CANDIDATES ARE BUSY JUST NOW

Many Are Out Seeking for Votes in Advance of the Primaries.

CAMPAIGN QUITE ACTIVE

Election Is but Three Weeks Away, and Prospective Nominees Are Losing No Time in Trying to Influence Citizens.

With the primary tickets completed and the election but three works away, candi-dates for party nominations have settled down for a long, hard run for the finish of the race. The campaign has been active for several weeks, but is now as lively as a contest usually is before a general elec-tion. If the June campaign should be warmer than the primary contest prom-ises to become, there will be exceiting ises to become, there will be exciting times before the people of this state have chosen their officers for the ensuing four

Portland is becoming more and more them have canvassed the outside counties first, and are now beginning to look after their interests in the metropolis, where their interests in the metropolis, where voters are numerous but not easy to reach. Portland gets a visit from each of the candidates whenever they puss from Western to Eastern Oregon, or from the East Side counties to the West Side. A day's visit to take a general view of the situation gives them a rest before starting out on another strenuous trip.

C. A. Johns Visits Portland.

Yesterday C. A. Johns, who would like to move from Baker City to Salem, and occupy the Governor's office, was shaking hands with friends around the hotels. Another Baker City man was in town, but he was not here in the interests of Johns. His name is Harvey K. Brown, and he would like to sit in the Governor's chair himself. W. N. Gatens, "Billy" Gatens, Governor Chamberlain's private secretary, was also in the city doing a little quiet work in behalf of the man who will run work in behalf of the man who will run against the leader of the Republican ticket. "Chamberlain Republicans" are what Gatens is looking for, and he claims he finds lots of them.

he finds lots of them.

F. W. Benson, aspirant for the Republican nomination for Secretary of State, came in last night from his home at Boseburg, and E. V. Carter, from far-off Jack. son County is here looking after his cor test for the nomination for State Treas-rer. Both feel confident Where to Work the Puzzle.

Just where to put in the most work is the question that is puzzling the candi-dates at present. The time is short and they cannot see everybody. It is argued by some that if primary day should be fine weather for farming the country vote will be light, and that time spent trying to get the farmer vote might be wasted. On the other hand, it is asserted that town people see so many candidates that they are not easily influenced, and that more effective work can be done in the country. Whether to advertise in the newspapers or send out circulars is another problem the candidates are worrying themselves over, and most of them are solving it by trying both methods.

As the county tickets have not been made up yet, there is comparatively less activity among aspirants for county nominations, but the last of this week will find all the county candidates in the field.

Last Day for Petitions.

Next Wednesday will be the last day for filing petitions for nomination at the coming primary election, which will be held April 20. Democrats have been back-ward with their petitions, but the petins of Republican candidates are near ly all in. The following were filed yes terday in the County Clerk's office: P. SUPPORTS MONDELL BILL Commercial Club Favors Government Aid in Mining Instructions.

An entirely new constitution and by-laws is now boing arranged for adoption by the club, at a general meeting.

At the suggestion of President P. L. Camppell, of the University of Oregon, the board of governors passed a resolution indorsing the Mondell bill, new before Congress. It provides an annual appropriation of $10,000.000 for the support of departments of mining in the universities and agricultural colleges which have mining interests. Each year this appropriation is to be increased by $3.900,000. priation is to be increased by $1,000,000 until a maximum of $20,000,000 annually is

The appropriation in the different states is equally divided between the state uni-versities and the agricultural colleges. Under a provision of the bill a portion of the appropriation may be available for instruction in forestry. The appropriations to be made are to be paid out of money received from the sale of public lands. Few states in the Union are more deeply interested in this proposition than Oregon, where an increased development in mining interests means many added millions to the state. The Portland Commercial Club is espe-cially anxious that other commercial bodies throughout Oregon take action re garding the Mondell bill

BOTH SALOONKEEPERS WERE TOO NEAR A SCHOOL.

Several Applications Are Granted and Transfers Made by Liquor License Committee.

Yielding to the inexorable demands of the charter, which provides that no saloon shall be maintained within 400 feet of any block of land upon which a public schoolhouse is situated, the liquor license committee of the Council sesterday revoked the licenses of August Eschle, o 1979 Corbett street, whose place of busi ness is between Bancroft and Seymour avenues, near the South Portland School, and that of Jacob Sauer, of 684 Milwaukie avenue, who has been brought within the proscribed limits by recent purchases of ground for the Brooklyn school district. In the case of Eschle, he is more than 46 feet away from the school building, and 405 feet from the corner, according to measurement, of where the school lot terminates: but the building is located on a double block, in consequence of which the saloon comes under the ban, and its proprietor will have to move. His license was revoked upon the petition of James I. Marshall, of 1061 Corbett street, who called attention to the state mainly through the earnest pleadings of Mrs. Bert Hayward, of 54 Rhice street, who assured the committee that he was enducting an improper establishment. and that it was a menuce to the moral welfare of the community. Sauer was also accused by Mrs. Hayward of con-tributing to the delinquences of a minor by employing his 14-year-old son as a barkeeper, for which offense, she al-leged, he was fined $100 in the Municipal

Mr. Hanks was only able to make his appearance once on the streets during the day, and then only for a short time. Marshal Broderson reported quiet all day. There was a warm but good-natured contest from the opening to the close of the polls. No person-alities were indulged in. The saloon re-mained closed during the day. Mr. Val-entine and his friends are naturally clated over the big vote he received in both wards, showing that is a very popular man. The old Council met last evening and then adjourned until this evening, when it will probably hold its final ses-sion. Tomorrow evening it is planned to give Mayor Valentine and the officers-

HIS BODY IS IDENTIFIED Suicide at Barnes Heights, W. R.

Davis, of Pendleton.

The body of the young man who com mitted suicide on Barnes Heights last week and whose body was discovered Sunday afternoon, has been identified as William Roswell Davis, who recently ar-rived in Portland from Pendleton, where he formerly fived with his mother, the latter returning recounty to her home in Maine. The rooms many father are for Maine. The young man's father was for-merly Governor of Maine, and a brother, who is superintendent of an irrigation project in Umatilia County, was notified at Echo, and left for this city to take charge of the remains. No reason has been assigned for the suicide.

Protest Meat Inspection.

Several local commission merchants and meat sunricet men yesterday lodged a protest with City Health Officer Wheel-er, against the enforcement of the meat inspection ordinance. The protest is signed by the Frank L. Smith Meat Company, W. B. Giaffee Company, F. Metager, Davenport Brothers, W. T. Turner & Co., McCorquodale & Hoover, Bell & Co., Davenport-Thompson Company, Everding & Farrell Company, Franklin & Co., Dryer, O'Malley & Co., Page & Son, Richet & Co., Mark Levy & Spiegl, Pearson, Page & Co., McEwen & Koskey and Henry Everding.

A special meeting of the City Board of Health will be held soon to consider the advisability of putting the ordinance into effect, nearly all of its provisions being regarded as objectionable by local dealers.

NO NORTH-END MISSION

Ministerial Association Abandons Idea of Its Establishment.

It was decided by the Portland Ministerial Association yesterday morning to abandon the idea of establishing a mission in the North End district of the city. The project has been up for some time, and a committee has been investigating it. In reporting for this committee, Dr. F. Burgette Short said that the field was already pretty well taken up by the missions already there, and that the Eaptists and Presbyterians were already engaged in that work and could not unite in the new movement. Therefore he moved that the matter be dropped, which motion carried.

Dr. Short then Introduced resolutions commending the efforts of Messre. Adams It was decided by the Portland Minisending the efforts of Messrs. Adams and Strayer, who are working in the North End mission field. Some one thought that if these men were commended it would also be necessary to mention the Men's Resort, and another speaker added that the Salvation Army should not be recognized. hoold not be overlooked. It was finally ettled by tabling the whole matter. Mrs. C. M. Wood presented the work of the Florence Crittenton Refuge Home. and it was decided that each pastor in the city should devote one sermon to the home. As far as possible, these sermons will take place on the fifth Sunday of April, and a mass meeting will be held that afternoon to raise money to assist in paying for the new building. This building, which is now under way, will cost $16,000, of which only $1000 has been

BACK FROM CALIFORNIA

L. W. Pratt. Who Promoted Washington Excursion Returns.

L. W. Prait, secretary of the Tacom Chamber of Commerce and Board of Trade, accompanied by his wife, spent several hours in the city yesterday en route home from California. Mr. Prait was active in making possible the recent trip of the Washington people through California and made arrangements with Manager Tom Richardson of the Portland Commercial City during his stay here to Commercial Club during his stay here to join in urging the Californians to return the visit.

Relative to the Coast excursion and the general situation on the Pacific Count, Mr. Pratt said: "The people are prosperous everywhere on the Pacific Coast but with the tremendous amount of rall-road building and the great activity in lumber, it seems to me that Oregon and Washington and their coast cities will have a greater proportion of growth than any other section of the United States. "It's a grand privilege to return from California and enjoy the glorious climate of our Northwestern Coast. Today I felt like I was home again, looking at the solid snow mountains that surround Portland, and breathing this bracing atmos ing about our climate just as we do."

FIRE ENGINE-HOUSE PLANS District Enginees Holden Prepares

Them for Brooklyn.

Plans for the Brooklyn engine house, to be built on Powell and East Thirteenth streets, have been prepared by District Engineer L. G. Holden, and yesterday they were turned over to the City Engineer to have blue prints made. The building will be 30x75 and two stories in height. There will be a basement under the front part 15x28.4 for storing fuel. In all respects the engine-house will be modern in con-struction. There will be a special struction. There will be a special room for the watchman and for electric apparatus separate from the rest of the first floor. On the second floor Mr. Holden has made special dispositions for the comfort of the firemen. A fine ample dormitory is provided in the front and at the back end is the sitting-room. There will be bath and abover baths lookers and all convey niences. Blue prints will be prepared at once.

These plans are so prepared that they can be used for the East Twenty-they can be used for the East Twentyeighth street engine-house as well as for Brooklyn, but it is the intention to press the construction of the Brooklyn building, where the city has the

For Sick Women To Consider

FIRST.-That almost every operation FIRST.—That almost every operation in our hospitals performed upon women becomes necessary through neglect of such symptoms as backache, irregular and painful periods, displacements of the female organs, pain in the side, burning sensation in the stomach, bearing-down pains, nervousness, displacements and sleeplesaness.

SECOND.—The medicine that holds the record for the largest number of absolute cures of female ills is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It regulates, strengthens and cures diseases of the female organism as nothing else can.

For thirty years it has been helping For thirty years it has been helping women to be strong, curing backache, nerrousness, kidney troubles, inflammation of the female organs, weakness and displacements, regulating the periods perfectly and overcoming their pains. It has also proved itself invaluable in preparing women for childbirth and the change of life.

THIRD.—The great volume of unso-licited and grateful testimonials on file at the Pinkham Laboratory at Lynn, Mass., many of which are from time to time published by permission, give ab-solute evidence of the value of Lydis E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Mrs. Pinkham's advice. Mrs. Pinkham's advice.

Mrs. Pinkham's Standing Invitation to Women .- Women suffering from any form of female weakness are invited to promptly communicate with Mrs. Pink-ham, at Lynn, Mass. All letters are received, opened, read and answered by women only. From symptoms given, your trouble may be located and the quickest and surest way of recovery advised. Mrs. Pinkham is daughter-in-law of Lydia E. Pinkham and for twenty-five years under her direction and since her decease she has been advising sick women free of charge. Out of the vast volume of experience in treat-ing female ills Mrs. Pinkham probably has the very knowledge that will help your case. J. H. Peterson Buys Property Occupied by Tull & Gibbs.

J. H. Peterson yesterday purchased the quarter block at the southwest corner of Second and Morrison streets, occupied by Tult & Gibbs, for $300,000. Mr. Peterson believes he secured a bargain and says in his opinion the property should command $400,000 before long. It brings an annual rental of $10.000 at present, and it is said that a number of much better offers have been made since it became known that the lease of the present occupant expires in December of this year. Gus Rosenblatt and L. R. Seeley nego-tiated the deal for Mrs. Clara Caufman. At the close of the Fair the property was on the market for $130,000, the owner be-lieving at that time that the end of the Fair would be followed by a temporarily singgish real estate market. Instead, things took the other turn and steadily the price has advanced at the rate of more than $1000 a month.

"I have not decided what to do with the building." said Mr. Peterson yester-day, "but suppose I will lease it to some
