SMOOT MAKES AN ENEMY

HEYBURN WILL VOTE TO UN-SEAT UTAH SENATOR.

Interruptions of Forest Reserve Speech Goaded Heyburn Into Rescaling Grudge Against Gooding.

OREGONIAN NEWS BUREAU, Wash-ington, Feb. 26. — When the Senate takes a vote on the Smoot case, it is quite likely that Senator Heyburn, of idaho, will vote to unseat Mr. Smoot, notwithstanding it has always been un-derstood that Mr. Heyburn was a Mormon sympathizer in his own state, and was elected by Mormon votes in the Idaho Legislature. Behind this apparent change of front on the part of Sen-ator Heyburn lies an interesting story that developed during the course of his now famous speech against President Roosevelt's forest reserve policy. It was noted at the time that Mr. Smoot frequently interrupted the Idaho Sen-ator by asking pointed questions intended to puncture his arguments, and it was in response to a particularly ob-noxious question that Mr. Heyburn, contrary to his intention, launched forth on a vicious attack upon Gov-ernor Gooding for having dropped his opposition to forest reserves and gone over to the National Administration. While Mr. Heyburn has keenly resented the action of Mr. Gooding in this particular, an act which he regarded as treachery, masmuch as he and Mr. as treachery, inasmuch as he and Mr. Gooding had been working shoulder to shoulder to break down the forest administration in Idaho, nevertheless it was his intention not to publicly voice his feelings, but quietly to work to bring about the downfall of the Governor. But under the lashing of Mr. Smoot, the Idaho man lost his temper, and before he was aware of it, he had Smoot, the Idaho man lost his temper, and, before he was aware of it, he had utiered a severe arraignment of Mr. Gooding, which promptly found its way into print and became a leading topic of political discussion in Idaho.

The declaration of Mr. Heyburn immediately joined the issue between himself and the Governor, and from now on the fight must be conducted in open. This is not as Mr. Heyburn planned, and, among his friends Heyburn has blamed himself for having been trapped in this way. He is at a loss to understand why Mr. Smoot, who, he believes, occupies a delsmoot, who, he believes, should have undertaken to become so caustic in his comments, and, furthermore, resents the attempt of the Mormon Sentents and the second which was sents the attempt of the Mormon Sen-zior to interfere in a speech which was of no concern to him. As Mr. Hieyburn remarked to a close friend, he "re-garded it as most astonishing that a Senator of Smoot's limited attainments sheuld have the temerity to interrupt a purely legal and technical discus-tion of a question of the most vital on of a question of the most vital

The fact is Mr. Smoot is one of the warmest advocates of the President's forest reserve policy, and he took the privilege which every Senator has of correcting false statements and ac-Senate. Mr. Smoot knew that Mr. Heyburn was wrong in his position, and he interrupted to set the record right. The result will probably be that Mr. Heyburn will be found among the anti-Smoot Senators when the case comes to a vote.
