

HE EXONERATES MAYOR MASTERS

Dr. Brouger Pleased to Learn That Councilman Voted for Right.

TEMPLE NOT FOR SHEPHERD

Pastor Refuses to Allow Councilman to Make Reply in House of Worship to His Scathing Denunciation.

DR. BROUGHER AND COUNCIL- MAN MASTERS AGAIN.

Rev. J. Whitcomb Brouger last night made statements in effect, that he was operating Councilman Masters, and also declining to permit Councilman Shepherd to reply to his sermon of last Sunday evening from the pulpit of the White Temple.

Dr. Brouger likewise said that a biblical citation was an against view, and that the reform element proposed soon to institute a crusade having in view the closing of saloons on Sunday. He thinks after the moral tidal wave has swept the city it is time to adjust their compasses and find out the bearings of the Councilmen.

In an interview with a representative of The Oregonian last night, Rev. J. Whitcomb Brouger stated that the White Temple, practically exonerated Councilman W. Y. Masters from the scope of the accusations contained in his sermon last Sunday evening.

Dr. Brouger likewise gave out the interesting information that it is the intention of the reform element to begin a crusade in the near future having in view the closing of saloons on Sunday. For this and other enactments in the interest of the movement to purify the local atmosphere, Dr. Brouger says it will be necessary to have a "line-up" of the Councilmen to find out where they stand.

"The careful manner," said he, "always adjusts his compasses after a storm to find out where he stands. There is a reform storm brewing in Portland just now, and we are going to take our bearings pretty quick."

Discussing the attitude of the Councilmen on the box ordinance question, he continued:

"Owing to the miscarriage of justice in the Richards case at the Police Court, the universal feeling among the reform element of the city that the Mayor was being hampered at his efforts in law enforcement reached a climax. The Mayor had been elected as a reform Mayor. If he failed to enforce the laws we wanted to know why. If he were being hindered by a majority of the members of the City Council in his efforts at good government we wanted to know what was the reason in order to find out the true status of the situation and place the blame where it belonged. I went, with two other gentlemen, to visit the Mayor. We inquired of him how many men out of the 15 in the Council could be depended upon to support him in his efforts at law enforcement."

The Mayor's Three.

"He said three, and named them. He did not include Mr. Masters, but mentioned Mr. Shepherd as among the number. It is very evident that he was mistaken about Shepherd. His vote against revoking the liquor license at the Richards Hotel sets everybody know exactly where he stands. No one need have any doubt concerning him.

"When the Mayor, however, failed to mention Mr. Masters, we were all surprised, and suggested that he must be mistaken. He said if Masters would support him, he did not know it. I made further inquiry concerning the attitude of Mr. Masters toward the Mayor, and all to whom I spoke, agreed that he could not be depended upon to support the Mayor. All these men were upright and trustworthy gentlemen. I felt sure that they knew what they were talking about. They all know Mr. Masters well and some of them have been close observers of his actions at the meetings of the Council. I do not care to press these statements any further, only to show that I felt I had good reasons for leaving Mr. Masters' name in the list of those who were opposed to the Mayor's administration."

In Harmony on Moral Questions.

Some friends have tried to explain this difference of opinion on the ground that Mr. Masters voted in harmony with the Mayor's policy on every strictly moral question, but opposed him on propositions which he (Mr. Masters) considered purely political. Of course, some of us believe that these so-called "political questions" will affect, indirectly, the Mayor's efforts at law enforcement. However, this may be Mr. Masters' own view. On the other hand, the statement, showing that he has always voted in the interests of good government on the box ordinance and claiming that he has, in every other way, supported the Mayor in his efforts to give us a clean city. Those who read the editorial on "Dr. Brouger and Mr. Masters" in The Oregonian this morning might have thought that I was thrifing for blood and could not be satisfied until I should prove Masters a rascal. On the other hand, nothing could be further from my thought. Nothing could be more patriotic than to have every Councilman prove to the public that I have been mistaken in saying that any of them were opposed to a clean, moral city, every law strictly enforced. All that the preachers, as well as all others interested in good government, want to know, is exactly where each Councilman stands on this question. The Mayor has expressed his determination strictly to enforce every law, and give us a clean city. We propose to back him up in it. If he is hindered in his efforts in this direction, we intend to know, if possible, who does it.

Delighted to Exonerate Masters.

"In view, therefore, of the statement issued by Mr. Masters, I am delighted to exonerate him from the charge of being one of those who are opposed to the Mayor's policy of law enforcement, and good government, and to take his position in this matter. The preachers of the city will be delighted to count him among the champions of reform. Many of the members of the Municipal Association, who thought they had some grounds for doubting his arduous in this direction, will be cheered by this renewed assurance of his fidelity. Members of the board of directors of the Y. M. C. A. will be pleased to know that any suspicions concerning him in this direction were unfounded. Some of the official members of the Taylor-Street Methodist Episcopal Church will rejoice to know that he is "all right." His colleagues in the City Council will now know exactly where he stands, if any of them have had any doubts about his position in the past. The Mayor will now stand corrected, and be assured that he has one more loyal supporter in the Council than he thought he had. Personally, I am certainly pleased to learn that he has been true in the past and that he can be counted upon to stand by us in the great reform fight that is just ahead of us.

"All the reform forces in the city will hail this announcement with gladness. There are three men now upon whom we know as they stand. If we have been hindered in any of our charges against them, as we seem to have been against Mr. Masters, there will be glad to know it. It must be that there are others in a Council of 15 men, who are really desirous to know just the ones upon whom we may depend. We are 'from Missouri,' but will stand corrected just as fast as you 'show us.'

"It affords me no pleasure to condemn my fellowmen, but it gives me untold pleasure to commend them. If the members of the Council will give us good laws when needed, and assist the Mayor heartily, in seeing that they are strictly enforced, they will receive not only the commendation of the preachers, but of all good citizens who believe in good government and the protection of the home."

Refuses Temple to Shepherd.

Dr. Brouger last night sent the following reply to Councilman Shepherd, covering the latter's request for the use of the White Temple pulpit next Sunday evening:

George S. Shepherd, city—Dear sir: Your very courteous letter, in which you ask for the privilege of my pulpit to reply to the prelude of my sermon last Sunday night, has been received.

If the pulpit of the White Temple were the only place or medium through which you could reach the public, I would gladly comply with your request; but there are a number of public halls, including the Council Chamber, at your disposal, and the newspapers are willing to print anything you may say. I do not think it is any injustice to you for me to decline to grant you that privilege. My people expect me to be in my pulpit. They come to the White Temple Sunday nights to hear me. I have had a number of requests for the use of the White Temple pulpit to give their sermons. Your numerous quotations from Scripture lead me to believe that you are familiar with the words that the great shepherd "quest" before his sheep and they follow him, for they know his voice," and a stranger, who is only "shepherd" by name, "will they not follow," but will flee from him, for they know not the voice of strangers."

Moreover, we are told that the "shepherd," "whose own the sheep are not, when he seeth the wolf coming, leaveth the sheep and fleeth, and the wolf catcheth them and scattereth them." "He fleeth because he is a hireling and careth not for the sheep." I do not feel, therefore, that I ought to run the risk of having my flock scattered by turning it over to one who is not their shepherd. Scattered and frightened sheep would be hard to corral and I do not wish to be held responsible for being jack rabbits and not lambs, I might never be able to catch them.

Furthermore, since Dr. C. T. Wilson, Rev. A. J. Montgomery and other ministers have complimented you and the Council with remarks on your record, they might feel slighted if you spoke in the White Temple and in their churches. To reply to all these speeches in the various churches would require several Sunday nights and place upon you a burden that I fear would very much interfere with your regular practice as a lawyer and your multitudinous duties as a Councilman. I regret, therefore, that I cannot accept your offer to address my congregation at the White Temple next Sunday night.

Assuring you of my continued interest in your work as our representative in the Council, I remain, very truly yours,

J. WHITCOMB BROUGHER.

Councilman Masters' Statement.

Councilman W. Y. Masters, in discussing the various features of Dr. Brouger's sermon, last night gave out this statement:

"There is really not much to answer in the Dr. Brouger's sermon of last Sunday. The occasion called for facts, and the facts failed to materialize. The doctor stated in The Sunday Oregonian that he had been making a careful investigation, and that in the evening he would answer every charge contained in my letter to him, but I find in his alleged answer delivered Sunday evening only a few words which will show the closing up of the Toledo, El Rey and other places were about as I stated it, but he complains that they were not closed up until after the police raided them. This was as it should be. The police is the executive branch of the city government, and it is their duty to enforce the law and collect the evidence against law-breakers, and when they have done this, if the penalties inflicted by the Police Court do not correct the evil it is the duty of the license committee to act, and it has never failed to do so. Having in mind the doctor's statement that he did not have time to examine the city records to get the proof to substantiate his charges, I stepped into the Mayor's office this morning and in 20 minutes went over the entire record of the box ordinance, and I will give it to him with dates so that he can verify it in a few minutes if he desires. On July 19, 1906, the first box ordinance was introduced into the present Council and referred to the liquor license committee. On July 24 this ordinance was reported to the Council and the license committee did not pass, which was adopted, Masters voting aye. This left the original ordinance in effect.

"On July 24 another ordinance was introduced to amend the original box ordinance by striking out the word 'section' in the second section of the ordinance and inserting the word 'ordinance.' A motion to refer was lost, Masters voting aye. The rules were then suspended and the ordinance passed, Masters voting no. On August 1, the Mayor returned the ordinance to the Council with his veto and on the question being put as to whether it should pass notwithstanding the veto, the ordinance failed to pass, Masters voting no. On August 16 I introduced a box ordinance providing that all boxes should open onto the main floor of the saloons, with doors leading to the street, and that the doors should not be obstructed by curtains or any device, which ordinance was referred to the liquor license committee. On September 6 Councilman Masters introduced a box ordinance. A motion to refer was lost, Masters voting aye. The rules were then suspended and the ordinance passed, Masters voting no. On September 26 the Mayor returned this ordinance with his veto, on the grounds that the language of the first section was ambiguous and left the meaning doubtful. On the question being put as to whether the ordinance should pass notwithstanding the veto, the ordinance failed to pass, Masters voting no. Several other box ordinances were introduced and referred about this time, and together with the one I had introduced, subsequently indefinitely postponed, more satisfactory ordinances having been substituted for them. On November 15 a majority report was made by myself and three other members of the license committee recommending the passage of an ordinance that had been introduced by Councilmen Bennett and Will, known as the Bennett-Will ordinance; two minority reports making other recommendations were also filed.

That Tie Vote.

"A motion to adopt a minority report resulted in a tie vote of 7 to 7, Masters voting no. The Mayor voted no and the majority report failed. The majority report then coming to a vote again resulted in a tie, Masters voting aye, and the Mayor asked for time to consider his veto. The vote on this motion again resulted in a tie, Masters voting no. The Mayor, not understanding the importance of his voting at that time, vote aye, and the motion prevailed, and on the expiration of the two weeks the fifteenth Councilman was present, and the ordinance could not be passed. I have gone over this record in detail, and I can assure you that the most important legislation upon moral questions that has been before the Council and the one in which the liquor interests were supported to be met, interested and where the most pressure would be brought to bear upon the "backbone" of the Councilmen, and if the doctor can get any comfort out of it he is welcome to it. It will be noticed that I voted with the Mayor on every occasion except the last, when the Mayor made a mistake, as he will freely concede. I have taken the understanding of the box ordinance situation and incidentally to show my position on the vote.

"The doctor seems to be under the impression that the city has no box ordinance now and casts his malediction upon the Councilmen for not passing one. The fact is, as the record I have just gone over shows, the original box ordinance with the word 'section' in the fourth line of the second section amended to read 'ordinance' is now in full force and effect and has been in full force since last August. This amendment simply makes the original ordinance conform to the understanding of both the Municipal League and the Liquor Men's Association as to what the provisions of the original box ordinance were to be, as representatives of both associations stated to the liquor license committee, and makes it distinctly certain that liquor may be sold in boxes containing 160 square feet, but in none of a less size. So far as I know the police have made no effort to enforce this ordinance. There seems to be a popular opinion that the first box ordinance should be retained for the reason that the courts have passed upon it and it could not be amended, but this is not the case. The only point decided by the Supreme Court was that the city had power to pass such an ordinance under its police powers, and the validity of any of its terms could be tested in the courts at any time.

"I notice that the doctor refers to the licensing of a saloon at Fifth and Broadway, and that he looked at the record he would have found that I voted against it. In fact I told him so myself before he delivered his sermon."

STEPHEN V. HASKELL DEAD

Was Manager Graton & Knight Manufacturing Company.

The funeral of Stephen V. Haskell will take place this afternoon from the home of S. C. Pier, 187 E. Thirty-first street, Sunnyside, and the interment will be in Lone Fir Cemetery. Rev. J. Staub, of the Sunnyside Congregational Church, will conduct the services.

Mr. Haskell died at St. Vincent's Hospital yesterday morning, after a short illness from the effects of an operation on the stomach. He had been the manager of the Graton & Knight Manufacturing Company. He was born in Buffalo, N. Y., September 7, 1842, and grew up at Saginaw, Mich., coming to Portland in 1881. Shortly after coming to Portland he became manager for the Graton & Knight Manufacturing Company, and became identified with the business interests of the city. He made many friends in a business and social way. He leaves a wife and the following children: Mrs. William Jenkins, Mrs. H. E. Wood and Howard Haskell.

Mr. Haskell was a Mason in Saginaw, but did not affiliate with the order in Portland.

MURDER OF MAH SUE.

Three Accessories to the Crime Are Sought by the Police.

Je Yeng, the Chinese girl who was slightly wounded by Lee Chung, the murderer of Mah Sue, was able yesterday to report before the coroner's jury an examination over the body of the murdered Chinese. Je Yeng is in no danger. She will recover.

Information was filed in the Municipal Court yesterday by Deputy District Attorney Moser charging three Chinese with being accessories after the fact in the murder case. It is charged that the three Chinese endeavored to help Chung escape after he had killed his fellow-countryman, Quong Gee, a friend of the dead man, alleges that he was struck in the stomach by one of the three men and was prevented from capturing the murderer. Lin Duck and Yo Gorn, two of the men were captured last night.

At the coroner's examination yesterday it was found that but one bullet, although three were fired, hit Mah Sue. The bullet went in the right side and pierced the heart, causing instantaneous death.

Child's Generosity to Sammy.

Little Hazel McEee, the 6-year-old daughter of Mrs. E. J. McEee of 23rd St., Or., has taken a deep interest in the case of little Sammy, the newsboy, and has been collecting a sum to add to the general fund which is to be expended in the purchase of artificial limbs for him. Among her little friends and their parents, she has gathered nickels, dimes and quarters until the amount reaches $1, which seems a great deal of money to so young a child.

Mrs. McEee forwarded the sum to The Oregonian yesterday, with the request that little Sammy be informed of the interest taken in his misfortune by the little girl at Cecil. She wants him to get the artificial limb very soon, and hopes they will enable him to walk and make him happy.

Must Report in Writing.

Headquarters detectives and members of the plain-clothes staff of the local police department must report in writing that they are going on duty at the time of their respective shifts, or they will not receive any pay for the day's work. Captain of Detectives Frank Lewis announced yesterday, and a copy was placed in the hands of all the members of his staff, saying they will lose their pay in future for every day they fail to make written report when going on duty. The order has met with severe criticism from those affected, but is still in force.

Will Discuss Equal Suffrage.

At a recent meeting of the Federated Trades a resolution was passed whereby on one night during the coming open meeting will be held. At the first open meeting, Friday night, "Proposed Equal Suffrage as a Constitutional Amendment" will be debated. Miss G. Lauchlin and Miss Laura Gregg will speak for the affirmative, and Professor F. J. Loberg and L. J. Dume will speak for the negative side. The meeting will be held at Union Hall, Second and Stark streets, at 8 o'clock.

Robbed in North End Saloon.

Paul Toth, a laborer, was robbed in a North End saloon last night of $300 by the men with whom he had been drinking during the evening. Toth claimed that one of his companions picked his pocket. Complaint was made to the police, but the criminals were not caught.
