

CITY NEWS IN BRIEF

THE OREGONIAN TELEPHONE.
Circulating Room Main 7970
Manager's Office Main 7970

AMUSEMENTS.
BAKER THEATER (4th and Yamhill)—
Miser's "American" Tonight at 8:15.

EQUAL SUFFRAGE MEETING—Tuesday evening Grange Hall at Oswego was filled with a representative audience interested in the Equal Suffrage amendment.

CHILDREN WANT HOMES.—The Boy and Girl's Aid Society, which has 46 children in its Receiving Home, is seeking permanent homes for these children in private homes.

CHAMINADE CLUB RECITAL.—The recital to be given by the Chaminaide Club of Vancouver, under the direction of Mrs. Fred L. Olsen of Portland, at the Presbyterian Church, Vancouver, tomorrow night, is looked forward to with considerable pleasure by music-lovers of the Washington club.

ART BUILDING HOUSE.—On and after February 1 the Art Building, Fifth and Taylor streets, will be open daily from 9 A. M. to 5 P. M., during the short days of the winter.

RECEPTION TO DR. SWEET.—A reception of welcome will be given Rev. Elnathan Sweet, the new assistant pastor of the First Baptist Church, at the White Temple this evening. It will be held at the close of a brief prayer-meeting, and will be a good opportunity for the many members to meet Dr. Sweet's new associate, who is a young pastor from Brockport, N. Y.

FUNERAL OF PETERSON HENDERSON.—The funeral of Peterson Henderson was held yesterday afternoon, at the Masonic Temple, 301 A. F. & A. M., had general character and performed the last rites of the Masonic Order.

HOUSE PROPERTY SECURED.—According to his promise, M. L. Holbrook has purchased the O'Brien property at the intersection of Philadelphia and Burlington streets, St. John, for $3500, which he will hold in trust for the city. He has given a bond to insure the city against its preparation to receive it at the purchase price. The city pays Mr. Holbrook $1500 out of this year's taxation. It now remains for the city to do its part.

ANNIVERSARY TO BE CELEBRATED.—The 6th anniversary of the founding of the Cumberland Presbyterian Church will be observed tomorrow evening at the main room of the First Cumberland Presbyterian Church, East Twelfth and East Taylor streets. Rev. and Mrs. E. Nelson Allen will receive the members and invited guests in honor of this birthday, which will be the last in the history of the Cumberland Presbyterian Church.

HOURS TRAINING ASSOCIATION.—Mrs. C. M. Wood will address the Home Training Association this afternoon at the regular meeting in the committee room of the City Hall, her subject being "When Does a Mother's Influence Begin?" Mrs. Wood was the first president of the association, and her paper is looked forward to with much interest. The meeting is at 3 o'clock.

PHYSICIAN GETS JUDGMENT.—Dr. Fred Gullette was awarded a $5 judgment in Justice Reid's court yesterday morning in a suit for professional services rendered the wife of Alberto De Caprio, leader of the De Caprio band during the Lewis and Clark Exposition. Gullette attended the wife of the bandmaster during a slight illness over two years ago.

TAKEN OATH TODAY.—C. J. Reed, United States Marshal, will take the oath of office this morning. United States District Attorney Bristol will make a brief introduction and then the oath will be administered by Judge Wolcott.

STEAMER "CASCADE" SAILS FRIDAY, February 2, for San Francisco, cabin $12; steerage $1. Los Angeles, cabin, $15.50; steerage, $1.50. Oak-street dock. Phone Main 2560. Or Thompson's Ticket Agency, 123 Third street.

WANTS HIS COMMISSION.—J. Olsen has begun suit in the East Side Court to recover $200 from Joseph Paquet, which he alleges is due for finding a purchaser for block #1, in East Portland.

STAMEN "CASCADE" SAILS FRIDAY, February 2, for San Francisco, cabin $12; steerage $1. Los Angeles, cabin, $15.50; steerage, $1.50. Oak-street dock. Phone Main 2560. Or Thompson's Ticket Agency, 123 Third street.

CARNATIONS, lilies and elegant floral pieces reasonable. Burkhardt, 111 Glessan. * * * * * Woodcock, the fruitman, 406 Washington. Dr. MARSHALL has returned Marquam.

POINTS OUT THE PATH TO BEAUTY

Professor Crislon Lectures to Women Only, and Packs Marquam Theater.

STANDING ROOM ONLY

Proves Himself an Artist in Handling Both the Sex and His Subject—Ugliness Is a Sin, He Says.

"For ladies only" and "admission free" proved magic words to feminine Portland yesterday, and the immense throng of women who tested the standing-room-only capacity of the Marquam Theater to hear Professor Crislon, of Paris, lecture on "Beauty and Facial Blemishes," seemed to indicate that something was wrong with the mother sense, but on the other hand, it seemed to have a "bunch" that they needed general renovation, and they filed into the Marquam in squads to hear the points which the professor gave "free for ladies only."

The orchestra circle was filled a few minutes after the doors were opened, then the balcony, the boxes and even the democratic gallery overflowed with women eager to be beautiful according to the Crislon method. Some of them did look as though a bit of judicious retouching might help them, but on the whole the grim necessity of a beauty reform did not seem to be that way, and he handed them some rather warm instructions.

The professor is an artist. There are many kinds of artists, to be true, but the man who can keep 300 women quiet an hour and a half telling them what he is going to tell them the next day for 30 cents is without doubt an artist of the 33d degree. But then he has "such a way" his head, that he is generally greeted in his appearance in the point of his goatee, in the language of his eyebrows and in his inimitable gestures, and has besides a keen wit and an eloquent tongue.

His Bible tells him that women were made for men to admire, and that it is their duty to make themselves as attractive personally as possible, to fulfill that holy mission.

God's Most Sacred Temples.

"Our bodies are temples of God, and a woman's in the most sacred temple ever emanated from his hands. When she begins to neglect her personality she is losing interest in her soul."

This and the description of the beautiful goddesses of ancient times were caustic and interesting, and the audience listened attentively, hoping that he would soon get down to removing blackheads, plugging their necks and making fat women slim. But before he got right down to business he gave them a few decided jars. At some of them the women looked straight in front—painfully unconscious. At others there were surreptitious glances to the right and left, and then sudden stiffening of numerous backbones. Somehow he seemed to hit the nail on the head in so many instances.

"There is not a man living who really loves a homely woman!"

"When a woman ceases to be attractive the reins have slipped out of her hands—she has lost control."

"There wasn't even a pinfall after that."

"Can a man be genuinely affectionate toward a woman who is unattractive?"

"Can a man love a woman with se thin, gray hair? No!"

"Can a man love a woman with se bones—here? No!"

"Can he love her with se dab of paint on her cheek? No! No! No! No!"

Professor Crislon took particular pains to explain that French women do not use the powders, creams, paints and cosmetics which they are supposed to use, and he declares they are by Americans.

Cosmetics Not Needed.

Simple cleanliness and health are all that are necessary to real beauty, he claims, and he maintains that the woman who does not appear at her best, whether before husband, father, brother or sweet-heart, has not done her duty. Beauty is to be at her best is to look young, as well as beautiful.

"Don't you know, girls," he said, "that a woman is only as young as she looks?" In illustration of this, he related the case of a woman whom he claimed to be 35 years old, and to have been reduced in weight from 200 pounds to 100. She produced a sensation, for she was of youthful appearance and figure.

The tissue-paper neck—so-called by the Professor because of its many wrinkles—was the subject of much ridicule by him, and he promises to tell this afternoon how to make plump cheeks, how to get rid of superfluous hair; how to turn yellow skin into rosy cheeks without skinning the face; how to rid the scalp of dandruff and the skin of freckles, moles or warts; how to fill out thin collarbones and hollow chests; to efface the much-despised double chin, wrinkles, crow's-feet, "and how to feed se purpulence of se nose."

In addition to these the professor will tell the audience how to fill up deep pits and how to develop or reduce bust. He can also tell how to make the lean fat and the fat lean, and even perform the miracle of increasing one's height.

At the conclusion of the lecture there was a grand rush for the box-office, and it took three windows to supply the demand. The grand-ops crush was not to be compared with it, and if within the next ten days—the time which Professor Crislon says it takes for his prescriptions to do their work of reconstruction—there is an epidemic of dazzling beauty in Portland, those who failed to get seats must remember that they are not in the Grand Opera, but in the Marquam. Professor Crislon has been to town "free and for ladies only."

It was "free" and "for ladies only."

POINTS OUT THE PATH TO BEAUTY

STANDING ROOM ONLY

Proves Himself an Artist in Handling Both the Sex and His Subject—Ugliness Is a Sin, He Says.

"For ladies only" and "admission free" proved magic words to feminine Portland yesterday, and the immense throng of women who tested the standing-room-only capacity of the Marquam Theater to hear Professor Crislon, of Paris, lecture on "Beauty and Facial Blemishes," seemed to indicate that something was wrong with the mother sense, but on the other hand, it seemed to have a "bunch" that they needed general renovation, and they filed into the Marquam in squads to hear the points which the professor gave "free for ladies only."

The orchestra circle was filled a few minutes after the doors were opened, then the balcony, the boxes and even the democratic gallery overflowed with women eager to be beautiful according to the Crislon method. Some of them did look as though a bit of judicious retouching might help them, but on the whole the grim necessity of a beauty reform did not seem to be that way, and he handed them some rather warm instructions.

The professor is an artist. There are many kinds of artists, to be true, but the man who can keep 300 women quiet an hour and a half telling them what he is going to tell them the next day for 30 cents is without doubt an artist of the 33d degree. But then he has "such a way" his head, that he is generally greeted in his appearance in the point of his goatee, in the language of his eyebrows and in his inimitable gestures, and has besides a keen wit and an eloquent tongue.

His Bible tells him that women were made for men to admire, and that it is their duty to make themselves as attractive personally as possible, to fulfill that holy mission.

God's Most Sacred Temples.

"Our bodies are temples of God, and a woman's in the most sacred temple ever emanated from his hands. When she begins to neglect her personality she is losing interest in her soul."

This and the description of the beautiful goddesses of ancient times were caustic and interesting, and the audience listened attentively, hoping that he would soon get down to removing blackheads, plugging their necks and making fat women slim. But before he got right down to business he gave them a few decided jars. At some of them the women looked straight in front—painfully unconscious. At others there were surreptitious glances to the right and left, and then sudden stiffening of numerous backbones. Somehow he seemed to hit the nail on the head in so many instances.

"There is not a man living who really loves a homely woman!"

"When a woman ceases to be attractive the reins have slipped out of her hands—she has lost control."

"There wasn't even a pinfall after that."

"Can a man be genuinely affectionate toward a woman who is unattractive?"

"Can a man love a woman with se thin, gray hair? No!"

"Can a man love a woman with se bones—here? No!"

"Can he love her with se dab of paint on her cheek? No! No! No! No!"

Professor Crislon took particular pains to explain that French women do not use the powders, creams, paints and cosmetics which they are supposed to use, and he declares they are by Americans.

Cosmetics Not Needed.

Simple cleanliness and health are all that are necessary to real beauty, he claims, and he maintains that the woman who does not appear at her best, whether before husband, father, brother or sweet-heart, has not done her duty. Beauty is to be at her best is to look young, as well as beautiful.

"Don't you know, girls," he said, "that a woman is only as young as she looks?" In illustration of this, he related the case of a woman whom he claimed to be 35 years old, and to have been reduced in weight from 200 pounds to 100. She produced a sensation, for she was of youthful appearance and figure.

The tissue-paper neck—so-called by the Professor because of its many wrinkles—was the subject of much ridicule by him, and he promises to tell this afternoon how to make plump cheeks, how to get rid of superfluous hair; how to turn yellow skin into rosy cheeks without skinning the face; how to rid the scalp of dandruff and the skin of freckles, moles or warts; how to fill out thin collarbones and hollow chests; to efface the much-despised double chin, wrinkles, crow's-feet, "and how to feed se purpulence of se nose."

In addition to these the professor will tell the audience how to fill up deep pits and how to develop or reduce bust. He can also tell how to make the lean fat and the fat lean, and even perform the miracle of increasing one's height.

At the conclusion of the lecture there was a grand rush for the box-office, and it took three windows to supply the demand. The grand-ops crush was not to be compared with it, and if within the next ten days—the time which Professor Crislon says it takes for his prescriptions to do their work of reconstruction—there is an epidemic of dazzling beauty in Portland, those who failed to get seats must remember that they are not in the Grand Opera, but in the Marquam. Professor Crislon has been to town "free and for ladies only."

WILL ENTER PRIESTHOOD

J. M. O'Farrell, Well Known Here, to Be Ordained.

Members of Local Lodge, A. O. H., Will Attend the First Mass of New Priest Sunday.

J. M. O'Farrell, a well-known young man of this city, and a member of District No. 1 of the local lodge, Ancient Order of Hibernians, is to be ordained into the priesthood of the Roman Catholic church by his grace, the Most Reverend Archbishop Alexander Christie, at St. Mary's Cathedral, Saturday, and will celebrate his first mass at the Cathedral Sunday morning at 11 o'clock. The members of the local lodge to be ordained are: J. M. O'Farrell, who will be ordained Saturday.

Coleman has been president of the university for four years.

At the meeting last night, at which both Dr. and Mrs. Kimball were present, the former was elected dean of the college of theology. Dr. Kimball made a short but appropriate address, and several of the board of trustees made brief responses. The meeting ended by all joining and singing the doxology.

A committee composed of Dr. Kimball, Dr. B. F. Rowland, T. S. McDaniell, C. P. Bishop, J. O. Goltra, President A. M. Smith and the board of trustees and President Coleman, will go over the campus of the university next Sunday to select a site for the new structure.

He then quietly withdrew from the matter and left the credit for somebody else.

This is magnificent; but not unusual among these brave, generous, indefatigable, and heroic workers.

The presentation of the building is made unconditional, except that it be used for the purposes mentioned. When it is turned over to the board of trustees before the opening of the coming Fall term it will be experienced in seeing scholars as many young men go home to study who would remain nearer home if the opportunity offered.

President J. H. Coleman, of the University, is a dear and intimate friend of Dr. and Mrs. Kimball. President Coleman has always been a great enthusiast on the subject of the Willamette University adding a college of theology. Dr. and Mrs. Kimball, who are extremely generous with their money, their names having been identified with much charity and philanthropic work in Spokane and other cities in the Northwest, shared the enthusiasm of Dr. Coleman and decided to present the University with a splendid building for that purpose. Dr.

It will be the first Methodist Episcopal college of theology in the Pacific Northwest, and there are only three other colleges under this denomination in the United States. This makes the gift particularly acceptable to the board of trustees. It is thought that but little difficulty will be experienced in seeing scholars as many young men go home to study who would remain nearer home if the opportunity offered.

President J. H. Coleman, of the University, is a dear and intimate friend of Dr. and Mrs. Kimball. President Coleman has always been a great enthusiast on the subject of the Willamette University adding a college of theology. Dr. and Mrs. Kimball, who are extremely generous with their money, their names having been identified with much charity and philanthropic work in Spokane and other cities in the Northwest, shared the enthusiasm of Dr. Coleman and decided to present the University with a splendid building for that purpose. Dr.

It will be the first Methodist Episcopal college of theology in the Pacific Northwest, and there are only three other colleges under this denomination in the United States. This makes the gift particularly acceptable to the board of trustees. It is thought that but little difficulty will be experienced in seeing scholars as many young men go home to study who would remain nearer home if the opportunity offered.

President J. H. Coleman, of the University, is a dear and intimate friend of Dr. and Mrs. Kimball. President Coleman has always been a great enthusiast on the subject of the Willamette University adding a college of theology. Dr. and Mrs. Kimball, who are extremely generous with their money, their names having been identified with much charity and philanthropic work in Spokane and other cities in the Northwest, shared the enthusiasm of Dr. Coleman and decided to present the University with a splendid building for that purpose. Dr.

It will be the first Methodist Episcopal college of theology in the Pacific Northwest, and there are only three other colleges under this denomination in the United States. This makes the gift particularly acceptable to the board of trustees. It is thought that but little difficulty will be experienced in seeing scholars as many young men go home to study who would remain nearer home if the opportunity offered.

President J. H. Coleman, of the University, is a dear and intimate friend of Dr. and Mrs. Kimball. President Coleman has always been a great enthusiast on the subject of the Willamette University adding a college of theology. Dr. and Mrs. Kimball, who are extremely generous with their money, their names having been identified with much charity and philanthropic work in Spokane and other cities in the Northwest, shared the enthusiasm of Dr. Coleman and decided to present the University with a splendid building for that purpose. Dr.

It will be the first Methodist Episcopal college of theology in the Pacific Northwest, and there are only three other colleges under this denomination in the United States. This makes the gift particularly acceptable to the board of trustees. It is thought that but little difficulty will be experienced in seeing scholars as many young men go home to study who would remain nearer home if the opportunity offered.

President J. H. Coleman, of the University, is a dear and intimate friend of Dr. and Mrs. Kimball. President Coleman has always been a great enthusiast on the subject of the Willamette University adding a college of theology. Dr. and Mrs. Kimball, who are extremely generous with their money, their names having been identified with much charity and philanthropic work in Spokane and other cities in the Northwest, shared the enthusiasm of Dr. Coleman and decided to present the University with a splendid building for that purpose. Dr.

It will be the first Methodist Episcopal college of theology in the Pacific Northwest, and there are only three other colleges under this denomination in the United States. This makes the gift particularly acceptable to the board of trustees. It is thought that but little difficulty will be experienced in seeing scholars as many young men go home to study who would remain nearer home if the opportunity offered.

President J. H. Coleman, of the University, is a dear and intimate friend of Dr. and Mrs. Kimball. President Coleman has always been a great enthusiast on the subject of the Willamette University adding a college of theology. Dr. and Mrs. Kimball, who are extremely generous with their money, their names having been identified with much charity and philanthropic work in Spokane and other cities in the Northwest, shared the enthusiasm of Dr. Coleman and decided to present the University with a splendid building for that purpose. Dr.

It will be the first Methodist Episcopal college of theology in the Pacific Northwest, and there are only three other colleges under this denomination in the United States. This makes the gift particularly acceptable to the board of trustees. It is thought that but little difficulty will be experienced in seeing scholars as many young men go home to study who would remain nearer home if the opportunity offered.

President J. H. Coleman, of the University, is a dear and intimate friend of Dr. and Mrs. Kimball. President Coleman has always been a great enthusiast on the subject of the Willamette University adding a college of theology. Dr. and Mrs. Kimball, who are extremely generous with their money, their names having been identified with much charity and philanthropic work in Spokane and other cities in the Northwest, shared the enthusiasm of Dr. Coleman and decided to present the University with a splendid building for that purpose. Dr.

It will be the first Methodist Episcopal college of theology in the Pacific Northwest, and there are only three other colleges under this denomination in the United States. This makes the gift particularly acceptable to the board of trustees. It is thought that but little difficulty will be experienced in seeing scholars as many young men go home to study who would remain nearer home if the opportunity offered.

President J. H. Coleman, of the University, is a dear and intimate friend of Dr. and Mrs. Kimball. President Coleman has always been a great enthusiast on the subject of the Willamette University adding a college of theology. Dr. and Mrs. Kimball, who are extremely generous with their money, their names having been identified with much charity and philanthropic work in Spokane and other cities in the Northwest, shared the enthusiasm of Dr. Coleman and decided to present the University with a splendid building for that purpose. Dr.

It will be the first Methodist Episcopal college of theology in the Pacific Northwest, and there are only three other colleges under this denomination in the United States. This makes the gift particularly acceptable to the board of trustees. It is thought that but little difficulty will be experienced in seeing scholars as many young men go home to study who would remain nearer home if the opportunity offered.

President J. H. Coleman, of the University, is a dear and intimate friend of Dr. and Mrs. Kimball. President Coleman has always been a great enthusiast on the subject of the Willamette University adding a college of theology. Dr. and Mrs. Kimball, who are extremely generous with their money, their names having been identified with much charity and philanthropic work in Spokane and other cities in the Northwest, shared the enthusiasm of Dr. Coleman and decided to present the University with a splendid building for that purpose. Dr.

It will be the first Methodist Episcopal college of theology in the Pacific Northwest, and there are only three other colleges under this denomination in the United States. This makes the gift particularly acceptable to the board of trustees. It is thought that but little difficulty will be experienced in seeing scholars as many young men go home to study who would remain nearer home if the opportunity offered.

President J. H. Coleman, of the University, is a dear and intimate friend of Dr. and Mrs. Kimball. President Coleman has always been a great enthusiast on the subject of the Willamette University adding a college of theology. Dr. and Mrs. Kimball, who are extremely generous with their money, their names having been identified with much charity and philanthropic work in Spokane and other cities in the Northwest, shared the enthusiasm of Dr. Coleman and decided to present the University with a splendid building for that purpose. Dr.

It will be the first Methodist Episcopal college of theology in the Pacific Northwest, and there are only three other colleges under this denomination in the United States. This makes the gift particularly acceptable to the board of trustees. It is thought that but little difficulty will be experienced in seeing scholars as many young men go home to study who would remain nearer home if the opportunity offered.

President J. H. Coleman, of the University, is a dear and intimate friend of Dr. and Mrs. Kimball. President Coleman has always been a great enthusiast on the subject of the Willamette University adding a college of theology. Dr. and Mrs. Kimball, who are extremely generous with their money, their names having been identified with much charity and philanthropic work in Spokane and other cities in the Northwest, shared the enthusiasm of Dr. Coleman and decided to present the University with a splendid building for that purpose. Dr.

It will be the first Methodist Episcopal college of theology in the Pacific Northwest, and there are only three other colleges under this denomination in the United States. This makes the gift particularly acceptable to the board of trustees. It is thought that but little difficulty will be experienced in seeing scholars as many young men go home to study who would remain nearer home if the opportunity offered.

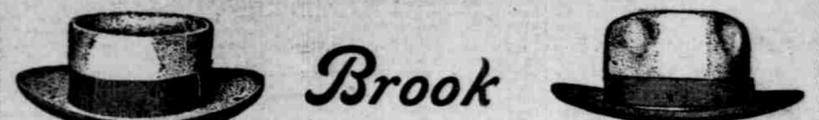

President J. H. Coleman, of the University, is a dear and intimate friend of Dr. and Mrs. Kimball. President Coleman has always been a great enthusiast on the subject of the Willamette University adding a college of theology. Dr. and Mrs. Kimball, who are extremely generous with their money, their names having been identified with much charity and philanthropic work in Spokane and other cities in the Northwest, shared the enthusiasm of Dr. Coleman and decided to present the University with a splendid building for that purpose. Dr.

It will be the first Methodist Episcopal college of theology in the Pacific Northwest, and there are only three other colleges under this denomination in the United States. This makes the gift particularly acceptable to the board of trustees. It is thought that but little difficulty will be experienced in seeing scholars as many young men go home to study who would remain nearer home if the opportunity offered.

President J. H. Coleman, of the University, is a dear and intimate friend of Dr. and Mrs. Kimball. President Coleman has always been a great enthusiast on the subject of the Willamette University adding a college of theology. Dr. and Mrs. Kimball, who are extremely generous with their money, their names having been identified with much charity and philanthropic work in Spokane and other cities in the Northwest, shared the enthusiasm of Dr. Coleman and decided to present the University with a splendid building for that purpose. Dr.

It will be the first Methodist Episcopal college of theology in the Pacific Northwest, and there are only three other colleges under this denomination in the United States. This makes the gift particularly acceptable to the board of trustees. It is thought that but little difficulty will be experienced in seeing scholars as many young men go home to study who would remain nearer home if the opportunity offered.

SPRING OPENING 1906

Brook Peer of All $3.00 Hats

Our Opening Display introduces all the most fashionable shapes and styles of the new season. We believe we are presenting, by far, the greatest assortment of both conservative shapes and novelties that will be shown in the city. Every hat must give entire satisfaction or we replace it with a new hat free of charge.

Youmans

As sole agents, we present a complete assortment in new shapes of the far-famed Youmans, in Silks, Operas, Derbys. These have the quality that assures satisfaction and style that has no equal. Every hat carefully fitted and shaped by expert hatmen.

A. P. Steinbach & Co. THE GREATEST CLOTHING HOUSE IN THE NORTHWEST

Coleman has been president of the university for four years.

At the meeting last night, at which both Dr. and Mrs. Kimball were present, the former was elected dean of the college of theology. Dr. Kimball made a short but appropriate address, and several of the board of trustees made brief responses. The meeting ended by all joining and singing the doxology.

A committee composed of Dr. Kimball, Dr. B. F. Rowland, T. S. McDaniell, C. P. Bishop, J. O. Goltra, President A. M. Smith and the board of trustees and President Coleman, will go over the campus of the university next Sunday to select a site for the new structure.

He then quietly withdrew from the matter and left the credit for somebody else.

This is magnificent; but not unusual among these brave, generous, indefatigable, and heroic workers.

The presentation of the building is made unconditional, except that it be used for the purposes mentioned. When it is turned over to the board of trustees before the opening of the coming Fall term it will be experienced in seeing scholars as many young men go home to study who would remain nearer home if the opportunity offered.

President J. H. Coleman, of the University, is a dear and intimate friend of Dr. and Mrs. Kimball. President Coleman has always been a great enthusiast on the subject of the Willamette University adding a college of theology. Dr. and Mrs. Kimball, who are extremely generous with their money, their names having been identified with much charity and philanthropic work in Spokane and other cities in the Northwest, shared the enthusiasm of Dr. Coleman and decided to present the University with a splendid building for that purpose. Dr.

It will be the first Methodist Episcopal college of theology in the Pacific Northwest, and there are only three other colleges under this denomination in the United States. This makes the gift particularly acceptable to the board of trustees. It is thought that but little difficulty will be experienced in seeing scholars as many young men go home to study who would remain nearer home if the opportunity offered.

President J. H. Coleman, of the University, is a dear and intimate friend of Dr. and Mrs. Kimball. President Coleman has always been a great enthusiast on the subject of the Willamette University adding a college of theology. Dr. and Mrs. Kimball, who are extremely generous with their money, their names having been identified with much charity and philanthropic work in Spokane and other cities in the Northwest, shared the enthusiasm of Dr. Coleman and decided to present the University with a splendid building for that purpose. Dr.

It will be the first Methodist Episcopal college of theology in the Pacific Northwest, and there are only three other colleges under this denomination in the United States. This makes the gift particularly acceptable to the board of trustees. It is thought that but little difficulty will be experienced in seeing scholars as many young men go home to study who would remain nearer home if the opportunity offered.

President J. H. Coleman, of the University, is a dear and intimate friend of Dr. and Mrs. Kimball. President Coleman has always been a great enthusiast on the subject of the Willamette University adding a college of theology. Dr. and Mrs. Kimball, who are extremely generous with their money, their names having been identified with much charity and philanthropic work in Spokane and other cities in the Northwest, shared the enthusiasm of Dr. Coleman and decided to present the University with a splendid building for that purpose. Dr.

It will be the first Methodist Episcopal college of theology in the Pacific Northwest, and there are only three other colleges under this denomination in the United States. This makes the gift particularly acceptable to the board of trustees. It is thought that but little difficulty will be experienced in seeing scholars as many young men go home to study who would remain nearer home if the opportunity offered.

President J. H. Coleman, of the University, is a dear and intimate friend of Dr. and Mrs. Kimball. President Coleman has always been a great enthusiast on the subject of the Willamette University adding a college of theology. Dr. and Mrs. Kimball, who are extremely generous with their money, their names having been identified with much charity and philanthropic work in Spokane and other cities in the Northwest, shared the enthusiasm of Dr. Coleman and decided to present the University with a splendid building for that purpose. Dr.

It will be the first Methodist Episcopal college of theology in the Pacific Northwest, and there are only three other colleges under this denomination in the United States. This makes the gift particularly acceptable to the board of trustees. It is thought that but little difficulty will be experienced in seeing scholars as many young men go home to study who would remain nearer home if the opportunity offered.

President J. H. Coleman, of the University, is a dear and intimate friend of Dr. and Mrs. Kimball. President Coleman has always been a great enthusiast on the subject of the Willamette University adding a college of theology. Dr. and Mrs. Kimball, who are extremely generous with their money, their names having been identified with much charity and philanthropic work in Spokane and other cities in the Northwest, shared the enthusiasm of Dr. Coleman and decided to present the University with a splendid building for that purpose. Dr.

It will be the first Methodist Episcopal college of theology in the Pacific Northwest, and there are only three other colleges under this denomination in the United States. This makes the gift particularly acceptable to the board of trustees. It is thought that but little difficulty will be experienced in seeing scholars as many young men go home to study who would remain nearer home if the opportunity offered.

President J. H. Coleman, of the University, is a dear and intimate friend of Dr. and Mrs. Kimball. President Coleman has always been a great enthusiast on the subject of the Willamette University adding a college of theology. Dr. and Mrs. Kimball, who are extremely generous with their money, their names having been identified with much charity and philanthropic work in Spokane and other cities in the Northwest, shared the enthusiasm of Dr. Coleman and decided to present the University with a splendid building for that purpose. Dr.

It will be the first Methodist Episcopal college of theology in the Pacific Northwest, and there are only three other colleges under this denomination in the United States. This makes the gift particularly acceptable to the board of trustees. It is thought that but little difficulty will be experienced in seeing scholars as many young men go home to study who would remain nearer home if the opportunity offered.

President J. H. Coleman, of the University, is a dear and intimate friend of Dr. and Mrs. Kimball. President Coleman has always been a great enthusiast on the subject of the Willamette University adding a college of theology. Dr. and Mrs. Kimball, who are extremely generous with their money, their names having been identified with much charity and philanthropic work in Spokane and other cities in the Northwest, shared the enthusiasm of Dr. Coleman and decided to present the University with a splendid building for that purpose. Dr.

It will be the first Methodist Episcopal college of theology in the Pacific Northwest, and there are only three other colleges under this denomination in the United States. This makes the gift particularly acceptable to the board of trustees. It is thought that but little difficulty will be experienced in seeing scholars as many young men go home to study who would remain nearer home if the opportunity offered.

President J. H. Coleman, of the University, is a dear and intimate friend of Dr. and Mrs. Kimball. President Coleman has always been a great enthusiast on the subject of the Willamette University adding a college of theology. Dr.