HE SELLS BEAUTY

Why Professor Felix Cristion Lectures.

CROWD GATHERS TO HEAR

Tells His Audience Where to Buy His Lotions and Then He Takes the First Train Out of Portland.

Professor Felix Cristion left Portland on the first train after his beauty lecture yesterday, again proving himself an artist. ensieur is a man of deep feminine understanding and evidently realizes that part of the women, like Lincoln's people, can be fooled all of the time, and all can be feeled part of the time-but all of them all of the time? Non! Non! Yet it rather looked that all of them were in rather looked that all of them were in for it yesterday when 1500 crowded the Marquam at 50 cents per, hungering for beauteousness and thirsting after phy-sical perfection. They began to gather as early at 2:00 o'clock and each of the 1500 brought her little pad and pencil, just as Monsieur had directed—"to take down some of my valuable formulae"

Big Primer Class.

The big primer class was called to order in due time and the suave teacher had them write down the hotel address and office hours of the woman who will re-main here to sell his wares. They all did as he bade them, even to putting the did as he bade them, even to putting the pade away after that and promising not to write any more. Many countenances were disappointed expressions, but no one presumed to question the Professor's authority, so the pencils disappeared. "I will give you these printed prescriptions as you leave the theater," he said. "but now I will tell you of them and how to use them."

to use them."

And he told-but somehow nearly all of them had to be purchased from Madame who remains to sell. Most of the fils the human flesh is heir to can be repaired with a wonderful oil which Professor goes his length on. It is made of an unpronis length on. It is made of an injuried mouniceable nut which grows in the Garden of Gethsemene or Palestine or somewhere in that neighborhood, and a small bottle at $2 is guaranteed to reconstruct the homliest female this side of Jericho. It must be rubbed on a certain way—"unst so." Monsiour demonstrated—and

"just so." Monsicur demonstrated—and the oil will do the rest.

Several who came early to avoid the rush improved the shining hours by doing a little sewing or embroidering, and one kindhearted creature just couldn't bear to leave Fido at home, so she brought the darling with her-and he didn't seem to care a snap about beauty culture either. It was noticeable, however, that while more than half of the audience were past middle age and evidently women of famne brought the baby along.

Old-Fashioned Receipts. .

emoved freckles with strawberry juice, of the several measures of this character removed freckles with strawberry juice, and some had heard that the saliva of a garden small would remove the detested mole, but that patient application of lime water, night after night, would efface the birthmark was a new one. Perhaps some of the celebrated surgeons of the country will appreciate that knowledge. Cdervinegar seemed simple for warts and been marrow fat is cheap enough for any woman to use in growing long and beautiful eyelashes—but the knowledge most craved by the 1500 cager came in bottle sonal appearance—again he admonishe them to be girls instead of old womento use his wonderful oil and grow either lean or fat, tall and beautiful. And just to show that there was no desire on the part of the management to take advan-tage of the girls, he refunded everyone present her ticket-not the money, but the tickets will count for 50 cents on your bill." Will they bite again? It's dollars to doughnuts that they will.

Woman Accuses Patrolman.

Patrolman William Nelson, attached to the second relief of police, stands suspended from duty, pending the investigation of charges, preferred against him by Mrs. Emilie Weiss, jiv-ing at East Nineteenth and Pacific streets. She alleges in her complaint, which was filed with Chief Gritz-macher, that the accused officer, while accompanying her home from head-quarters last Tuesday night, insulted her, felled her to the sidewalk, hugged one of the latest additions to the force, His badge was taken from him by Cap-tain Bailey yesterday morning, and the charges will be investigated this afternoon by the police committee.
