Four transactions in practically unim groved real estate were consummated yesterday, involving a total consideration of $360,000. The properties were acquired by men who propose to make extensive improvements, some of them immediate, costing altogether nearly $1,000,000. J. B. Yeon was the principal surchaser, buying two of the pieces and a third interest in one other. The other purchase was made by Wright & Dixon, proprietors of the Oregon Hotel, who will build upon it a large annex to their present establish-on the surgest of the transactions was too sale of a half-block on the south side of Oak street, extending from Seventh street to Park, and having 100 feet frontage upon each of those thoroughfares. The tract was owned by S. Morton Cohn and the purchaser is J. B. Yeon, the wealthy timber man who has been inwealthy timber man, who has been investing heavily in Portland realty. For this piece Mr. Yeon paid $130,000, purasing it through the agency of Isaac aird. There are at present eight resi-ences upon the site, which are paying a large revenue. It is, however, essentially a business site, and the new owner con-templates the erection upon it of a large and modern building for office or store north, and diagonally across from that hostelry, on the southeast corner of Seventh and Stark streets, A. B. Steinbach sold to the same buyer a quarterblock. This property which is worse than unimproved, being occupied by dilap-idated shacks, brought $125,000. It has 100 pointed to succeed Mr. Storms. feet frontage upon Stark and the same most choice locations in the city. on Seventh, and is altogo The adjoining corners are occupied by the Oregon Hotel, the Portland Public Library and the beautiful new Elks' build-ing. Grindstaff & Schalk made this sale. Just a block east of this site, on Sixth street, the Beck estate sold a lot for $75,000. Grindstaff & Schalk negotiated this deal, and W. H. Grindstaff, a member of the firm, was one of the pur-chasers. J. B. Yeon also acquired a one-third interest in this land, and the name of the other purchaser could not be learned last night. The location is just off Stark street, between the Quelle Cafe and the Lafayette building, that is just now undergoing an extensive remodeling. The lot sold has 50 feet frontage on Sixth

On the same block with the Cohen sale. Wright & Dixon bought from Mike Doherty, the pioneer transfer man of Port-land, a 50x100 strip for $30,000. It joins the Oregon Hotel upon the rear and faces on Park street with the Cohen property on the north and a strip owned by Dr. Giesy on the south. The figure paid is regarded on the south. The figure paid is regarded as exceedingly low, although the lot could have been bought for much less but a short time ago.

Advance in Portland Realty.

The rate at which Portland realty, especially in the section of the city from Washington north, has been advancing is well illustrated by all of these sales. Just eight years ago. A. B. Steinbach paid $11,000 for the property that he has now sold for $125,000, purchasing it from Fan-nie E. Kelly. Just last week he an-nounced that he would build upon it a handsome business structure for which nounced that he would build upon it a handsome business structure, for which his plans were all made. When approached yesterday, however, by Grindstaff & Schalk, he set his price for the staff & Schalk, he set his price for the plece at $125,000, and before evening the his plans were all made. When approached yesterday, however, by Grindplece at $125,000, and before evening the feat had been closed, Mr. Yeon giving him a cash payment of $75,000 upon the corner. Although the other properties have been in the same hands for so long hat the advance values is not shown in the same striking way, it is true that they could have been bought for a much lower amount but a short time ago. Mike Doherty bought the piece for which he has now been paid $30,000 about 20 years ago for $16,000. The Sixth-street property has been in the hands of Aaron Beck for many years.

Rise in Price General.

This advance has been general in all parts of the city, although it has been especially rapid along lower Stark and especially rapid along lower Stark and Oak streets where a wonderful transformation has taken place in the last few years. The improvements of the past however, bid fair to be outdone in the near future. Many fine buildings are already planned for this section, among the world by the section of the section of the world by the section of the world by the section of the them the Wells-Fargo skyscraper at Sixth and Oak streets, which is now well under

The prices paid for these pieces, however, are not in themselves so significant as the fact that the new owners plan for large and costly buildings to be erected upon them. The extension to the Hotel large and community to the more upon them. The extension to the more upon will be a six-story brick, fire-proof annex to cost $100,000. The proprietors have been laying plans for the extension of the six of th outlined so that they can now proceed with only a slight delay. The addition will with only a slight delay. The addition will be modern in every respect. It will provide about 5 additional rooms besides many large and fine sample rooms and commodious quarters for the culinary department of the hotel. The grill, which occupies the basement of the present building will be extended to double its present size. Work upon the annex will banged here today.

er, according to statements made by Mr. Dixon last night. The firm has held an option upon the lot purchased, for the past ten days, and closed it yesterday noon.

First to Be Improved.

The Steinbach quarter block will be the first of the tracts bought by Mr. Yeon to be improved. Just the character of the building has not yet been determined, but it is ange to say that it will be both a credit and an ornament to the city The frame stable and laundry which cover this ground at present are an eye-sore in a section otherwise so well improved, and it will attenulate values in the neighborhood to have them torn away and a high brick block substituted. Mr. Yeon will later improve the Cohen halfblock and he, with his associates, will build upon Sixth street next to the Onelle where now stand two one-story

Mr. Yeon yesterday denied absolutely he had sold the quarter block ed at Fifth and Alder streets, as re This tract he bought six mo ago for $190,000, and has not altered his original intention of erecting upon it a ten-story building as soon as the leases expire to the present buildings. From another source it was heard that he was offered yesterday more than $300,000 for the site, but refused it.

Other Realty Acquired.

Besides this sale Mr. Yeon owns several other valuable pieces of Portland realty. Six weeks ago he bought an entire block East Water street above the Burn-le-street bridge, of which purchase this is the first printed announcement. For his piece he paid $40,000. He also owns three-quarters of a block at York and Roosevelt streets that he bought last week for $30,000. Ed Lyons owns the other quarter. Few individuils have made such extensive recent inestments in this city.

The activity of yesterday is only an evidence of the condition of the market at the present time. Big deals are con-stantly in the air and many are consumnated each week. Some of the transac-ions of the past ten days are recorded at he beginning of this article. Many others, mostly for smaller amounts, have occurred. Investors in this and other cities are beginning to realize the truth f the slegan so enthusiastically repeated upon Portland day at the Lewis and Clark Exposition, the echoes of which will ring for many a day—"Portland Points the Way."

Trolley Line to Mount Hood.

PORTLAND, Feb. 19 .- To the Editor: It is to be hoped that the "Seeing America" League will be the means of attracting many tourists to this Western country. We certainly have much around Portland to show the visitor, but if there is any one thing that would make Portland famous it is a railroad or trolley line to Mount Hood. Outside of the tourist travel it would have considerable patronage from the people of Portland and vicinity, who would make frequent trips during the Summer. It would besides, open up a country now isolated. Perhaps a subsidy to the building of such a road would prompt capital to come forward and construct one. In a communication to your paper some time since I cation to your paper some time since I offered as a starter to subscribe $25 towards such a subsidy. I will now double that amount towards raising the required sum. Let our enthusiastic friend Tom Richardson, backed by the Comme Club, take a hand in this matter and perhaps it can be accom SIMON HARRIS.

Barry.

Masters Will Not Be Dictated to by Petitions.

WILL USE OWN JUDGMENT

Councilman Presides at the Meeting of the Liquor License Committee and Signs the Applications for Licenses.

Councilman Masters came in for considerable good-natured raking from his fellow-members of the liquor license committee yesterday in consequence of petitions circulated by East Side churche asking him to vote against every application for a liquor license. In the absence of Chairman Thomas Gray, who is sojourning in Southern California, Mr. Masters was elected to preside over the proceedings of the body yesterday, and acquitted himself with marked ability, being thus absolved from voting upon any question that concerned the revocation of liquor licenses. It did not prevent him from signing applications for other li-censes, however, and he attached his sig-nature to several that had been passed upon as proper by the other members.

In fact, as one of the leading spirits of the joint liquor license and judiciary and elections committees, to whom was referred the box ordinance introduced at the last session of the Council, Mr. Manters had the distinction of being asso-ciated with Councilman Shepherd in the preparation of an entirely new measure of the kind, which is to be presented at the next meeting of the committee, a fort-

"I shall pay no attention whatever to any petition instructing me how to vote," said Mr. Masters, in reply to an inquiry as to what action he intended to take relative to the church petitions. "I underetand my duties, and shall be governed accordingly, without any outside assistaccordingly, without any outside assist-ance, although I am always ready to receive suggestions from any source," he added pleasantly. Consideration of the proposed box ordinance produced some peculiar situations. In fact, it was asserted by Councilman Belding that Chief Gritzmacher had told him that when the crusade against local saloon boxes was first begun he had re-quested the Auditor's office to furnish him a copy of the ordinance bearing on the subject, in order to be better informed and prepared to enforce its pro-visions along the Lane ideas of reform, but, through a misunderstanding, had been given the fac simile of one then before the Council, but afterward either vetoed or repealed in some way, a combination of circumstances that led the Chief to think it obliterated all law on the subject. In the meantime, it is said, he had proceeded under the provisions of the measure received from the City Auditor's office, and had succeeded in securing the removal of practically every securing the removal of practically every saloon box in town, the proprietors of the places obeying his orders to remove the partitions without any question what-soever, except in isolated cases.

Chief Gritzmacher is alleged to have got his original ideas that doors were not allowed on saloon or restaurant boxes through this mixup in the matter, as it was contended by several of the Council nicipal measure ever in existence that had any special reference to doors in connection with boxes of any sort.

THINKS BEESWAX PITCH

Thought to Be Fir Pitch.

Dr. David Raffety, who has made some investigation, has come to the conclusion that the substance found on the Peninfor a branch railway, and pronounced the same as the Nebalem beeswax, now in the possession of Colonel Hawkins, has come to the conclusion, first, that it is not bees-wax, and, second, that it is vegetable pitch, or turpentine, from the large trees that once stood in the Columbia Slough country. Dr. Raffety obtained a small fragment of the chunk, and finds that it burns readily and gives off a very pronounced odor of pitch, or turpentine. Dr. Raffety says that in early days, when the land of Columbia Slough was being cleared, the fire would burn underground sometimes a distance of 50 and 70 feet, following the roots of the great trees, o following the course of the flow of the pitch from the trees. He has concluded from the information obtained from Henry Holtgrieve and other pioneers on Columbia Slough that the pitch from the big fir or apruce trees saturated the sand surrounding their roots, which hardened in the masses that have been found. Sev-eral years ago a chunk of the same material was dug up by a man who was ex-cavating for a house in Powell Valley, and it was brought to Dr. David Raffety, who then pronounced it a vegetable pitch which flowed from the big trees that once stood where the chunk was unearthed, but had given away to the ax of the ploneer.

It would burn readily.
On the other hand, Dr. C. H. Raffety, who is a good deal of a scientist also, at once pronounced the chunk found as "bituminous shale," and that it was carried to the place where it was found by the glacier that deposited the Gravel Hill district. However, he agrees with his brother that it may have come from the prother that it may have come from the pitch of trees becoming mixed with sand and forming a compact mass. Both contend that it has none of the properties of becswax. In view of these opinions, the result of the further investigation to be made at the Pacific University, at Forest Grove, will be interesting.

IN GENERAL DEMAND.

Significant of the consumption of champagne in this country is the quick appreciation of wine perfection which keeps Moet & Chandon champagne at the head of the list of importations into the United States. Last year there were brought into the port of New York 59,387 cases of Moet & Chandon champagne, which amount is over 59 per cent greater than the importations of the brand second on the list, as shown in the Custom-House statistics. Moet & Chandon "White Seal" vintage 1900, is selected for service almost exclusively at prominent functions, and the large reserve of this grand wine serves to maintain the popular demand for it.
