Lafe Pence Given Right of Way Through Park.

REQUIRED TO PUT UP BOND

One Year From May 15 He Must Remove His Wooden Conduit, but Meanwhile He Can Continue Operations.

Late Pence was given permission by the Park Board yesterday morning to maintain his flume across portions of Macleay Park, and within five minutes after thanking the body for its action, had notified his superintendent to repair the damages caused by Mayor On motion of Mr. Meyer, seconded by Mr. Lewis, Pence was granted the privilege of crossing Macleay Park with his flume under the supervision of the Park Board at all times for a period of one year from May 15. The motion carried with it instructions for the City Attorney to draft an agreement to that effect, together with a clause providing that Pence shall give the city a good and sufficient bond to protect the municipality against possible damage from any source whatso ever, Commissioners Meyer and Lewis supported the motion, while Colonel Hawkins voted against it.

Willamette Heights Protest.

Colonel James Jackson, president and N. J. Levinson, secretary, of the Willamette Heights Improvement Association, entered a protest against allowing Mr. Pence to trespass upon what they considered the pristine grandeur of the municipal preserves, but the board ruled otherwise. Pence promises to cover his flumes with planking in a manner that the public can utithem as footwalks through the requested, so it was concluded that insamuch as he had already stolen a evitable, inasmuch as whatever harm was accomplished by his depredations was practically beyond recall.

Lane Speaks for Pence. In urging the board to grant Pence's request to be allowed to maintain his flumes through the park, Mayor Lane announced a policy which he stated afterward would govern him materially come here seeking investment, "The trouble has been all along," id he, "that whenever anybody came to Portland with money to invest, be has been met with all kinds of dis-couragement, and by this process we have seen Seattle grow up at our expense. I have lived here more than 40 years, and know whereof I speak. In the future, if I find that somebody enterprise. I am going to tell him that the people are yearning for his pres-ence, whether it is true or not, and I am going to do all in my power to invite capital and enterprise to this

'I have no interest in Pence or his scheme, one way or the other, but I believe in giving him a show. He is an energetic sort of a fellow, and we need a few more like that in our midst. He has now recognized the city's control over the park; is engaged in a work which, if carried to a successful issue, cannot help but benefit the city, and I am going to stand by him."

ARTICLES TAKEN FROM BAIKIE AND WILSON RESIDENCES,

Are Discovered in a Trunk in a Room of C. Schley, Arrested for Burglary.

Precious stones and jewelry of considerable value, said to have been stolen from the residences of Rev. Clarence True Wilson and Mrs. J. Baikie, were recovered last night in the room of C. Schley, who was arrested Monday by Detective Kerrigan at Vancouver, Wash., on a charge of burglary. Part of the jewels atolen from the Balkle residence were found on the prisoner when arrested, and it was suspected that others would be found either in the pawnshops or in his

Detective Joe Day and Rev. Mr. Wilson went to Schley's room in a Washington-street lodging-house last night, and in seaching his trunk and other personal possessions a diamond sunburst and other jewelry were found. All the stolen property from the Balkle and Wilson rest dences has not been recovered, but it is thought that by a search through the pawnshops of Portland and other cities thley is thought to have been implicated in many house robberies in Portland during the last few months. Mr. Wilson's residence has been entered several times, and reports of house bur-glaries have reached police headquarters nightly. Who Schley is, and whether he is nnected with a systematized gang of use thieves, the detectives have been unable to determine. It is believed that he has given his true name, as papers found in his possession bear the nas say nothing about himself to any one

MAY NOT GET ROANOKE

Terms Are Thought to Be Too High for Alaska Liner.

The committee from the four commer-cial organizations of Portland met yester-day afternoon to discuss the matter of es-tablishing a line of steamers between this city and Alaskan ports, but nothing was done. It is probable that the terms offered by the awners of the steamer Roanolo, rill not be accepted, as there is a sentiment in the committee that the proposition is not a good one for the merchants of this city, maximuch as too large a constant of this city, maximuch as too large a constant in the Maud Sheek matter, Hogeboom was charged by Captain Bruin with having this city, maximuch as too large a constant in the Maud Sheek matter, Hogeboom was charged by Captain Bruin with having the constant of the consta of this city, inasmuch as too large a contract is asked for.
