MAY OPTION GAINS QUARTER

Narrow Fluctuations Due to Lower Cables, Large Northwestern Receipts and Slack Minneapolls Flour Demand.

CHICAGO. Feb. 27.—During the early part of the session the market was barely steady on lower cables, large Northwest receipts and an extremely slack demand for flour at Minneapolle. The market railied several times during the first half of the session, because of a fairly active demand by commission-houses, but each time selling by local longs forced the price down again. During the last half of the assaion, however, the market became firm on reports from the Southwest of damage to Fall-sown wheat by severe wind and sand externs. The market closed firm, May it's higher, at $15c. The option opened unchanged to it's lower, at $15c. Selling and sold between $11c and $156.88515c. and sold between $11c and $156.88515c. The corn market was a trife easier at the start, but became firmer because of covering by shorts and buying by cash interests and commission-houses. RETRACING OF PRICES IN THE STOCK MARKET.

Depression in Public Utilities Affects Entire List-Reading Fails

NEW YORK, Feb. 25.—The reversal in the direction of prices today from that of yearerday, does not alter the fact that the stock market was similar in character to that stock market was similar in character to that of pesterday. The dealings were highly pro-fessional and limited in scope. The retrac-ing today of the upward course of pesterday seemed due largely to the fact that the available limits of the upward movement were reached, so far as professional op-erators dared to carry them. There were some advances in the early dealings today, but this was taken advantage of by yester-ter's butters to sell stocks.

but this was taken advantage of by yester-day's buyers to sell stocks.

Sentiment showed itself more affected today by sympathy with the depression of the New York public utilities. The local traction group joined the recent declining tendency in Consolidated Gas, presumably on the ap-prehension that the public service corpora-tions might be subjected to measures of re-liation similar to the restriction of the price of gas is New York City to 80 cents. Con-solidated Gas showed evidence of support as the further decline and railled with some strength, the demand from the uncovered short interest helping to that result.

The news regarding prospects for the set-The news regarding prospects for the act-tiement of the labor controversy in the coal trade was even more hopeful than that of yesterday. Reading, however, failed to hold its advantage on that ecose and shared in the general decline.

Many rumose circulated of an alleged hitch

in the much-discussed plan for the sale of ore lands to the United States Steel Corporation. No authentic information on this alleged plan has been forthcoming at any time and today's rumors of its failure were equally without authoritative warrant. The price of copper was raised another fraction in this market without availing to hold Amalgamated Copper against the downward tide of the market. This may have been due in part to the fact that the price of copper yielded in London in spite of the marking up of the price here. The continued liquidation of Kaffir stocks in the London market had a disturbing effect in various foreign markets, which was aggravated by the continued anxiety over the outcome of the Algeriras conference. AND MARKET IS ADVANCING aggravated by the continued anxiety over the outcome of the Algeciras conference.

The course of affairs in the money market offered more substantial basis for the abandonment of yesterday's attempt to revive the speculation in stocks. Bub-Treasury absorptions for the week rose to $3,626,000, and the Government institution again showed a creditable balance at the clearing-house. Some of the interior cities are said to be withdrawing funds from New York and the continued advance in silver makes shipments One Hundred Thousand Head of Sheep Have Been Sold Lately withdrawing funds from New York and the continued advance in silver makes shipments of gold to Mexico for the purchase of silver coins a profitable operation. Time leans were reported firm and higher, but the foreign exchange market yielded. The closing was weak and at conspicuous leases for the day. Bonds were irregular. WALLOWA, Or., Feb. 27.—(Special.)—The sheepmen of this county are feeling greatly encouraged of late by reports brought back by Rose Falconer, a wealthy sheepman who went East last Winter for the purpose of investigating the sheep question in that section. He has returned well pleased with his trip, and is now ready to purchase more sheep.

When he sold early in the Fall he at that time received what was a top price, but now it has been advanced until a band was recently bought by Frank Stubblefield near Enterprise for $5 per head for 2-year-old ewes. This price is now considered low and a quarter advance has been offered, but no one is in the market as yet for that price. The dealers figure that ewes will reach the $6 mark soon, and with a May delivery, they will make good money on paying $5 for yearlings as well as Z-year-olds. Wool is being contracted by many of the sheepmen at 20 cents per pound, while others are holding for as bigh as 24 cents. They are noiding for as bign as 2s couts. Incy contend that when wood from the Northern States is worth from 30 to 24 cents. Oreson wood is at least worth within a few cents of the Eastern-grown product. Even when the sheep of the Eastern States are washed be-fore shearing, they do not have as strong a wood as that yielded by the Oregon animal. The wool is of a finer grade than Western product, but they believe there should not be such a great difference in value. The fatting eason for hogs is rapidly drawing to a close, and the past few weeks has taken hundreds of the finished ones out of this county to the Portland market. The prices have ranged better than for time, owing to the better grade and a finer condition of top hogs. The remaining bunches will be consumed by local packers.

CENTRAL OREGON SALES HEAVY,

Buyers Have Secured 100,000 Hend of Sheep in Three Countles. One thousand head of ewes at $8 per head. said to be the highest price ever paid for range sheep in this state, is the latest sale of Central Oregon livestock to go on record, according to the Prineville Journal. The sheep were purchased of T. S. Hamilton, of Ash-wood, The Shaniko Republican estimates that 100,000 head of sheep have been sold out of Crook. Wheeler and Waspo Counties and enumerates over one-fifth of that number which have been disposed of by stockmen throughout the Antelope and Shaniko district. The Republican says: The Central Oregon sheep market has opene up in earnest, and since February 7 the field has been full of Eastern buyers. The total number, aggregating about 100,000 head of sheep, mostly yearlings, have been sold in Wasco, Crook and Wheeler Counties, at prices ranging from $2.75 to $3.00 per head with the wool off, and are to be delivered after shear-ing. The prices that are now being paid for sheep are perhaps the highest that have been received by Gregon woolgrowers in 25 years. At the present price of wool the sheep that have been sold in this section of the country will shear $2 worth of wool, which will bring the price of a yearling up to $5 per head.

Railroad Passes and Abuses.

Leslie's Weekly. Leslie's Weekly.

The abolition of passes by the great railroad systems of the country was a proper and sensible thing to do, providing it was done with a right motive and for a good purpose, and was not actuated by a petty spite provoked by the discussion of rate legislation, Government ownership and the abuses of railroad monopoly. The Administration and general conduct of the roads in the immediate future will show whether these suspicious as to motive are just and well founded. It is claimed that the railroads of the country will save $10,000,000 a year by the change. If so, will this amount go to swell the already enormous income the change. If so, will this amount go to swell the already enormous income of the few men who practically own most of the roads, or will this extra sum be expended in supplying new and greatly needed safety appliances, better roadbeds, improved rolling stock, and more comforts and conveniences for the traveling public? With an added income of $10,000,000 the companies can afford to abolish, for instance, the annoyance of 'tips' to employes on every class of "tips" to employes on every class of coaches; they can rescind all concessions to peddlers on their trains; they can provide windows that will open and doors that will shut; they can provide seats for all who pay for them, and not sell any class of seats over twice for the same ride, and last, but not least, they same ride, and last, but not least, they can provide many of their small stations with buildings and furnishings considerably above their present grade of pig-pens and stable-yards. We might sug-gest other ways in which this extra $10,-00,000 might be expended to the advan-tage of the traveling public.
