

MELTED BY THE ACID

Bottles Buried by Steve Adams Nearly Destroyed.

REMOVED BY THREE MEN

Stopper Is Supposed to Have Been Loosened and the "Hell Fire" Mixture Allowed to Escape.

BOISE, Idaho, March 29.—(Special.)—At Pocatello this morning Detective Thiele went out to the old mill with the Chief of Police and others and got the remains of the tin can and bottles cached there by Steve Adams in September, 1902.

There were three men present when the removal was made. These were Jim Hyrd, George McConkey and Frank Shaffer. They were taking out timbers upon which the sawmill had stood, and in getting to the chain saw timber the tin can filled with bottles was struck. They pulled one stopper and one of the men was severely burned. Then the bottle was thrown out of the building.
