Provious Marshal at Bulucan, where the work was very hard, and he endured many hardships in campaigns. He suffered with a bad attack of entertitis, and was threatened with cerebro-spinal men-

His Strange Spells.

From this time on, at intervals, these strange spells came over him, beginning with extreme depression and insomnia. A black cloud seemed to envelop him which he could not dispel. He said when in nor-mal condition he did not drink, because even one drink of whisky had a serious effect upon his health, but friends told him he drank during these attacks. He said he came to Portland because he liked ate, having enlisted at Vancou-

Upon his arrival he introduced himself to W. W. Cotton, attorney for the O. R. & N. Co., and made his headquarters at his offices, offering to make himself use ful and asking only to be given a chancif an addition to the force was required. Thomas stated that he went there be cause he was familiar with corporation law. He had no letters, and merely prened upon the free masonry existing etween members of the bar. He paid his expenses by drawing on his father for $500 in various amounts. Thomas was arrested on December 5, 1965, for drawing a druft for $50 on his father care of the St. Louis Trust Company. He indersed upon it the name of Henry F. Conner, one of the O. R. & N. Co's at-Dora, and from that time on until the torneys, and cashed it at the cigar stand were dismissed the vote remained ut of A. Tozier, on Morrison street. He said he had no recollection of the affair, as it was done in one of his afflicted periods, Judge Hanna asked him if he had any-practiced law with his father for a long time prior to going to the Philippines, and for a short time after his return in 1902, and his father owed him in unset-tied accounts $10,000 to $15,000. His father he said, mixed parental duties with busi ness, and acted queer with him in finan-cial matters. His father would have paid the draft if he had known he had drawn the money upon it. Previous drafts he sent on for collection, he asserted.

His Trip to Phoenix.

Mr. Thomas further told of a trip to Phoenix, Ariz., where he incurred the ill will of the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe Rallroad Company for prosecuting tax cases against the company. He told of the practice of the company in incor-porating branch lines independent of the main company to evade the interstate commerce law and of getting the Arlson Legislature to pass laws exempting the branch lines from taxation, which was contrary to the organic law of the territory. The company, he said, readily heat him in the district and Supreme Court of the territory. the territory, but his right to appeal to the United States Supreme Court was not yet exhausted. Some one, he said, took a shot at him one night in the tough district in Phoenix, for which he blamed the company's hirelings. He explained that fighting such a case in Arizona was not like doing so in New York or Connecti-

P. W. Manning testified to having met Thomas in San Francisco in 1861, after his return from the Philippines. Thomas was in distress, and he assisted him and obtained a position for him selling soap, and afterwards with the Mutual Life In-surance Company. Mr. Manning told of surance Company. Mr. Manning told of going away on a trip, and when he re-turned found that he did not have a col-lar left; everything had been taken from his room by Thomas. He learned that Thomas had been drinking, and cut his acquaintance. Thomas, the witness said, was afterwards pensioned by his parents at Pale Alto. The eventualities by Thomas at Palo Alto. The explanation by Thomas of this was that he was teaching tactics in a boys' military academy for a

Mr. Manning told of meeting Thomas in Portland, and of his strange actions, and The evidence concerning the drinking leads to the inference that the peculiar spells and lapses of memory may be only periodical sprees. J. A. Lee appeared as attorney for Thomas.
